ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Pennsylvania Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1901.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: As required by the provisions of the act of Assembly the Commission having in charge the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of this Commonwealth, herewith present for your consideration the annual report of the condition of the several schools for the year ending May 31, 1901.

May 31, 1900, there were 1,130 children in the schools, and on May 31, 1901, there were 1,159, showing an increase for that period of 29 over May 31, 1900. This concludes the thirty-seventh year of the existence of these schools, and twelfth year under the management of the Commission.

The year which has just closed has been one of the most eventful probably since the schools were controlled by the present system. On February 20, 1901, the splendid Mechanical Building of the Industrial School at Scotland, together with all the contents was entirely destroyed by fire. The fire occurred in the evening about nine o'clock, and fortunately no one was seriously injured. The Commission had been looking forward to the year just closed with great interest, as it was a legislative year and they had hoped to be able to show to the members of the Legislature such results from the course of instruction as would satisfy even the most critical that after all the only way to properly prepare these wards of the State for the battle of life was to train the hands as well as the minds and the loss coming as it did at the above mentioned time was a sore disappointment to the entire membership of the Commission. On the morning of February 21st telegraph orders were issued for new dynamos and engine to furnish light and fires necessary to connect up the steam heating plant. The boiler fortunately escaped destruction and in five days the steam was turned on and a few days later the electric light followed. The Commission was called together at once and immediate steps taken to re-build and re-furnish the plant, contracts being awarded to cover all the losses. The total loss was estimated at $62,000.00, on which there was an insurance of but $18,500.00. An application was made to the Legislature for an appropriation to cover the loss of the building at Chester Springs in 1899, and the Mechanical Building at Scotland in the sum of $74,000.00, which was promptly passed and work has been pressed forward vigorously and we hope to have the building ready for business at the re-opening of the schools in September. During the year there was also an epidemic of scarlet fever or rash, there being down during the epidemic 74 boys and girls. We were compelled to isolate them and use the farm house as a hospital, there being no hospital at the school. The most energetic measures were adopted and the disease soon stamped out. This sickness, however, demonstrated beyond question the absolute necessity of having a hospital building, and plans were drawn and a contract awarded for the erection of a hospital at a cost of $7,650.00. This is also under way and we hope will be finished at the re-opening of the school term. Therefore taking it all in all the year just passed has been full of perplexing situations for the Commission, because of the large number of little ones entrusted to their care. The following is the population at the different schools at the close of the year:

Chester Springs, Chester county,	325
Harford, Susquehanna county,	230
Jumonville, Fayette county,	331
Industrial, Franklin county,	273
Total,	1,159

When the new Mechanical Building at Scotland shall have been completed its industries will be as follows: Machine department, printing office, dress-making department, tailoring department, wood-working department, cobbling department.

In addition the boys are instructed in the running of engines and dynamos, the boys and girls in telegraphy, stenography and type-writing. The girls are also taught the practical side of house-keeping. The boys and girls work in the dormitories and laundry, and there is also a brass band for both boys and girls, with a competent instructor.

The Commission are a unit on the advisability of concentrating all the schools at Scotland. The State owns one hundred acres of land here, the water supply is amply sufficient and railway communications are of the very best, and we believe the results that would follow the concentration of the schools at this point would soon make the results apparent. On the question of expense, we believe that for $100,000.00 sufficient buildings could be erected and those now completed remodeled to accommodate the eleven hundred children and in four (4) years or less this amount could be saved and the State be the owners of a plant that when the present system should cease could be utilized for some benevolent State purpose. As it is now the Commission are compelled to rent the premises at Chester Springs, Chester county; Harford, Susquehanna county, and Jumonville, Fayette county, at a considerable outlay of money. The new plan of concentration has been the fond hope of the members of the Commission for years, and we trust that the money may soon be available for that purpose.

The Commission again reiterates the invitation so often extended for the members of the Legislature and in fact people from all the walks of life to visit these schools. We feel satisfied that should such visitations be made and the work looked into there could be but one sentiment expressed, and that would be satisfaction at the efforts being put forth to make earnest patriotic men and women of the children committed to our care.

The Commission, as at present constituted, consists of:

Governor William A. Stone.

On the Part of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Jacob C. Stineman.

Andrew G. Williams.

On the Part of the House of Representatives.

Thomas V. Cooper.

William H. Bricker.

Albert M. Smith.

On the Part of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Thomas G. Sample.

Levi G. McCauley.

James F. Morrison.

Alfred Darte.

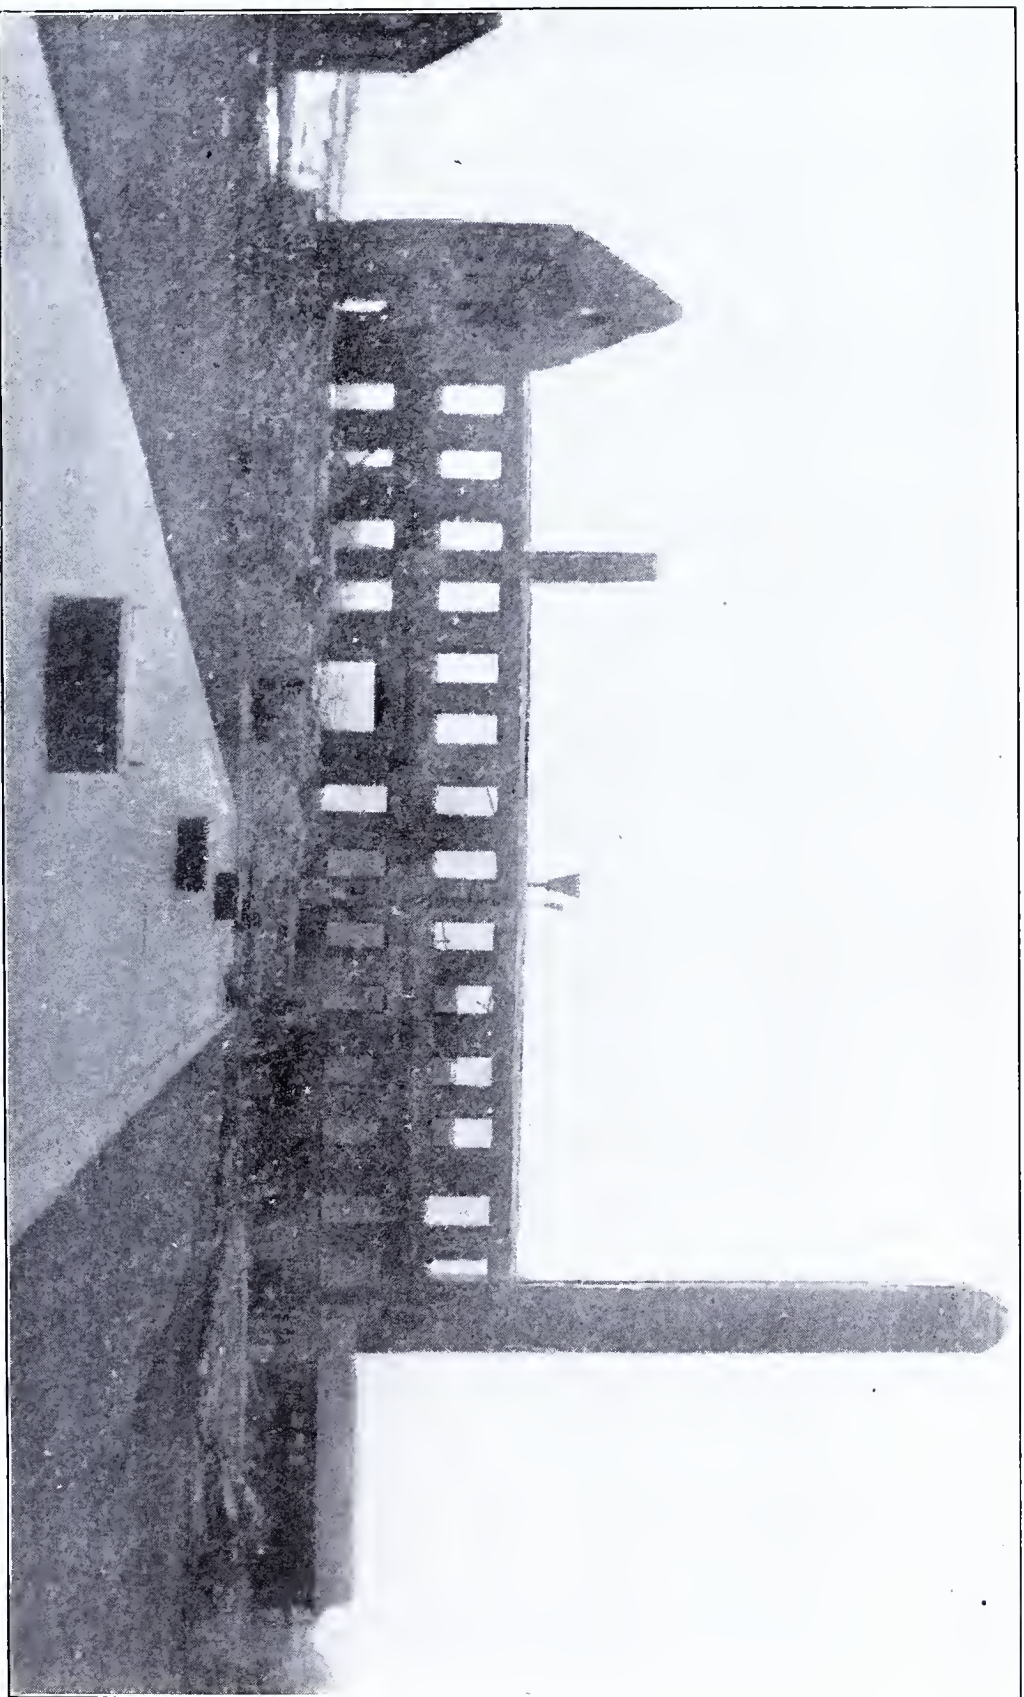

Thad. M. Mahon.

Every member of the Commission is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Legislature can rest assured nothing will be left undone to carefully guard the interests committed to their care.

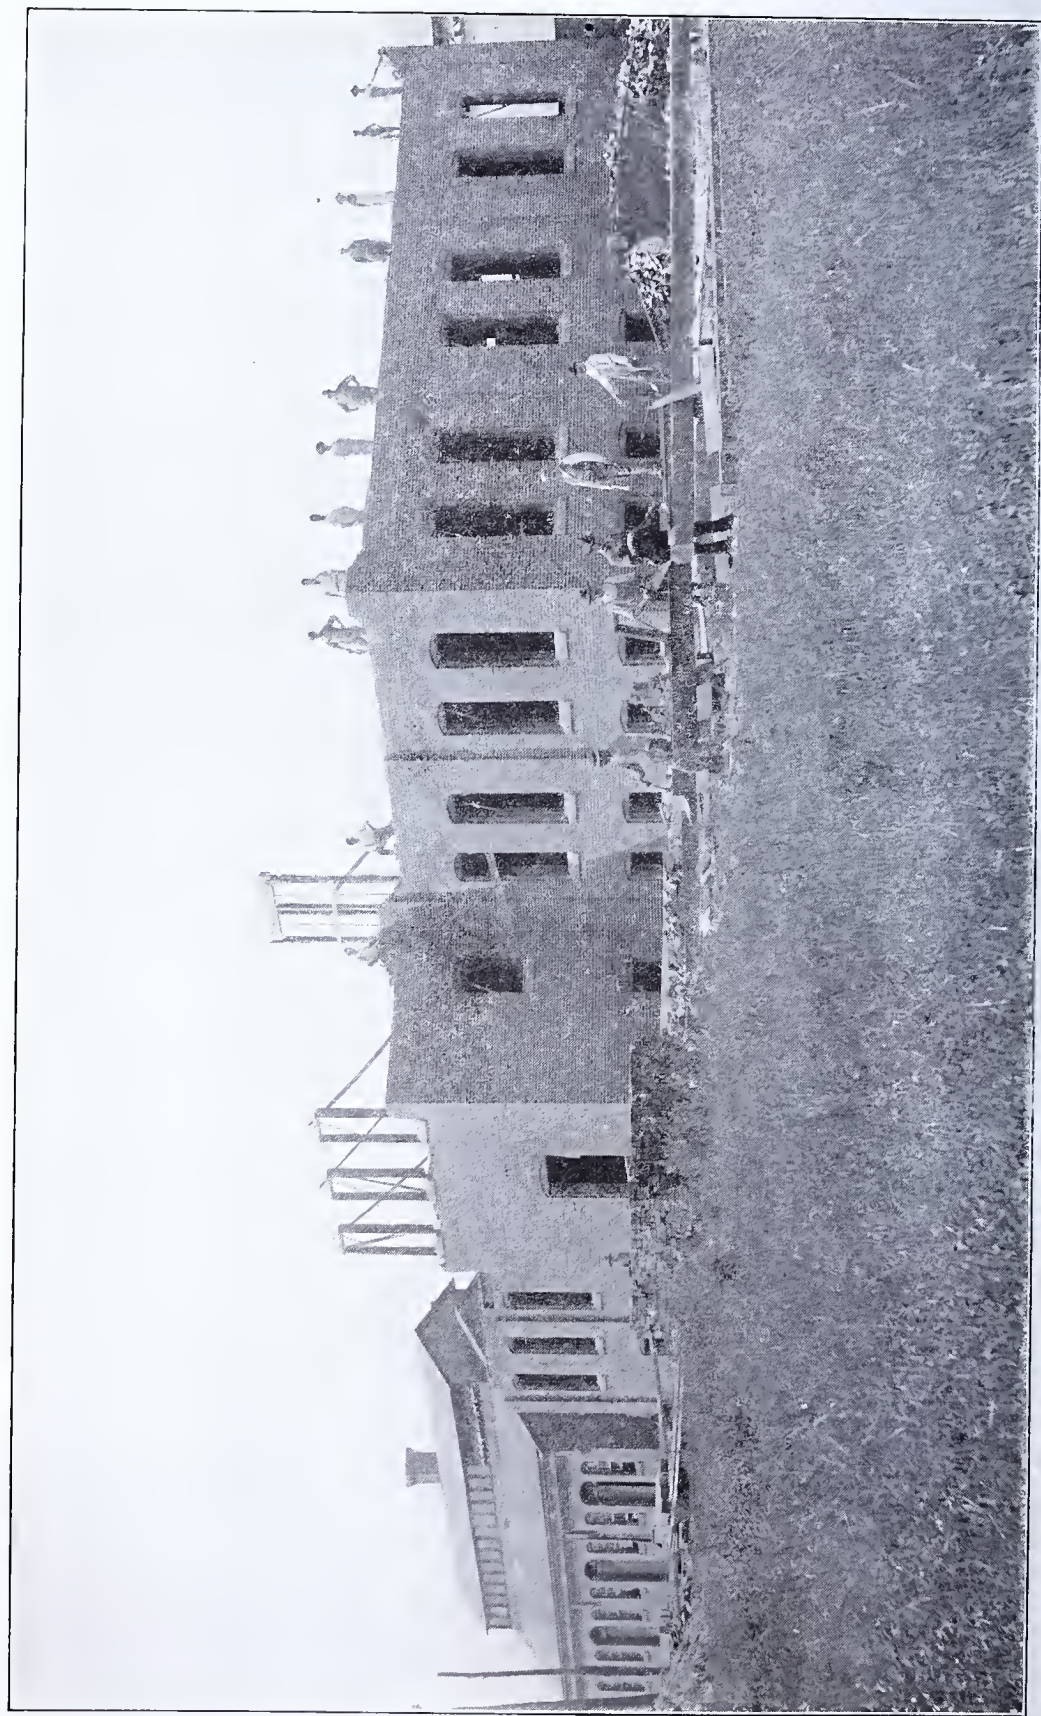

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM A. STONE,
President.

JAMES F. MORRISON,
Secretary.

INSPECTRESS' REPORT.

To the Honorable Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: In presenting this, my second annual report as Inspectress of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, I realize that the detailed reports of the heads of the various schools and departments embody all the leading features of the year, and that it is rather my province to make a general summary of the condition of the schools, and to point out any defects, and suggest any improvements or changes, rather than repeat the technical details already supplied by the officials.

In pursuance of my duties I have visited each school once each month. It is a source of congratulation that these visits were nearly always preceded or supplemented by those of some members of the Commission whose advice and assistance were always freely given, and whose personal attention to the condition of the schools should in some manner be placed upon record. While there is no desire on the part of the Inspectress to extend any fulsome praise, it is fitting that this report should note the fact that in every emergency, such as the destruction by fire at the Scotland School and the outbreak of disease at Scotland and Chester, the immediate personal attendance of the Managers (and of their Chief Clerk) has brought order out of chaos and that no exertions have been spared to maintain the health, order and discipline of the pupils. The Scotland fire took place at 9 o'clock P. M. of a winter's night and by midnight Colonel Thos. G. Sample and Chief Clerk J. D. Patterson had reached the spot by special train; had arranged for the heating of the remaining buildings and for the re-opening of the industrial pursuits. They were quickly followed by other members of the Commission, and the entire administration machinery was at once put in motion. The general public (always disposed to be censorious) can have no knowledge of the difficulties which have been overcome by the Commission except through the medium of some such official report as the present one. In this connection it will not be amiss to mention the devotion of the late Judge Alfred G. Darte, to the welfare of the Harford School. To visit this place, almost inaccessible in winter, he laid aside not only his manifold judicial duties, but every thought of personal comfort, travelling over dangerous roads in inclement weather, that he might be acquainted with every minute detail of its management.

The leading events of the year affecting the comfort of the pupils were (as just stated) the fire at Scotland, and an outbreak of scarlet fever, continuing for over three months, and which was finally subdued after the most vigorous and creditable efforts on the part of Dr. Skinner, of Chambersburg, and Miss Elder, graduate nurse. Not a life was lost or any permanent ill effects remain.

Unfortunately there was a different condition at Chester Springs, where there were a number of typhoid and measles cases, resulting in the death of three pupils. Beyond this the general health has been good.

A general statement of conditions affecting the food and clothing of all the pupils may be embodied in the fact that they have been entirely satisfactory. The food has been varied, well cooked and sufficient in quantity. The clothing has been suitable to the seasons, and of proper material, well made and comfortable. The sanitary and domestic arrangements have been especially attended to. The dormitories have been kept clean and well ventilated, and the moral and religious duties have been inculcated and cultivated under the direction of the Commission.

In the educational departments the usual system has been followed, and the results, as shown by the high averages maintained, and the promotion of two-thirds of the pupils places the seal of approval upon this system. The examinations were conducted by members of the Commission and by principals of respective schools. Besides the teaching of theories, an immense amount of general practical knowledge had been obtained. It must be remembered that the Scotland School labored under the disturbances of fire and sickness, and yet managed to graduate a class of fourteen High School pupils. From its industrial departments there are scores of pupils who bear testimony to the efficiency of the institution. They fill places in different parts of the Commonwealth as teachers, musicians, clerks, stenographers and typewriters, telegraphers, electricians, printers, tailors, dress-makers, carpenters, machinists, housekeepers, bakers, cooks and laundresses. An innovation during the year was the opening of the printing and tailoring departments to females, as well as males. In this latter department there will hereafter be made all the uniforms and civilian suits of the pupils, one of the incidental losses by the fire was the destruction of over two hundred uniforms which had been made by the inmates. They have however been replaced by work which is highly creditable.

All those in charge of the schools, together with the pupils, had labored to prepare an annual entertainment suitable to present to the Commission, the G. A. R. Posts and the public, as a mark of their advancement during the year. All of these were successful in greater or less degree, as evinced by the hearty praise of all. There were many prominent persons present, distinguished in public and private life. Mrs. Catherine Roche, of Scranton, Pa., Department President of the Ladies of the G. A. R., being one of the guests at Harford.

While it is not the intention of your Inspectress to advise the Commission, there is one subject which seems to call for attention and which might be easily susceptible of remedy. The commingling of the older pupils with those of extremely tender age is objectionable. It is an absurdity to classify boys of four, five, six and seven years of age as being subjects for the control of a military instructor. They are rather subjects for a nurse of some kind and efficient matron. In the case of the boys particularly, it is unwise and injudicious to throw them in contact, sleeping and waking, at play and at work with the older lads. However kind and considerate a military instructor may be, it is not possible for him to give proper care and attention to the needs of boys of such tender years. I venture to suggest the establishment of a separate cottage or building at Scotland for the exclusive use of these children. There are more than two hundred of them under seven years of age. It is proper to say that this matter has been already noticed by members of the Commission, who possibly have already determined upon a plan.

The last official act in life of the late honored and lamented William F. Stewart was in behalf of the orphans. When men such as he dedicated their lives to the welfare of these schools, it is not surprising that the pupils sent forth become intelligent and useful citizens.

Very respectfully submitted,

LAURA P. SWENTZEL,

Inspectress.

June 30, 1901.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

West Chester, June 30, 1901.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: In presenting the Third Annual Report of my inspections of the four schools under management of the Commission, it gives me pleasure to state that the hope expressed in my last annual report, that we would be able to present greater claims for progress during the school session just closed than the preceding ones, has been realized. I have made special reports of important matters immediately after each inspection, also detailed monthly reports. It has been my endeavor during inspections to take the time necessary to examine everything thoroughly and it gives me pleasure to congratulate the Commission on providing such a class of assistants for their work as to cause the inspector to be everywhere received with that openness and frankness during the performance of his somewhat critical and exacting duties, which often in its way has told as much as the inspection itself.

Upon my first visit to the schools in September, when the children returned from their vacation, there were in attendance at the Harford School, 131 boys and 99 girls; at Jumonville, 207 boys and 127 girls; at the Industrial, 157 boys and 118 girls; and at the Chester Springs School, 214 boys and 110 girls, a total of 1,165, of which there were 711 boys and 454 girls. At the end of the school year there were in attendance at the four schools, 705 boys and 454 girls, a total of 1,159. The admissions and discharges during the year show a decrease of 10. It is somewhat surprising that at the time of the first annual report of the Commission in 1890, there were 1,122 children on the rolls of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, while at the close of the school year just ended there were 1,155, as above stated. The Code of Rules issued by the Commission during the last session, has been very beneficial and has set out plainly the importance of the superintendents calling the teachers and other employes of the school together frequently, in order to have a clear and harmonious understanding as to the workings of their several departments.

The food furnished for the children was abundant and well prepared and in accordance with the bills of fare presented. There has been each year a gradual and noticeable improvement in the general condition of the rooms of the buildings and the grounds. Excellent gardens and truck patches have been kept up at all the schools. The introduction of electric lighting at Chester Springs and Jumonville has proven very beneficial in every way. The clothing for the children has been satisfactory and well made. Economy and business like methods seem to have been used in conducting the schools.

The children assemble twice daily for devotional exercises, and on Sunday they usually have service and sermon in the morning and Sunday School in the afternoon. The children are devoted to reading, therefore I would earnestly recommend to the Commission that the libraries in all the schools be furnished with new books, as the old ones have been read and re-read so often that new ones would be greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

The health of the children during the past year has been very good, only three deaths having occurred: Harry Young died November 20, 1900; Frederick Maule died January 21, 1901; Samuel Love died January 31, 1901. All died at the Chester Springs School, and were buried in the lot set apart for that purpose in the cemetery of the Vincent Baptist church, located near the school. In my report for May, I filed with the Commission in the office of the Commission at Harrisburg, a sketch of the marble monument erected by the State on the lot above referred to with the names of the deceased children who were buried there, and upon which are engraved the dates of their deaths; there being fourteen, the first date being January 11, 1875, and the last January 31, 1901. The lot and monument are in good order.

I found during my monthly visits to the schools that very few of the children were in the hospitals. Some of them returned after vacation with cutaneous diseases. This causes more or less annoyance each year but is soon checked by prompt treatment. There were about sixty cases of scarlet fever at the Industrial School during December and January; forty girls and twenty boys, but it being of a mild form all recovered. The school buildings were fumigated and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease by isolating the stricken children in the farm house hospital. The children at all the schools were vaccinated during the year. A good dentist has been sent around by the Commission at least quarterly during the year, and children requiring special medical treatment have been sent to the hospitals as last year.

I am pleased to state that I have witnessed fire drills at certain inspections and found the military instructors competent to handle the boys at such times. It has been the endeavor to have these drills at least once a month. The value of this precaution has been proven at the Industrial School. The Mechanical Building with all its valuable machinery was completely destroyed by fire February 20, 1901. Fortunately the boiler house, with four large boilers, and the laundry building were saved. Sparks and pieces of burning wood were blown near and over the Administration Building where the children were sleeping, but it was saved by Colonel Bambrick and his well trained and disciplined fire brigade, by keeping the roof wet. The children who were not on duty were detained in the dormitories of the Administration Building during the excitement and were not injured. The Chambersburg Fire Department reported very promptly to the school in response to notice of the fire, but when it arrived the flames were under control. The building burned was a brick structure 50 by 110 feet, two and a half stories high. In it were the machine shop, full of lathes and other expensive machinery; the wood-working shop also filled with machinery tools and working material; the tailor shop, with sewing machines and much material; the dress-making room, with sewing machines, material and twenty-one full outfits for the girls just completed and ready for distribution; the band room, in which were two full sets of band instruments and about $200.00 worth of music; and the engine room, with its fine engines and two electric dynamos, pumps, etc. Temporary arrangements were made by the Commission to enable the different industries to be resumed immediately, with the exception of the printing and machine departments. Up to the time of the fire the different industries were running very successfully. The type and presses in the printing department were also destroyed.

Under an experienced printer the boys and girls are doing the composition and mechanical work for the Industrial School News, and the Department of Telegraphy. Phonography and Typewriting continues in a progressive state, under the instruction of one of our late pupils. Captain Skinner, with the faculty and children of the Industrial School, attended the G. A. R. encampment at Gettysburg early in June. The drills given by the boys and the calisthenic exercises by the girls seemed to delight the G. A. R. comrades and all present. Many children have been successful in getting good positions after graduating from the Industrial School. I was delighted a short time ago while riding on a train to have one of our late pupils recognize me and tell me that he had obtained a good position with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as fireman.

He showed me his check for last month's services, and said that he had good prospects for advancement in the near future.

Considerable money is saved the State each year on account of the work done by the boys and girls in the Industrial Departments at Scotland. For example the printing for all the schools including blanks for various reports, commencement programs, etc., etc., is done at this school. Certain furniture is made here for the other schools, while many other practical uses are made of the boys' skill. The girls in making their own clothing at the various schools have also aided in this saving. The tailoring department at the Industrial School, including both boys and girls, working under a competent instructor, have made all the uniforms for the boys at this school and hope next year to furnish the uniforms for all the schools. At Harford there has been introduced in the course in Civil Government a method which has proven most practical and useful as well as instructive. I found that the boys and girls there could tell a great deal about our national government, the manner of elections, etc., our State government and many other useful things of this kind. There was also a list hung upon the wall with the heading of "Current Events." The pupils are expected to write on this list events which they have read from day to day. This seems a very advisable scheme and I mention it here with the hope that it or something similar may be introduced in all the schools. In passing through the class rooms from month to month I have noticed that satisfactory advancement has been made in the educational departments of all the schools. The children seem to grow in earnestness and application and the teachers appear anxious to encourage them in every way.

The commencement exercises at all the schools were a source of congratulation to those in charge of them. Many of the exercises given showed that great care and trouble had been taken and nothing left undone in the endeavor to present to the Commission and others present the best possible entertainment. The children showed in many instances a remarkable facility in doing particular parts which speaks unmistakably for the general efficiency and discipline of the schools. It is in these exercises that we see the good results of the years' work.

The boys' drills were inspected by members of the Commission at the various commencement exercises and the Commission know the general efficiency of this branch, and of the girls' calisthenic exercises. Excellent specimens of map drawing and penmanship were exhibited on the walls of the class rooms at all the schools, besides other pleasing exhibits at the Industrial School. At the Industrial School and at Chester Springs all the members of the Commission were present at the commencement exercises with the exception of Hon. Thomas V. Cooper and Captain James F. Morrison. At Uniontown, General L. G. McCauley and Col. Thos. G. Sample attended, while at Harford, Col. Thos. G. Sample, General L. G. McCauley and Judge Alfred Dart were present.

The speeches made by members of the Commission at the schools during commencement exercises and at other times, were much appreciated by the children and cannot help but tend to raise the high moral standard toward which the schools are striving.

It has not been the endeavor, in this report, to introduce, except in a general way, the multitude of details contained in my special and monthly reports, but rather to present, in so far as possible, the general condition of the schools and attitude by those in charge toward their work. And in closing I can but express my thanks to the members of the Commission for their prompt executive attention given to the needs which have unexpectedly arisen from time to time in the various schools, and to congratulate them and the others who have the responsibility of the children in their care, for their earnest performance of that trust.

Very respectfully submitted,

S. G. WILLAUER,

Inspector.

REPORTS OF SUPERINTENDENTS.

CHESTER SPRINGS.

Chester Springs, Pa., July 1, 1901.

To Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the eleventh annual report of the Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphan School.

It is the verdict of many persons who are in positions to know, that the year just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of the school.

The children, with few exceptions, returned promptly and in excellent condition at the close of the vacation. The year's work was begun by the children, as well as the employes, with a fixed and steadfast purpose to place this school in the front rank of all the schools in the system. I now confess an honest pride in saying that by a united and harmonious effort on the part of all concerned, this worthy ambition has been crowned with success. The school is in first class condition. There has not been a single runaway or complaint during the entire year.

Ninety-five children have been admitted during the school year, and an equal number discharged by reason of age or transfer to the Industrial School at Scotland. These transfers are made with reference to mental and physical fitness. Transferring the brightest children and receiving new arrivals changes the standing of the school and retards progress. However, by faithful and persevering effort the newly admitted pupils are advanced to take the places of those discharged.

I regret to report three deaths during the year. Harry Young died of lepto-meningitis, Fred Maul died of spinal meningitis, and Samuel Love died of consumption. Near the beginning of the year there were several cases of typhoid fever, and later in the term we had a few cases of pneumonia. These cases under the care of our skillful Examination Day, Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphan School.

Boys' Band and Battalion, Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphan School.

physician, Dr. Wells, and the efficient nurse, Miss Renfrew, happily recovered.

Considering the large number of children in the school and the condition of many before they are admitted, we can truly say the health of the school has been very good.

The educational department has been under the supervision of Miss Buohl, principal, assisted by a corps of faithful and experienced teachers. That good and faithful work was being accomplished by teachers and pupils was evident from the usual number of excellent literary entertainments given during the year.

All holidays, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, Easter, &c., were properly observed and appropriate services were held.

On April 27th we were highly entertained and instructed by Charles Pennypacker, Esq., of West Chester, who delivered an entertaining address on the subject, "Early History of Chester Springs." On May 15th Mr. Thos. Martindale, of Philadelphia, visited our school and entertained the children for more than an hour by giving an account of his hunting trip among the woods and lakes of northern Maine. Mr. Martindale knows how to interest and instruct children.

Memorial Day was properly observed. A number of boys, including the band under the care of Major Holt, accompanied by the superintendent and others held appropriate ceremonies in Vincent Cemetery where a number of our former pupils are buried, and strewing flowers on their graves as well as those of old soldiers. Having received a cordial invitation from Phoenixville Post 45, G. A. R., to join them in the proper observance of Memorial Day, we accepted the kind invitation and with a majority of the girls under the care of the matron, and a large number of boys including the band, commanded by Major Holt, accompanied by the superintendent and other employes, went to Phoenixville on the noon train, Post 45, G. A. R., furnishing free transportation. We were royally entertained by the Post and good people of the town.

These beautiful Memorial exercises as well as the bountiful treat of ice cream and cake will be long remembered by the children.

Our annual examination or commencement which took place June 13th was witnessed by a large number of visitors. Col. Thos. G. Sample, Judge Alfred Darte, Major Levi G. McCauley, Hon. T. M. Mahon, Hon. J. C. Stineman, Hon. A. G. Williams, Dr. A. M. Smith, and Hon. W. H. Bricker, members of the Commission. Hon. J. D. Patterson, chief clerk; Major S. G. Willauer and Mrs. Laura P. Swentzel, inspectors. Rev. J. W. Sayers, Mr. Martindale, Mr. S. Abrahams, Rev. Henderson, Rev. Trafford, Mr. J. O. K. Robarts, Mr. T. J. Dunbar, &c. After the entertainment in the evening, the members of the Commission addressed the audience, complimenting the boys and girls for their excellent drilling on the campus and splendid entertainments, and the general good appearance of the children and buildings. In short, all were pleased with what they had seen and heard during the day.

Religious and moral training has not been neglected. Sabbath school was held every Sabbath and devotional exercises daily. Preaching in chapel on special occasions.

During the year many necessary improvements were made in and about the buildings. All needed repairs were made to keep up the good appearance of the place.

Before closing this report, I wish in this public manner to thank the Commission for courtesies while in their employ, Post 45, G. A. R., and the good citizens of Phoenixville for their royal entertainment on Memorial Day, Messrs. Charles Pennypacker and Thos. Martindale for their interesting and instructive addresses, the employes of the school for their uniform kindness and faithful work during the entire year to make the school a grand success, and the good people in this vicinity for their kind treatment and good will. Thanking God for his continued goodness, I am

Very respectfully,

M. L. THOUNHURST,
Superintendent.

Welcoming Committee, Harford Soldiers' Orphan School, Annual Examination, June 11th and 12th, 1901.

HARFORD.

Harford, Pa., May 31, 1901.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to present herewith the thirty-fifth annual report of the Harford Soldiers' Orphan School.

The school year opened on September 1st, at which time the children returned promptly from their vacation. The average attendance during the year has been 230 pupils. There have been admitted during the year, 51 new pupils. We have discharged 37 and transferred 8 pupils to the Industrial School at Scotland. The general health of the children has been excellent throughout the year, having had no serious sickness. On account of the prevalence of small-pox in his vicinity the children were all vaccinated in February, by order of the Commission. There has been no death in our school since April 18, 1897; more than four years.

Weekly meetings of the faculty have been held throughout the year, keeping all informed and in close touch with the pupils, resulting in much good.

The Ripple Literary Society was formed early in the year and exercises were held in the chapel every alternate Friday evening. The pupils took much interest in this work.

During the year a short period was given at study-hour each evening for the study of current events, Civil Government and the Constitution. This has been of great benefit to the pupils, giving them a better knowledge of these subjects than the average voter.

Church service has been conducted each Sunday by ministers from Harford village. Sunday school and devotional exercises have also been conducted throughout the year.

Our buildings are old and dilapidated and will require much repairing during the vacation period to make them habitable and comfortable.

The water supply is not adequate. The deep well drilled for our use a year ago gave us some relief, but that too fails in time of drought and we are obliged to draw water from Harford village, nearly two miles.

The school enjoyed several entertainments during the year. At Christmas a beautiful Christmas tree was provided for the children and with nuts, candy and fruit so generously provided by the Commission all were made happy indeed. Our annual sugar party and sleighride were also much enjoyed. Through the kindness of Col. Ripple, we were again delighted with a visit from Bauer's noted 13th Regiment Band, a report of which appeared in the Scranton Tribune.

Our annual commencement was held on June 11th and 12th. Several members of the Commission, the State Inspectors, and many visitors were present. The program was well rendered in every detail and the exercises gave such general satisfaction as to draw forth much favorable comment from members of the Commission and other friends of the school. The very satisfactory and encouraging remarks of the speakers reflected great credit upon the Principal and his corps of able teachers, who have worked with such zeal and harmony that such splendid results might be attained.

The State Inspectors have visited us regularly each month. We have also had visits from Col. Thos. G. Sample, Hon. Judge Alfred Dart and Major Levi G. McCauley, representing the Commission. These visits are always helpful to the management of the school, and more of them would be beneficial and appreciated accordingly.

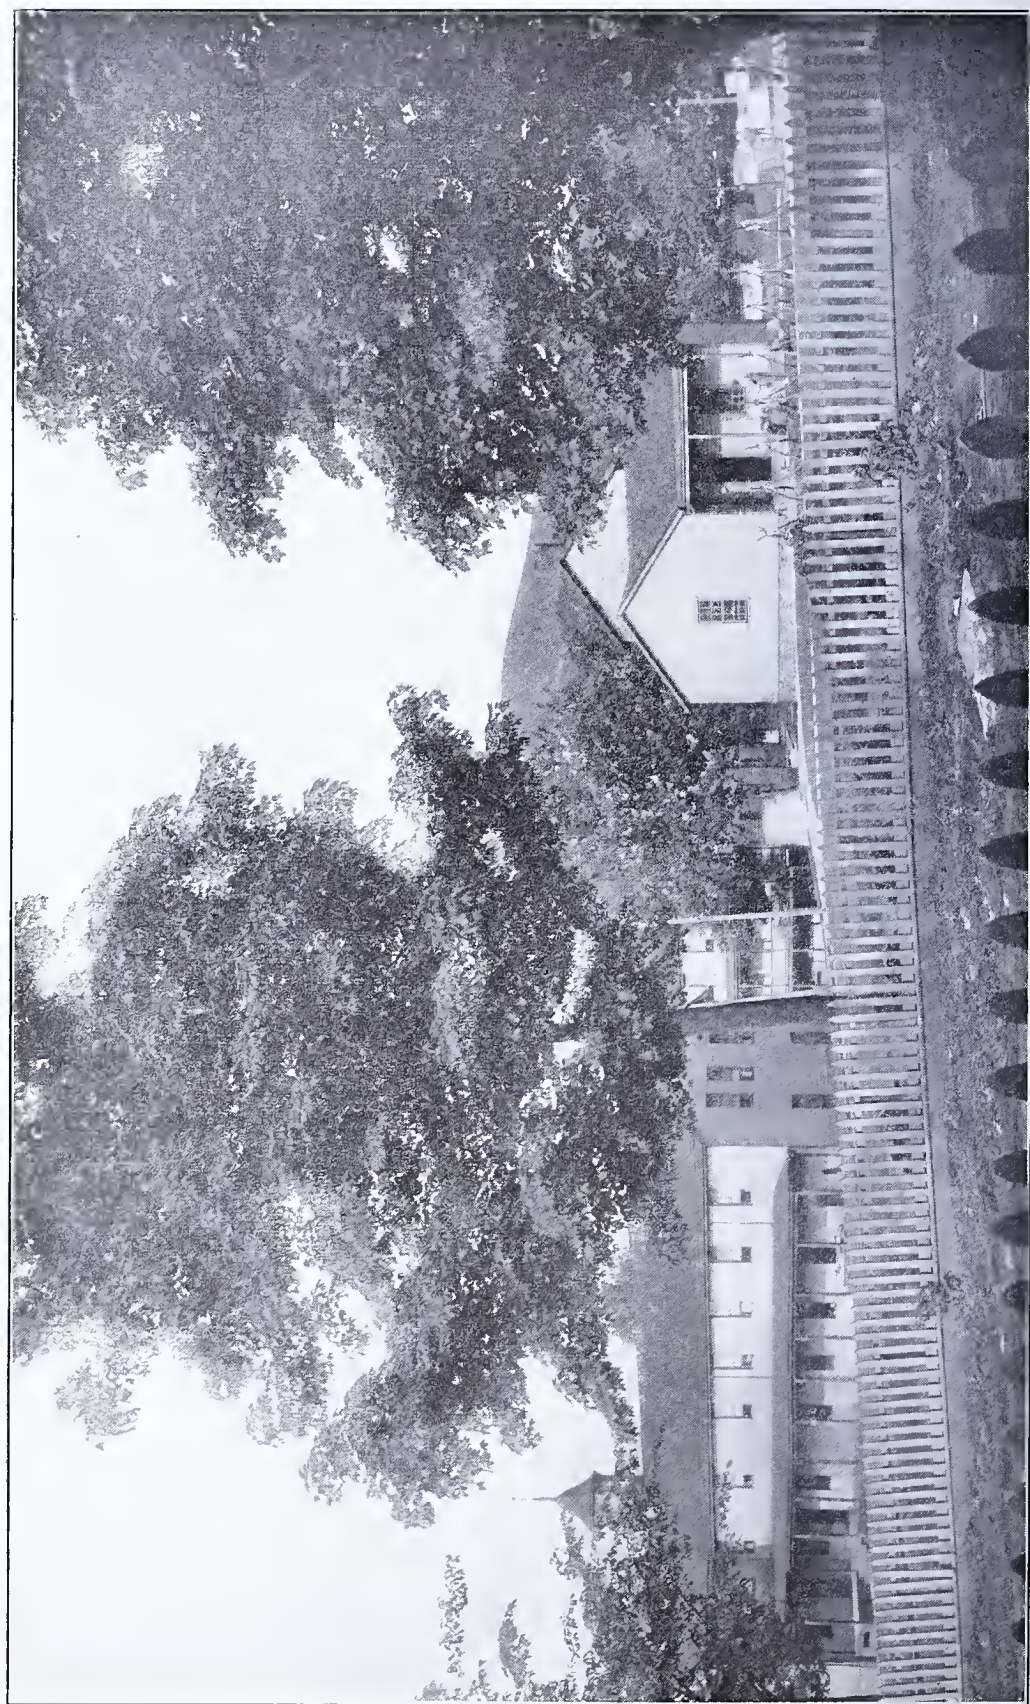

In closing I desire to thank the Commission for their always watchful care of the children and ready support of the officials here in charge; the chief clerk for his uniform kindness; the State Inspectors for their kindly interest and advice; the faculty and employes for their ready co-operation; and Col. E. H. Ripple, who keeps our library supplied with books, brings us so many entertainments and whose heart is always open to the appeal of the soldiers' orphan.

Respectfully submitted,

JAS. E. MATHEWS,
Superintendent.

UNIONTOWN SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL.

Jumonville, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to present the thirty-fifth annual report of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School.

The whole number of pupils in attendance during the year ending May 31st is 413, of whom 94 were admitted during the year. Twenty-nine have been discharged on age, twelve on order, and forty-one by transfer to the Industrial School at Scotland, Pa., leaving the number on the roll at close of the year 331. One pupil, Harry Gist, has been placed for treatment in the Passavant Memorial Home for Epileptics, at Rochester, Pa. The health of the pupils generally, has been exceptionally good. One of our pupils, Katie Lewis, has been suffering from tuberculosis, and one pupil, referred to, has developed a severe form of epilepsy. There were several cases of diphtheria, which yielded readily to treatment. There has been no epidemic of contagious disease during the year and we are spared the necessity of recording a single death.

The school department has been under the efficient direction for the past two years of Prof. Thos. E. Wilson, Ph. D., and commendable progress has been made. By this kind, yet firm and effective methods, excellent discipline has been maintained and the duties of the school room have seemed a pleasure to the children, rather than irksome tasks. Mr. Wilson severs his connection with this school to become the superintendent and principal of the Chester Springs school. It gives us pleasure to say that under the administration of Mr. Wilson the school has advanced and the discipline has been every thing that could be desired. While we regret the departure of Mr. Wilson who has won the admiration and affection of the children, we congratulate him on his promotion, and wish him the same degree of success in his new relations that he has attained here. Miss Hamilton, who is a good teacher, has also been transferred to the Chester Springs school. In connection with this subject of the school department I would remind the Commission that several years ago they recognized the need of an additional room for the primary school. This need has not diminished by the lapse of time, but has increased by the admission of many small children. Two teachers giving instruction at the same time in a crowded room, cannot be expected to accomplish the best results, or do justice to themselves or the children. Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which they have labored the work of Mrs. Wanbaugh and Miss Redding in the primary school has been well performed. Miss Redding withdraws from the faculty to take a course of training in primary and kindergarten work.

The deportment of the children during the year has been in the main very commendable. The only serious offences were those committed by a number of boys who absented themselves from the school without leave of absence.

Chapel service morning and evening of each day have been maintained and church service and Sunday school on Sundays. There has been no sectarian end in view in any of the religious instructions given, but the aim has been to cultivate character by instilling the essential truths of the christian religion. This I take it is the best preparation for useful citizenship.

Military drill has been kept up during the entire year—the “setting up” exercises every morning, and the manual of arms and field movements when the weather permitted. The result of the work in this department has been pronounced satisfactory by those most competent to judge. To stimulate and encourage the boys of the battalion, two prizes were offered, consisting of silver medals for excellence in military drill. The first of these medals was won by Rollie Sincley and the second by Harry Clearwater. The military department has been under the care of Major Wambaugh.

Quite a number of improvements and repairs have been made during the year by the proprietor. New roofs have been put on several of the buildings, new floors laid, and a new 15-inch sewer has been laid for surface drainage. The position of outside closets has been changed and the new sewer so arranged as to thoroughly flush the closets with every rain.

By your direction twenty small beds have been placed in “Vine” cottage for the accommodation of the small boys, thus allowing a larger number of the little fellows to sleep under the same roof with their matron. The reading-room of “Magee” cottage has been furnished with an attractive new carpet and similar furnishing placed in a number of the rooms for teachers and employes.

Our annual examination took place on the 18th and 19th of June. There was not a very large attendance of visitors, and Col. Thomas G. Sample and wife, and Gen. L. G. McCauley, who represented the Commission, were accompanied by Miss Emily Patterson and Mrs. Butterworth, and Maj. S. G. Willauer and Miss Laura P. Swentzel, State Inspectors.

Though few in number, the members of the Commission and visitors were certainly appreciative. It is not necessary here to recite the events of the “annual” or detail the programme carried out. But it is not out of place to say, in behalf of the teachers to whom the credit of training the children belongs, and in behalf of the children themselves, that the performances were perhaps the most satisfactory that we have given. There was not one number that was not well rendered. Among so many creditable performances it is difficult to particularize. The calisthenics and dumb bell exercises were given with faultless precision. From beginning to end there was not a wrong motion. For grace and beauty we have never seen the motion drills "The March Winds" and "The Lily Elves" excelled. The musical features were also excellent. Indeed the whole entertainment was a pronounced success.

The military drill was up to the usual standard of excellence. A unique feature of this drill was the exhibition given by the Hospital Corps, who in mimic show carried the wounded from the field of battle to the field hospital, first binding up their broken limbs and stanching their bleeding wounds.

We believe we can say, at its close, that the past year has been a very successful one. The relations between the superintendent and his corps of assistants in every department has been of the most pleasant kind, and there has been harmonious and hearty co-operation on the part of all the faculty and employes.

We desire to thank the Commission for their intelligent supervision and their readiness to do everything to promote the welfare of the school.

The inspectors have paid us regular monthly visits, and have dealt with us in kindness and fairness. We believe that they have conscientiously performed their sometimes trying duties.

To all those associated with the management of the school, in every capacity, we return our thanks for their earnest and ready co-operation, which alone has rendered the work of the year a success.

SCOTLAND.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

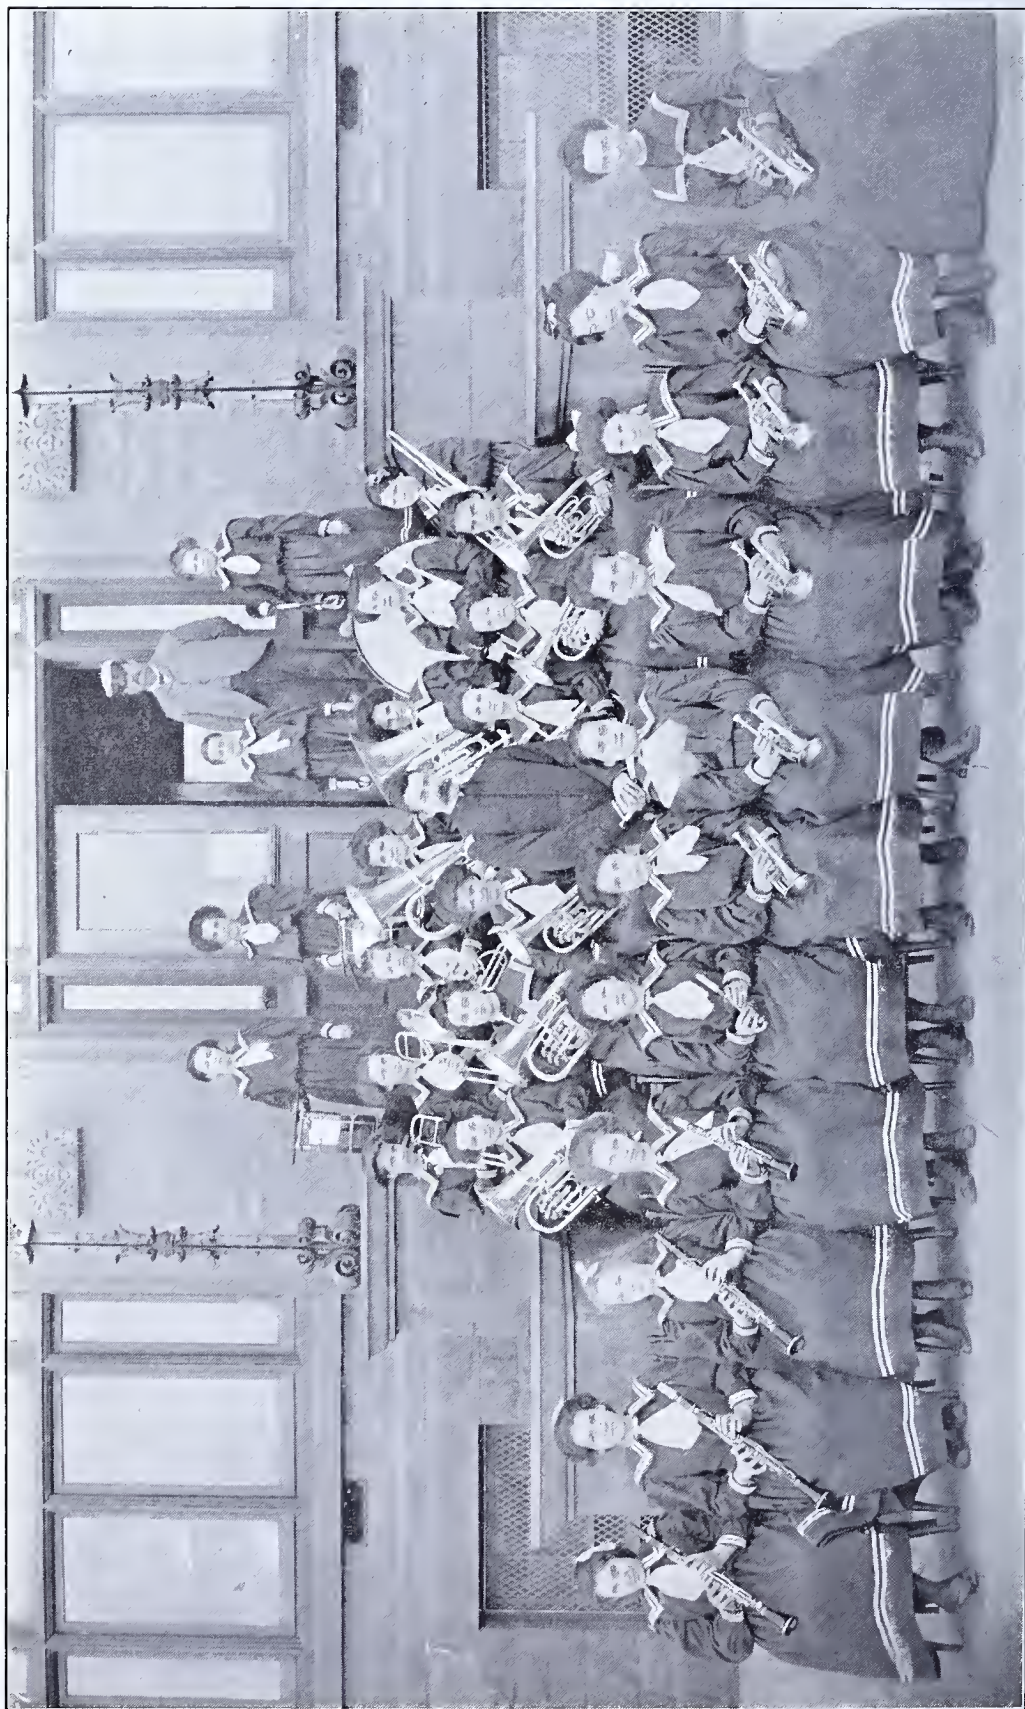

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the sixth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, located at this place, with accompanying reports of the instructors in the various departments.

I took charge of the institution as superintendent on July 1, 1900, relieving Prof. Thounhurst, who had been assigned to duty at the Chester Springs school. I was extremely fortunate in being able to begin my administration with the aid of almost the same corps of faithful and intelligent instructors and assistants who had been employed during the previous year. Several of these had been connected with the institution from the time of its opening in the fall of 1895, and being thoroughly acquainted with all the details of the work to be done, my duties as superintendent were much lightened in consequence thereof. In fact there was not a day during the entire year when I could not but feel that every effort of mine for the good of the school was being faithfully and loyally supported by all those around me. The spirit of harmony and good feeling prevailing among the employes had its full effect upon the children and they seemed at all times contented, happy and much interested in their work. There were no desertions, no grave infractions of the rules and consequently no necessity for harsh or severe punishment. The great majority of them seemed at all times to be jealous for the good name of the school and on all public occasions during the year their general deportment was of such a character as to elicit the most favorable comment. Although the scheduled work of the school year was very seriously interrupted, first by the prevalence of an epidemic of scarlet fever and afterwards by the very disastrous fire in our Industrial Department, a good showing for the year was nevertheless made in all the departments. This at least seemed to be the opinion of the members of the Commission and other prominent visitors as expressed at the close of our commencement exercises on June 26th. Both Col. Sample and Judge Darte in the course of their addresses to the graduating class unhesitatingly declared their belief that the work of the school year had not been surpassed in the history of the school and that the commencement exercises proper were without doubt up to the required standard of the most critical observer. While we have all felt very proud over such expressions of commendation we have not allowed ourselves to overlook the fact that we had been given, at the beginning of the year, a number of the very brightest pupils from the other schools and that we had been afforded many facilities which the other schools did not possess.

At various intervals during the latter part of the school year we were visited by delegations from Harrisburg, composed of State officials and members of the Legislature. The most notable of these visitations was that of the appropriation committee of the House of Representatives during the latter part of May. On all such occasions exhibition drills and various other exercises were given to the manifest pleasure and delight of our distinguished guests.

On Memorial Day the entire school was taken to Chambersburg on a special train, furnished without cost by the Cumberland Valley Railroad, and during all the exercises the boys and girls were given the post of honor and contributed largely to the impressiveness of the ceremonies. The local newspapers spoke in unstinted praise of the conduct and exercises of the boys and girls, one of them saying: "Their presence helped make our Memorial Day services the best the town has ever known."

The greatest and most enjoyable event in the history of the school year was the visit of the entire school to Gettysburg, June 4th and 5th, during the meeting at that place of the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania. Complete arrangements having been previously made for transportation and entertainment by Col. Sample, Congressman Mahon and Mayor Patterson, on behalf of the Commission, we left here on a special train at 7 o'clock on the morning of June 4th and reached Gettysburg at 10.30 A. M. Provisions for two days were taken along and good quarters for the boys at the High School building and for the girls at the Theological Seminary building were secured. The time from our arrival until our departure for home at 6.30 on the evening of the 5th, was, with the exception of the hours needed for rest and refreshments, taken up by military drill and calisthenic exercises on the college campus, by instrumental and vocal music and recitations in Z Hall before crowded audiences, and by visitations to all the more important points on the battlefield, where the main features of the battle were explained by Captain Long, the celebrated battlefield guide. There was but one opinion expressed by all with whom our children came in contact during the visit, and that was of the most favorable character. Hon. S. McC. Swope, president judge of the courts of that district, said to us as we were about leaving for home: "Captain, you should feel very proud of your boys and girls. Their conduct has been unexceptionable and their general appearance superb. They are an honor to the State and to all who have had anything to do with their management." The visit of the children was certainly a pleasing one to the old veterans present at the encampment. The marching and military evolutions of the boys seemed especially to arouse their enthusiasm. It doubtless served to remind them of the days, now long gone by, when as boys not much older than these Scotland boys of ours, they were marching forth into the heat and flame of the great battle for national unity and national life.

Our commencement exercises on June 25th and 26th were well attended and apparently of much interest to all. Owing to the fact that the Legislature was then in the closing hours of its session some of the members of the Commission by reason of their duties as members were unable to be with us, while others were present for only a few hours. Those who were able to be with us during the whole of our exercises were Gen. McCauley, Judge Darté, Col. Sample, Congressman Mahon and Chief Clerk Patterson. Our inspectors, Major Willauer, and Mrs. L. P. Swentzel, were also present and took a lively interest in all the exercises. The weather was simply perfect and nothing whatever occurred to mar the pleasures of the occasion. Judge Darté presented the diplomas to the members of the High School graduating class and delivered a most eloquent and impressive address in connection therewith.

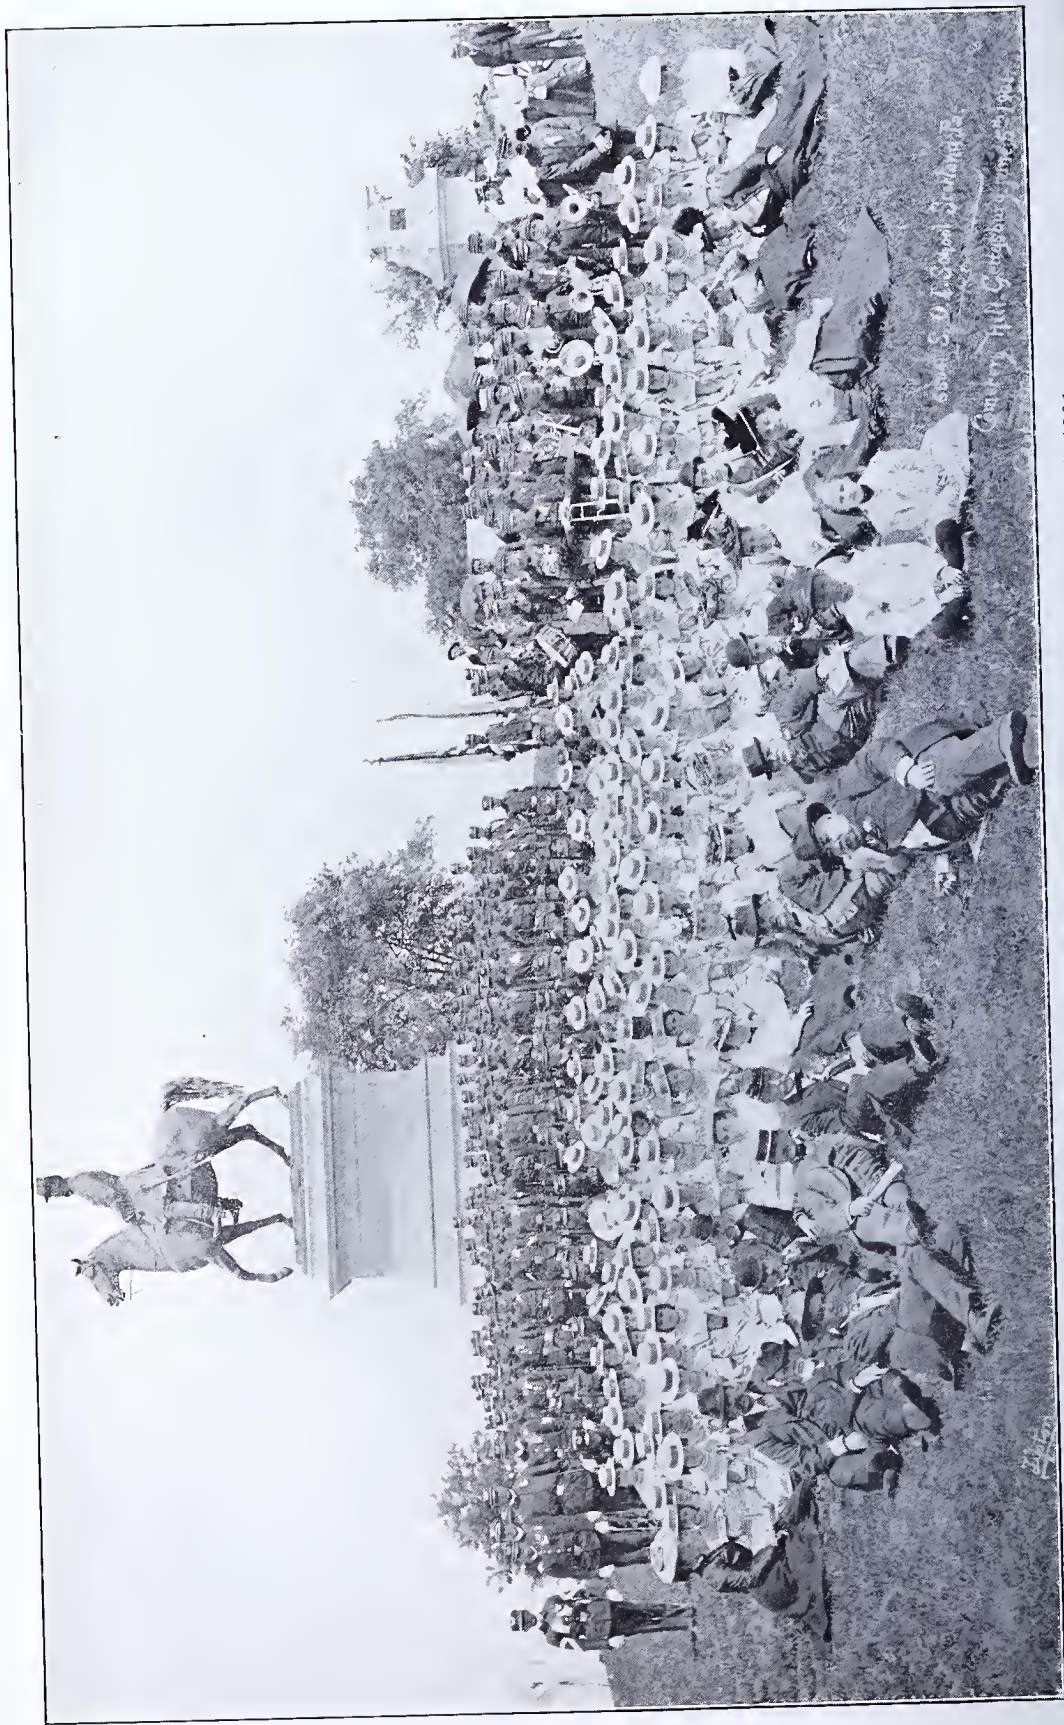

The necessity of keeping this report within proper limits forbids that I should make mention of many other matters which might very properly be embraced within it. Some of these matters have received attention or have been touched upon in the reports herewith submitted by the heads of the principal departments. These reports, in connection with my own, will afford a pretty good general idea of our year's work. We have all striven to give a good account of our year's stewardship and trust that we have not altogether failed to do so. It would be idle for us to say that all the good accomplished is due to our own efforts, because a large share of it has been due to the members of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, who have at all times been most solicitous for our welfare and have aided us in every proper way.

To all those who have been associated with me in the responsible work of the year just passed, I beg to tender my warmest thanks. The more arduous part of the work has been theirs and they deserve the greater share of the credit for whatever of good has been accomplished. I feel also that my acknowledgments would not be complete without ascribing a fair share of praise to the children who, by their general good conduct and cheerfulness under every circumstance have helped make the year one to which I can always look back with pleasure.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Capt. G. W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School:

Dear Sir: I here submit my first annual report as principal of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School educational department.

Although the past year has been crowded with unavoidable happenings calculated to bring discouragement to both teachers and pupils, they surmounted each difficulty bravely and neither fire nor pestilence daunted them in the onward march toward a successful completion of the year's work.

Since the opening of the school, September 1st, special attention has been given to drills in composition work, letter writing, spelling and such practical accomplishments as will be invaluable to our boys and girls when thrown upon their own resources in the business world. This work has been found to be a stimulus to the regular scheduled work of the curriculum rather than a hindrance, and although it necessitated many hours of extra duty for the teachers, all agree that the marked improvement along these practical lines of education has been more than worth the effort.

Recognizing in our pupils an urgent need of something to counteract the timidity and bashfulness displayed when called upon to speak in public, regular bi-weekly exercises along this line were instituted. In addition to these exercises a number of impromptu programs were rendered for the entertainment of distinguished and appreciative visitors. The Girls' Glee Club and choir played an important part in all these functions and deserve much credit.

It has been our aim throughout the year to teach pupils to do things by performing the prescribed duties and exercises themselves and placing upon each piece of work the stamp of the pupil's individuality.

The slight change made in the law, relative to the time pupils shall be discharged, makes it possible to have a graduating class at the close of each school year. The class day exercises held June 26th, when twelve boys and eight girls received their diplomas, was a fitting close to the year's work.

It is to be hoped that these graduating exercises may in the future be a leading feature of the annual commencement.

The standard set on past examination days has been high. The teachers realizing that under the present conditions anything short of the established precedents would leave the effect of failure, put forth their best efforts to reach and even surpass all previous records. How well they succeeded can best be told in the words spoken by a member of the Commission: "The exercises were such as we had hoped this school might sometime be able to give."

The pupils have been uniformly obedient, respectful and studious, the interest in class room work during the last quarter being especially commendable. While striving for the prizes offered by a member of the Commission for the highest general averages those who lost the special prizes gained rich rewards in the efforts put forth for advancement.

The religious instruction of the year has consisted of preaching on each alternate Sabbath afternoon, Sabbath school classes each Sabbath morning, and daily evening worship. During the year our pupils took part in the evening worship personally and many of the more advanced pupils acted as substitute Sabbath school teachers in a very efficient manner.

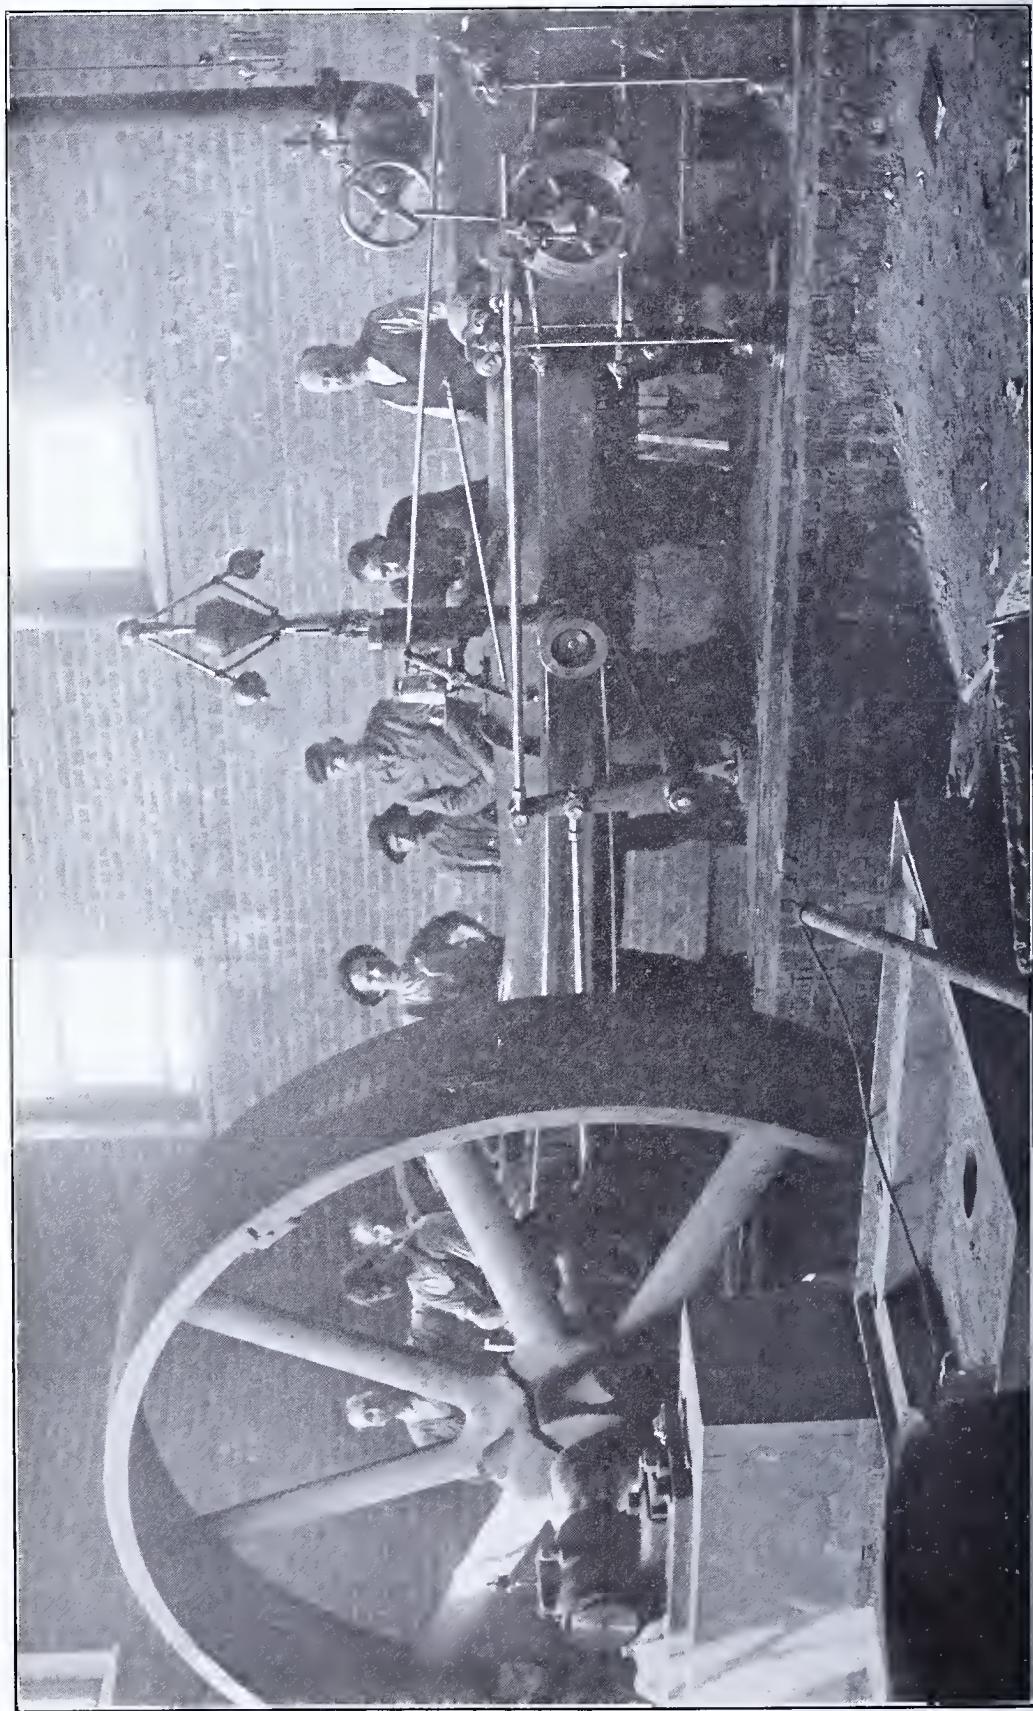

My fellow teachers have labored faithfully and cheerfully for the best interests of the school. To my superior officers I am indebted for kindly criticisms, timely suggestions, liberty of action and unswerving support in all matters pertaining to the prescribed school work.

Very truly,

W. C. BAMBRICK.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENTS.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

George W. Skinner, Supt.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the sixth annual report of the Industrial Departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

On September 1, 1900, the school term was opened, and instructors and pupils started in for the year's work with the apparent determination to make this the banner year in the history of the school. The instructors had taken advantage of vacation period to thoroughly renovate the machinery, small tools and material of all kinds in their departments and every thing was in first class condition.

Every thing moved along satisfactorily. The pupils manifested a deep interest in their work and had made rapid progress until scarlet fever broke out in the school, which reduced the average attendance of pupils in the departments, and to a certain extent interfered with the interest that they had heretofore taken in their work. This condition necessarily existed for several weeks, and just about the time things were assuming their normal condition, and almost all of the pupils who had been out through illness, had returned to their departments, and everybody seemed to have taken a fresh start, and we still hoped to make this the most prosperous year in the industrial departments in the history of the school. We were again doomed to disappointment, for on the night of February 20th, about 9 P. M., a fire broke out in the engine room from causes unknown, which completely destroyed the Industrial Building. This was the first real test of the fire apparatus at the school, and I am happy to say the same worked to our entire satisfaction. The fire hydrants in the vicinity of the Industrial Building being in use, and a line of hose run from each hydrant, and while the Industrial Building was a complete loss, yet the boiler room which is located only twelve feet, and the laundry, which is located only thirty feet from the destroyed building, were both saved. It was a cold night and a high wind was blowing, and it was feared for a time the main school building would be destroyed, as the sparks were blowing in that direction. In view of the this fact, assistance was asked for by 'phone from the fire department of Chambersburg. They responded cheerfully, sending the only steam fire engine they have in the town and two lines of hose, but owing to the delay in loading the apparatus on the car in Chambersburg, for which nobody is responsible, as the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company came to our assistance, furnishing a locomotive and cars, yet when they arrived on the grounds the fire was under control and it was unnecessary to unload the apparatus. The members of the fire department, Cumberland Valley Railroad people and the citizens in general from Chambersburg, rendered valuable assistance to the employes and pupils of this school and the citizens of Scotland and the surrounding country, who responded promptly at the outbreak of the fire. Many of them remained until the fire was completely extinguished, which was not until about daylight on the morning of February 21st.

On that morning we fully realized the seriousness of this fire. Through the destruction of this building the electric light plant was completely destroyed, and as that is the only light used we were left in darkness. In addition to that all the heating pipes passed from the boiler room through the burned building to supply heat for the main building. They were also torn down and in the wreckage, and the question of heat and light now confronted us, which meant that something must be done and done quickly. The condition of the ruins was such that none of the old material could be utilized, but upon inquiry it was found that we could get pipe from The Chambersburg Engineering Co. and Mr. Jacob Rinick, of Chambersburg, to make temporary steam connections, which was done at once, and in forty-one hours after the fire broke out temporary steam connections had been made and steam turned into the main building, which added much to the comfort of the pupils and people residing therein.

The matter of lighting the building was also a serious question. On the night of the fire Col. Thos. G. Sample, of the Commission, accompanied by John D. Patterson, arrived on the scene by special train from Harrisburg, and the question of temporary lighting was taken up at once with them, and a dynamo and engine ordered from the Westinghouse Co., of Pittsburg, and in just two weeks the building was again lighted by electric light. In ordering this engine and dynamo the question of a permanent electric light plant was also considered, and they will form a part of the new plant.

The next question to be considered was the temporary location of the industries. As all the clothing for the pupils is made in the sewing and tailoring departments, and must necessarily go on or incur an additional expense to have the same made by outside parties. This was accomplished, however, in a short time, and they were located in temporary quarters at different places, and the work in the several departments has been carried on until the close of the school term.

In the meantime the Commission has awarded contracts for the reconstruction of the Industrial Building, also for the machinery for the several departments, and it is hoped and expected that by the opening of the next school term, September 1st, that everything will be in readiness to again begin work.

For detailed reports of the several departments I would respectfully refer you to the reports of the instructors in charge.

There has been but one change in the corps of employes in the past year. Mr. Fred. W. Zorn, who resigned September, 1900, was succeeded as night engineer by Mr. C. Ed. Mickey, of Chambersburg, who has filled the position very acceptably.

In closing this brief report I desire to thank the members of the Commission for their many courtesies, and Capt. George W. Skinner, superintendent, for his assistance and co-operation in the work of the year just closed.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. STEWART,
Superintendent of Industries.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Supt. of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Sir: In submitting the following as our sixth annual report of the Printing Department of this institution, we are seriously handicapped from the fact that all our records, such as memorandums of jobs printed, deportment and progress of pupils, account of stock on hand, etc., were lost in the fire that destroyed our Mechanical Building February 20th.

At that time nineteen boys and eleven girls were working in the office and making very satisfactory progress, not only in type-setting, but also in proof reading, press work, making ready book and newspaper forms, setting and working three and four color jobs, and as exchange and literary editors. We had a vast assortment of plain and fancy job work, set and printed by the pupils, which we intended placing on exhibition during the commencement season, but all this was lost in the fire.

That all important object of the department, however, the inculcating of the principles of the trade into the minds of the pupils, is on exhibition in printing offices in many parts of the State where our ex-pupils are earning an honorable livelihood by working at their trade.

This was the object aimed at in our work and we are perfectly satisfied with the result of the six months labor, but, of course, very sorry our pupils could not reap the benefits of the practical instruction they would have received in our excellently equipped office in a full school year of ten months, as pupils always learn more rapidly during the last half of a school year than during the first half of it. As we had a number of bright pupils we expected to make a most excellent showing for the school year, in fact the best the department has ever made, which we believe would have been entirely satisfactory to you and to the distinguished gentlemen composing the Commission.

Very respectfully,

JOHN H. POMEROY,
Editor and Printer.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Chambersburg, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School,
Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith present to you a report of the medical services rendered at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, at Scotland, Pa., during the year that has just closed.

This has been a very eventful year in all the departments. The heads of each department have had to labor under many unavoidable difficulties. Our department has not been an exception to the rule. But with all the extra work done and the many difficulties encountered, my work has been very pleasant and gratifying to me.

In my last report I referred to two cases of Tinea Tonsurans (or ring worm of the scalp) which went to their homes for their vacation uncured. They continued the treatment during vacation. In September one returned cured, the other improved; treatment was continued and patient cured. One new case was noticed early in the year but yielded readily to treatment and no other cases came to my notice during the year; so from Tinea Tonsurans the children went to their homes free at this vacation.

Early in the autumn it became known to us that scarlatina was epidemic in and around the village of Scotland, Pa. Notwithstanding the fact that we took every precaution possible to keep the children from being contaminated, our efforts were not successful. Scarlatina became epidemic among the children at the school in the last week of November. Seventy-five cases in all were sent away from the main school building to the hospital and rigidly quarantined. Forty-eight was the highest number we had in the hospital at one time, this was on January 13th. By February 13th all the children were well and back at their regular work; no deaths, no bad results followed. Much could be said in detail about the difficulties encountered in stamping out this epidemic and about our inadequate hospital facilities for treating such an epidemic as this. Much could be said about the extra work that such an epidemic causes, not only in this particular department, but to the superintendent, the matron, the nurses, the principal and others, but as all this is familiar to you I will not make any further comment. However, I can't close this part of my report without thanking the Commission for the courteous manner in which they treated me, in giving me encouragement by the confidence manifested and in sending two additional trained nurses to aid in the care of the children during this epidemic. In fact, there was nothing asked for that was possible to get, that was not promptly and cheerfully forgotten. It must be gratifying to you, and the Commission as well, that I can report so favorably of an epidemic that looked so threatening.

No sooner was this epidemic over until new trouble threatened. A case of small-pox came into the village of Scotland and had it not been for the judicious manner in which it was rigidly quarantined by the health officer, a serious epidemic might have followed. On account of the proximity of the school to the village in which the case of small-pox was, I deemed it best to vaccinate all the children and employes at the school. This was done as quickly as possible.

During the year I treated three fractured fore-arms. All three were bad fractures and troublesome, but all made good recoveries and have good use of their arms.

One boy suffering from appendicitis was removed to the Harrisburg hospital where he was operated upon. He fully recovered and returned to the school in about two months.

One other boy had two fingers of his left hand caught in a machine at the wood department. Amputation being necessary, I removed him to the hospital in Chambersburg, Pa., where I performed the operation. He returned to school on the second day following.

When vacation came all the children were well enough to go to their homes, except one girl, who was detained at the school about ten days because of a severe case of ivy poisoning. She however, recovered fully and went to her home when cured.

As plans have been made and ground broken for a new and complete hospital building for the school, it is to be hoped that we will be able in the future to perform our duties better and with more satisfaction to all.

No deaths occurred during the year. Thanking you and all others who helped to make my work pleasant and effectual, I am,

Very respectfully,

W. F. SKINNER, M. D.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Capt. G. W. Skinner, Supt.:

Dear Sir: I here submit my fifth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School military department.

At the close of the school session June 30, 1900, the Commission saw fit to elect the military instructor principal of schools. They then elected Major Henry B. Smith, the ranking cadet officer of the battalion, assistant military instructor.

Owing to increased duties, I have not been able to give as much personal attention to the drills as last year, but the assistant military instructor has carried out the same system of drills in a very masterly manner. Instruction and drill in this department began with the opening of school and has been kept up regularly during the entire year. If boys were unable to perform the regular drills and exercises prescribed for the line, they were formed into separate classes and given special work suited to their strength and physical condition. After a course of this kind we have without an exception found the boys prepared to take part in all the required drills and exercises.

A number of our competent officers of the preceding year's battalion returned to school and were a great help in organizing and drilling the new battalion into a fair state of proficiency. This we were able to accomplish before September 18th, when the band and battalion led the Street Carnival parade in Chambersburg. A squad of the boys took part in the sham battle on the same date. The band and battalion gave a very pretty dress parade on the public square of the same town after the exercises on Memorial Day.

The drill and general conduct of the boys on the two days trip to Gettysburg, June 4th and 5th, was very creditable.

When all the lights were suddenly extinguished and the cry of fire rang through the building on the night of February 20th, our discipline was fully tested as to its efficiency. We had made the test as a fire drill but this was the first time the reality had confronted us. I am happy to say the action of our young pupils was all that could be desired. Not a boy left the dormitories until the command was given to do so and then only the fire fighters went out. They came in good order and went promptly into service, doing effective work as long as necessary. Those who were not needed on the scene of action were kept in their dormitories safe from the bitter cold of the night. They were in charge of faithful boy officers.

The boys have maintained a high standard in athletics and have reason to be proud of the season's record.

The girls' physical culture classes, directed by Miss Small, began drilling earlier this year than has been customary and kept faithfully at it till the close of school year. Their series of exhibition drills were particularly well chosen and admirably executed.

I wish to thank the members of the Commission and the superintendent for their many valuable suggestions and kindly recognition of the physical culture and military departments.

Very respectfully,

W. C. BAMBRICK.

MACHINE DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Supt., Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the report of the machine department of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School for the year just closed.

The beginning of the term, September 1, 1900, found everything in first class condition, and I fully expected to surpass any previous year in this department. Castings were on hand for a 12x60 inch LaBlond engine lathe, and also a 13x72 inch Blaisdell engine lathe almost completed. I fully expected to have both lathes finished by this time, and by so doing add two lathes to the equipment of the department. I had also started to build six small cannon. Work on all this machinery was progressing rapidly, and all the pupils were very much interested in their work, and in addition to the work just mentioned were many other articles under construction of various forms, the same designed in such a manner as to give the pupils instruction in the various mechanical movements at the vice and on the machines in the department.

Owing to an unusual amount of sickness in the school the average attendance of pupils in the department had been somewhat reduced for several weeks, and about the time the pupils on the sick list had returned to the department again our work was cut short by fire on February 20th, which totally destroyed the machine shop.

Since that time I have been engaged with a number of my pupils going over the machinery taken from the wreck to see if I could recover anything that would be of use in the department when again opened, and also for some weeks assisting in getting things ready for the new building.

In conclusion permit me to thank the Commission and officials of the school for many courtesies.

Respectfully submitted,

A. B. BEARD,
Instructor.

WOOD DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School:

Dear Sir: This department started the school year with thirty-four boys all determined to make it a successful and profitable year. They worked a great deal on repair work about the Administration building as well as on new work, such as tables, shelving, brackets and scroll work for buildings, small tables and a large variety of fancy articles, as well as Indian clubs and dumb-bells for the other schools of our system. A few days after the fire, which occurred on February 20th, this department started to work in the carriage house, making tables and benches to place in the other departments about to start. The boys of this department have made twenty cabinet benches which will be placed in the wood department in the new Mechanical building as soon as that structure is completed. They have also made the tables for the tailoring department.

The fire demonstrated to me one very important thing. Some parties claimed we had too much machinery in our former shop and that we should work only on benches. I differed with this view and believed we should use both machinery and hand tools, as the pupils should be taught how to use both and that the one in no way interfered with the other. After the fire this opinion was confirmed as the boys readily performed the work with hand tools that they had been accustomed to do with machinery.

None of the boys in this department who arrived at the age of sixteen this year lost more than a week from their trade on account of the fire, as the Commission purchased new tools immediately and the work was continued about as usual throughout the term.

Eleven boys were discharged from this department on age during the year. Their places were filled by boys brought from other schools. At the present time there are thirty-six on the roll.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS G. BERING,
Instructor.

LAUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. G. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: I have the honor hereby to present the following report of the laundry department for the year ending June 30, 1901.

In this department there are two employes, including myself. We have at present six boys and from four to six girls, from 8.30 until 11.30 A. M., and from 1.30 until 4.30 P. M. We have been handling in that time, on an average about 4,000 pieces per week, including employes' clothes, the average on the entire lot being about 500 pieces per week less than the previous year. The machinery and everything pertaining to the laundry department is in the best of condition. The deportment of both boys and girls have been excellent.

Respectfully,

H. E. STAHLER,
Foreman of Laundry.

BRASS BANDS.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. G. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: In compliance with your request, I submit my annual report of the bands for the year ending June 30, 1901.

The boy band was reorganized September 20th with twenty-eight members on the following instruments: Five cornets, four clarinets, one piccolo, four altos, four tenors (two slide and two valve), two baritones, one B bass, two E basses, two snare drums, one bass drum, cymbals and drum major. During the year two boys transferred from the Chester Spring School, were taken in (one clarinet and one piccolo), making the number thirty. The girl band, a new feature at the school, was organized September 26th with twenty-eight instruments, the same number as the boys, with the exception of having one more cornet, but having one clarinet and one piccolo and drum major less, than the boys. Both bands practiced twice daily, the boys from 12.25 until 1.20 P. M., and from 4.30 to 5.15 P. M., the girl band from 7.30 until 8.20 A. M., and from 6.00 to 6.45 P. M.; the girls also practiced Saturday from 1.00 until 3.30 P. M. February the 20th the band instruments were destroyed by fire, throwing the bands out of practice for four weeks, until the Commission purchased a new set for them. They now have a fine silver plated set of instruments, far superior to the old ones, enabling them to do better work. May the 30th both bands played at Chambersburg for the G. A. R., at that place, also at Gettysburg, June 4th and 5th. Their music at both places was highly appreciated.

Respectfully,

H. E. STAHLER,
Band Instructor.

BAKERY.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Sir: In compliance with your request, I submit the following report of the baking department for the year ending June 30, 1901.

At the opening of the school term, September 1, there were twelve boys detailed to this department to learn the trade, each working half-day periods, making six in each detail.

The department of the pupils of this department has been good and all in my judgment are making satisfactory progress.

The past year's work was practically unchanged from that of former years. Our principal aim has been to give the boys the practical part of the trade which they will need to secure a position on leaving this school.

We have made during the year 131,000 pounds of bread, 52,800 rolls, 10,500 pies, 145,150 small cakes, 300 large sponge cakes, 250 lady cakes, 275 pound cakes, 100 jelly rolls, 300 pound fruit cakes.

In conclusion I wish to thank you for the many courtesies extended and also favors granted.

Respectfully yours,

S. C. HEIGES.

DEPARTMENT OF TELEGRAPHY, STENOGRAPHY AND TYPEWRITING.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

To Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the sixth annual report of this department.

The past year's work was a continuation of the excellent system in operation by my predecessor, with most satisfactory results. The pupils of both sexes, a number of whom when leaving the school upon reaching the age of sixteen, by their efficiency, soon secured remunerative positions in business offices as stenographers and typewriters, and also in railroad telegraph offices. I am gratified to commend most highly the deportment of the students in this department, and their close application to studies.

Very respectfully,

JOHN S. WELTMER,
Acting Instructor.

TAILORING DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., July 22, 1901.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit my second report of the tailoring department. We had 80 suits on hand, which were burned on February 20th, and on the following day by order of the Commission, I ordered a complete outfit and the department was reopened in the hospital building on March 14th, and from that time until June 20th we completed 160 uniforms and 30 graduating suits. The pupils of the department knew that our time in which to complete the full line was much limited and they worked faithfully to that end and I am much pleased with the work they accomplished in that time.

The department of the pupils of the past year has been very good.

Very respectfully,

L. C. MARTIN,
Cutter and Instructor.

Supplementary.

Upon examination of my books I find that between March 14th (when we resumed work after the fire of February 20th) and June 22d, when this department was closed for the term, there was manufactured as follows: 160 uniform suits, estimated cost each $4.00; total, $640.00; 30 citizen suits, estimated cost each $5.23; total, $156.90.

This estimate only covers cost of material.

L. C. MARTIN.

DRESSMAKING DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1901.

Captain George W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: We submit to you the following report of the dress making department of this institution for work done during the year ending June 30, 1901:

Wash dresses,	482
Serge dresses,	213
Night dresses,	293
Skirts,	657
Aprons,	716
Drawers, pairs,	208
Dresses altered,	77
Napkins, dozens,	16
Towels, dozens,	64
Table cloths,	6

Very respectfully,

NORA L. VAN BAMAN,
HELEN McLAUGHLIN.

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: In submitting the following report of the shoe department of this institution I wish to state that all work mentioned was done since the destruction of the Mechanical building by fire in February.

During March, April, May and June I had two boys assisting me, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. They were attentive and industrious and learned rapidly.

The following is a report of the work done:

Shoes half soled (pairs),	487
Shoes heeled (pairs),	313
Shoes patched,	128
Seams sewed,	461

Very respectfully,

W. E. GROSS.

APPENDIX.

OFFICIAL CIRCULAR.

PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION OF SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOLS.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 30, 1901.

To Superintendents of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools:

The annual examinations of the schools will be held on the several dates as follows:

Harford—Tuesday and Wednesday, June 11th and 12th.

Chester Springs—Thursday and Friday, June 13th and 14th.

Uniontown—Tuesday and Wednesday, June 18th and 19th.

Industrial—Tuesday and Wednesday, June 25th and 26th.

The examinations will be conducted by the members of the Commission and School Faculty.

Military Drill will form a feature of the examination and will be under the supervision of General J. P. S. Gobin, Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, and Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart.

The following resolutions are published for the information of all concerned:

Whereas, It has been found that the custom of providing meals or other entertainment of this kind for the large crowd who usually attend the annual commencement exercises of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools has become a severe tax upon the energies and physical endurance of the employes, and has seriously interfered with the work of the children in preparing for the parts they must take in the various exercises; therefore,

Resolved, That hereafter no such entertainment will be provided except for specially invited guests and persons officially connected with the various State Departments. All such invited guests will be furnished with tickets of admission to lunch and entertainments at the school.

Resolved, That the School Superintendents may, if desirable, grant permission to members of the Women's Relief Corps and Circles of Ladies of G. A. R. to erect booths within the school grounds where refreshments may be provided for visitors at a reasonable cost.

Resolved, That the Superintendent of each school be authorized to invite the G. A. R. Posts in the immediate vicinity of the school to be present at the examinations as the guests of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, and that each member of the Post may be accompanied by a member of his family.

The Department Commander of Pennsylvania G. A. R., the President of the Women's Relief Corps and President of the Ladies of the G. A. R. are cordially invited to attend as many of the examinations as will suit their convenience.

Classes should be in readiness and all arrangements perfected so that the examinations can commence promptly at 9 A. M. on the days named.

The school term of this year will close on Friday, June 28th, and the next term will commence on Monday, September 2nd, 1901.

You are hereby authorized to grant furloughs for the children on the application of parents or guardians, or at your own discretion, for the vacation period. The expense of transportation, as heretofore, must be borne by the relatives or friends.

Furlough blanks will be sent to you upon requisition stating the number required.

All furloughed children must return promptly at the close of the vacation so that the classes may be formed and the new term commenced at the date stated.

WILLIAM A. STONE,
President.

JAMES F. MORRISON,
Secretary.

IN MEMORIAM.

Office of the Commission of S. O. Schools, Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 18, 1900.

The Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools direct that the following minute be placed of record on the death of our late and honored member, the Hon. William F. Stewart, who died December 1, 1900.

Hon. William F. Stewart was a continuous member of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools on the part of the House of Representatives since the organization of the Commission in 1889, and was also one of the committee which formed the present act for the management of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of Pennsylvania. He was ever alert, active and earnest in every effort for the comfort of the children who, as the wards of the State were entrusted to the care of the Commission. His last official duties were performed in behalf of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, in attending the meeting of the Commission held November 21, 1900, at which time the serious illness developed which resulted in his death.

Resolved, by the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, that the State has lost an eminent, faithful and patriotic citizen, and an experienced public official, the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools an unselfish and untiring member.

Resolved, that the above be made a part of the minutes of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, and that a copy of the same be delivered to the family of the deceased.

LAWS REGULATING THE SCHOOLS.

ACT OF 1867.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Whereas, Several considerable appropriations have been expended, for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, It is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now hers;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired, in the performance of this duty, now enables the Legislature to regulate, by statute, the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, for three years, from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal, for cause, as other officers, appointed in like manner, are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds, with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties; the Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk, and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the Soldiers' Orphan Schools hereinafter provided for: Provided, That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any pecuniary interest in any of the said orphans' schools.

Section 2. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors, or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes and schools, possessing such good and sufficient accommodations as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care, and maintenance and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln Institution, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall establish at least one such institution for the reception of soldiers' orphans over the age of ten years, within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve Normal school districts, now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable, in any manner, for the cost of erecting, repairing, or furnishing any of the institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 3. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians, or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' shall be valid and binding upon said mothers, guardians, and next friends, and also upon said orphans till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institution in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Section 4. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor, prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming Soldiers' Orphan Schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace, at least, the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits, and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school-room studies; he shall visit each Soldiers' Orphan School at least once in each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Section 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act into the institutions established for their education and maintenance, shall be made by conveyance and transfers to the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act, executed, under oath, by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead, or has abandoned said orphans; but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward, or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases, and the superintendent may require such other certificate, from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Section 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That when he may deem it expedient to do so, the said superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number of acres and extent of accommodation in the case of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Section 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor; and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges; and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said Soldiers' Orphan Schools by the Legislature of the State.

Section 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief, in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in case where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents, or relatives, or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Section 9. That all bills for the maintenance and education of the soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing, and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses, may be drawn by the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually, at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Section 10. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans, at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall, not later than the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements by item, and estimates for ensuing years.

Section 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress, or employer, as shall thus be requested, and for such term as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, and if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years; in which indenture of apprenticeship, there shall be included such covenants for the future education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe; and such apprenticeship shall be in all other respects, not herein provided for, subject to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Section 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment, shall be restored to the mother, guardian, or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by the Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing, and literary and industrial attainments and qualification.

Section 13. That the year, for all operations under this act, shall begin on the first Monday of June in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June of the year next succeeding; and all appropriations, hereafter made, shall be for the year, as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the government.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be and they are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1889.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of the State.

Whereas, On the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, as appears from the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, there will be left under the care of the State and undergoing education in the soldiers' orphans' schools, about fifteen hundred and forty-nine children whose ages will range at that date from five to sixteen years;

And whereas, The greater number of these children have no homes and no persons to maintain and educate them, and the people of the Commonwealth are desirous that they shall be maintained at the public expense; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor and five members of the General Assembly, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively, together with a committee of five honorably discharged soldiers, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, be and the same are hereby constituted a Commission, who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act, from June first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take charge of all children then in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools or other institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Homes and Schools.

Section 2. That the Governor, the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives appointed on such Commission, shall be members thereof until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, when their successors shall be named by the presiding officer as aforesaid of the respective branches of the Legislature, and they shall continue as members of the Commission for the term of two years thereafter, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner and continue their membership for the same term. The committee of honorably discharged soldiers shall be appointed by the Department Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, and shall continue in office during the pleasure of said Department Commander. In case of a vacancy in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission by death or any cause, the appointing power provided for shall have power to fill vacancies for the unexpired term.

Section 3. That no compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, save their actual expenses, and no member of the Commission shall be interested or concerned, financially, in any institution or school having charge or maintenance of said children. A suitable office at Harrisburg for the use of the Commission, shall be provided by the Commonwealth.

Section 4. That the said Commission shall elect from their own number, a president and secretary, and shall have power to appoint one male inspector and one female inspector, at a maximum salary for both, which shall not exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars and traveling expenses not to exceed four hundred dollars each per annum, one chief clerk and one assistant clerk, at a maximum salary for both not exceeding thirty-two hundred dollars, said salaries and number of clerks to be reduced from time to time as may be found expedient.

Section 5. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to rent such buildings as may be necessary for the accommodation of the aforesaid orphans, and to appoint all officers, teachers and employes that may be found necessary for the proper care, maintenance and education at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the soldiers' children now in the several Soldiers' Orphan Schools in the Commonwealth, under the provision of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and its supplements: Provided, That the authority hereby given to rent property shall not empower the Commission to pay an annual rental that shall exceed six per centum of cash value thereof, to be determined by three appraisers, one appointed on the part of the Commission, and one by the owner or owners of the property, and the two selected shall choose the third: Provided further, That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commissions shall not contract in any case with any individual, or firm, or partnership, or syndicate, for the care and maintenance of said soldiers' children, except for temporary care during the reorganization provided for in this act, and for a period not exceeding six months from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine: And provided still further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission, at their discretion, from placing such children as boarding pupils in the Pennsylvania State College, the State Normal Schools, or in chartered orphanages or homes for friendless children not conducted for profit, and paying to such college, Normal schools, or charitable institutions, for the maintenance, clothing and education of such soldiers' children a sum not exceeding annually one hundred and forty dollars per capita.

Section 6. That the Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall have power to make and prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions receiving Soldiers' Orphans, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same kind in the State, and decide upon the course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instructions in vocal music, military tactics, where practicable, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments consistent with the respective sexes and ages of the said orphan children and their school room studies, and such rules as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 7. That all the contracts for supplies, made under this act, may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Commission shall be judges.

Section 8. That all bills incurred shall be certified by the president and secretary of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and paid quarterly by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer by the Auditor General.

Section 9. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall, not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of all the Soldiers' Orphans under their charge, their condition and progress, the number of each respective age from five to sixteen years, and such other information as they may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements, by item, and estimates for the ensuing year.

Section 10. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans shall be restored to his or her father, mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes and a certificate, signed by the principal of the proper school in which such orphan has been maintained and educated, showing his or her moral standing and literary or industrial attainments and qualifications.

Section 11. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year next succeeding.

Section 12. The Legislature shall make necessary appropriation for contingent and traveling expenses of the Commission, and for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of each orphan or destitute child of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors or marines under the care of the said Commission, the sum of one hundred and forty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 13. That all money remaining to the credit of Department of Soldiers' Orphan Schools upon the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, shall be placed to the credit of the Commission created by this act.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts and supplements thereto, heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1893.

Providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor, making appropriations for such purposes, erection and equipment and the maintenance of children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be erected at some point within the State, easily accessible, a building or buildings, to be known as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Section 2. That the Commission now in charge of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, are empowered to purchase not more than one hundred acres of ground, the title of which shall be vested in the Commonwealth, and to erect buildings thereon, equipping the same with shops, tools, etc., for industrial training as well as for the educational course, and for the maintenance of the Soldiers' Orphans, first taking security for the faithful performance of all contracts, and for the completion of the building and buildings in a substantial, good, and workmanlike manner.

Section 3. The said Commission, as now constituted, shall continue until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, at which time there shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, two members thereof, and by the Speaker of the House, three members thereof, to serve for two years, and the Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, shall then recommend to the Governor five honorably discharged soldiers for the appointment, who, if approved by the Governor, shall be appointed to serve for two years. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of the said Commission. At the expiration of the said terms of the said appointees their successors shall be appointed in like manner and for like term. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the said Commission shall be filled by the appointing powers as above set forth.

Section 4. The said commission shall elect, from their own number, a president, secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, and shall employ all necessary clerks, teachers and employes necessary for the proper conduct and care of the schools.

Section 5. The said Commission shall have full power to continue the Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now constituted, or, if necessary, change either, any or all of them, to other localities, until such time or times as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall be completed or sufficiently advanced to accommodate said orphans, when the Commission shall close all of the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of applications as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State, for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission.

Section 7. Preference in admission shall be as follows:

First—Full orphans, the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, and were members of Pennsylvania commands, or, having served in the commands of other states, or of the United States, were residents of Pennsylvania at the time of enlistment.

Second—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose father may be deceased and mother living.

Third—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose parents may, either, or both, be permanently disabled.

Section 8. In order that the benefits of industrial training may be given to the children now in its soldiers' orphan schools, and who may arrive at the age to be discharged at or about the time of the opening of the said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the said Commission is hereby empowered to extend the time of the discharge of such children, who may be fifteen and sixteen years of age, for the space of two years additional.

Section 9. The per capita rate of the appropriation for the education and maintenance of the children admitted in the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars per annum.

Section 10. No compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, except such reasonable expenses as they may incur in the performance of their duties, and no member of said Commission shall be directly or indirectly interested, financially, in any school under care of said Commission, or in the education and maintenance of said soldiers' orphans, nor in furnishing supplies to or for the same, nor in the purchase of lands, erection of buildings, or equipment of the same.

Section 11. The said Commission shall, on or before the third Wednesday in January of each year, present to the Legislature, under oath, a detailed report of the financial transaction of the preceding year, setting forth in detail the amount of all moneys or other property received on account of such Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and an itemized statement of the disbursements thereof.

Section 12. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year then next succeeding.

Section 13. To carry out the provisions of this act the following sums of money are hereby specifically appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sums shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, who shall first be required to give a bond in the sum to be named by the said Commission, with security for the proper application of such moneys.

First—For the establishing, building, furnishing and fitting up of said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Second—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Third—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Fourth—For the expenses of the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 14. All moneys to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General, drawn on the State Treasurer upon requisition, approved and certified to by the said Commission.

Section 15. Any balance remaining unexpended for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four shall be available for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, in addition to the sum of fifty thousand dollars herein appropriated for that year.

Section 16. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1899.

Entitled An act to extend the benefits of the Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School, and the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, to the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall and is hereby authorized and required to admit to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Industrial School, or to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, orphans of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war, subject to present laws governing the control of said schools.

ACT OF 1901.

AN ACT

To amend section six of an act, entitled "An act providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School; the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriations for such purposes as erection and equipment, and the maintenance of the children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools," approved the twenty-seventh day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three: Provided, That in certain cases pupils may remain at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial Schools after attaining the age of sixteen years.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That section six of said act, which reads as follows:

"Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission," be amended to read as follows:

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause, by order of the Commission.

Provided, That in the case of pupils at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School reaching the age of sixteen between the first day of January in any year and the thirtieth day of June of the same year, the said pupil may, at the discretion of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, remain at the school until the thirtieth day of June following the date at which he or she may reach the age of sixteen.

Provided, further, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 7th day of March, A. D. 1901.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1902.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: As required by the provisions of the act of Assembly the Commission having in charge the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of this Commonwealth, herewith present for your consideration their annual report as to the condition of the several schools for the year ending May 31st, 1902.

On May 31, 1901, there were 1,159 pupils on the rolls, and on May 31, 1902, there were 1,075, showing a decrease for that period, over May 31, 1901, of 84 children. This concludes the thirty-eighth year of the existence of these schools and the thirteenth under the management of this Commission.

During the year just closed we are compelled to record the fact that another one of the school buildings was destroyed by fire, namely: the Chapel and School building at the Chester Springs Schools, which occurred on the evening of Sunday, May 4, 1902. Occurring just at the time that it did, because of the fact of the active preparations that were being made for the annual examinations it made more or less confusion and considerably hampered the employes of that school establishment in their preparations for the annual event of a month later. It will be remembered that the buildings at Chester Springs are not the property of the State, but are owned by the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank of Phoenixville, Chester county, Pa., upon whom the loss falls. The Commission had some personal property in the building destroyed, and our loss will foot up in round figures about $4,000.00, upon which the State carried an insurance of $1,200.00.

This is the second building destroyed by fire at this school. It will be remembered that two years ago the structure known as the Girls' building was destroyed. But a very handsome and commodious modern building, better adapted in every way for the uses of the children was erected, and we had hoped that we might go on without suffering any more inconvenience from that direction, but in this we were doomed to disappointment. Negotiations are now pending with the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank of Phoenixville, looking toward the erection of a building that shall meet the requirements of this school and have the approbation of this Commission.

During the year we have been extremely fortunate in not having any contagious or general sickness in either one of the three schools; and with pride we point to the fact that the health, cleanliness and general appearance of the children will compare most favorably with that of any other institution in this State. Of course in order to accomplish this result it requires extraordinary care upon the part of all the employes connected with the schools in the different departments, because where so many children are congregated together the natural supposition would be that there would be more or less sickness incident to childhood; and that it is not so has very often been a matter of surprise to the members of this Commission.

The time is now rapidly approaching when we can commence to see the beginning of the end of this most worthy charity upon the part of this great State towards the children of the men who upheld the honor of the flag upon many a battlefield in the War of the Rebellion. While it will take some years yet to bring about that result, because of the extreme youth of the children in the schools, the Commission most earnestly point out the advisability of preparing for that event by concentrating all the children at one of the schools where the buildings, ground and all the property belongs to the State.

With a very small amount of money the Commission feel that they could erect sufficient buildings of the proper character at Scotland, Franklin county, Pa., to accomplish that end. The State owns there one hundred acres of fine land, healthful and beautiful location, an abundance of pure water, as fine an electric and steam heating plant as can be found in any institution in the State, and with a reasonable expenditure of money the buildings could be made of a permanent character so that when this system of education shall finally have become a matter of record in this Commonwealth, all the buildings and the lands would revert to the State for the carrying out of some other beneficent charity in connection with her people; and we would most respectfully urge that a sufficient amount of money be placed at the disposal of this Commission so that by the time of the meeting of the Legislature in 1905, we can report to you that the schools and children have all been concentrated at one point. As reported to you a year ago, it has been the fond hope of the members of this Commission for years that this result might be brought about.

During the year we re-opened our new Mechanical building at Scotland, Pa., under the most favorable auspices. What defects existed in first building prior to the fire were corrected in the erection of the new structure, and we believe that for giving an insight to mechanical pursuits to the pupils of the school that the new building at Scotland has very few superiors in this State. It is, in fact, as complete for the purposes to which it has been devoted as we believe it could possibly be made. Here the boys are taught the use of tools in the machine shop, in the wood-working establishment, and the boys and girls are taught alike in the tailoring and printing departments. Girls are instructed in dress-making and sewing, and still another class are given instruction in stenography, type-writing and telegraphy. Boys are also given an insight into electrical work, running of engines, and general work about machinery, striving as far as we can to give employment to the hands as well as the minds.

We have also a fine farm where a great amount of the produce used by the school is raised. Some of the boys develop an aptitude for work of that character and they are given opportunities in that direction, so that taking it all in all the Commission feel that they are doing everything that lies in their power to fit these wards of the State at least for a fair start in the battle of life. And we have felt that if the people of this State, or at least those who are alive to the advantages to be gained by giving children who are not so favorably situated in life, a chance to start right, would visit these schools and notice the developments and progress that is made by these children committed to the care of the State, that it would be a matter of congratulation to them all.

The following is the population at the different schools at the close of the year ending May 31, 1902.

	Boys.	Girls.
Chester Springs,	244	147
Uniontown,	251	135
Scotland,	159	139

It will be remembered that Chester Springs and Uniontown are the indicated preparatory schools for children, and as they grow older to be transferred to Scotland, where they are under the same restrictions as the other two schools until they become sixteen years of age. During the year just closed there have been 137 admissions, and 218 discharges. There were on file in this office May 31, 1902, awaiting admission 49 applications. From June 1, 1901, to June 1, 1902, there have been discharged from all the schools 218. So that it will be readily seen by a comparison of the figures that in a very few years it will be necessary to do away with or abolish at least one of the present preparatory schools.

The total amount appropriated for the two years ending May 31, 1903, $367,200.00, of which amount $187,398.09 has been received and expended for the several specific purposes stated, leaving a balance of $179,801.91, plus receipts from insurance and all other sources to the amount of $4,752.00, making a total balance of $184,553.91.

During the year just closed the Commission deemed it advisable to close the school at Harford, Susquehanna county, Pa. The buildings there were rented and the owner of same declined to make the repairs absolutely requisite to keep the children comfortable. Some few of the children who were then inmates of the school were discharged upon the request of the parents, all of the remaining pupils were transferred to Scotland, Chester Springs and Uniontown. For the first month or two the three schools were somewhat crowded, but that congestion has been relieved by the rapid discharge of those who have become sixteen years of age, and the Commission feel that they were perfectly justified in the course they were compelled to take. Under any condition it could not possibly have existed more than another year, and as above stated because of the insecure and uninhabitable condition of the buildings the change was made at that time.

In conclusion, gentlemen, this Commission desires to express in the name of these wards of the State, their thanks for the kindness and the generosity that has at all times governed the members of the Legislature in thus providing for their wants. Pennsylvania has at all times shown a generous spirit towards her soldiers and sailors, but never has it been more observant than the splendid care and protection that she has accorded the children of the men who in their youth did so much on many desperate battlefields for the good of our common country.

There have been over 17,000 of these boys and girls discharged at the age of sixteen years since the inception of this system, and all over this State and all over this land are men filling positions of responsibility and trust, men of affairs who owe their success in life to the careful training they received in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of Pennsylvania, who never tire in sounding the praises of this grand old Commonwealth.

The members of the Legislature, the Grand Army of the Republic, the clergy, gentlemen of the press, and citizens generally are cordially and earnestly invited to go upon a tour of inspection at any time to these schools, and thus verify what from time to time has been reported to you by the members of this Commission.

We are still gratified to say that every member of this Commission as at present constituted, is a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, and consists of the following members:

Governor William A. Stone.

On the Part of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Jacob C. Stineman.

REPORTS OF INSPECTORS.

INSPECTRESS' REPORT.

To the Honorable Commission of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools:

The third annual report of your Inspectress, covering the period between May 31, 1901, and May 31, 1902, embraces no sensational features. The complex machinery by which the Commission and its agents have managed, supported and educated over one thousand children, has been subjected to no sudden jar nor break, and no special emergency has arisen calling for notice except the abandonment of the school at Harford, and the distribution of its pupils among the remaining institutions.

The abandonment of the Harford school was at the opening of the September term of 1891. The pupils having returned from their vacation, were collected for the last time at Harford. The number was over three hundred. To remove them to Scotland, Jumonville and Chester Springs without injury or danger, involved the exercise of great discretion and strict discipline. The pupils were, so to speak, assorted and classified with ribbons designating the different schools to which they were assigned. These various assorted bodies were then under proper superintendence, sent to their destinations. The entire movement was controlled by Chief Clerk John D. Patterson, and the program was carried out with the greatest success, and without the occurrence of a single accident or any inconvenience. The Superintendents at Chester Springs, Scotland and Jumonville having been apprized in advance, were ready to receive the additional pupils, and the work of instruction of the additional number was promptly resumed.

However important the education, technical or otherwise, of the pupils may be, it has always been considered by the Inspectress that her primary duty was to see that the health of the soldiers' orphans was maintained. On various occasions it has been found necessary to point out defects in the structural condition of the buildings, or neglect of certain sanitary requirements which might provoke disease. In all such cases prompt remedies have been applied. As an auxiliary to this end, the physicians in charge of each school have been consulted (and the graduate nurses), and there has been an active co-operation of all officials. The result has been that during the year just past, there has been no epidemic which has not been subject to control, and that the general health of the inmates of all the schools has been entirely satisfactory.

Apart from the conditions which affect the actual physical comfort of the inmates, such as proper ventilation of the dormitories and the question of hygienic exercise, there remains the vital question of food. Upon its character, quality and preparation, more than anything else, depends the absolute health of the pupils. This food in all the institutions has been thoroughly tested and inspected, and it is a source of satisfaction to note that the greatest care has been exercised by those having this matter in charge, as is attested by the general good health of all the pupils.

The fact that the Chapel Building at Chester Springs was destroyed by fire during the year just past, is a reminder that during the three years in which reports have been made to your Commission, there has been one fire each year—the first, the Chester Springs Administration Building, the second, the Industrial Building at Scotland, and the third, the Chapel and School house at Chester Springs. These occurrences emphasize the fact that no amount of care can be too great in future to prevent any similar disaster. The Commission has already provided the best known modern appliances for safety, and has organized such fire brigades under a proper system of discipline, as would be effective. This was illustrated by the recent Chester fire which occurred about nine o'clock in the evening, after the pupils had retired. In an incredibly short space of time the whole boys' brigade was in active service, and while they found it impossible to prevent the destruction of the building in which the fire had originated, their efforts prevented the spread of the flames to any other building. As an illustration of the perfect discipline which was enforced, it may be well to state that while the fire brigade was in active service, all the remaining children of the Institution had been aroused, ordered to dress, and waited in good order and ready to march out, without excitement or confusion, as soon as the word was given. While these details show that the Commissioners have done all in their power to protect the pupils, your Inspector, without designing to encroach upon their special province, wishes to express the belief that a better and higher class of buildings should be provided by the State, and that it will be found to be true economy to substitute for all the frame structures now in use, such fire proof buildings as would not only prove better on the score of safety, but be more creditable to a great Commonwealth for homes for its soldiers' orphans.

This report has purposely ignored any details affecting the progress in scholastic or mechanical education of the pupils, inasmuch as those details are properly embraced in the reports of the heads of departments governing the respective schools. It does not by any means follow that these details have been unnoticed. It is a source of satisfaction to add that in all cases during the past year in which the attention of the Commission has been called, in the monthly reports, to defects of any kind, such defects have been promptly and thoroughly remedied, and perhaps the highest encomium which can be paid to the work of the Commission is that the Soldiers' Orphan Schools of Pennsylvania, with the single exception of unsuitable buildings, will compare to advantage with any similar institutions in any State in the Union.

The hearty support and unfailing courtesy which the members of the Commission have extended to the Inspector during the past year, is recalled with grateful feelings, and it is a source of regret that one of the most conscientious and active members of the Commission, Hon. Alfred G. Dart, has passed beyond the knowledge of these thanks. His zeal on behalf of the pupils was inspired by the highest motives, and his memory is cherished by those who were in a position to know and appreciate his sterling qualities.

Respectfully submitted,

LAURA P. SWENTZEL.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

West Chester, Pa., July 19, 1902.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure in presenting my fourth annual report to congratulate the Commission upon the success of the year just passed, and to set forth in a general way some of the things which have helped to accomplish this result and to present some of the impressions given me of the life and work of the children as I visited the schools on my several inspections. At the beginning of the year I received the promise of the children to make this a better year than the preceding ones of my incumbency, and it pleases me to express the belief that this has been accomplished. In this belief I have the concurrence of many of those in charge of the boys and girls.

My visits at the three schools during the school year, included a thorough inspection of the school buildings, the grounds and out-buildings, a careful observation of everything connected with the dining rooms, kitchens, dormitories and lavatories; an examination of the food furnished and the manner of its preparation, in accordance with the bills of fare approved by the Commission each week; a close scrutiny of the appearance of the children; and each month a careful inspection of the "boys' line," showing the clothing worn by them, etc., etc.; visits to the class rooms, observing the methods of instruction and discipline of the children, talking to them in the endeavor to encourage them with their work.

The entertainments given by the children at the Annual Commencements were highly pleasing to the members of the Commission present and to the visitors.

The Thirty-sixth Annual Commencement of the Jumonville Soldiers' Orphan School occurred Monday and Tuesday, the 16th and 17th of June. Three of the members of the Commission were present: Col. Thomas G. Sample, Captain R. H. Holgate and Senator Jacob C. Stineman. A committee consisting of comrades J. H. Burt and J. B. Armiger was present from the Allegheny county G. A. R. Association.

A competitive drill in the manual-of-arms was given in the presence of the members of the Commission present, by the Military Instructor, and medals were awarded to Charles Frederick, for soldierly deportment, and to Lee McPherson, for excellence in the manual-of-arms. Col. Sample presented the medals with appropriate remarks incident to the occasion.

The Chester Springs Commencement exercises were held June 19th and 20th. The members of the Commission present were: Major L. G. McCauley, Col. Thomas G. Sample. Captain R. H. Holgate and Senators Andrew G. Williams and Jacob C. Stineman. The dining room was used for the evening entertainment. This was necessary on account of the chapel building having burned down May 4, 1902, about 8.30 P. M. This building was known as the Washington Hospital, of Revolutionary fame. It was erected during the Revolutionary War, it is said by the old residents of Chester Springs, under the supervision of General Washington, and was used by him as a hospital during his winter encampment at Valley Forge, and after the Brandywine campaign, and battle. In an adjacent field many of the soldiers were buried and not a single stone stands to mark their resting place.

* Chester Springs was formerly known as the Yellow Springs, and about 1822 was a celebrated watering place, and for a number of years after.

Upon my first visit to the three schools in September, I found the children cheerful and anxious to begin work. There were in attendance at the Industrial School, 161 boys, 136 girls and 31 absent on leave, total 328; at the Chester Springs School, 241 boys and 144 girls and 8 on leave, total, 393; and at the Jumonville School, 249 boys, and 145 girls and 11 on leave, total, 405; in all a total of 1,126; 681 boys and 445 girls. At the end of the school year, June 30, 1902, there were in attendance and absent with leave, 646 boys and 420 girls, a total of 1,066. The admissions and discharges during the year show a decrease of 60.

The transfer of the children from the Harford School, which was abandoned, early in September, overcrowded the three remaining schools. However, when the new hospital at the Industrial School was finished early in November it provided room for the nurse and the sick children, and relieved the dormitories of the Administration Building very much, which enabled transfers to be made from the other two schools, thus relieving them of their crowded condition.

Professor Thomas E. Wilson, acting in the double capacity of Superintendent and Principal of the Chester Springs School, organized the educational and other departments, all of which ran smoothly and successfully during the entire year. He seemed to have the full co-operation of all in charge.

Dr. J. A. Waters, Superintendent of the Jumonville School (formerly called the Uniontown school), succeeded in having full harmony and co-operation of the teachers and all others in charge, which resulted in a very successful school year.

Captain George W. Skinner, Superintendent of the Industrial School with the support of his associates, had a very successful year, graduating thirty (30) pupils, the largest class since the organization of the school. The average of percentage in the marks higher than any former year.

Captain R. H. Holgate, a member of the Commission, in fitting words, awarded the prizes for scholarship at this school (Industrial) to Beatrice Haney, 96; and to William Ashbridge, 95; the average of each for the year.

The Industrial Departments, including printing, tailoring, carpentering, machine, laundry, shoe, bakery, telegraphy, typewriting and stenography are in charge of competent instructors, and are progressing in a very satisfactory manner.

The Industrial School News, issued twice a month by the boys and girls of the schools, continues to be an interesting paper to old soldiers and friends of the school. At the Jumonville School a course in civil government was taught and a list hung upon the wall in the chapel, headed "Current Events" where the children wrote important events that they read from day to day. This is similar to the method adopted last year at the Harford School, which proved very useful in teaching the boys and girls National and State Government. Somewhat similar methods are used at the other schools.

The health of the children during the past year has been very good. Owing to the vigilance of the Commission in ordering that all the children and others connected with the schools should be vaccinated, not a single case of small pox occurred in any of the schools, a good record during a year, when small pox was so prevalent.

Only three (3) deaths occurred, Katie Lewis died August 30, 1901; William Rathburn died October 31, 1901; both at the Jumonville School. Katie Lewis was buried in Washington, Pa., Dr. J. A. Waters, the Superintendent, attending the funeral. William Rathburn was buried in the lot set apart for that purpose near the school. Percy Andrews died at Chester Springs School, December 27, 1901; his remains were taken in charge by relatives.

The children at all the schools have regularly assembled twice a day for devotional services, and on Sunday there has been service and sermon in the morning and Sunday school in the afternoon.

The comfortable homes at our schools are occupied during vacation by the children who do not have homes to go to. During the vacation period the children have plenty of time for recreation. They are only required to keep the grounds in order, and to assist in preparing the meals, etc.

The Industrial Departments at the Scotland School were in operation during the vacation of 1901, excepting two weeks when the instructors were absent on their vacations. The total number present at all the schools during vacation was 198 in July; and 202 at the end of August.

Excellent truck patches were cultivated at all the schools, and fresh vegetables raised for the children.

Examinations are held quarterly and children reaching a required percentage, are promoted. The children have access to the libraries at all the schools, under certain rules and regulations. Periodicals for young readers are supplied, and interesting games are furnished to pass their leisure time advantageously.

The fire drill at all the schools is well established and in case of fire the military instructors informed me from time to time, that the children could be handled skillfully, and without excitement. There are fire extinguishers and hose placed at points easy of access. This is good evidence of the advantage of the fire drill.

Military drills, which are given regularly for the boys, and calisthenic exercises for the girls have done much to promote their general health; the girls and boys are detailed to work in the different departments of the school, so far as age and strength make them capable. The girls are employed in the laundry, kitchen, dining room, sewing room and dormitories, and the boys in the truck patches, lawns, dormitories, kitchens, laundries and the shoemaker's shop.

Military training at the schools develops the habit of attention, as the boy listens from habit, his manners improve. On being spoken to by his teacher he stands on both feet, and with head up and the "attention of a soldier," gives a distinct answer. Care is given to personal appearance; shoes must be blackened and polished, hands and nails cleaned, and clothes brushed. It is not long before an awkward boy is changed into a frank, manly fellow under this discipline and training. The military instructor obtains from the officers and non-commissioned officers of the different companies, quite a good deal of assistance in maintaining discipline among the boys.

Under the code of rules issued by the Commission last year, the superintendents of the schools, have called the teachers and other employes of the schools together frequently during the year, in order that they might have a clear and harmonious understanding as to their special departments. This new rule has proved very satisfactory at all the schools.

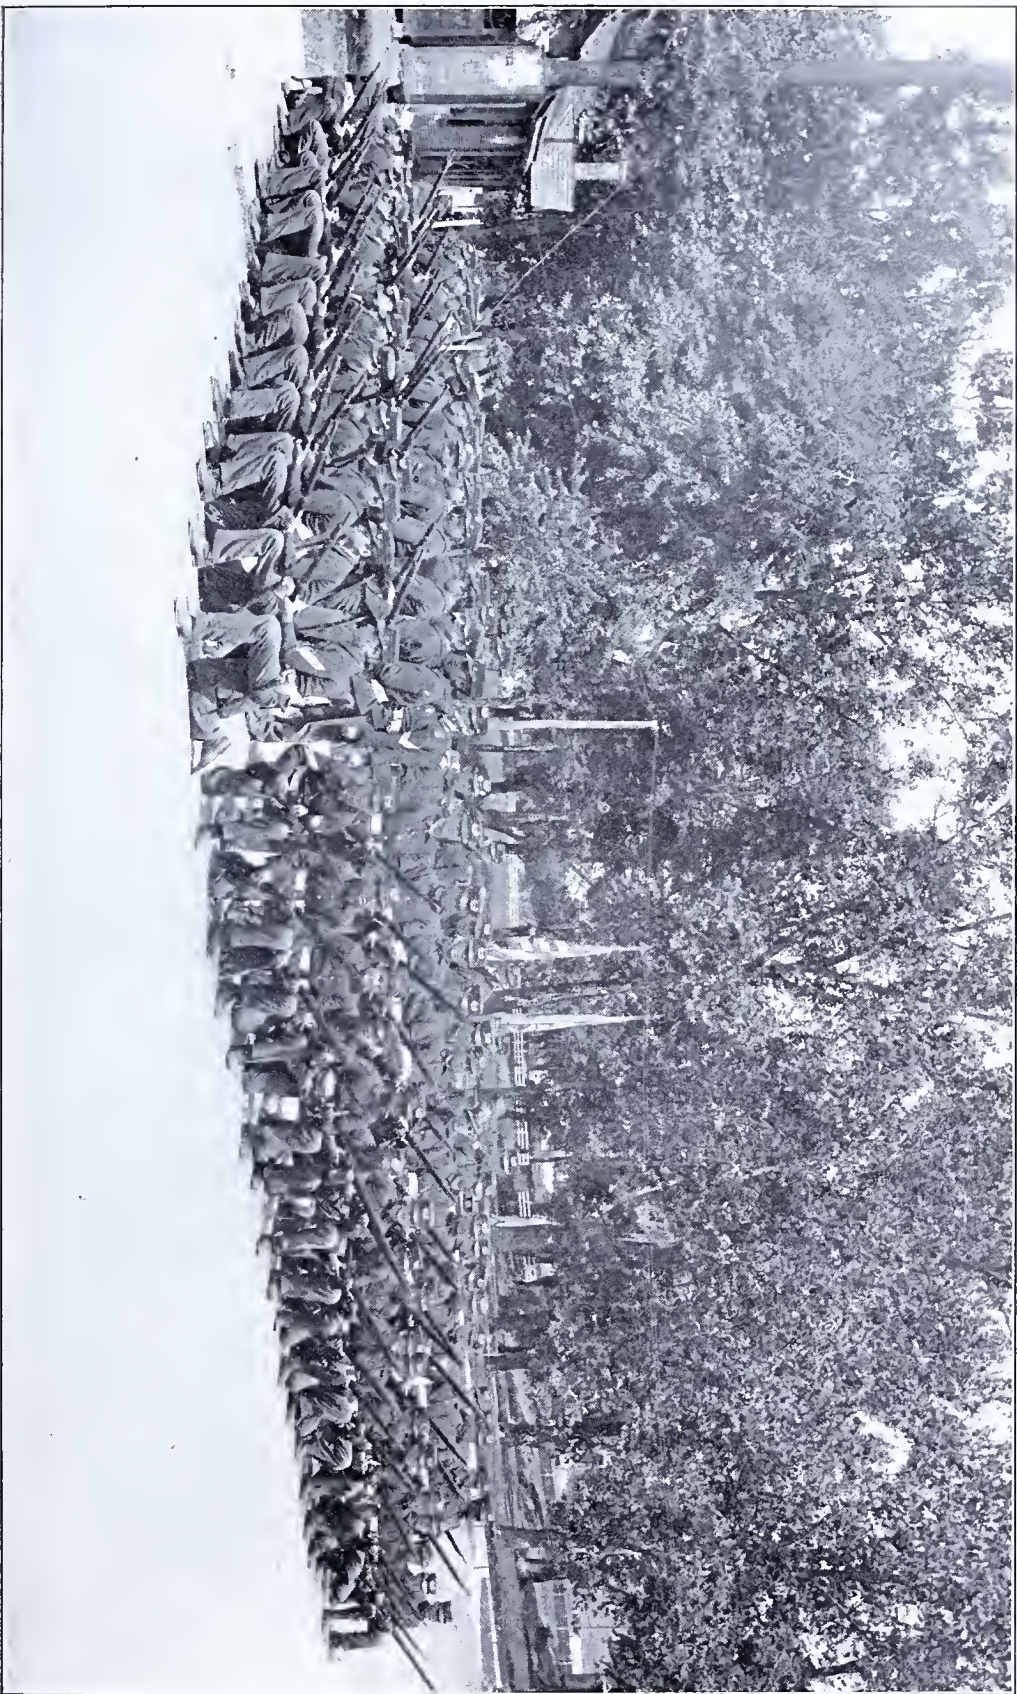

In concluding this report I desire to say that the talk and personal interest which members of the Commission have given from time to time, have done much to inspire the boys and girls to work, and to brighten their somewhat routine lives. It is for this personal interest, as well as for many practical suggestions given me, that I wish to thank the members of the Commission.

Very respectfully submitted,

S. G. WILLAUER,
Inspector.

CHESTER SPRINGS SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL.

Chester Springs, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit the twelfth annual report of the Chester Springs School.

The present incumbent of the superintendency assumed charge of this school September 1, 1901, and found on roll 320 pupils. During the year 113 pupils were admitted on transfer and 58 were admitted on order, making the whole number on roll for the year ending June 30, 1902, 491. During the year 21 were discharged on age, 17 on order and 69 on transfer, making a total discharged of 107. Those discharged, with the loss of one pupil by death, leaves on roll, June 30, 1902, 383 pupils.

On September 5, 1901, we received, as noted above, 113 pupils, by transfer from the Harford School. The officers and faculty of this school had anticipated much trouble and annoyance from this sudden increase in the population of our school. It was feared that the dormitories and class rooms would be over-crowded by the addition of so many at one time. It was prophesied, also, that much difficulty would be experienced in maintaining discipline, and that a constant friction would result between the pupils of the two schools.

The pupils from the Harford School arrived about 9.30 P. M. on the evening of September 5th, and, after eating supper were assigned, without any confusion, to their quarters in the dormitories. By the afternoon of the succeeding day they had all been assigned to their respective classes in the school department, and the work proceeded as usual. Within two days, no stranger, visiting the school, would have known that the number of pupils in the school had been so greatly increased, or would have been able to distinguish any difference in the pupils of the two schools. The Harford pupils were accompanied by Maj. S. B. Bambrick, Military Instructor, and Miss Bertha M. Holgate and Miss Edith V. Kent, teachers from the Harford School. It was largely owing to the endeavors of these old friends of the Harford pupils, and the fact that they had won the confidence and respect of their former charges, that no friction or difficulties resulted.

It is my painful duty to record one death during the year, that of Percy J. Andrews, on January 26, 1902, of cerebro-spinal meningitis. During the year the general health of our pupils has been remarkably good. This school is especially fortunate in having the services of Dr. John R. Wells as physician. Dr. Wells is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and also completed the post graduate course in diseases of children in the same institution. These advantages combined with over twenty years experience in the treatment of diseases of children have made him an authority on this subject. During the year he was ably assisted by Mrs. Annie E. Hays, nurse, of the Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia. The fact that among five cases of pneumonia of a severe type, every one made a good recovery, speaks volumes for the management of our hospital. During the year an outbreak of scarletina of a very mild type occurred. Owing to rigorous isolation and a liberal use of formaldehyde and other disinfecting agents, the disease did not become epidemic, and was confined to nine cases. This considering the large number of pupils, was remarkable, to say the least.

Owing to the prevalence of small pox throughout the State, the Commission directed that all employes and pupils be vaccinated. Not a single bad result occurred among all our pupils.

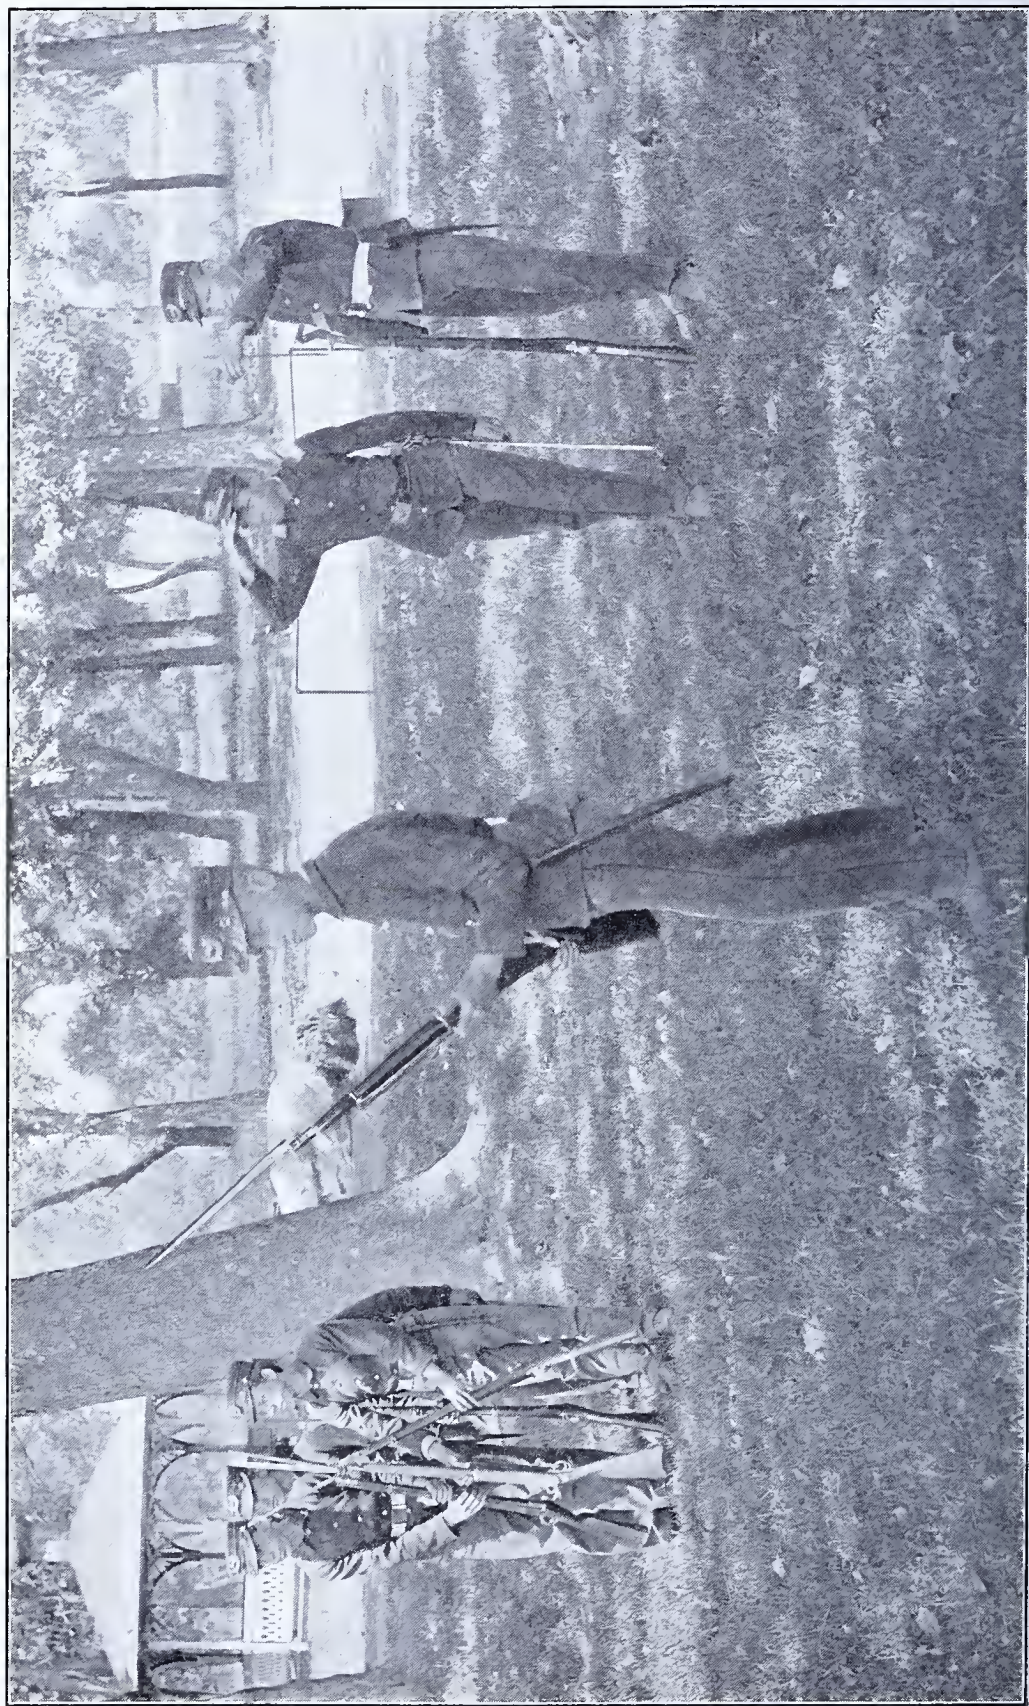

Owing to the enforced absence of Dr. Wells for about one month, his duties were assumed by Dr. Granville Prizer, one of the most skillful and noted physicians in this vicinity.

Mrs. Hays, greatly to our regret was compelled, owing to ill health, to resign her position. Her place has been filled by the appointment of Miss Margaret Strathie, formerly superintendent of the Presbyterian Hospital, Allegheny, an able and experienced nurse.

During the year all holiday seasons were properly observed. The Christmas season, as is fitting, was probably the most enjoyable to the children. Through the liberality of the Commission, they were well supplied with an abundance of nuts, fruits, candies, etc. A bountiful Christmas dinner was served, and in the evening, upon the arrival of Rev. W. T. Johnston, of Parker Ford, Pa., with a splendid magic lantern entertainment, their happiness knew no bounds. The thanks of the management of this school are certainly due Rev. Johnston for his continued kindness to the pupils of this school. During the past year, at his own expense, he gave the children three excellent entertainments and seemed amply repaid by their sincere appreciation of his kindness.

Through the efforts of one of our teachers, Miss Bertha M. Holgate, a member of the Ladies of the G. A. R., a greater interest in our school was awakened among the members of that order. Mrs. Schalke, Department Librarian, made repeated donations of papers and books. At Christmas she forwarded a liberal donation from the various circles of the order for the purpose of purchasing gifts for the smaller pupils. This was expended under the direction of Miss Holgate. Mrs. L. G. McCauley at that time also donated several dozen handsome dolls. Could these ladies have been present and have witnessed the intense enjoyment of their gifts by our little ones, and have realized that they had brought to many the happiest Christmas season of their lives, they would certainly have felt repaid for their kindness.

The educational department has been in charge of the Superintendent as supervising principal, with Miss Mary E. Hamilton as assistant. Miss Hamilton is an excellent, experienced teacher and under her direction the higher classes did good work. That the grades of the school department have been raised is attested by the standing of pupils on admission to the Industrial School.

We note with pleasure that a greater interest in this school is being taken by the general public. Mr. Wm. A. Stewart, of Post No. 63, G. A. R., Philadelphia, has taken great interest in calling to the attention of his friends and comrades the commendable features of the school. After a visit to the school in company with Mr. Stewart, Mr. Ernest W. Steese, of Philadelphia, was so pleased with all that he had seen that he offered to present two gold medals to the boy and girl, respectively, attaining the highest average on examination in their studies for the quarter ending February 28, 1902. This handsome offer was a great incentive to hard work upon the part of many pupils and the occasion of the presentation was a gala day. Mr. Steese was accompanied by Mr. Wm. A. Stewart, Jos. T. Whiting, Chas. P. Lippold and Chas. H. Magee. Col. Thos. G. Sample, treasurer of the Commission, was present, and in behalf of Mr. Steese presented to Nettie B. Pilsbury and Edwin H. Grow, each a finely engraved gold medal. The generous donor in a few well-chosen words assured the pupils of the continuance of his interest in the school and announced his intention of awarding two medals annually. It is needless to say that this announcement was received with "wild applause." After the presentation the gentlemen above mentioned furnished the children one of the best entertainments of the year. In this connection it may be noted that one gentleman of this party, Mr. Chas. H. Magee, was so greatly pleased that he now offers two handsome gold watches as prizes for next year. These are now in the possession of the Superintendent and will be awarded some time in December next. It is impossible to express in words our appreciation of the generosity of Mr. Steese and Mr. Magee.

A number of improvements and repairs have been made during the year under the direction of the Advisory Committee. A large dam was built across the creek in the boys' grounds, giving us a pond that furnished a large supply of ice, and also afforded more pleasure to the children, in the way of skating, than any improvement that has been made in years. In the spring all the walks were covered with crushed stone and the lawns were protected by iron railings. Mr. Jefferis, carpenter, took general charge of the lawns, which were in very poor condition, and, in justice to him must say that they are greatly improved. By direction of the Advisory Committee a long distance "phone" was placed in the school office, and later a "Chester Company Local." The last named places the school in direct communication with Gen. L. G. McCauley, Vice President of the Commission. It has been possible to communicate with him daily, if necessary, and all matters of importance have been submitted to him for advice and direction. It is needless to say that this advantage has been of the greatest value to the management of the school.

Chapel services have been maintained throughout the year and church services or Sunday school on Sundays. The ministers of the different denominations in this vicinity were invited to hold services. Rev. W. T. Johnston, Rev. Chas. F. Carll, Rev. W. C. Leinbach, Rev. A. J. Hackenberg and Rev. E. H. Trafford kindly responded.

The Girls' department has been under the able management of Mrs. A. R. Bolmar, matron, assisted by Miss M. E. White. The perfect order and absolute cleanliness of this department speak well for those in charge. The entire management of all domestic departments is entrusted to the matron, and, owing to her tact and executive ability, friction in these departments has been utterly unknown. The matron has at many times during the year had the benefit of the wise council and advice of Mrs. L. P. Swentzel, Inspectress, whose years of experience in institution work fit her well for the important position she holds.

The Boys' department has been in charge of Maj. J. P. Holt, assisted by Maj. S. B. Bambrick. The discipline in this department has been accomplished by milder means and with better results than during any previous year. It is thankfully stated that there have been fewer occasions for corporal punishment under Maj. Holt's direction of this department, and, through his influence, his boys have been cleaner and purer morally. Of his ability in military drill it is unnecessary to speak. The drills and evolutions given at the time of our "Annual Examination" were beyond criticism.

Through the courtesy of Post 45, G. A. R., and the liberality of the citizens of Phoenixville, Pa., free transportation was afforded 230 pupils and many of the officers and employes, in order to participate in the Memorial Services. After the ceremonies, an excellent supper was served. To our pupils this was the greatest outing of the year.

The farm in charge of Mr. Geo. M. Hazlett, the engineering department, in charge of Mr. F. H. Hartweg, and the laundry in charge of Mr. C. A. Broome, have been handled admirably. These departments have always received the commendation of Inspector S. G. Willauer, at the time of his usual thorough monthly inspections.

On the night of May 4th, we met with the greatest misfortune of the year, the loss of our school building by fire. Every effort was made to extinguish the flames, but as the building was old, without avail. The members of the Commission were notified by telegraph and Col. Thos. G. Sample and Gen. L. G. McCauley with Chief Clerk Patterson were on the grounds promptly the following morning. They made arrangements for the use of several rooms in our remaining buildings as class rooms, and secured a hall near the school building for the same purpose. Text books and desks were ordered by telegraph in order that the school work might proceed promptly. So well were all arrangements made that on the occasion of the "Annual Examination" our pupils acquitted themselves better than ever before. The boys' military drills were highly complimented, and the girls' calisthenic drills, in charge of Miss Quinlan, were pronounced perfect. Members of the Commission declared the entertainment the best they had ever witnessed in these schools. At the time of these exercises we had present Gen. L. G. McCauley, Col. Thos. G. Sample and wife, Jacob C. Stineman, Senator A. G. Williams, Department Commander Scott and wife, Chief Clerk Patterson and daughter, Mrs. L. P. Swentzel, Inspectress, Maj. S. G. Willauer, Inspector, Rev. A. H. Waters, founder of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School, Thomas Martindale, of Philadelphia; Benj. Strouse, of Harrisburg, and many others.

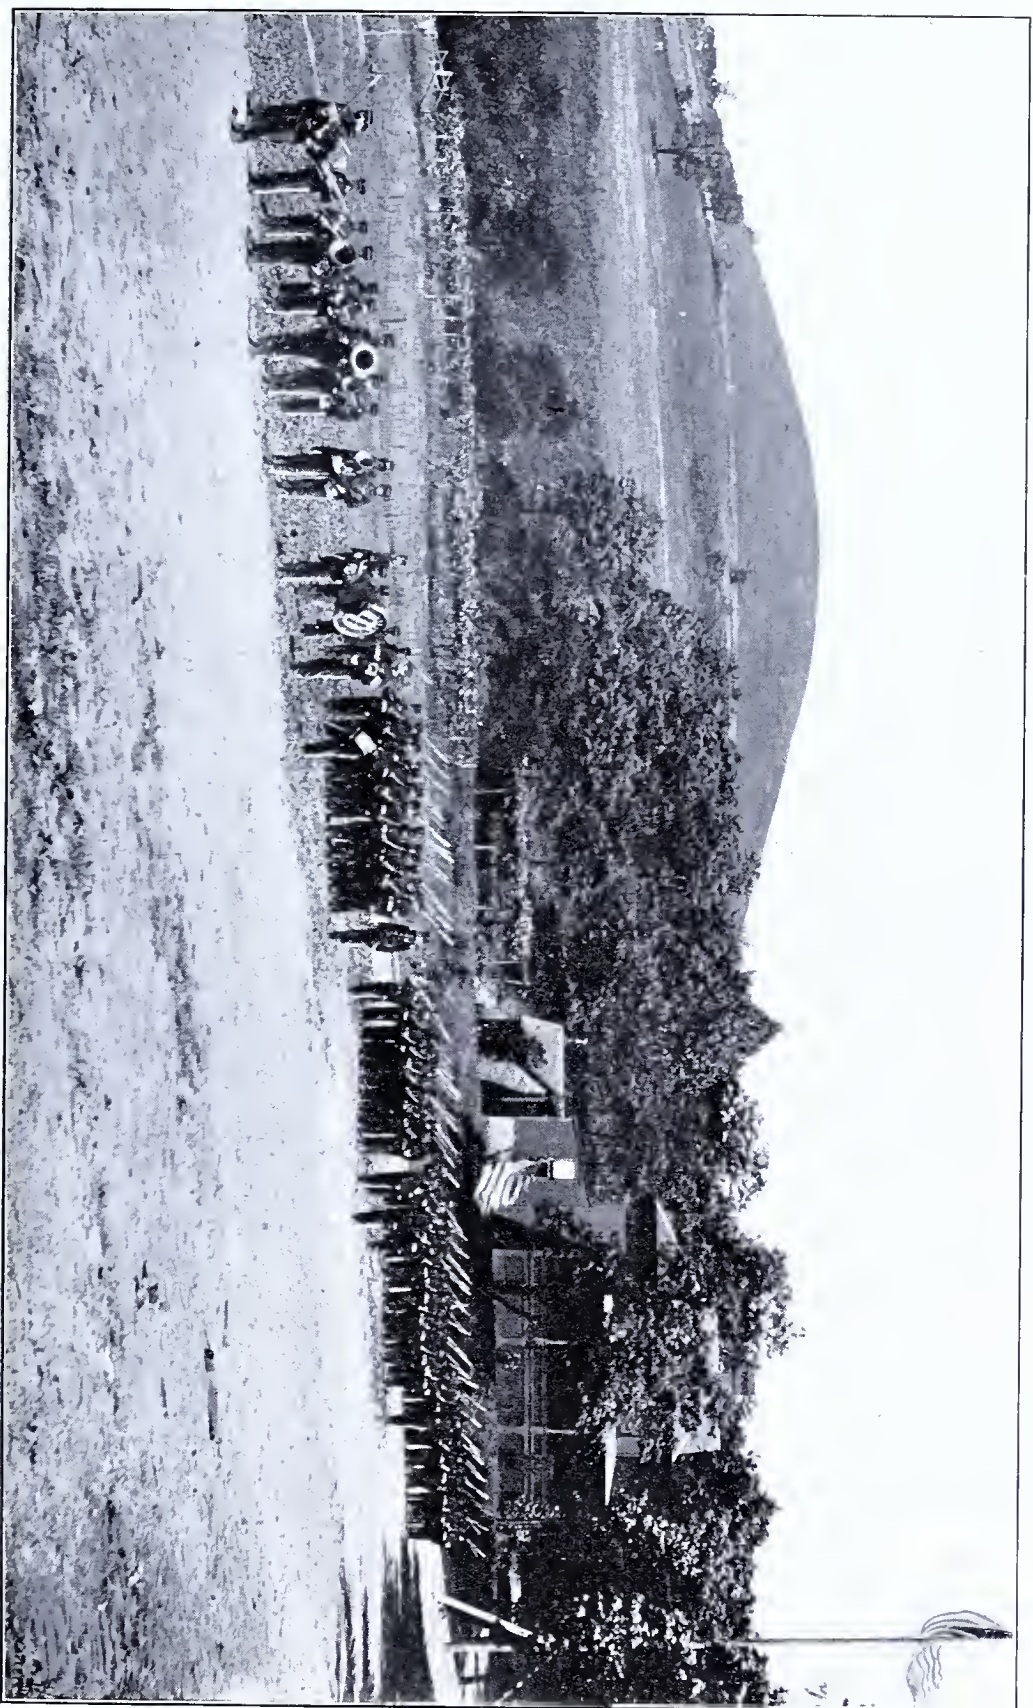

Notwithstanding the loss above mentioned, Chester Springs School has had a successful year. Among the officers and employes of the school perfect harmony has existed. We have worked together to one end. Three members of your Advisory Committee, Gen. L. G. McCauley, Col. R. H. Holgate and Col. Thos. G. Sample have made repeated visits, have sustained the management and have by their efforts brought this school into good working order. Col. Thos. G. Sample, at much personal inconvenience, during an enforced absence, owing to ill health, of the Superintendent, assumed charge, and the reforms and regulations enforced by him at that time bear fruit for the good of the school to this day.

To the members of the Commission for their kindness and consideration, sincere thanks are due.

Very respectfully,

THOS. E. WILSON,
Superintendent.

UNIONTOWN SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL.

Jumonville, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to present the thirty-sixth annual report of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School.

The year just closed has shown the largest enrollment in the history of the school. The year began with 331 on the roll. September 6th we received by transfer from the Harford school 79, and 54 others were added to the roll during the year by admissions on order, making the total enrollment for the year 464.

Our losses for the year were 79; 45 by transfer to the Industrial School, 18 discharged on age, 14 discharged on order and 2 deaths. This left the number on the roll June 30th, 385. The largest number present at any one time was on September 7th, 393, and including employes made the total population of the school 428.

To meet the necessities of this large increase in the population of the school the Commission authorized the erection of an addition to the school building which gave us a large and convenient school for primary pupils, and an additional recitation room, besides three commodious rooms for employes. The small girls' dormitory and small boys' cottage were furnished with short iron beds, thus adding much to the comfort and convenience of the children and matrons in these departments.

The system of surface drainage begun last year was completed this spring, the building known as Boyer Cottage was re-roofed, and a new roof was placed upon the boiler house. The chapel has been covered with a new slate roof, the expense of this improvement having been met by subscriptions and the offerings gathered during the part of the year at the regular services, children and employes sharing in this work.

Materials are now on hand to paint the exterior of the buildings which have become much blackened by the smoke from thousands of coke ovens in the valley below. It is impossible, on account of the smoke nuisance, to keep wooden buildings fresh and bright in this region.

The securing of an adequate supply of milk for the use of the school has been a difficult problem. With the approval of the Commission we have undertaken to meet our own needs in this respect, and have purchased a small herd of cows and have the materials on hand for the construction of a silo with a capacity of 67 tons of ensilage, by which we hope to produce a more abundant supply of milk at a reduced cost per gallon.

The health of the children during the past year has been remarkably good. We have had a number of cases of scarletina of a mild type and a number of cases of pneumonia. There were two fractures of the fore-arm and one dislocation of the wrist. There were no epidemics during the year. We regret to record two deaths. One occurred during the last vacation, Katie R. Lewis, who succumbed to pulmonary tuberculosis and died August 30, 1901. The other, William Rathburn, fell a victim of pneumonia and died October 31, 1901. Dr. C. H. LaClair has given faithful and efficient attention to the care of the sick, ably assisted by our capable nurse, Miss Winona V. Marquis.

No clerical records have been kept in the hospital, which renders the summing up at end of the year rather unsatisfactory. The deficiency will be corrected the coming year.

The educational department has maintained the high standard of former years. This department is under the care of Prof. H. E. Gress, who was transferred to us from the Harford School. Mr. Gress has brought to the work here the experience of years of successful teaching in the public schools, and one year's experience in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools. He unites mildness and gentleness with firmness, and the results of the year's work have been very satisfactory. He has been well supported by a corps of efficient teachers whose work has been on the whole quite commendable. Some changes occurred during the year in the faculty, Miss Margaret McCurdy succeeded Miss Sarah Disroad in December. Miss Maude A. McClain was compelled to give up her work on account of ill health at the close of the first month of the term, and Miss Josephine M. Pollock was elected to fill this vacancy. Mrs. Orrie L. Wambaugh has had charge of the first primary school, and Miss Pollock of the second primary. Some very skillful work in the primary schools was exhibited on examination day in kindergarten work, primary history and natural history work.

Miss Rachel LaRue, who has so faithfully and capably served the Commission for many years, and who was elected first assistant for the past year, was unable to report for duty at the opening of the term. Her very many friends among the children and employes, who learned to admire and love her gentle Christian character and her many sterling qualities of heart and mind, will regret to learn that she is a helpless invalid from a stroke of paralysis.

There will be no envy excited when this is placed upon her, that she was one of the most conscientious, faithful and capable teachers associated with this work. Upon Miss LaRue's failure to take up the work of first assistant, the duties of this position were assigned to Miss Anna K. Kingsley who has performed them well. Miss Martha F. Hancock was transferred to us from the Scotland Industrial School, and is re-elected for the coming year. Miss Eleanor R. Sterrett, of Newville, Pa., has had charge of the music in connection with her work as assistant teacher. The results in the music department have been very satisfactory. Miss Caroline M. Collins has been in the employ of the Commission for several years, and has rendered acceptable service.

The discipline of the school has been good. There have been breaches of good order on the part of some pupils, but the conduct of the large majority is much to be commended. During the first month of the term several pupils absconded and were promptly returned. Since that time we have been entirely free from that form of misconduct. Regular Sunday services have been maintained, free from sectarian bias. A number of the children were confirmed on Whit Sunday. A helpful society, directed by Miss Adams, but conducted by the larger girls, has been kept up during the year. The self reliance cultivated, the piety instilled and the experience in active Christian work acquired, will be valuable to these girls in the future relations of their lives. At commencement time two rings offered by Mrs. Swentzel were presented in a graceful and instructive address by Col Sample, to Helen Gardner and Carrie Sickenberger for excellence in deportment.

The military department has been under the supervision of Maj. Wambaugh, who also has charge of Terrace Cottage.

Medals for soldierly deportment and excellence in the manual of arms were awarded at examination time to Charles Frederick and Lee McPherson, respectively. The other cottages have been presided over by the same experienced and capable matrons with one change, the transfer of Miss McCurdy to the school room and the employment of Miss Alice Mechling as assistant in McGee Cottage.

The annual examinations were held on the 16th and 17th days of June, the usual outdoor drills and evening entertainments forming the features of the commencement exercises. The band organized in the fall of 1901 gave a new and interesting addition to the usual exercises.

It was a surprise to all to note the progress made by these youthful musicians in the short time since the organization of the band. Mr. Frank Rutter, leader of the Tenth Regiment Band is their instructor. The members of the Commission present at our commencement were Col. Thos. G. Sample, Senator Jacob Stineman and Capt. R. H. Holgate. The exercises of the first day were interrupted by heavy rains, but the out door drills thus interrupted were successfully given in presence of the Commission on the second day of the examination. We were favored during commencement by the presence of James B. Armiger and J. H. Burt, representing the Association of Grand Army Posts of Allegheny County.

The work being done by the Soldiers' Orphan Schools is very little known by the public generally, and to members of the Grand Army the actual conditions and the results accomplished at the schools, is something of a revelation.

It was the case with these gentlemen. They have reported the result of their observations to the association they represented. I will take the liberty of quoting a portion of their report as published in the Industrial School News:

"The State has wisely removed these children from disadvantageous positions in life and placed them under the care of those who have their welfare at heart and are prompted to make them good honest citizens of the State. Our great State of Pennsylvania * * * has earned the everlasting gratitude of the soldiers of the Civil War by the care and interest taken in the children of those who were not fortunate enough to provide for them. It is said by Commissioners and others connected with these schools that much of the efficiency, discipline and success is due to the efforts of Commissioner Thomas G. Sample of this Association, and he never tires in the good work.

Mr. Armiger adds: "My visit * * * to the Soldiers' Orphan School at Uniontown is one of the bright spots in my life. It is my first visit to any of the Orphan Schools; I hope not the last. To see the contented, bright and happy faces of the boys and girls; the courtesy and respect they show to the matrons, their teachers and to visitors, and their promptness and willingness in performing every duty required, and the fraternal and friendly feeling existing among them is a sight long to be remembered and is worthy of emulation by the boys and girls of every school in the land.

"The Superintendent and the Soldiers Orphans' Commission are justly proud of their boys and girls, as they have a right to be, as they are an honor to the State and to the noble men and women under whose care and instruction they are committed."

In concluding this report I desire to thank the Commission for their considerate and thoughtful treatment of the many problems brought to their attention from time to time. It has been impossible to speak particularly of the faithful services rendered by those employed in the various departments of the institution, but their fidelity is appreciated and has made possible the success of the institution.

Very respectfully,

J. A. WATERS,
Superintendent.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.

Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit the seventh annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and to accompany the same with the reports of the chiefs of the various departments of the institution.

The very full reports of the heads of the principal departments leave very little for me to say except to commend their labors and to speak in a general way of some of the principal features of the year's work.

Very satisfactory progress was made during the year in all the departments, but nowhere more so than in the educational and military departments. The plan of having class-day exercises, first adopted during the preceding year, has proven a great stimulus to the efforts of a large majority of the pupils and we now find them disposed to work more assiduously than before with the view to reaching class-day honors. Evidence of this was found in the fact that the graduating class of thirty, which has just left us, reached a higher average than any class which had preceded it since the spring of 1897, when conditions were different and there were more older children in the school. The idea of giving prizes for excellence in general school work, first inaugurated by Col. Sample during the previous year, has proven a further incentive in this direction and we sincerely hope that some of our more prosperous Grand Army Posts or some of our comrades in the Grand Army who can afford to do so, will aid us along this line in the future by offering prizes to be bestowed upon those pupils showing the most satisfactory progress in the various departments of the institution. This system has been found to work well in all the leading educational institutions of the country and we feel sure it would be a great help to us in raising the standard of excellence at this institution. In the military department there has been that steady progress which has left us at the close of this year a little farther advanced than at any previous time in the history of the school. About all the credit for the progress made in this department belongs to Col. Bambrick, his assistant, Major Smith, and to the boys, who have from time to time been advanced to the positions of battalion and line officers. In the educational department the credit for the good work done during the year would seem to belong to all the teachers alike, for all were most earnest and indefatigable in their efforts to make the year's work show up well.

While I have the disposition to do so, I feel that I cannot well stop in this report to speak in detail of the good work done in all the other departments. Suffice it to say that this work has been of such a character as to leave no cause for complaint or criticism but rather to fully justify the high encomiums by members of the Commission and the hundreds of ladies and gentlemen, many of them prominent in school work and in public affairs, who have visited us and inspected the institution during the year. I should be very remiss in my duty, however, if I did not make special mention of the very satisfactory services rendered by Miss Martin and her assistants in the "house-keeping" department and in the general care of the girls, their clothing, morals, etc., Anyone not fully acquainted with the multifarious duties of the matrons of an institution of this kind can form an adequate conception of the mental and physical strain one must endure in properly discharging all these duties and it is to be wondered at that mistakes are not oftener made by those filling these positions in the various schools of the systems.

The only public appearance during the year of the entire school away from our own grounds was on Decoration Day when, transported on a special train through the liberality of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, we visited Waynesboro as the guests of Capt. John E. Walker Post No. 287, G. A. R., and took part in the very interesting ceremonies of the day at that place. Thousands of people viewed the line of parade to and from Burns Hill Cemetery, where the principal exercises were held in the presence of a large concourse of people. The "Blue Ridge Zephyr," one of the local papers devoted a full page to the various incidents and maneuvers of the day from which we clip the following very complimentary words, viz:

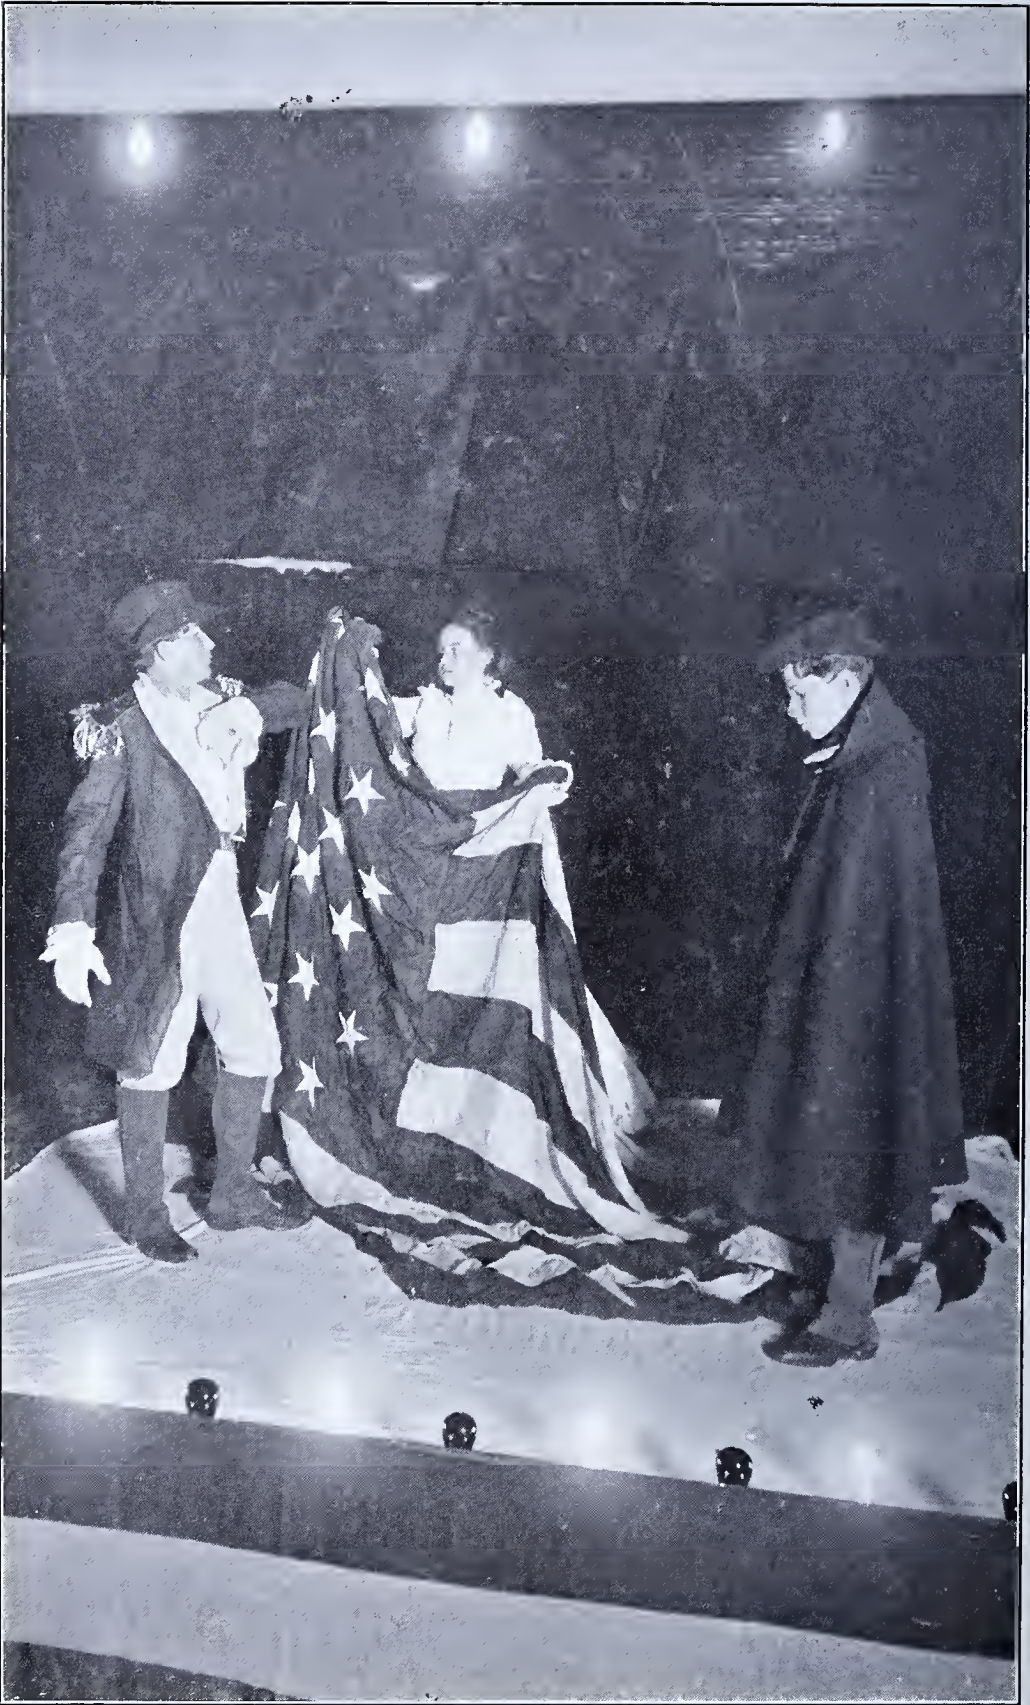

"After the exercises the procession re-formed and marched to the market house where a bountiful lunch was served to all the guests of the post.

"W. H. Smith was caterer and furnished for the post, the Industrial School pupils, members of the school board and a number of friends, a very satisfying lunch.

"When the lunch had been concluded the school was marched to the public square where the battalion gave a dress parade. The square was crowded with people who testified to their very great enjoyment of the military maneuvers by loud applause.

Tableaux: "Our New Sister"—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Tableaux: "From Alice of Old Vincennes"—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

"The battalion was in charge of Major Henry Smith, with Colonel Bambrick, military instructor, in command of the whole. The exhibition of the degree of proficiency which the young sons of soldiers have attained was very fine. There was a precision about all the movements which could not be more marked in a battalion of seasoned campaigners and a promptness of response to the commands which did the greatest credit to the boys and to their instructors. Every order was quickly and accurately executed, and the boys entered into their work with understanding and appreciation of it. The drill in calisthenics, in which the guns were used, was a brilliant demonstration of the capabilities of the pupils and called forth repeated applause, equal in enthusiasm to that which followed the difficult but well-executed foot movements.

"The young officers of the battalion are all dignified, with erect, energetic military bearing, and the privates marched like veterans rather than the youths they are.

"The school band furnished music for the parade and rendered the spirited marches very well.

"Waynesboro has never had on its streets a prettier sight than the long parade of girls of the Industrial School. All were dressed in blue gowns with sailor waists and wore white straw hats, trimmed with various colored ribbons, and made a handsome picture. They walked with a sprightly, firm step that indicated sturdy health and the clear complexions and bright eyes told that the bodies and minds of the children were alike carefully looked after by Superintendent Skinner and his assistants at the school.

"The Scotland visitors left for home at 3.35, pleased with their visit and abundantly assured that they had contributed very much to the success of the ceremonies of the observance of Memorial Day here. The impression made by the pupils was a most pleasant one and Waynesboro will be anxious to entertain them soon again."

Our Commencement exercises on the 24th and 25th inst. attracted large crowds of visitors all of whom seemed well pleased. The members of the Commission present were Senators J. C. Stineman, Andrew G. Williams, Hon. W. H. Bricker, Dr. Albert M. Smith, Major Levi G. McCauley, Col. Thos. G. Sample and Col. R. H. Holgate. They were accompanied by Department Commander Scott and several members had their wives and daughters with them. Capt. J. D. Patterson, Chief Clerk, Major Willauer, Male Inspector, Mrs. Swentzel, Female Inspector, were also present during the exercises. These officials expressed the highest satisfaction with the way the program was carried out, and several of them addressed the children at the close of the exercises in a feeling and impressive manner, showing that they had not failed to note the decided progress made during the year. Other distinguished visitors present, who were loud in their praises of the exhibition made, were Senator W. E. Miller, of Carlisle, E. J. Stackpole, Esq., editor of the Harrisburg "Telegraph," Dr. Baer and Prof. Hipple, prominently connected with school work in that city.

With the close of these exercises practically closed the work of the school year, a year without any unpleasant incidents, and which we believe to have been fruitful of much good to the children and of many pleasant memories to all officially connected with the school.

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. SKINNER,
Superintendent.

Graduating Class, 1902—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.

Dear Sir: I herewith submit my second annual report as principal of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

The school term began September 1, 1901 with over one hundred new recruits from Harford, Jmonville and Chester Springs. They were promptly classified in school and assigned trades in the Industrial Training Departments. Owing to the unavoidable delay in finishing the new industrial building the regular work of these departments was not begun until November 1st. It is a fact worth mentioning that after the manual training departments were in systematic operation, there was a decided improvement in the class room work of those interested in their trades. A special effort was made from the beginning to push each pupil to his or her maximum working capacity, but at the same time varying the routine so as to have each exercise prove a rest from the one that had immediately preceded it. In following this plan we have been able to accomplish what would seem to be almost an impossible amount of work for both teachers and pupils. It has been a pleasure to visit the class rooms, inspect the written work, listen while classes recited to their teachers and personally conduct recitations in each and every grade during the entire year. Informal teacher's meetings were held almost daily in which ways, means and results were discussed with the utmost frankness. Frequent reviews, both written and oral, kept the pupils alive to the necessity of retaining each day's instruction if they would be prepared for the quarterly examinations. The bi-weekly literary exercises proved not only instructive but were a source of entertainment throughout the year. A much needed supply of new library books was furnished by the Commission early in the term. They have been systematically issued to the pupils from the educational department and the records show that not less than fourteen pupils have read each of the one hundred and twenty new books.

The graduating class this year was composed of eighteen boys and twelve girls and they have set an exceptionally high standard for those who are to follow them. Since a number of its members have passed from the primary department to the completion of their course under the care of the Commission, they are strictly and entirely products of the Orphans' Schools' educational system. Those of us who have seen the closing year of their school life can conscientiously vouch for the completeness of their training.

The conduct of the pupils has been all that could be desired and the interest engendered in class room work at the beginning of the year has been preserved ~~throughout~~ the term.

The religious instruction has been non-sectarian and of a practical kind. The pupils have been required to take part personally in the regular exercises. Each alternate Sabbath we have had afternoon preaching, Sabbath School each Sabbath morning and each evening we have met to close the day with song and prayer.

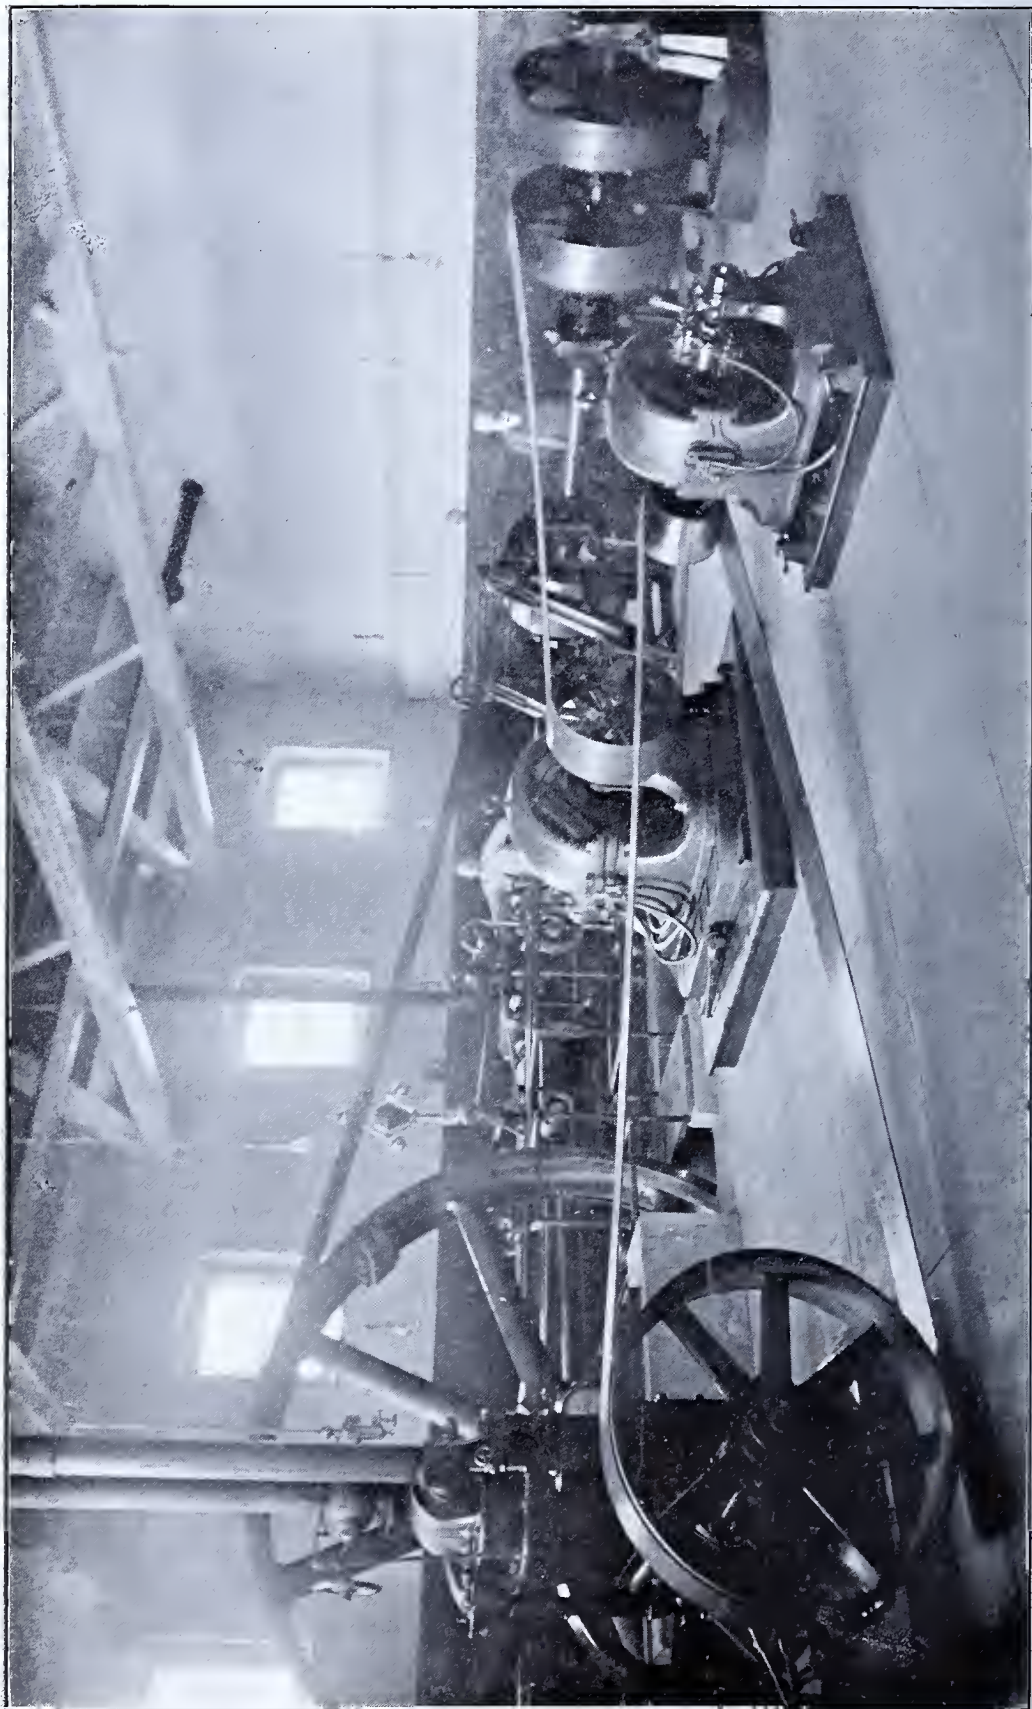

In closing I wish to commend my fellow teachers for their faithful and efficient work and thank the Superintendent and Commission for their valued advice and loyal support.

Very truly,

W. C. BAMBRICK.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the seventh annual report of the Industrial Departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

The opening of the school term, September 1, 1902, will long be remembered by the instructors of the Industrial Departments, in fact we had no Industrial Departments.

According to contract, the new building in which are located the following departments: Tailoring, dress-making, mending, printing, wood-working, shoe-making and engine and dynamo rooms, was to have been completed July 20th, which would have given ample time to have all the machinery in place and everything in shape to begin work. But it seemed that fate was against us and instead of a new building fully equipped to begin operations, there was only the foundation laid at the school opening, September 1, 1901. The delay was on account of the scarcity of building material, particularly the large timber.

Every person connected with the Industrial Departments was very much disappointed with the conditions, but they all appeared to realize that it was unavoidable, and in order to make a success of the school term, they must each and all put their shoulder to the wheel, and submit with as little complaint as possible to the many little disappointments and inconveniences they would meet with before their departments could be put in proper condition for work.

The early part of November found the building in such condition that it was possible in a way to start some of the industries. The tailoring and dress-making were the first to start, these being the necessary industries and requiring no power, every effort was made to have them in operation as soon as possible. Next came the Printing Department. Much of the work in this department at first was of such a character that did not require power. Next came the Wood and Machine Departments. While these two departments were the last to get in operation in the regular school work, and did little or nothing in that line until about January 1, 1902, yet they were practically the first in operation, in fact they were continually in operation. Mr. Bering, with his pupils in the Wood Department, were kept very busy making the closets, tables, racks, benches, etc., required in the other departments.

Mr. Beard, with his pupils, erected all the machinery, shafting, etc., in all the departments, which required many weeks of hard work.

The following is a list of the machinery in each department:

Wood Department.

- One large circular saw and table.
- One small circular saw and table.
- One 12-inch jointer.
- One scroll saw and table.
- One boring machine.
- Four 10-inch turning lathes.
- Two grindstones.

Machine Department:

- One 1½" Cincinnati milling machine.
- One 18"x18"x4' Whitcomb planer.
- One 16" American shaper.
- One Wells Brothers cutter and tool grinder.
- One 22" Prentice drill press.
- One 10" Dwite slate sensitive drill.
- One 16"x6' Prentice lathe.
- Three 12"x5' Prentice lathe.
- One 10" Builders' emery grinder.
- One 42" Brown & Sharp grindstone.

In addition I wish to state that Mr. Beard assisted by Engineers Mickey and Bowers and Wm. Milton, a pupil, during vacation of last year, practically erected all the machinery in the engine, power and boiler rooms, and all the piping connected with the same, saving many dollars for the Commission, as this kind of work is usually done by outside parties.

The following is a list of the machinery in the engine, power and boiler rooms:

- One 16"x36" Frick corliss engine.
- One 4 7-16"x24' jack-shaft on stands.
- One 10"x9" Junior Westinghouse engine.
- One 9"x10" Standard Harrisburg engine.
- One 36"x9' Coil heater.
- Two 6"x4"x6" Worthington pumps.
- Two 4½"x2¾"x4" Worthington pumps.
- One 56 K. W. Westinghouse dynamo.
- One 30 K. W. Westinghouse dynamo.

There has been two changes in the corps of employes in the past year. Mr. Charles Mentzer assumed charge of the laundry December 1, 1901, and Mr. Fred Smith the Shoe Department April 1, 1902. Both these men fill their positions very satisfactorily.

Permit me in conclusion to thank the members of the Commission and the Superintendent for their many courtesies.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. STEWART,
Superintendent of Industries.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I present the seventh annual report of the Printing Department of this institution with a feeling of entire satisfaction with the work accomplished during the past year.

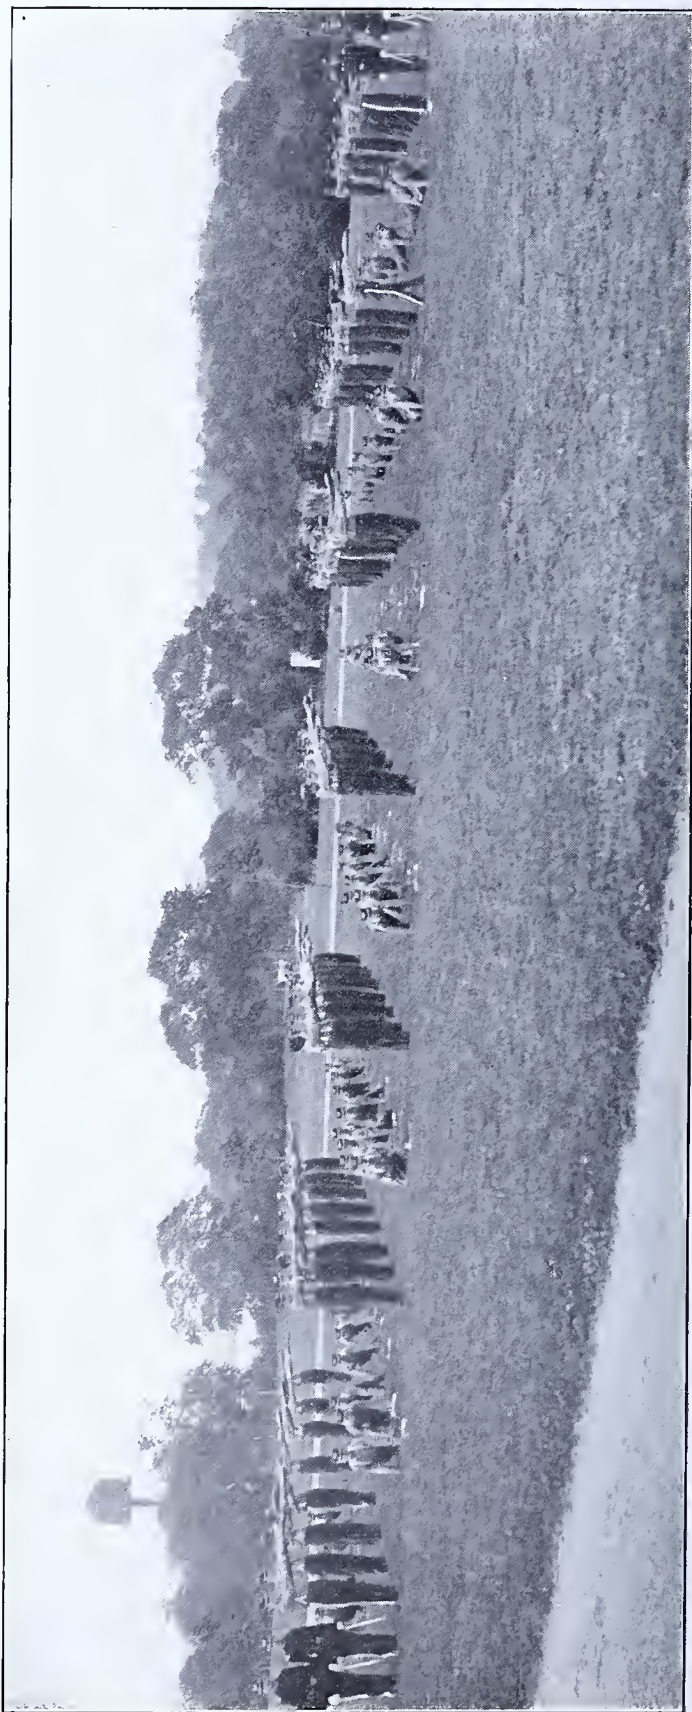

While the destruction of the Mechanical building by fire on the 20th of February, 1901, was deeply deplored by all connected with the institution, it was really a benefit to every department in the Mechanical building. The heads of these departments and the Superintendent of Industries had learned after six years experience in this work where many improvements could be made that would greatly increase the efficiency of the several departments in the Mechanical building, and these improvements were all made when the new building was erected and equipped. In no department is this change of machinery and other material more noticeable than in the printing office.

The members of the Soldiers' Orphans' School Commission trusted my judgment to the extent of allowing me to make up a list of all the material I thought necessary to equip a first-class printing office, and as not one item was stricken from the list, it would be entirely my own fault if I did not consider this office one of the most complete in this part of the State. The machinery consists of a Reliance paper cutter, a Potter press, a super-royal and a one-eighth medium Chandler & Price presses, Chandler & Price proof press and a Mercantile mailing machine, run by foot power, and having a capacity of addressing 3,500 newspapers an hour. We have ninety-five fonts of job type kept in two Triple American-Polhemus cabinets. These are the most complete cabinets manufactured, each containing in addition to the job cases ten sort drawers, two pairs of full size cases on top, a galley top and two pairs of patent tilting brackets.

For newspaper work we have four cases of nonpareil, six of Cushing italic and fourteen of roman brier, besides six and eight point italic, and rules, leads and slugs in abundance. Also lead and slug racks, furniture cases and labor-saving reglet cases. It may be a surprise to some of the printers who read this report, but it is a fact, that there is never a lead, slug or reglet out of its place in the racks except when in use in a form. I have made a special effort to teach the young printers to take a pride in keeping the office in perfect order and that it is most important to return all material to its proper place after using it. I have succeeded so well that not a lead is out of place or a piece of paper as large as a postage stamp on the floor. I merely mention this because it is something entirely new in printing offices and never fails to attract the attention of printers when they visit this institution.

Printing Department—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School

At this time I have twenty-eight pupils in the printing office, twenty-one boys and seven girls. They are very much interested in the work, are making rapid progress and their deportment is above criticism. As a specimen of their work I cite the number of the "News" published on Thursday, June 26th, the day after the Annual Commencement. The pupils were going home the next day, and I was anxious to give each one a copy of the paper containing the account of the Commencement exercises. I selected fourteen boys and started them to work on manuscript and in three hours they had set, corrected and made up one hundred and seventy inches of brevier type, set thirteen ems measure, which I consider very good work.

In addition to teaching the boys and girls a trade as good as any they can learn, I feel that the printing office is a great help in developing the minds of the pupils. They are required to read proof, which makes them careful in all their reading, and they are also required to read, as exchange editors, our large number of exchanges which gives them an excellent knowledge of the history that is being made from day to day in the outside world. I am proud of the fact that the valedictorian last year and the salutorian this year were printers, believing that their training in the printing office helped them materially in winning these honors.

The Industrial School News has increased in circulation during the year, and judging by the many compliments paid it, has also increased in popularity.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. POMEROY,
Editor and Printer.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith present to you the report of the medical service rendered to the children at the Industrial School during the year that has just closed.

During vacation the health of the children who remained at the school was good; only an occasional illness.

The children returned to the school after their summer vacation, with few exceptions, in good health.

When the school opened in September the new hospital was not yet completed; so the former apartments in the farm house were used as a hospital until the new building was ready to be occupied.

Since we have the new hospital my work has been more satisfactory to myself, and more systematized.

It is now equipped fairly well with medicines, instruments and other hospital supplies. There are yet some supplies very necessary and others that would be very convenient to have, which I hope the Commission will see fit to get.

Early in the fall, fearful of a return of the epidemic of scarlet fever, which caused so much trouble last year, a number of cases of tonsillitis were isolated until a positive diagnosis was made.

However, five cases of scarlet fever did develop later; they were quarantined for the required length of time; all recovered with no bad effects remaining.

There were no other cases during the year.

Two boys, Frank Basin and Lucius Lowery, were in the hospital quite a while under treatment for general debility and lung trouble. Both recovered, returned to their studies and trades, and were able to take all the manual training exercises. They both returned to their homes at vacation in good physical condition.

Early in September one case of chicken pox developed; it was isolated; no other cases during the year.

On February 25th, Louis Kifer was taken violently ill with purpura rheumatica accompanied by nephritis. This proved to be the most troublesome and most serious case of illness that I have treated at the school since I took charge. For weeks, he lay in such a critical condition that recovery seemed almost impossible, and required constant attention from the nurse. His recovery is undoubtedly largely due to the faithful nursing which he received at the hands of Miss Sedenger. His convalescence was slow, but he finally regained strength sufficient to return to school and take moderate exercise. due to the faithful nursing which he received at the hands of Miss Sedenger. His convalescence was slow, but he finally regained strength sufficiently to return to school and take moderate exercise. He continued to improve until vacation when he returned to his home apparently in a very healthy condition; only a slight trace of his kidney trouble remaining.

Three cases of malaria in boys whose homes are in malaria districts were treated.

One case of Psoriasis was treated and cured.

One girl with Tinea-Tonsurans was treated; she was very much improved when she went to her home in vacation; medicine was sent with her and instructions how to continue the treatment.

There were a number of accidents occurred during the year; broken fingers while playing ball, sprained ankles, elbows and wrists while skating, and probably an even dozen of fractures of elbows and fore-arms; some of which were bad fractures and troublesome. One fracture of collar bone in one of the girls. One bad dislocation of elbow. All made good recoveries and regained good use of the injured parts.

The only other accident of any importance was that of a colored boy, Harry Minney, while operating a circular saw; he had his left hand injured so badly that it was necessary for me to amputate his index and middle fingers. The accident occurred on June 12th. I happened to at the school at the time and gave him immediate attention. He went to his home June 27th, with member almost well.

It is gratifying to report that no cases were sent away from the school for treatment, that no cases died during the year and when vacation came all who had homes to go to, went away well.

In closing my report, I want to thank you, the members of the Commission and all who helped to make my work pleasant and effectual.

Very respectfully,

W. F. SKINNER, M. D.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

June 30, 1902.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Sir: I here submit my sixth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School Military Department.

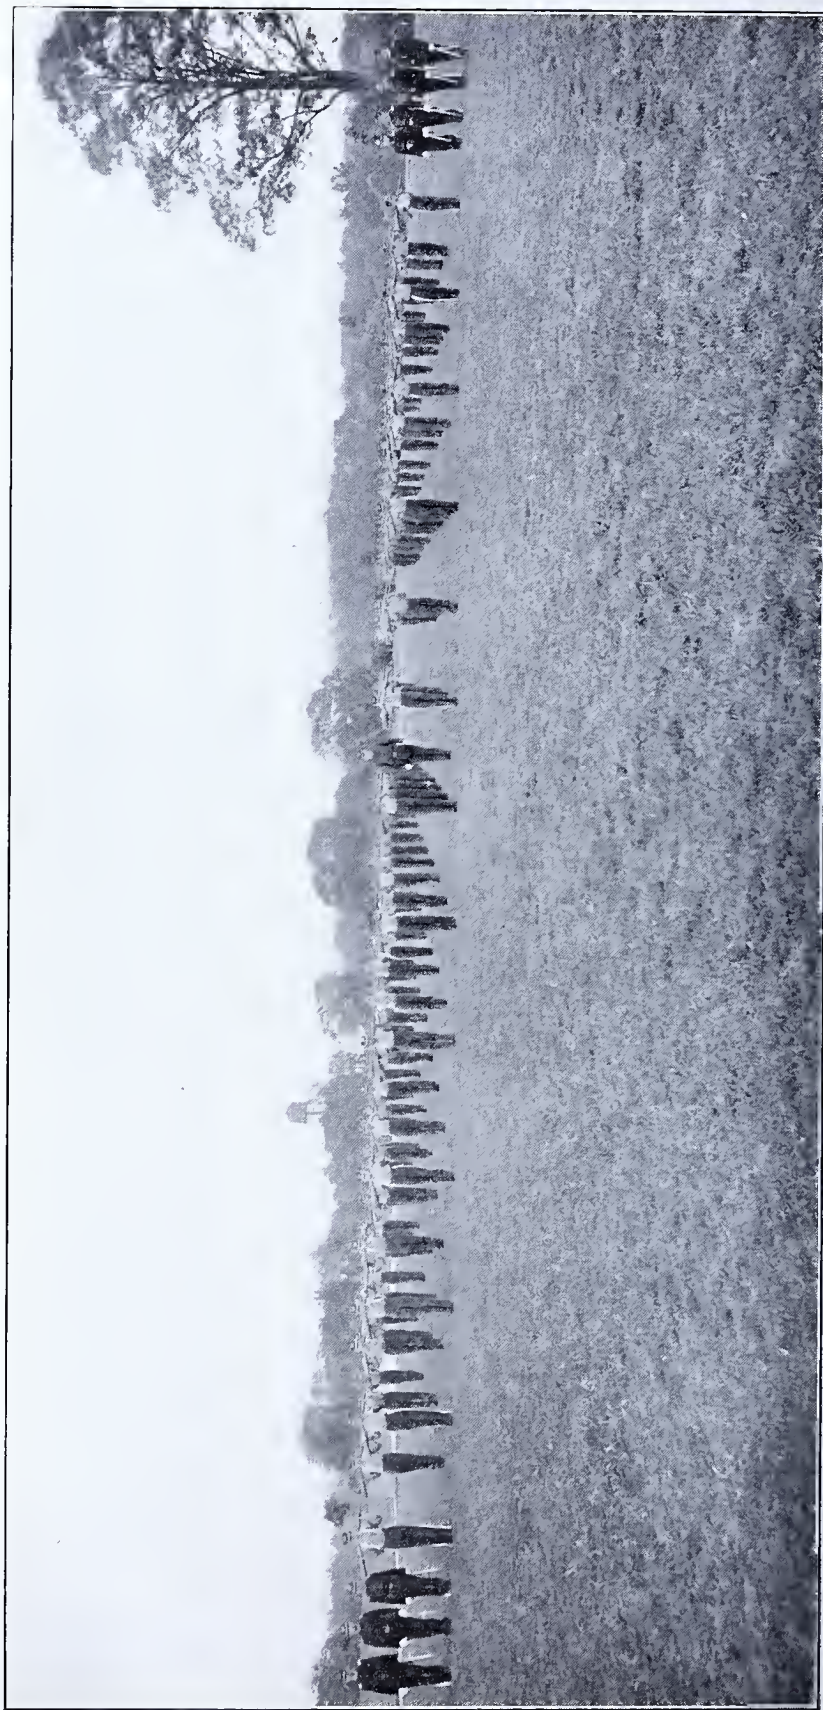

As soon as school opened on September 1st, the battalion was organized and the preliminary exercises begun. Only one commissioned officer of last year's battalion remained to assist with the new organization, the others having been discharged on age. The non-commissioned officers were promoted to fill the vacancies and were soon demonstrating their fitness for increased responsibilities. In a few weeks the battalion was ready to go out for evening parade. Then step by step the long series of drills and exercises, consisting of more than 600 movements, was learned by the new recruits. The work was arranged to suit the surrounding conditions and as the weather grew cold such drills as were suited to the gymnasium were taken up. The public physical culture exhibition given on March 8th was the best we have yet been able to show at this school. The star performers were all boys who by careful, painstaking work have mastered a most difficult series of exercises. The same course of training has been followed that was in use last year with a few changes in arrangement. All drills except the rifle calisthenics were given to band music instead of the drum beat or counts as in former years. The mixed drills were first used to compel the attention of the individual to the counts of each exercise, but the results proving so satisfactory the plan of alternate lines taking a different series of exercises was adapted permanently.

Athletics have held a prominent place in the school life of our boys and they have bravely maintained the high standard of past years.

The girls' physical culture drills directed by Miss Small were the same as taught last year except in the dumb-bell movements, which were an entirely new set of exercises. The physical culture drills as exhibited on Commencement Day by both girls and boys we believe will stand the test of criticism or comparison with similar drills anywhere.

Battalion Dress Parade—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Rifle Calisthenics—Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Thirty-five new rifles, belts and bayonets have been added to the military equipment and each boy can now feel that he carries a real rifle when he shoulders his piece.

The prompt obedience of privates and subordinate officers with the hearty encouragement of my superiors has gone far toward making the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School Military Department what it should be.

Very truly,

W. C. BAMBRICK.

MACHINE DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit a brief report of the Machine Department of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

The beginning of the school year, September 1, 1901, found us with an unfinished building and no machinery. In a very short time this condition of affairs changed, and the new machinery purchased by the Commission for the several departments began to arrive, and the work of this department was commenced in earnest, erecting the machinery, shafting, engines, pumps, dynamos and heater, also all the pipe fitting required in connection with the plant.

The character of this work was such as to give the pupils instruction and experience that would be impossible in the regular work of the department. The interest manifested by the pupils in their duties while this work was going on, certainly indicates that the knowledge acquired in this line of work will be a benefit to them in the future.

The regular work of the department was started about January 1, 1902, and realizing the fact that the showing at the annual commencement was possibly not up to former years in the amount of material finished, I can safely say that the pupils who left the school from this department June 30th, not to return, were better fitted as a rule to engage in machine work than any that have preceded them in the past.

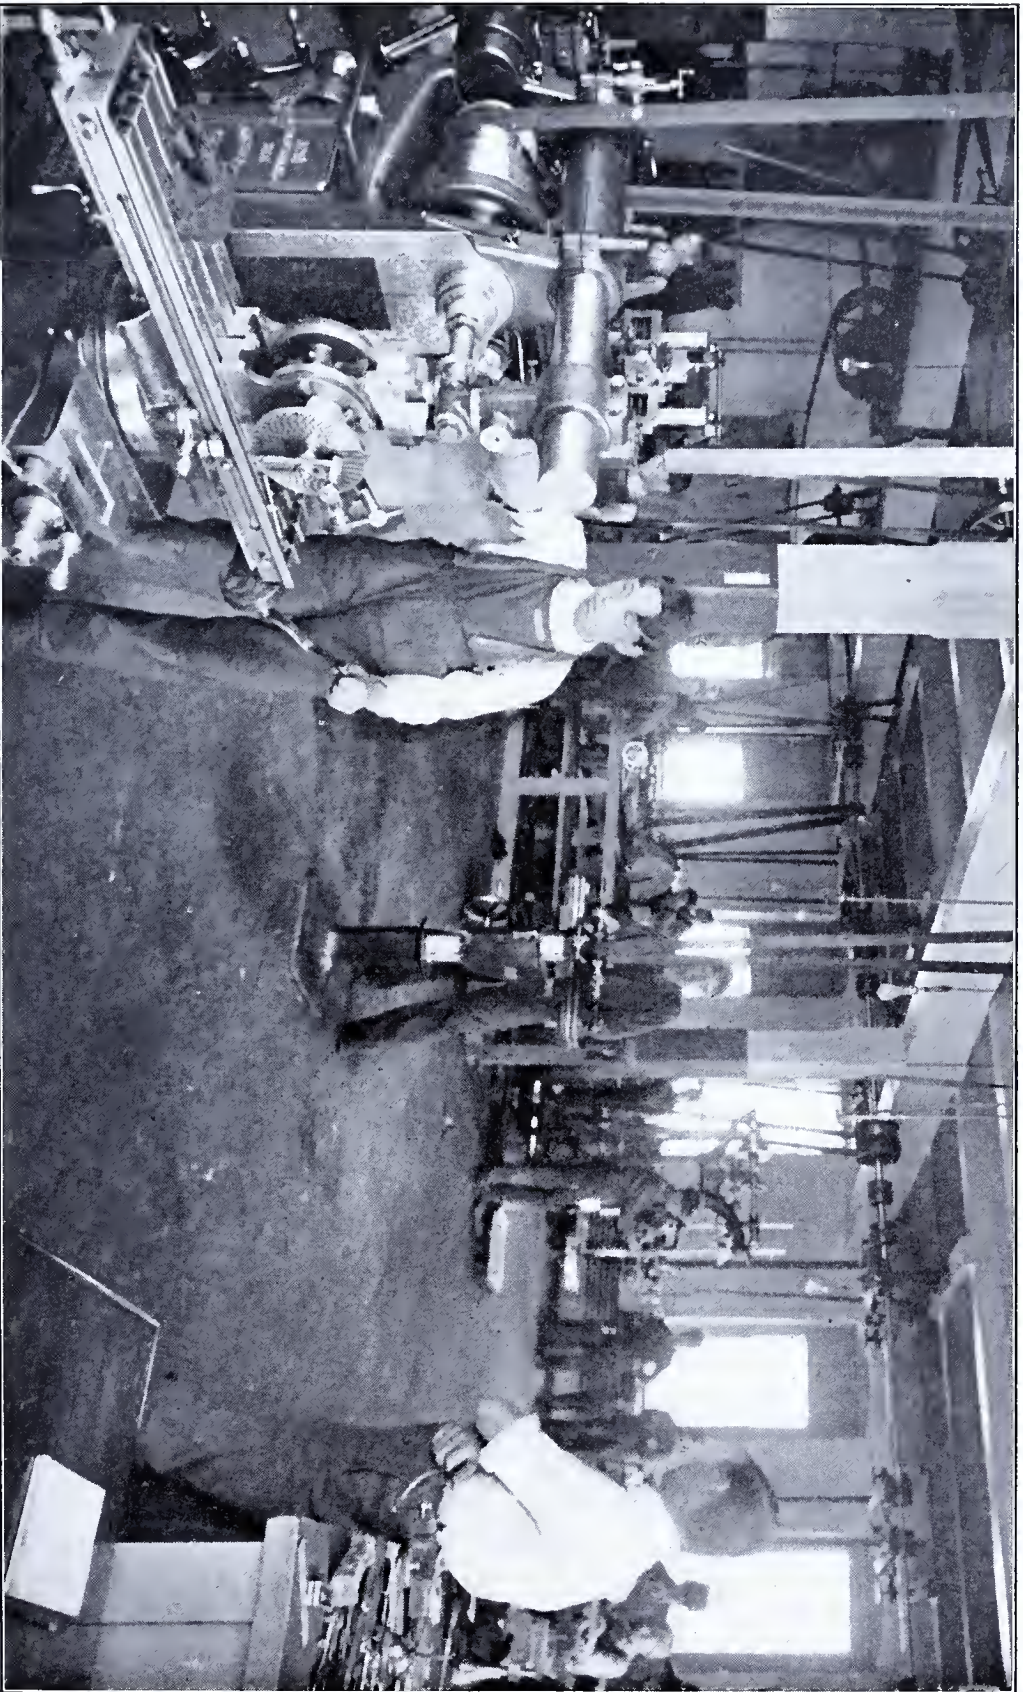

The machinery in this department is an improvement over what we had before the destruction of the building. The number and kind of machines are the same, but are a later pattern and an improvement over the old.

The conduct of the pupils has been fully up to the standard for the past year.

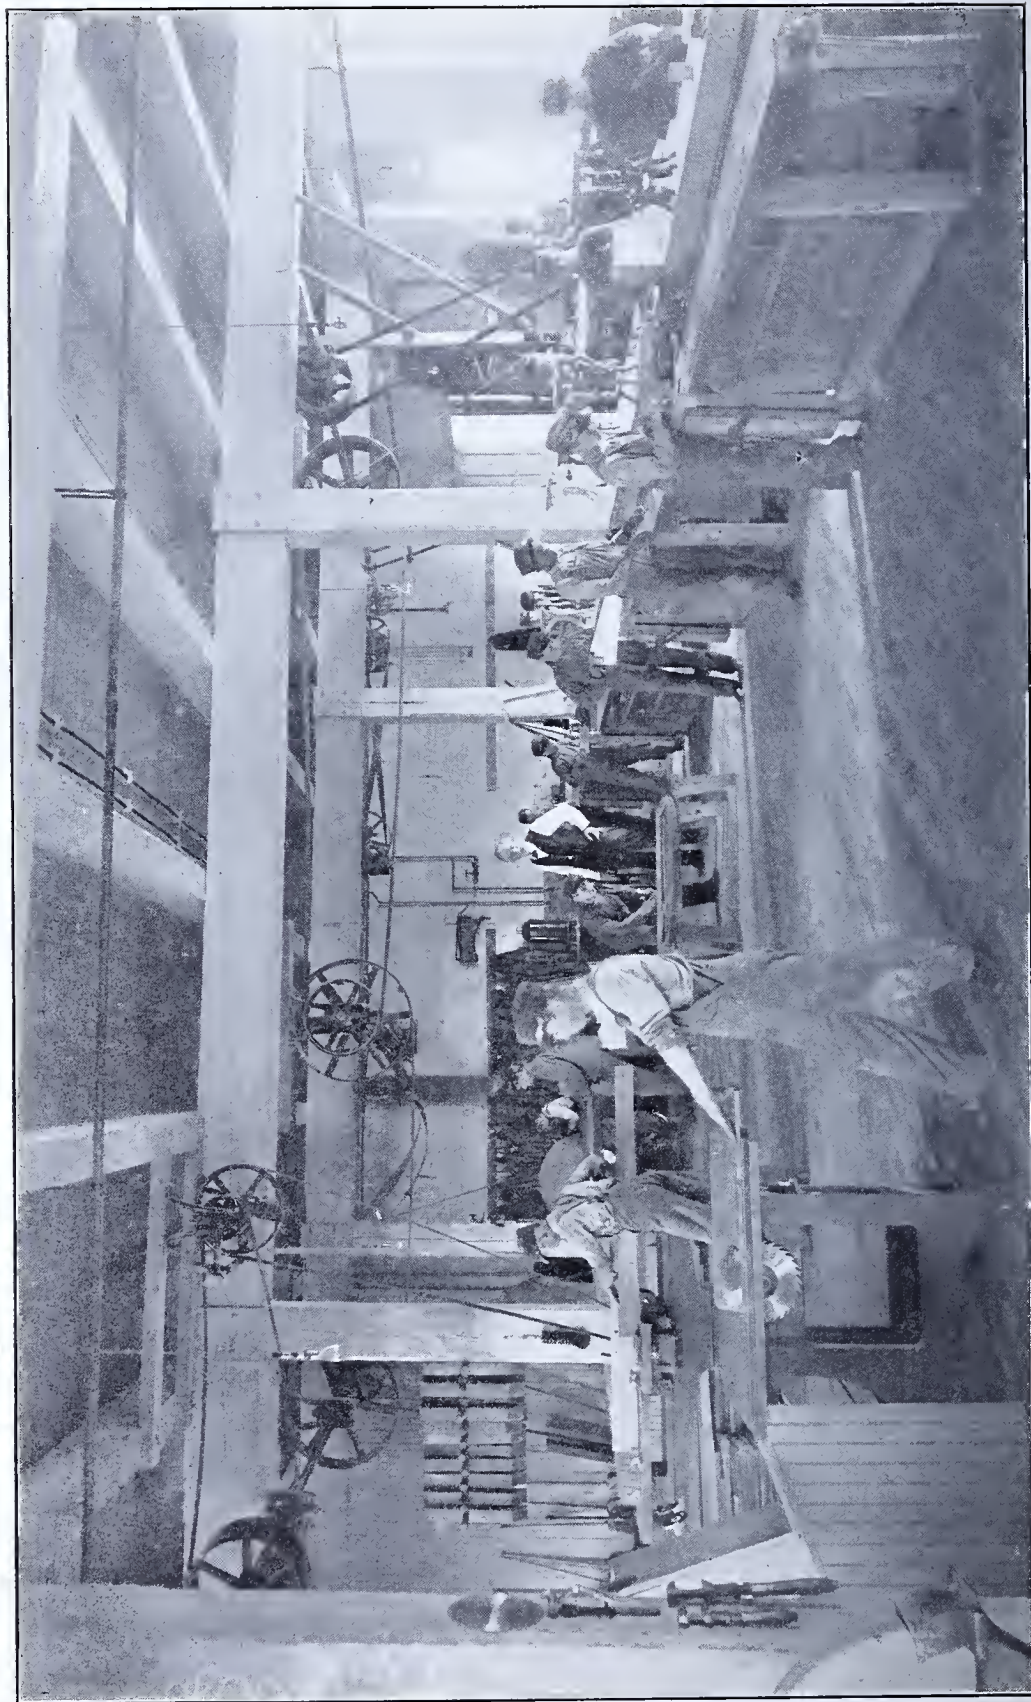

In closing, I wish to thank the Commission and officials of the school for many courtesies.

Very respectfully,

A. B. BEARD,
Instructor.

WOOD DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1902.

Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to submit this, the seventh annual report of the Wood Department. Owing to the delay in getting the new Industrial building ready we were not able to begin operations there until November 1st, last. Prior to that time we occupied the harness house of the farm buildings and were principally engaged in the making of new work benches, tables, racks, etc., to replace those burnt and in doing general repair work about the various departments.

After getting the machinery placed in our present room we continued to do much repair work, erected several closets, made a number of new desks and tables. In addition we made several hundred Indian clubs, dumb-bells, base ball bats, etc., for our own and other schools of the system. During the year we have had an average of forty boys at work in the department, twenty in the morning and the same number in the afternoon. We find our present new room to be very comfortable and much better equipped for the kind of work we have to do than the old room. All the boys seem much interested in their work and their general deportment has been good. That the training given the boys in this department has proven a great help to them is evidenced by the fact that I often receive letters from former pupils showing that they have steady employment at good wages.

Thanking you and all others in the interest taken and the encouragement given us.

Very respectfully yours,

THOMAS G. BERING,

Instructor.

LAUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I herewith present to you a report of the Laundry Department for the year that has just closed. This report dates from December 2, 1901, at which time I took charge of this department. I found all machinery in good condition. There were two employes in this department, myself and assistant laundress. We had six boys and six girls in the forenoon and the same number in the afternoon. We have averaged 5,000 pieces per week. No accidents in this department during the year. Machinery is all working well. The deportment of the children has been all that could be desired.

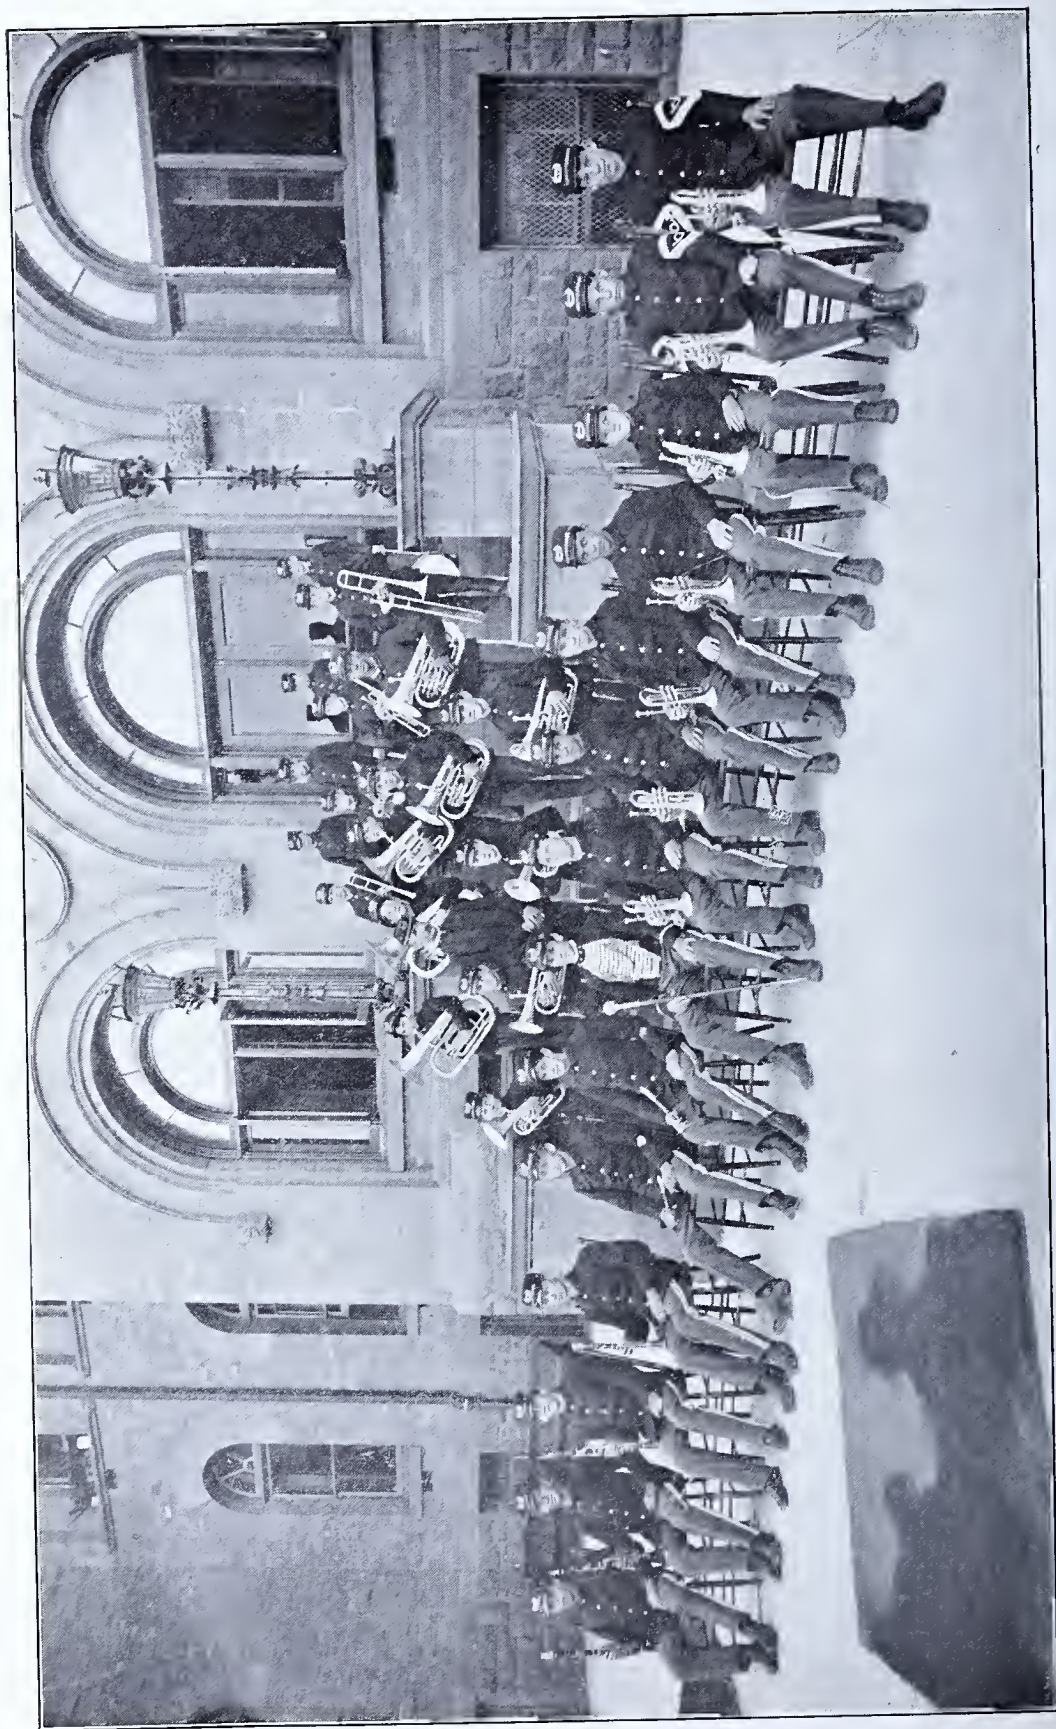

Thanking you, and all who have helped to make my work pleasant, I am

Respectfully,

C. E. MENTZER,
Foreman of Laundry.

BRASS BANDS.

June 30, 1902.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to herewith present to you a report of the Band for the year that has just closed.

My report dates from December 2, 1901, at which time I took charge of the band. I found the instruments, with the exception of bass and snare drums, in good condition. My aim was to have this band excel any former band of this excellent institution. To do this it was necessary to purchase more classical as well as popular music. We had two rehearsals daily, except Saturday, beginning at 12.30 and 4.30 o'clock. We gave a number of concerts in the gymnasium during the winter. We also gave a concert at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., before the faculty and students which was well received, as a letter received the following morning from their musical director stated that everybody was delighted, and sent congratulations. We also gave a concert at the State Normal School, Shippensburg, Pa., before the teachers and pupils. We furnished music for the Memorial Day exercises at Waynesboro, Pa., on May 30th and at Newburg, Pa., on 31st., receiving the highest praise at both places. The band received a number of invitations which it could not accept. The deportment of the boys has been very commendable.

Thanking you for many courtesies, I am

Respectfully,

C. E. MENTZER,
Band Master and Instructor.

BAKERY.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to present the seventh annual report of the Bakery.

At the opening of the school term September 1, there were seventeen boys detailed in this department to learn the trade, each working half day periods, making nine in the morning detail and eight in the afternoon. I had them working on all kinds of work such as is done in a general bakery. Their progress was very satisfactory.

During the year there were seven boys reached the age limits, sixteen, who went out to battle for themselves. I have heard directly or indirectly from each one of them and learn that they are making self-sustaining wages at their trade.

There were made during the year 161,000 pounds bread, 208,000 rolls, 11,000 pies, 300 lady cakes, 400 pound cakes, 150 jelly rolls, 400 pounds fruit cake, 175,000 small cakes.

In conclusion I wish to thank you for the many courtesies extended and also for favors granted.

Respectfully submitted,

S. C. HEIGES.

DEPARTMENT OF TELEGRAPHY, STENOGRAPHY AND TYPE-WRITING.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to submit to you the seventh annual report of the Telegraphy, Stenography and Typewriting Department.

The system of instruction during the past year has been practically the same as that in operation in former years.

In the telegraphy classes much instruction has been given in all the work connected with a first-class telegraph office, including the transmission of messages, clerical work of a telegraph office, etc., and along with this practical knowledge the study of electricity and its appliances as pertaining to telegraphy has been taken up. This makes of the students not operators, who merely understand the mechanical part of the work, but operators, who, at any time, would be capable of filling a position where a knowledge of the wires and other telegraph instruments would be required. Instruction has also been given the advanced classes in railroad telegraphy and in this, as in the regular commercial work, much progress has been made. All the operators who left here a year ago have succeeded in securing positions commanding good salaries and it is seldom one of our graduates fails to secure work.

In the stenography classes much attention has been given to the instruction of the pupils in all work which a stenographer would be called upon to perform in a business office. We use one of the best systems of short-hand and each pupil is carefully instructed and drilled in the fundamental rules and principles before taking up the regular dictation and transcribing. During the past year all of the advanced pupils of the typewriting classes made specimen books containing all the lessons received throughout the year. These books were nicely bound at the end of the school year and were placed on exhibition during Commencement; afterwards they were given to the graduates to take home with them. This plan of having the pupils make specimen books seems to be a very good one as it is excellent practice for them in making the different copies and containing, as they do, all the information relating to a stenographer's duties.

In closing I wish to say that throughout the entire year each pupil has shown himself or herself desirous of learning all they could, have always been deeply interested in their work, their deportment has been of the best, and working in this spirit the results have been highly gratifying.

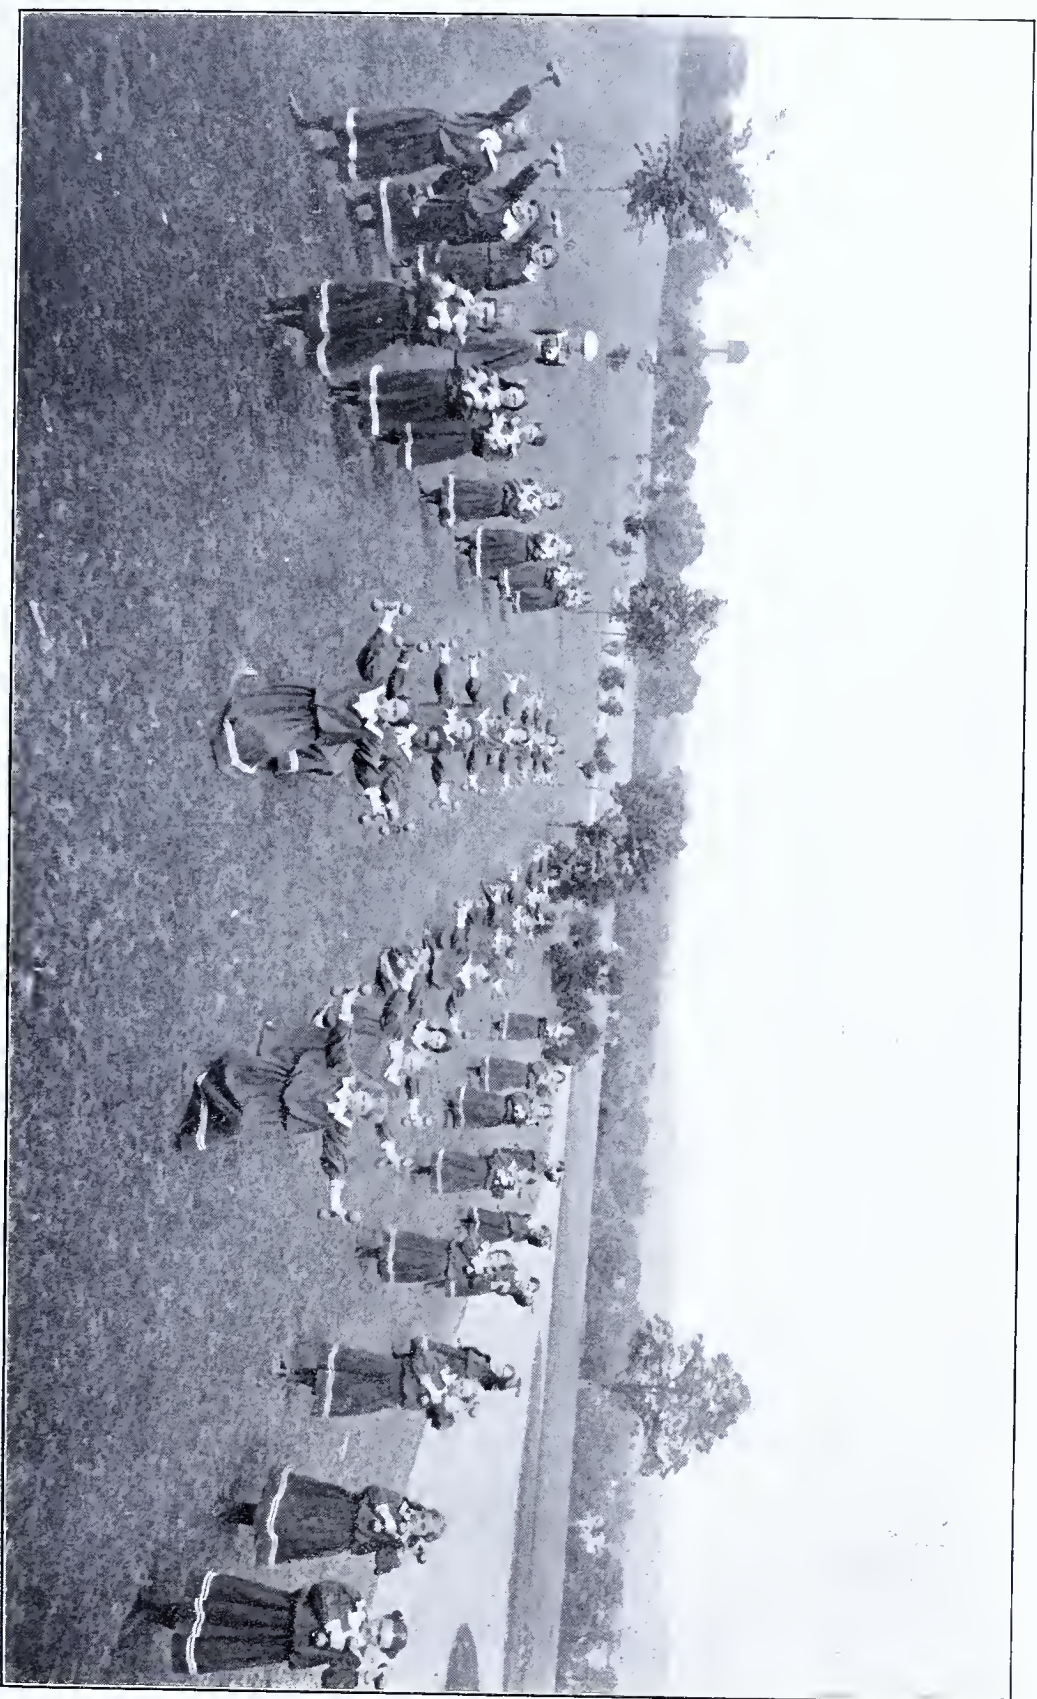

I wish to express my appreciation of the courtesy extended me by the Superintendent and the members of the Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

J. SAMUEL WELTMER,

TAILORING DEPARTMENT.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the third annual report of the Tailoring Department for the year just closed.

At the beginning of the term, September 1, 1901, we were still located in the farm building and we were very much crowded. It was necessary for us to make use of three different rooms, two down stairs and one upstairs. Miss Shoemaker and I found it very inconvenient to run the department under those circumstances though I had a large number of suits cut so there was no time lost in getting started. Considering everything we did very nicely.

About November 1, 1901, when we moved into the new Industrial Building and had everything in good running order the children and all resumed work again with great interest. We had a successful year, finishing everything in plenty of time for the commencement. We have made since September 4, 1901, 320 uniform suits, 127 graduating suits, a full dress suit for the drum major, also a nicely braided suit for our band leader. I am much pleased with the work the children have accomplished this year. The department of the pupils during the year has been very good.

Respectfully submitted,

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to submit to you the report of the Shoe Department.

I commenced work in this department the 1st of April and from that time until the 30th of June I had several boys under my instruction, all of whom learned rapidly and well.

During the months of April, May and June the following work was done:

Shoes half-soled (pairs),	412
Shoes heeled (pairs),	148
Shoes patched,	167
Seams sewed,	319

Respectfully submitted,

APPENDIX.

OFFICIAL CIRCULAR.

PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION OF SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOLS.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 31, 1902.

To the Superintendents of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools:

The annual examinations of the schools will be held on the several dates as follows:

Uniontown—Monday and Tuesday, June 16th and 17th.

Chester Springs—Thursday and Friday, June 19th and 20th.

Industrial—Tuesday and Wednesday, June 24th and 25th.

The examinations will be conducted by the members of the Commission and School Faculty.

Military Drill will form a feature of the examinations.

The following resolutions are published for the information of all concerned:

Whereas, It has been found that the custom of providing meals or other entertainment of this kind for the large crowd who usually attend the Annual Commencement Exercises of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools has become a severe tax upon the energies and physical endurance of the employes, and has seriously interfered with the work of the children in preparing for the parts they must take in the various exercises; therefore,

Resolved, That hereafter no such entertainment will be provided except for specially invited guests and persons officially connected with the various State Departments. All such invited guests will be furnished with tickets of admission to lunch and entertainments at the school.

Resolved, That the School Superintendents may, if desirable, grant permission to members of the Women's Relief Corps and Circles of Ladies of G. A. R. to erect booths within the school grounds where refreshments may be provided for visitors at a reasonable cost.

Resolved, That the Superintendent of each school be authorized to invite the G. A. R. Posts in the immediate vicinity of the school to be present at the examination as the guests of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, and that each member of the Post may be accompanied by a member of his family.

The Department Commander of Pennsylvania G. A. R., the President of the Women's Relief Corps and President of the Ladies of the G. A. R. are cordially invited to attend as many of the examinations as will suit their convenience.

Classes should be in readiness and all arrangements perfected so that the examinations can commence promptly at 9 A. M. on the days named.

The school term of this year will close on Monday, June 30th, and the next term will commence on Monday, September 1, 1902.

You are hereby authorized to grant furloughs for the children on the application of parents or guardians, or at your own discretion, for the vacation period. The expense of transportation as heretofore, must be borne by the relatives or friends.

Furlough blanks will be sent to you upon requisition stating the number required.

All furloughed children must return promptly at the close of the vacation so that the classes may be formed and the new term commence at the date stated.

WILLIAM A. STONE,
President.

JAMES F. MORRISON,
Secretary.

HON. ALFRED DARKE,
Late Member Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission, Died July 20, 1901.

IN MEMORIAM.

Office of Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools,

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 21, 1901.

WHEREAS, The Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools have learned, with sincere sorrow, of the death, on the afternoon of July 20, 1901, of our esteemed and beloved member and distinguished comrade, Hon. Alfred Darte.

Resolved, That in the untimely death of Judge Darte this Commission has lost the wise counsel, the untiring aid, the valued service of an able and upright member, whose patriotic and ever loyal heart was at all times alert and active in behalf of the present comfort and future welfare of the children of his former Comrades in arms, who offered their lives for the preservation of their country during the Civil War from '61 to '65, and of the Spanish-American War.

Resolved, That we deeply mourn his death, and that we extend his widow and orphans our heartfelt sympathy, in the loss of an ideal citizen, a kind husband and an affectionate father.

Resolved, That the above be placed upon our minutes of record, and a copy be delivered to the family.

In honor to the memory of the late Judge Darte, a member of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools at the time of his death, the following General Order, issued by the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, is herewith published and made part of this report:

Headquarters Department of Pennsylvania,
Grand Army of the Republic,

General Orders,
No. 3.

Roll call: Past Department Commander Alfred Darte—Dead.

It is with feelings of profound sorrow that the death of our sterling comrade and friend, Past Department Commander Alfred Darte, is announced. He has left the waysides of earth and strayed into that land where care and toil cast their anchors in the harbor of rest. He died at his home in Luzerne county, Saturday afternoon, July 20, 1901.

We who are left behind are haunted by a phantom called Sorrow robed in the raiment of woe, and many times ere we cross the river and meet and clasp hands with our old comrades, in thought we will wander through the paths of long ago when the voice now stilled responded to the roll call. 'Tis hard for finite minds to understand the mysteries of the Infinite, but we all know that God's ways are best.

Comrade Darte first enlisted April 26, 1861, in Company K, Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania Infantry, and was mustered out July 26, 1861. October 30, 1861, he re-enlisted as Second Lieutenant of Company M, Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry, promoted to Captain March 1, 1863, and finally discharged September 19, 1864.

He participated in all the great battles of the grand old Army of the Potomac during his enlistment and received and merited personal mention for bravery and splendid soldierly qualities. His record in the Grand Army of the Republic is like an open book, the perusal of whose pages should inspire all men with the exaltation of courage and bravery. Individually he was frank and manly and was always a welcome guest at every gathering of his comrades throughout this Department. Intensely patriotic he loved his country and flag—

Our flag—which he nobly helped to save,
And whose stars and stripes will illumine the pathway to his grave.

He served as Chief Mustering Officer, Senior Vice Department Commander, Judge Advocate General and Department Commander. His labor as a member of the Soldiers' Orphan School Commission was always in the interest of the children of his old comrades of the war. He was, indeed, great in all that makes true manhood. He was strong, but gentle. He had all the tender grace of womanhood, but was distinctively a manly man. All too early his feet have reached the valley; the crimson and gold of life's sunset have yielded to the opal and the gray of dawn—the dawn of the life eternal where no shadow ever falls.

Among the people in his own county he was frequently honored with official positions, serving as district attorney in Luzerne county and as judge of the Orphans' Court, which position he occupied at the time of his death. In the bosom of this great Commonwealth, among the comrades who loved him and whom he loved so well, rest thee and bless thee, through all eternity, for we know that your earthly career has won for you a laurel crown whose leaves are imperishable.

But a wave of Divinity has carried our comrade beyond the shore where we, who know his nobility and understand the value of his many years of usefulness, can commune with him, but in the vast firmament of eternity another star shines brightly and in the meadows of Heaven a new flower has blossomed.

By command of Department Commander LEVI G. McCAULEY.

CHAS. F. KENNEDY,
Assistant Adjutant General

LAWS REGULATING THE SCHOOLS.

ACT OF 1867.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Whereas, Several considerable appropriations have been expended, for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, It is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now hers;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired, in the performance of this duty, now enables the legislature to regulate, by statute, the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, for three years, from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal, for cause, as other officers, appointed in like manner, are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds, with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties; the Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk, and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the Soldiers' Orphan Schools hereinafter provided for: Provided, That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any pecuniary interest in any of the said orphans' schools

Section 2. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors, or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes and schools, possessing such good and sufficient accommodation as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care, and maintenance and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln Institution, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall establish at least one such institution for the reception of soldiers' orphans over the age of ten years, within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve Normal school districts, now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable, in any manner, for the cost of erecting, repairing, or furnishing any of the institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 3. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians, or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' shall be valid and binding upon said mothers, guardians, and next friends, and also upon said orphans till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institution in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Section 4. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming Soldiers' Orphan Schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace, at least, the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits, and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school-room studies; he shall visit each Soldiers' Orphan School at least once in each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Section 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act into the institutions established for their education and maintenance, shall be made by conveyance and transfers to the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act, executed, under oath, by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead, or has abandoned said orphans; but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward, or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases, and the superintendent may require such other certificate, from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Section 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That when he may deem it expedient to do so, the said superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number of acres and extent of accommodation in the case of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Section 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor, and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges; and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said Soldiers' Orphan Schools by the Legislature of the State.

Section 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief, in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in case where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents, or relatives, or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Section 9. That all bills for the maintenance and education of the soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing, and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses, may be drawn by the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually, at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Section 10. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans, at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall, not later than the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements by item, and estimates for ensuing years.

Section 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress, or employer, as shall thus be requested, and for such term as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, and if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years; in which indenture of apprenticeship, there shall be included such covenants for the future education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe; and such apprenticeship shall be in all other respects, not herein provided for, subject to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Section 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment, shall be restored to the mother, guardian, or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by the Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing, and literary and industrial attainments and qualification.

Section 13. That the year, for all operations under this act, shall begin on the first Monday of June in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June of the year next succeeding; and all appropriations, hereafter made, shall be for the year, as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the government.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be and they are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1889.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of the State.

Whereas, On the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, as appears from the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, there will be left under the care of the State and undergoing education in the soldiers' orphans' schools, about fifteen hundred and forty-nine children whose ages will range at the date from five to sixteen years;

And whereas, The greater number of these children have no homes and no persons to maintain and educate them, and the people of the Commonwealth are desirous that they shall be maintained at the public expense; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor and five members of the General Assembly, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively, together with a committee of five honorably discharged soldiers, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, be and the same are hereby constituted a Commission, who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act, from June first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take charge of all children then in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools or other institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Homes and Schools.

Section 2. That the Governor, the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives appointed on such Commission, shall be members thereof until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, when their successors shall be named by the presiding officer as aforesaid of the respective branches of the Legislature, and they shall continue as members of the Commission for the term of two years thereafter, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner and continued their membership for the same term. The committee of honorably discharged soldiers shall be appointed by the Department Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, and shall continue in office during the pleasure of said Department Commander. In case of a vacancy in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission by death or any cause, the appointing power provided for shall have power to fill vacancies for the unexpired term.

Section 3. That no compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, save their actual expenses, and no member of the Commission shall be interested or concerned, financially, in any institution or school having charge or maintenance of said children. A suitable office at Harrisburg for the use of the Commission, shall be provided by the Commonwealth.

Section 4. That the said Commission shall elect from their own number, a president and secretary, and shall have power to appoint one male inspector and one female inspector, at a maximum salary for both, which shall not exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars and traveling expenses not to exceed four hundred dollars each per annum, one chief clerk and one assistant clerk, at a maximum salary for both not exceeding thirty-two hundred dollars, said salaries and number of clerks to be reduced from time to time as may be found expedient.

Section 5. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to rent such buildings as may be necessary for the accommodation of the aforesaid orphans, and to appoint all officers, teachers and employes that may be found necessary for the proper care, maintenance and education at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the soldiers' children now in the several Soldiers' Orphan Schools in the Commonwealth, under the provision of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and its supplements: Provided, That the authority hereby given to rent property shall not empower the Commission to pay an annual rental that shall exceed six per centum of cash value thereof, to be determined by three appraisers, one appointed on the part of the Commission, and one by the owner or owners of the property, and the two selected shall choose the third: Provided further, That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall not contract in any case with any individual, or firm, or partnership, or syndicate, for the care and maintenance of said soldiers' children, except for temporary care during the reorganization provided for in this act, and for a period not exceeding six months from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine: And provided still further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission, at their discretion, from placing such children as boarding pupils in the Pennsylvania State College, the State Normal Schools, or in chartered orphanages or homes for friendless children not conducted for profit, and paying to such college, Normal schools, or charitable institutions, for the maintenance, clothing and education of such soldiers' children a sum not exceeding annually one hundred and forty dollars per capita.

Section 6. That the Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall have power to make and prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions receiving Soldiers' Orphans, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same kind in the State, and decide upon the course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instructions in vocal music, military tactics, where practicable, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments consistent with the respective sexes and ages of the said orphan children and their school room studies, and such rules as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 7. That all the contracts for supplies, made under this act, may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Commission shall be judges.

Section 8. That all bills incurred shall be certified by the president and secretary of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and paid quarterly by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer by the Auditor General.

Section 9. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall, not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of all the Soldiers' Orphans under their charge, their condition and progress, the number of each respective age from five to sixteen years, and such other information as they may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements, by items, and estimates for the ensuing year.

Section 10. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans shall be restored to his or her father, mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes and a certificate, signed by the principal of the proper school in which such orphan has been maintained and educated, showing his or her moral standing and literary or industrial attainments and qualifications.

Section 11. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year next succeeding.

Section 12. The Legislature shall make necessary appropriation for contingent and traveling expenses of the Commission, and for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of each orphan or destitute child of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors or marines under the care of the said Commission, the sum of one hundred and forty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 13. That all money remaining to the credit of Department of Soldiers' Orphan Schools upon the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, shall be placed to the credit of the Commission created by this act.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts and supplements thereto, heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed. .

ACT OF 1893.

Providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor, making appropriations for such purposes, erection and equipment and the maintenance of children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be erected at some point within the State, easily accessible, a building or buildings, to be known as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Section 2. That the Commission now in charge of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, are empowered to purchase not more than one hundred acres of ground, the title of which shall be vested in the Commonwealth, and to erect buildings thereon, equipping the same with shops, tools, etc., for industrial training as well as for the educational course, and for the maintenance of the Soldiers' Orphans, first taking security for the faithful performance of all contracts, and for the completion of the building and buildings in a substantial, good, and workmanlike manner.

Section 3. The said Commission, as now constituted, shall continue until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, at which time there shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, two members thereof, and by the Speaker of the House, three members thereof, to serve for two years, and the Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, shall then recommend to the Governor five honorably discharged soldiers for the appointment, who, if approved by the Governor, shall be appointed to serve for two years. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of the said Commission. At the expiration of the said terms of the said appointees their successors shall be appointed in like manner and for like term. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the said Commission shall be filled by the appointing powers as above set forth.

Section 4. The said commission shall elect, from their own number, a president, secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, and shall employ all necessary clerks, teachers and employes necessary for the proper conduct and care of the schools.

Section 5. The said Commission shall have full power to continue the Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now constituted, or, if necessary, change either, any or all of them, to other localities, until such time or times as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall be completed or sufficiently advanced to accommodate said orphans, when the Commission shall close all of the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of applications as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State, for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission.

Section 7. Preference in admission shall be as follows:

First—Full orphans, the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, and were members of Pennsylvania commands, or, having served in the commands of other states, or of the United States, were residents of Pennsylvania at the time of enlistment.

Second—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose father may be deceased and mother living.

Third—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose parents may either, or both, be permanently disabled.

Section 8. In order that the benefits of industrial training may be given to the children now in its soldiers' orphan schools, and who may arrive at the age to be discharged at or about the time of the opening of the said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the said Commission is hereby empowered to extend the time of the discharge of such children, who may be fifteen and sixteen years of age, for the space of two years additional.

Section 9. The per capita rate of the appropriation for the education and maintenance of the children admitted in the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars per annum.

Section 10. No compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, except such reasonable expenses as they may incur in the performance of their duties, and no member of said Commission shall be directly or indirectly interested, financially, in any school under care of said Commission, or in the education and maintenance of said soldiers' orphans, nor in furnishing supplies to or for the same, nor in the purchase of lands, erection of buildings, or equipment of the same.

Section 11. The said Commission shall, on or before the third Wednesday in January of each year, present to the Legislature, under oath, a detailed report of the financial transaction of the preceding year, setting forth in detail the amount of all moneys or other property received on account of such Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and an itemized statement of the disbursements thereof.

Section 12. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year then next succeeding.

Section 13. To carry out the provisions of this act the following sums of money are hereby specifically appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sums shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, who shall first be required to give a bond in the sum to be named by the said Commission, with security for the proper application of such moneys.

First—For the establishing, building, furnishing and fitting up of said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, as herein-before provided, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Second—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Third—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Fourth—For the expenses of the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 14. All moneys to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General, drawn on the State Treasurer upon requisition, approved and certified to by the said Commission.

Section 15. Any balance remaining unexpended for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four shall be available for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, in addition to the sum of fifty thousand dollars herein appropriated for that year.

Section 16. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1899.

Entitled An act to extend the benefits of the Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School, and the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, to the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall and is hereby authorized and required to admit to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Industrial School, or to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, orphans of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war, subject to present laws governing the control of said schools.

ACT OF 1901.

AN ACT

To amend section six of an act, entitled "An act providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School; the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriations for such purposes as erection and equipment, and the maintenance of the children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools," approved the twenty-seventh day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three: Provided, That in certain cases pupils may remain at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial Schools after attaining the age of sixteen years.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That section six of said act, which reads as follows:

"Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission," be amended to read as follows:

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause, by order of the Commission.

Provided, That in the case of pupils at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School reaching the age of sixteen between the first day of January in any year and the thirtieth day of June of the same year, the said pupil may, at the discretion of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, remain at the school until the thirtieth day of June following the date at which he or she may reach the age of sixteen.

Provided, further, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 7th day of March, A. D. 1901.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1903.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: As required by the act of Assembly the Commission charged with the proper conduct of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools herewith present for your consideration their annual report as to the condition of the several schools for the year ending May 31, 1903.

On May 31, 1902, there were 1,075 pupils on the rolls and on May 31, 1903, there were 1,032, showing a decrease for that period of 43 children. This concludes the thirty-ninth year of the existence of these schools and the fourteenth year under the management of a Commission. During the year just closed the new school building at Chester Springs has been completed and is now being used, and the Commission desire to express their appreciation of the commodious building erected by the F. and M. National Bank. It is well adapted for the purpose and is quite an improvement over the one destroyed by fire. The Commission also joined with the F. and M. Bank in the erection of a temporary building for school purposes, which was used for a few months of the time consumed in the erection of the new structure, and after the completion of the main school building, the temporary one was remodeled and is now used for the care of small boys who are now removed from constant contact with the larger boys, and this has proven of great benefit. They are in charge of a matron who looks after their care and comfort.

During the year we have had in the schools diseases incident to childhood, but none of a very violent character. That we have escaped epidemics that have swept over the State from time to time has been marvelous, and is a constant surprise to those who are familiar with the workings of the system. That we have not been thus afflicted can be charged to the constant care and watchfulness of those in charge of the schools.

Year by year the numbers of admissions and numbers in the schools are growing less, and this will continue until the last of those entitled shall have received the benefits of this system, inaugurated by a patriotic people of a patriotic state. Under the act of Assembly the children of the soldiers of the War of 1898 are entitled to the benefits of these schools, and at present there are quite a number that have been admitted. The children who are now being received are all young and if they remain until they are sixteen years of age, as required by law, it will be some time yet before the schools can be permanently closed. If the falling off in admissions continue it will be necessary in a year or two to close another school, leaving but two (and the question is whether an effort should now be made to concentrate the remaining pupils at Scotland, which property is owned by the State.) Here the boys and girls are taught the rudiments of a trade which goes far toward helping them in the battle of life. There is a farm in connection with this school also, where a great deal of produce used by the pupils is raised, and it is becoming more prolific each year. The members of the Commission are of the opinion that the State should purchase about 47 more acres of land which would square the line of the farm and give almost a mile of water front along the creek, thus insuring a full supply of water for all purposes for all time.

Following is the population of the schools for the year ending May 31, 1903.

In conclusion, gentlemen, the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools desires to express, in the name of the wards of this State, their thanks for the kindness and generosity that has at all times been shown by the Legislature in providing for their care and comfort. Pennsylvania has always honored her citizen soldiers, has generously cared for the soldier in his old age and for the widows, and in these schools look after the material comfort and welfare of the little ones.

The Commission most earnestly request the members of the Legislature, Grand Army of the Republic, the clergy and the members of the press, and in fact all citizens to visit these schools, and see what is being done toward improving the minds and bodies of those who have been admitted.

Every member of the present Commission is a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, as follows:

Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, ex-officio.

On the Part of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Jacob C. Stineman.

Andrew G. Williams.

On the Part of the House of Representatives.

REPORTS OF INSPECTORS.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTRESS.

To the Honorable Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools:

The fourth annual report of your Inspectress, embracing the period between May 31, 1902, and May 31, 1903, can only be in the nature of a general summary—not any event of unusual importance having interrupted the routine of the work.

It is practically impossible in a brief report of this nature to specify in detail the innumerable points to which the attention of a conscientious inspector is directed during the course of the year. The questions which are to be met, and the errors which are to be remedied, seldom arise from any wilful neglect or carelessness. There are always diversity of opinions, and differences of judgment, as to the care and management of such a large number of minor children.

These differences refer to questions of hygiene, to the quality and quantity of food and clothing, and to the numerous details which enter into the daily life of a large institution.

While your Inspectress has been in herself powerless to effect any changes, she has in all cases where it was necessary, called the attention of the Commission to the matter at issue, always with a result that cannot fail to be pleasing to those who have at least the comfort and welfare of the children.

Previous reports have noted the disadvantages arising from the crowded condition at Chester Springs School. Circumstances, up to this time, has rendered it practically impossible to separate the extremely young boys from those of more mature years, and it has always been evident that it was impossible to enforce the same rules upon the small children, as were applicable to those who are older. It now, however, is a certainty, that in the near future, such plans will be completed, as will allow a proper separation of these two classes of pupils. In making this statement, your Inspectress does so with special regard to those who are under the care of a matron, and who will be greatly benefitted by the change.

It is a source of congratulation that, although one school, that at Jumonville, was visited by an epidemic of scarlatina—there was one case only which resulted fatally. So small a percentage of mortality among many hundreds of children is certainly a most convincing evidence of the fact that the health and comfort of the soldiers' orphans' is safely guarded.

In concluding this report I wish to thank the Commission for their assistance and encouragement, and to express my appreciation of their kindness to me during the time illness interrupted the work with which they have entrusted me.

Very respectfully,

LAURA P. SWENTZEL.

Philadelphia, July 30, 1903.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

West Chester, Pa., July 27, 1903.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: In presenting this annual report, it is very encouraging to realize that the work of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools has excited general interest and worthy comment during the past year. I also wish to express the belief that the year just ended stands open to inspection on the ground of its worthiness in justification of the charity of the State. Education is being made more and more practical as a preparation for life work, and the Commission has not been found wanting in developing work which makes it possible to send these fatherless boys and girls out into the world prepared to do something definite.

The opportunity that is being offered to the boys and girls who are so fortunate as to receive their education in these schools is unusual. To have taken these children from homes, and to place them amidst surroundings which are not only healthy and beautiful, but which abound in the development of morality, good manners, and patriotism, is a work of which this State is the guardian, and the fulfillment of which is being carried out as successfully as seems possible.

The children have been healthy and strong. Plenty of good food has been provided and systematic exercise insisted upon. The buildings have generally been well kept and well ventilated, although some buildings are in great need of improvements, but the best seems to have been made of existing circumstances and things have been kept in the best repair possible.

In September, 1902, the first month of the school year, there were in all the schools 622 boys and 397 girls, a total of 1,019; while in June, 1903, the last month of the school year, there were 625 boys and 411 girls, showing a total of 1,036, a gain of 17.

Military duties are so arranged as not to conflict with or encroach upon the time set apart for class room work and study; its training making promptness and exactness habitual. The drill not only gives military training, but affords healthful exercise, and promotes physical strength and development. The military instructors are the disciplinarians of the boys, and the matrons act in the same capacity for the girls.

During my inspections at the schools, I was pleased to observe the good effect upon the boys of their careful drilling in the manual-of-arms, and their excellent marching and correct alignments, and in maintaining their proper distances in marching, as well as their soldierly bearing and neat appearance. Under our military discipline, it is not long before an undisciplined boy becomes changed into a frank, well behaved and manly fellow. And notwithstanding the strict discipline, kindness permeates all the different departments of the schools.

The boys are so perfected in the fire drill that they can, in case of fire or other alarm, dress themselves, and report to the military instructors for orders in two minutes and a half. In case of fire in the girls' department, the boys, in charge of the military instructors, are taught to go to the assistance of the girls.

A number of the children who do not have homes, remain at the schools during the vacation period—July and August. They are not required to study, only to assist in preparing the meals and to keep the grounds well policed—they have plenty of time for recreation.

I want to renew my recommendations in regard to the libraries and to express the hope that there may be taken some action on their behalf. It is unfortunate that this very important and influential feature of the schools should not be kept up to other standards.

The Christmas entertainments and commencement exercises were given with much interest and enthusiasm; besides their value in the form of entertainment and accomplishment, they bring out a wholesome community of interest of the children, instructors, the Commission, friends, and sum up the years' work and discipline. The quarterly examinations at all the schools show a very satisfactory result, with a general average of over 75 per cent. while quite a number of pupils attained 90 per cent. or more.

The Industrial Departments at Scotland are fully reported elsewhere, and I will not dwell upon them. The Industrial School News is rapidly growing in influence and circulation, particularly with the G. A. R., whose support is earnestly sought. It is an important factor in the work of the schools and should be encouraged in every possible way.

The graduating class of 1903, at the Industrial School numbered thirty-seven, and Senator Andrew G. Williams, a member of the Commission, presented diplomas to each member of the class. Among other things, Senator Williams said, "The perpetuity of our free institutions depend much more upon the education and virtue of our people than upon large Columbians, quick firing Krag-Jorgensen rifles, death dealing Mauser bullets or smokeless powder."

May 4, 1902, the old Washington Hospital building at Chester Springs was burned down, and from that time until the early winter when a temporary building was built, the teachers were very much handicapped in their work by being compelled to use small rooms located in different buildings, and in not having blackboards. Notwithstanding these handicaps the work was successfully carried on. On January 28, 1903, the new permanent building was finished and dedicated. The school is much indebted to the Commission for their constant attention and energy in pushing the work of this building to a rapid completion.

The prospects for the coming year are bright and encouraging and I am sure it will be the endeavor of all to continue the steady improvement which has marked the progress of the past few years.

The Department Commander, Edwin Walton, has issued the following General Orders, which is of interest as pertaining to the schools.

"The Department Commander was present at the annual commencements of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools at Scotland and Chester Springs, and found everything in excellent condition. The children were healthy, happy and contented. Much credit is due the Commission and teachers in their successful efforts to make useful men and women of our comrades' orphans. No comrade can thoroughly comprehend what a good work is being done at these schools unless he makes a personal visit to them, and the Department Commander recommends that every comrade make such visits as often as may be convenient."

I also give a brief extract from the report of a committee appointed by the Allegheny County G. A. R. Association to visit the Soldiers' Orphan School at Jumonville.

"Upon our arrival at Uniontown, we were met with a carriage and taken out to the mountain home of a very happy lot of boys and girls. There we were cordially received by the genial Superintendent, J. A. Waters, and several members of the Commission. The Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now in operation, is one of the grand institutions of our Commonwealth.

"This school is on historic ground and is on or near the ground where the first battle was fought by George Washington. It is one mile from Fort Necessity and two and a half miles from Braddock's grave on the National pike.

"The school is divided into five families, four of them under the care of a good Christian lady who has a motherly care over them, which can be plainly seen by the love and respect shown by the happy faces of the children. The fifth family is under the care of the military instructor, and is composed of the largest boys.

"It was a beautiful sight to see the entire school march into the dining rooms to their evening meal. Each scholar is in his and her proper position, with the tap of the bell, all unite in repeating a blessing. The tables were served by the boys and girls all dressed with white aprons, and many of our hotels might do well to pattern after them."

At the reunion of the Pennsylvania Reserves held in Harrisburg, Penn'a, June 24 and 25, 1903, a number of the boys and girls of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School took part in the entertainments. The boys' battalion gave exhibition drills in the manual-of-arms and calisthenics on Market Square, for the benefit of the Reserves. At a campfire held at the Opera house in the evening, one hundred and thirty girls from the school gave very pleasing and perfect exhibitions in calisthenics—the girls occupied the stage. The boys' battalion and the boys' band occupied the gallery and the band furnished the music for the entertainment.

During the campfire reference was made by one of the speakers to the fact that the two greatest monuments to the memory of ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin were the Soldiers' Orphans, (the grandest benefaction in the history of any State or Nation), and the Pennsylvania Reserves (where at Drainesville, Va., it won the first victory of the army of the Potomac). Governor Curtin was the author of both, and both organizations were present at the campfire.

In concluding I would express the hope that something herein may attract the interest of its readers to the work of the schools and cause them to join with the Commission and all the friends of these orphans, in working for this grand trust of our State.

Thanking the members of the Commission for their courtesies during the year, I am,

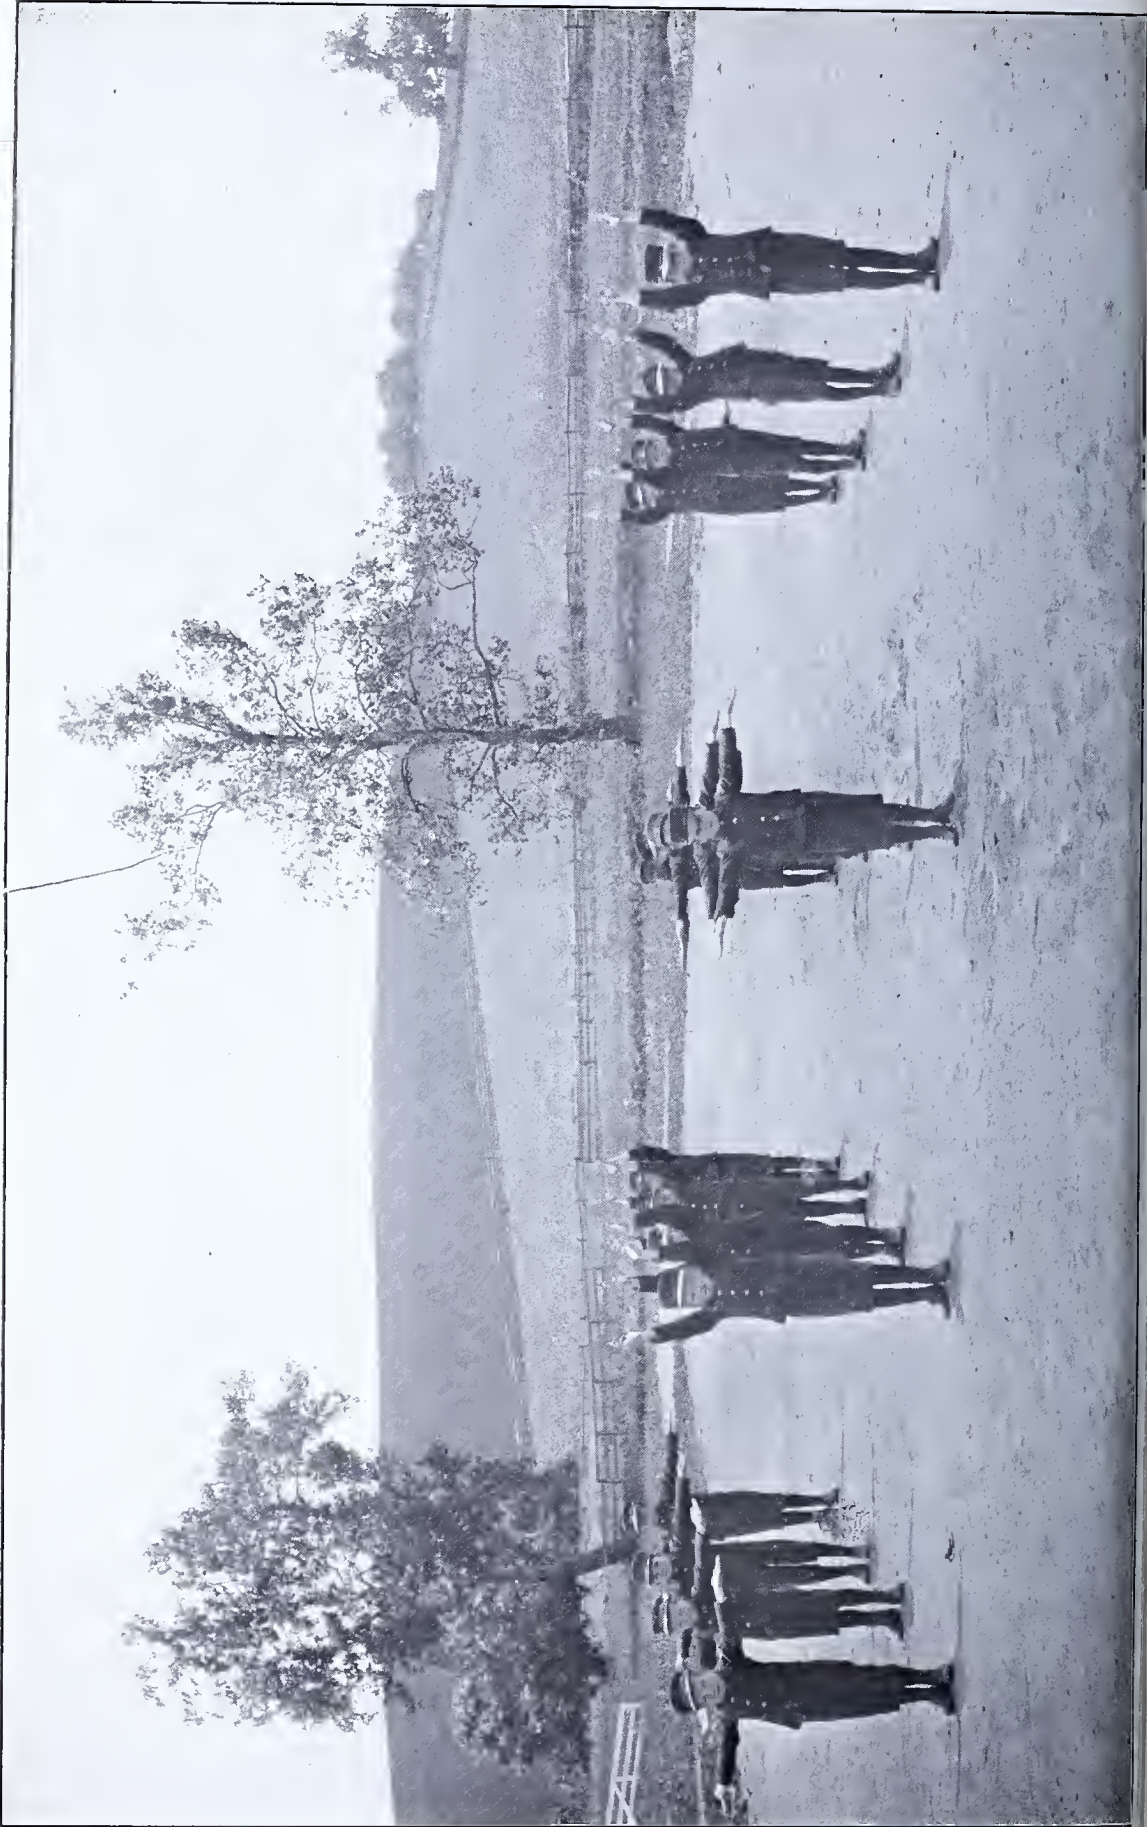

Very respectfully,

S. G. WILLAUER,

Inspector.

REPORTS OF SUPERINTENDENTS.

SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL, CHESTER SPRINGS.

Chester Springs, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit the thirteenth annual report of the Chester Springs Schools:

The school term began September 1, 1902 with 360 pupils on roll. During the year there were admitted 122 pupils making the whole number on roll for the year ending June 30, 1903, 482. During the year 35 were discharged on age, 11 on order and 51 on transfer, making a total discharge of 97. Therefore there remains on roll June 30, 1903, 385.

One of the most important events of the year was the completion of the new chapel building. The dedication exercises were held Wednesday, January 28. On that occasion we had with us Gen. L. G. McCauley, Col. Thos. G. Sample and wife, Col. R. H. Holgate and wife, Rev. W. T. Johnston and Rev. L. A. Schneering. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. T. Johnston, assisted by Rev. L. A. Schneering. An appropriate program was given by the children of the school.

Since the completion of the new chapel and school building, the educational department has been better equipped for doing good work. To a large extent this department has been in charge of Miss Mary E. Hamilton, assistant principal, who has performed her duties with marked ability. The progress of the school, educationally, during the year has been highly satisfactory, considering the hampered condition of this department during the early part of the term. In this connection I wish to commend all my fellow teachers for the faithful execution of their duties. The musical department and the girls' calisthenics, under the direction, respectively, of Miss Helen Buohl and Miss Katherine Quinlin deserve special mention.

Our Sunday School and other religious exercises have been in successful operation since the completion of the chapel building. Daily chapel exercises have been conducted, and each Sunday the school has assembled for the purpose of studying the Bible.

Two important changes took place during the year among our employes. On January 13, Miss V. V. Kahler resigned her position as nurse. The vacancy thus caused was promptly filled by the appointment of Mrs. L. H. Richards. On May 11, Mrs. A. R. Bolmar resigned her position as matron. This vacancy was filled by the appointment of Miss M. E. White.

The girls' department is now under the able management of Miss Margaret E. White, whose experience well qualifies her to fill so important a position. She has from time to time received the commendation of the Inspectress upon the condition of her department.

The boys' department has been in charge of Maj. Chris Beekman and Major James P. Holt. The government in this department was, as much as possible, that of the family. A sentiment of self-control was inculcated among the larger boys, who were taught to measure their actions with the standard of right and justice. The success of this plan was largely due to the constant companionship and moral influence of the military instructors. In this way corporal punishment has been reduced to the minimum.

During the winter one case of diphtheria was reported. By strict isolation and a liberal use of disinfecting agents the disease was confined to the original case. Aside from this there was no serious illness. The health of the children was never better.

The electrical department in charge of Mr. F. H. Hartweg; the farm in charge of Mr. George M. Hazlett; the laundry in charge of Mr. C. A. Broome, and the hospital in charge of Mrs. L. H. Richards have repeatedly received favorable mention from members of the Commission.

Post 45, G. A. R. of Phoenixville, extended a cordial invitation to this school to participate in their Memorial Day exercises. The advisory committee, after careful consideration, decided that, owing to the extreme youth of the children, they would not be able to withstand the fatigue of such a trip. The invitation was therefore respectfully declined.

The various departments of this institution have been in charge of thoroughly competent and well trained men and women, whose experience in institution work has fitted them for their duties. They have always received words of praise from the Inspector, Major S. G. Willauer, upon the occasions of his numerous and thorough inspections.

At the time of our "Annual Examination" the children acquitted themselves so well that many members of the Commission stated that the entertainment given was the best ever witnessed at this school. We had present at the annual, Gen. L. G. McCauley and wife, Col. Thos. G. Sample and wife, Senator J. C. Stineman and wife, Col. R. H. Holgate and wife, Hon. Thad. M. Mahon and wife, Mr.

James F. Morrison and wife, John H. Riebel, Mrs. L. P. Swentzel, Major S. G. Willauer, Département Commander Edwin Walton, Adjutant General Chas. A. Suydam, Rev. W. T. Johnson, Rev. L. A. Schneering, together with representatives of the G. A. R. from Philadelphia and West Chester.

Notwithstanding the hampered condition of the school during the early part of the term and the enforced absence of the Superintendent, owing to ill health, the school has had a prosperous year.

Without exception the officers and employes have worked with a single purpose, the betterment of the school, and it is due to their faithful and untiring efforts that the year has been a prosperous one.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the Advisory Committee for their kindness and consideration and for any helpful suggestions offered.

Very respectfully,

IRA D. McCORD,
Acting Superintendent.

UNIONTOWN SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL.

Jumonville, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

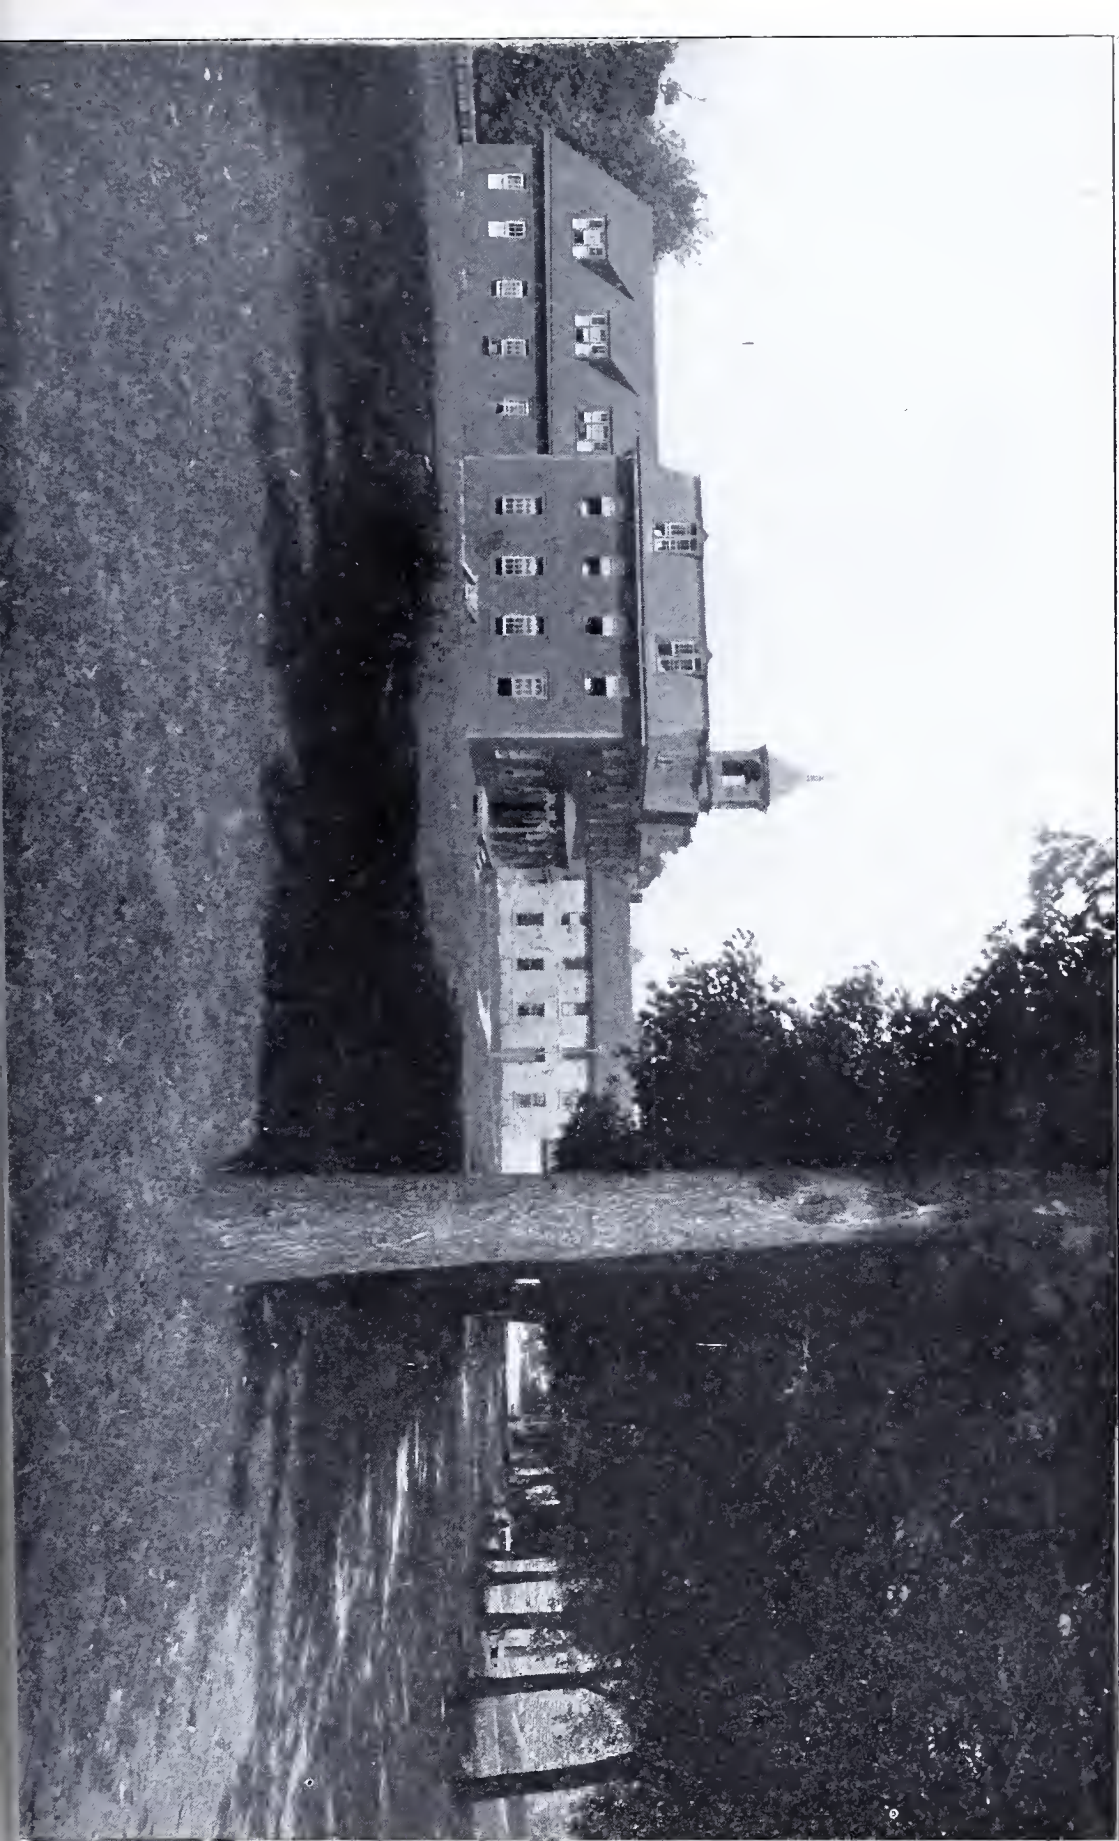

Gentlemen: I hereby present this, the thirty-seventh annual report of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School:

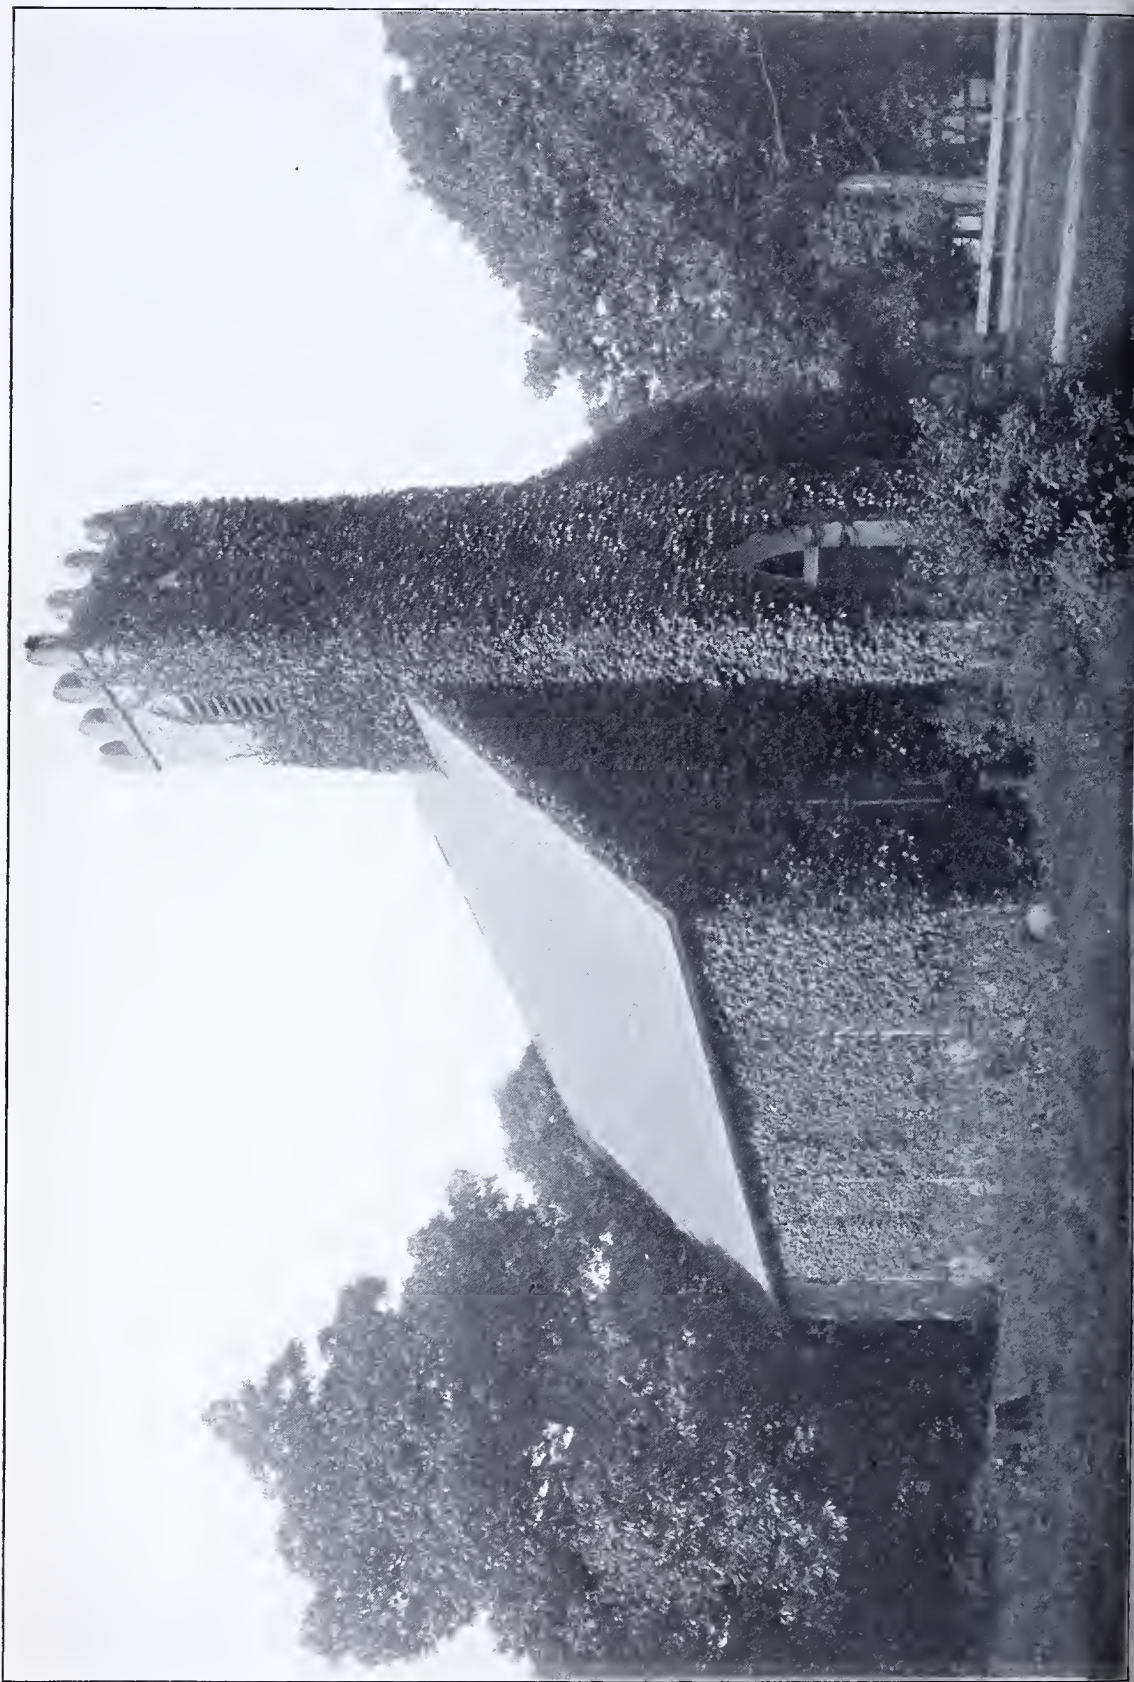

We close the school year with 338 pupils on the roll. There were 386 on the roll at the close of last year, making a net loss in our number for the year of 48. During the year 47 pupils were admitted on order. There were discharged on age 21, on order 27, and by transfer to the Industrial School at Scotland 45. There were two deaths. There are on the roll at present 222 boys and 116 girls, the proportion being about 65 per cent boys and 35 per cent. girls. The educational department has been under the care of Prof. H. E. Gress supported by an efficient corps of assistants, the results of whose work has been very satisfactory. Special attention has been given in the primary grades to nature study. Specimens of the valuable woods found in our forests have been collected by the more advanced grades and polished to bring out the beauty of the grain. All the grades have given special attention to orthography a branch which seems to be much neglected in our modern methods of instruction. The former line of study was suggested by Mr. Mansfield, of the Commission, the latter by Mr. Sample.

Shortly after the opening of the term in September, 1902, several cases of scarlatina developed, the germs of which were evidently brought by the children on return from their homes, though the exact source of the disease could not be determined. Despite prompt isolation and most strenuous efforts at quarantine, the disease spread among the children to the proportion of an epidemic, more than 75 cases being treated in the hospital.

To relieve the crowded condition of the hospital wards, a vacant house was secured in the neighborhood of the school and here was established a "convalescent retreat" to which those affected were removed as soon as their condition would permit.

Though all the cases were free from the serious sequelae which frequently result from this particular disease, we regret to record the death of two pupils, that of Fannie Sheckler, which occurred October 13, 1902, from a malignant form of the disease, the other that of Rosetta Chilson, due to pericarditis after the scarlet fever in a very mild form had entirely disappeared. The body of Fannie Sheckler was interred in the burying lot at the school, that of Rosetta Chilson was taken to her home in Towanda for interment. Too much praise can not be given to Miss Winona V. Marquis, our nurse, for the fidelity with which she stuck to her post under most trying circumstances and the skill and care with which she nursed the sick, day and night, through weary weeks and months. Miss Marquis leaves the employ of the Commission on the first of September, and it gives us pleasure here to testify to her faithful and efficient service during the seven years which she has served the Commission in this capacity. Miss Marquis is a graduate of our school and was graduated by the Allegheny General Hospital in 1896 at the head of her class. We wish her success in her chosen vocation.

A serious accident occurred in September to David H. Clearwater, who fell from a chestnut tree and sustained a compound fracture of the left leg above the knee. After several months of severe suffering it was found necessary to amputate the limb, after which the boy made rapid and complete recovery.

Dr. C. H. La Clair, of Uniontown, was our attending physician during these serious troubles, and rendered faithful services with very gratifying results.

During the prevalence of the epidemic referred to the burden besides that borne by the nurse, fell upon the matron in chief, Miss Welty, who could not have labored more assiduously and faithfully.

We do not have space to particularize but we feel it only just to say in general that the people occupying the various positions in the school have discharged their duties with cheerfulness and fidelity, co-operating for most part with that harmony which insures success in such a work as this, and showing loyalty to the management of the school.

Miss Minnie Baker, who for 13 years has served the Commission, for most of the time as matron of Sample Cottage, which is the family of small girls, resigned her position at the close of the school year. In the departure of "Miss Minnie" as she was called by her large family of little girls, the children have lost a matron who much more than filled for most of them the place of a mother.

Quiet, gentle and yet firm, exacting obedience with the constraints of love, she won the affection of every child under her care and the respect and esteem of all connected with the institution. Miss Baker purposes taking a course at one of the hospitals to prepare for the work of a trained nurse.

Mr. W. J. Wambaugh, for a number of years our military instructor, has also resigned his position. Mr. Wambaugh is a man of sterling character, of much intelligence and varied accomplishments and has rendered the Commission and the school very valuable service.

It will probably not be considered out of place to record here the death of Rev. A. H. Waters, who organized this school on September 19, 1866, and continued as its head for a period of 24 years—until September, 1890. His death occurred on May 24, 1903, a month after he had returned from his winter residence in Melrose, Florida. This school was organized by him in the old Madison College buildings in Uniontown, and on April 8, 1874 was removed to its present location, which was then a mountain farm with one stone dwelling.

What has been achieved here is largely the result of his enterprise, along with the unwearied labor of his devoted wife, whose death preceded his own by nearly four years.

No extensive improvements have been made during the year. The main buildings have been painted, a neat ornamental wire fence has placed the old picket fence in front of the buildings, and the buildings have been kept in a good state of repair.

Our annual examination took place on the 15th and 16th of June, and we had the pleasure of greeting a majority of the members of the Commission at that time. Eight of the eleven members of the Commission witnessed the closing exercises of the school.

It is not necessary for this report to detail the various exercises in the school hall and on the lawns and parade grounds, sufficient if the results of the year as shown in the annual "Commencement" were gratifying to you and received your cordial commendation.

We thank all in every department whose faithful work contributed to the success of the school, and the inspectors whose monthly visits have been helpful in suggestion, and the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools who have shown us every consideration and kindness in our endeavor to do the work committed to us. Recognizing the leadings of Divine Providence in the past years, we implore His care and guidance for the future.

Very respectfully,

J. A. WATERS,
Superintendent.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the eighth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School for the school year ending this date. The very full reports of the heads of the various departments of the institution, which are herewith submitted, leave very little for the Superintendent to say with reference to these departments if repetition would be avoided.

We commenced the work of the year under the most favorable circumstances. The same capable and experienced instructors, who had been with us during the preceding year, having been wisely retained by the Commission, we were able to fully resume work in the departments and class-rooms the next day after the children returned from their vacation, and this work continued without interruption during the entire school year. With all the employes working together in a spirit of harmony and with a determination on the part of a great majority of the children to achieve the very best results, it is not to be wondered at that the school should have made a splendid record for itself during the year.

The health record of the school is a notable one, it being over six years since a death has occurred among the pupils. We doubt whether any other school or public institution in the State can present such a record. This condition of affairs is doubtless due to the fine healthy location of the school, to the regular habits and daily exercises of the pupils, to our most excellent water supply and to a strict observance of all sanitary rules.

The care of the farm and the grounds surrounding the school buildings not having been made the subject of a separate report by Mr. Youst, the head farmer, it seems proper that some mention should be made here of the work done in this direction during the year. With about one-third of the one hundred (100) acres constituting the school grounds laid out in roads, lawns and sewer field it has required the work of at least one hand to keep this portion of the grounds in proper order, especially during the spring, summer and fall months. It has been deemed necessary, therefore, to give the farmer additional assistance during the summer months to aid in the performance of such work as could not well be performed by the boys daily detailed to assist in the farm work. During the last farm year there was produced enough hay and corn to feed four horses, about nine hundred (900) bushels of potatoes, eight thousand heads of cabbage, one hundred (100) bushels of tomatoes, and large quantities of onions, beets, beans, peas, sweet corn, etc. I should estimate the value of our farm products during the year at $1,200. Almost everything raised on the farm during the year was consumed, thus reducing the cost of the school maintenance. The work of raising such vegetables as can be readily consumed on the childrens' tables is something that pays well in the end and it would be economy to extend this work still further by the employment of an additional skilled gardener during the spring and summer months. I would also recommend the planting of several hundred fruit trees this fall and the erection of a suitable green-house for the propagation of early vegetables, plants and flowers.

During the year the pupils of the school were called upon to take a prominent part in many public functions away from the school grounds. On all such occasions their conduct, appearance and training was the subject of much favorable comment. From a number of highly commendatory press notices given on such occasions, the following from the Green Castle Press, descriptive of the part taken by the pupils in the Memorial Day exercises at that place, is selected as showing how our boys and girls are regarded on such occasions in the eyes of strangers. Only such portions of the article are here quoted as bear directly upon the part taken by the pupils in the day's ceremonies:

Memorial Day Exercises.

"Never in our town's history, which let it be remembered, embraces a period of more than one hundred and twenty years, have the streets of Green Castle been thronged with as large and enthusiastic a crowd as gathered here last Saturday. Never have strangers within her hospitable gates received a more hearty welcome than was extended to those whose presence among us aided so materially in making the occasion one to be long remembered.

"Imbued with a spirit of patriotism and aroused by the natural instinct of curiosity, the town and township turned out en masse. Neither the farm duties, which at this time are urgent, nor the threatening condition of the weather, were sufficient to detain the country folk, who early turned their steps toward town, while the nearby towns sent their quota, until the streets were crowded to overflowing.

"Although it is the custom here to observe Memorial Day in a fitting manner, with ceremonies that never lack interest, the members of the Corporal Rihl Post have long cherished the desire of deviating from the accustomed form, or of adding new and attractive features thereto. When it was announced a few weeks ago that the post had been assured of the presence of the Scotland Industrial School to assist in the observance of the memorial exercises, the intelligence was received with indifference by some of the citizens, who had little idea of the size and character of the school, and with incredulity by others, to whom the reputation of the splendidly disciplined cadets was well known.

"The program as printed in the last edition of the Press, was carried out to the letter, and we have yet to hear the first expression of dissatisfaction or adverse criticism of any portion of the day's entertainment.

"The Industrial School, consisting of one hundred and forty girls and one hundred and sixty-five boys, arrived on a special train at 9.30 in the morning and were met at the station by Chief Marshal Dr. F. A. Bushey and four of his aids on horse back, and the Grand Army Post with its color guard, the Spanish-American soldiers and the bugle corps. From the station they were escorted to East Baltimore street where the balance of the parade had been drawn up in line. Little time was lost in forming the procession and at 10 o'clock the march to the cemetery began.

"In addition to its being one of the longest processions ever drawn up in Green Castle, it was beyond doubt the most interesting from every point of view. The girl cadets, who wore pink dresses of a uniform style, marched to the west end of town where they dropped out of line and returned to the town hall. The battalion of boys, however, in columns of fours, under the command of Col. Bambrick, and headed by their excellent band, accompanied the procession over the entire course and presented as fine an appearance as any body of U. S. regulars.

"The services at the cemetery were conducted by the Grand Army Posts and deviated very little from the regular solemn, impressive ceremony. One new feature of the service, prescribed by the Thirteenth National Encampment, the reading of ex-President Lincoln's famous address at Gettysburg, November 19, 1863, was introduced and the address was read by the acting commander of the Post.

"After the parade disbanded, the cadets were taken to the town hall, where a lunch was served to them.

"From 1 to 2 P. M. the Industrial School Band gave a delightful concert in Centre Square, on a platform erected for the occasion. The excellent manner in which they rendered very difficult selections, is evidence that the musical department of the institution is by no means neglected, and the enthusiasm with which their efforts were greeted, should have proven that their large audience was by no means lacking in appreciation. During part of the concert, the boys' battalion gave an exhibition drill in calisthenics, a form of exercise in which they are daily drilled and which they execute with the precision of as many well regulated machines.

"At 2 P. M. the main part of the program began in the public school yard. There platforms had been erected for the band and speakers, and the following interesting program was carried out:

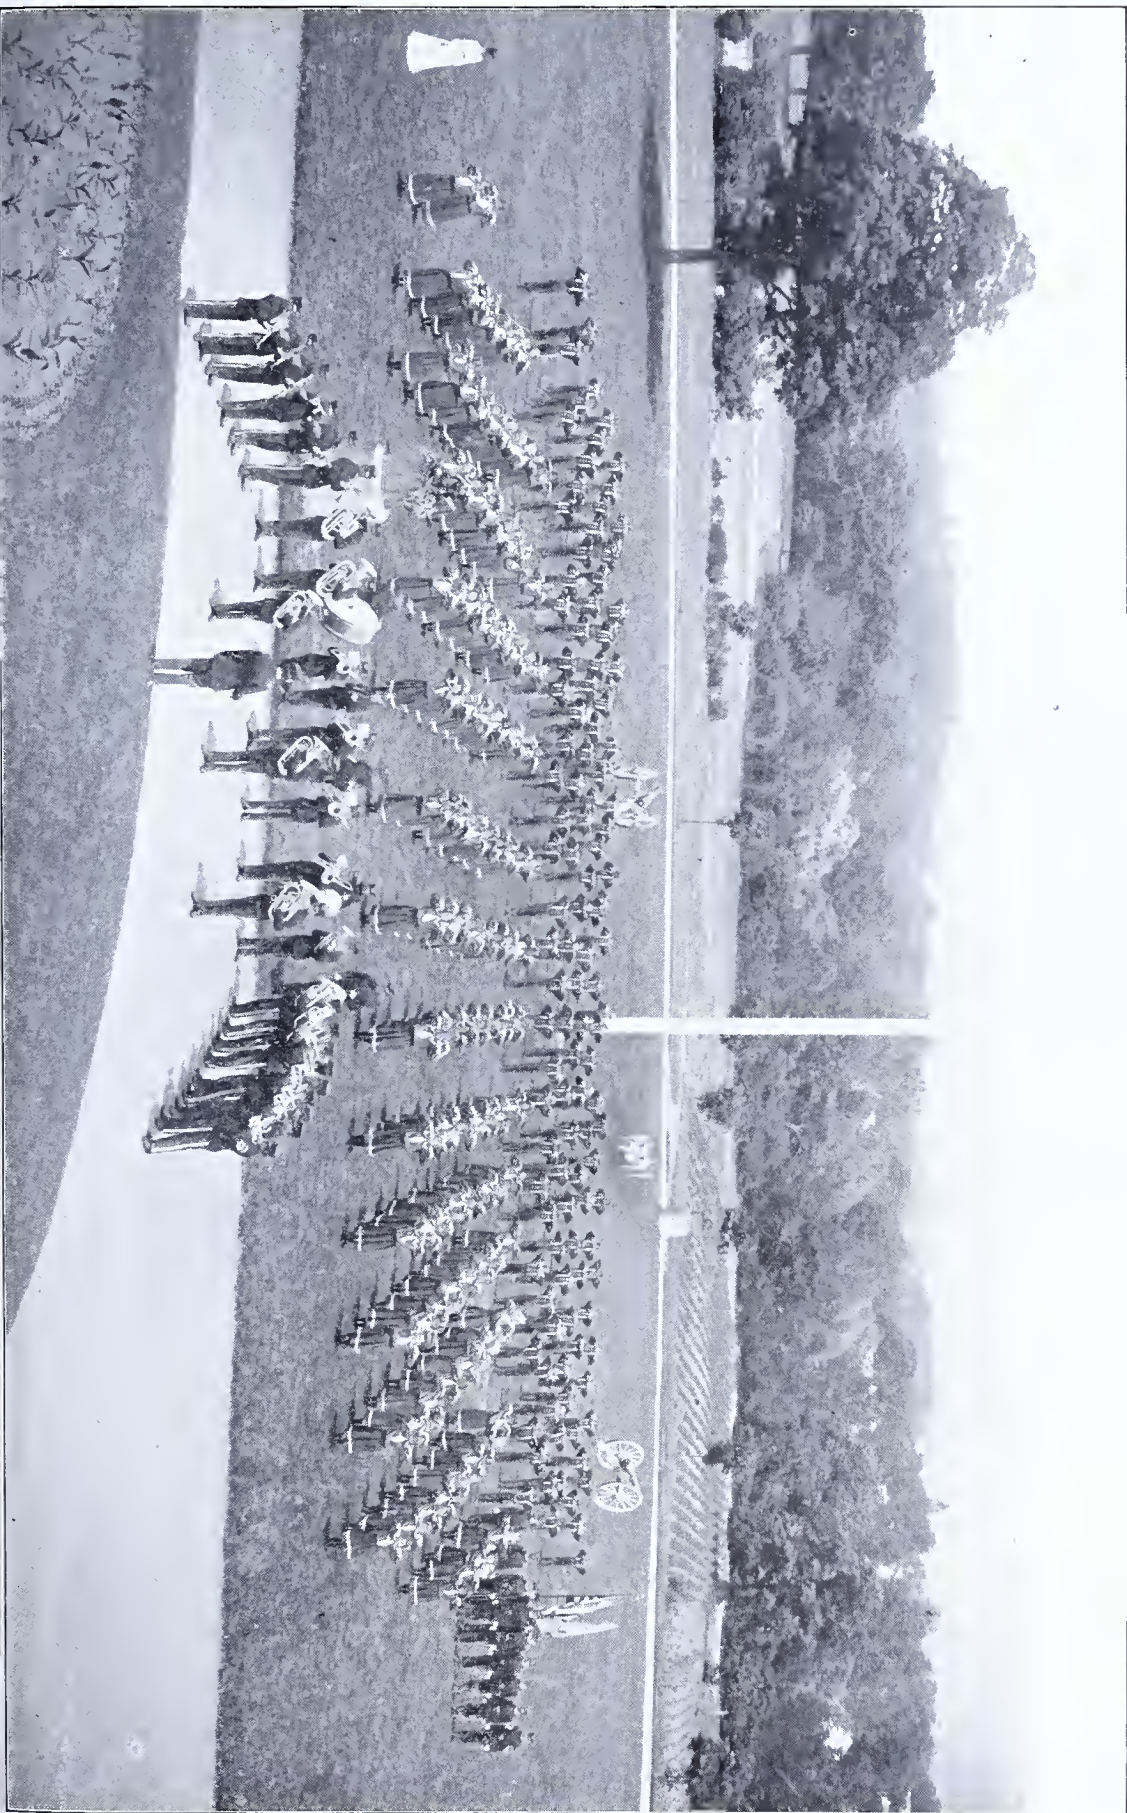

- Opening prayer,Rev. L. C. Bell.
- Chorus, Lay Him Low, School (accompanied by the S. O. I. S. Band).
- Recitation, The Phantom Army,Helen Coggins.
- Recitation, The Mother of a Soldier,John Young.
- Music, Medley,By the Band.
- Address,Capt. Geo. W. Skinner.
- Recitation, The Blue and Gray,Annie Baldwin.
- Recitation, The Little Drummer Boy,Keturah Moore.
- Oration, Memorial Day,Philip Johnson.
- Song, Taps,S. O. I. S. Girls' Glee Club.
- Benediction,Rev. T. O. Keister.

"The recitations and selections by the orphans' school scholars were most entertaining and every courtesy was extended to the youthful speakers by the crowd of people who were fortunate enough to be present. The chief feature of the program, however, was the address of Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial School. Capt. Skinner was introduced by the Rev. I. N. Peightel, who acted as master of ceremonies. After a few stirring patriotic remarks Mr. Peightel in his usual pleasing manner introduced Captain Skinner as a veteran who could speak feelingly upon such an occasion and could from personal experience tell of the appropriateness of the memorial services and of the heroic deeds performed by those to whose memory the day is made sacred.

* * * * *

"Immediately after the completion of the program, the crowd adjourned to Centre Square to witness the dress parade and gun drill by the boys' battalion. The square was roped off and the spectators kept off the streets. To the majority, this was the most entertaining part of the day's program. The drill has won for the school a reputation which it justly deserves. Officered by their fellow students and supplied with martial music by their band, they execute all the regular army manoeuvres with wonderful skill. The drill lasted for about three quarters of an hour and at its conclusion the cadets marched to the station in time for the 4.08 train."

Our Commencement exercises on June 22 and 23 attracted the usual large crowd, including representatives from the Chambersburg, Green Castle, Waynesboro and Fayetteville G. A. R. Posts and every thing passed off in a most satisfactory and creditable manner. All the members of the Commission, except Governor Pennypacker and Hon. Thos. V. Cooper, were present. Several of them were accompanied by their wives and other members of their families and spent from two to three days at the school. The members of the Commission present attended closely every exercise from the beginning to the end of a rather long program and did not fail at the close of the exercises to express their approval of all that they had seen and heard. Senator Williams presented the diplomas to the graduating class in an eloquent and impressive address. On the evening of the 22d, after the regular program had been gone through with, an informal campfire was organized with Col. Sample as presiding officer at which every member of the Commission was obliged to make a speech. As a consequence the pupils, who had done so much to entertain our guests, were themselves admirably entertained in turn.

To the members of the Commission, their clerks, and to the Inspectors, I am indebted for much help and many courtesies during the year, and to all the employes, without distinction, I desire to return my sincere thanks for the faithful manner in which they have discharged their duties and for the many manifestations of good will and kind regard they have shown me during the year's course. Their conduct in all our relations has made the year one long to be remembered with pleasure. A word of thanks to the children seems also to be due for they have so demeaned themselves that we have all been proud of our connection with them and our very best wishes go out to them, especially to all those who have left us to return no more as pupils.

Very respectfully,
GEO. W. SKINNER,
Superintendent.

EDUCATIONAL AND MILITARY DEPARTMENTS.

Scotland, Pa., July 6, 1903.

Capt. G. W. Skinner, Supt. Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School,
Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I beg leave to submit the eighth annual report of the educational and military departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School. The general condition of the institution during the past year has been conducive to good school work along all lines. Less sickness has prevailed than during any previous year of the school's history and the regular and uninterrupted attendance to all class duties gave exceptional opportunities for advancement. The feature of this year's work has been the regular, prompt and persistent effort on the part of both teachers and pupils to improve every hour of time allotted them. All pupils have had the advantage of an hour's study period each evening of the term, under the personal direction of the teachers in their respective grades. Written reviews were held in each grade at least once a month and examinations for promotion were held quarterly. Thus the school has been so closely graded that a slower pupil could not retard the progress of a more apt or more industrious fellow. Pupils from the high school department under the direction of the principal have been required to conduct recitations in the lower grades and put into practice the instruction previously given them. The bi-weekly literary exercises have been continued throughout the year with ever increasing interest. Extemporaneous speaking upon assigned subjects and the high school debates aroused so much enthusiasm that special Saturday evening meetings were held to give all speakers a chance to be heard. The pupils have given frequent entertainments during the year, observing in a pleasing and instructive way all National holidays. The Girls' Glee Club deserves much credit for the assistance they have given on all these occasions. Chapel services have been held each evening during the year and Sabbath school each Sunday morning, in which the pupils have been required to take such active parts as they were capable. We are indebted to Reverend W. C. Heffner, Reverend Oates, Dr. W. P. Eveland, Reverend A. C. Forscht and Reverend E. L. Hughes, for conducting preaching services at intervals during the past term. The physical culture and military exercises were begun when school opened and continued throughout the year with the same regularity as the class-room work. To this systematic exercise we can ascribe in a large measure the excellent health of the boys and girls. The exhibition drills of June 22 were only continuations of the daily exercises practiced in moderation during the entire term. Officers and non-commissioned officers of the battalion were required to take some part in the instruction of the various classes in physical culture to which they seemed best adapted, as well as to perform their respective duties in the regular military work. Our school band furnished excellent music for all these exercises.

Outdoor sports have been encouraged and although as a rule our boys are much younger than their competitors, they made a creditable showing in foot ball, base ball and track sports.

The prompt and willing obedience of my subordinates and fellow workers together with the kindly consideration of the Superintendent, Inspectors and members of the Commission has made the past year's duties a satisfaction and a pleasure.

Very truly,

W. C. BAMBRICK,
Principal and Military Instructor.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to submit herewith the eighth annual report of the Industrial Departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School:

The year just closed has been, to a certain extent, an uneventful one, no changes in employes or instructors, no accidents of any kind to any pupils or others, worthy of mention, in any of the departments. This seems remarkable when we take into consideration the amount of machinery and edge tools used in the wood and machine departments.

The fuel question during the great anthracite coal strike of 1902 gave us more trouble than anything else during the past year, and added considerable to the fuel account, the price of coal running at times as high as seven dollars per ton, and for a time we could not get coal at any price, and as a last resort we were compelled to use wood at three dollars per cord, which made it very expensive firing and very hard work for the engineers.

In order to be prepared for any like contingency in the future, after a consultation with several members of the Commission, we have stored about two hundred and fifty tons of anthracite coal, which will be held in reserve and as far as possible be prepared for future strikes or other troubles that might cause a restriction in the coal or fuel supply.

In October of last year one of our boilers was fitted with a set of rocking grates furnished by the U. S. Rocking Grate Bar Co., of Chicago, Ill. In my experience I have seen so many rocking or shaking grates of different kinds applied to boilers that looked all right on paper, but when it came to practical use they would only work for a short time before they would become warped and twisted so badly from the heat that it would be impossible to use them as shaking grates, and the only thing left to do was to go back to the old method of cleaning fires, which is a very expensive operation even when the work is done by the most intelligent firemen. This set of rocking grates I am pleased to say has given the best of satisfaction. With the exception of about one week they have been in constant use since about October 10, 1902, and have not given a particle of trouble and not one cent of expense, and at this time are as perfect and straight and giving as good satisfaction as the day they were put in service.

After a test of this kind I feel that I would be remiss in my duty if I did not recommend that the other three boilers be supplied with these grates, as I am confident they would pay for themselves in a short time in the amount of coal saved over the common grate in use at present.

The attention to duty, progress made in the work of the pupils, and deportment in general during the time they were employed in the industrial departments, have been fully up to standard of former years.

Detailed reports showing the work done during the year in each department will be furnished by the several instructors.

Before closing this brief report I wish to call your attention to the condition of the several buildings comprising this school. In my judgment the outside wood work of all the buildings should be painted, the Administration building in particular. In many places the wood work is beginning to decay, and in a very few years much of it will require renewing, if not painted in the near future.

The inside wood work also requires some attention. While it may not be necessary to paint the entire inside, yet there are many places where it is fully as bad, if not worse, than the outside, particularly the large dining room and kitchen.

The steel tower and water tank and flag pole should also be painted. In many places the outside brick work of the Administration building should be gone over by a good bricklayer and the cracks pointed up neatly. This should include the joints at the front steps, and the resetting of some of the brown stone in the arches over the windows.

The walls on the inside of the Administration building require considerable attention, in many places there being large cracks caused by the shrinkage of the lumber in the partitions, etc. I would recommend that the side walls be coated over the present rough cast or sand finish with a smooth coat of white plaster.

Very respectfully,

WM. H. STEWART,
Superintendent of Industries.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I submit the following as my eighth annual report as Instructor of Printing at this institution:

During the year I have had twenty-three boys and four girls as pupils, all of whom manifested an interest in the work and most of them have become rapid compositors while a few have shown marked ability as display and job printers. Their work is not confined to any one branch of the trade but they are instructed in all the specialties from washing rollers and scrubbing the floor to working three color process, and half tone cuts, reading proof, making up forms, working the Potter and Chandler and Price presses, working the Mercantile mailing machine, and in fact doing all work required to produce a good job or a neat, clean newspaper. From numerous letters received from ex-pupils of this department I feel confident the course followed in instructing the pupils is the correct one, bringing the desired result as well as the thanks of the pupils assigned to this department. I could include scores of these letters in this report but one or two will suffice to show that the ex-pupils appreciate the instruction they received and are putting it to a good practical use. Earnest Grellman, who has been holding a good position in a Cleveland, Ohio, office since 1897, writes:

"Now a word of encouragement to your boys of the 'craft.' I would say from my own observation and also from the opinions of older heads than mine, that no better trade than printing can be selected from the numerous ones at the Industrial School. I feel safe in saying that all the boys who left your department in '97 (and I have kept in touch with most of them) and have, with a steady and dogged determination stuck to the trade, are now receiving the scale of wages paid, which ranges from fifteen to twenty dollars a week. This is as good as most trades pay. These same boys by the same dogged determination and honesty of purpose they have displayed in the smaller details of the trade, will some day attain unto better things. The business is full of opportunities and those boys are going to grasp them. We all know that some of our greatest men rose from the composing room. Why not some of your pupils?"

Floyd Miller, who is now working in an office in Scranton, writes:

"I met James Blackledge yesterday, who says he has just left your printing office. He tells me he stood right with you and now thinks he can run a printing office. Well, I thought the same thing but I got fooled. Instead of being editor when you start in this business you must be the "devil" for a while at least.

"I am getting along well at my trade and you are the man I owe most of it to, and I thank you most heartily for what you did for me."

The School News has been published on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month during the year, and although no effort has been made to increase its circulation it has added many new names to its list of subscribers. The majority of its readers are Grand Army men and its list contained the most prominent gentlemen in the Department of Pennsylvania. I have numerous highly prized congratulatory letters from these gentlemen, some of whom stand high in literary work, which leads me to believe the make-up of the News, both editorially and typographically, is appreciated by those eminently qualified to express an intelligent opinion on a subject of this kind and whose praise is indeed a high compliment.

Thirteen hundred copies of the News are printed each issue, of which 850 are mailed to subscribers, 150 to exchanges and dead heads and 300 are distributed to the pupils of the school. The receipts from subscriptions during the year was $176.75 which shows a very healthy condition of a subscription list of 850 names at twenty-five cents a year.

The cost of new material and stock purchased and postage paid in rendering bills for subscription amounted to $215.07. I have in stock at this date 50 sheets of 22x28 card board, 250 four ply Bristol cards, 1½ reams 24x36 Manilla paper, 2,000 letter heads, one-half ream 17x22 and 1½ reams 14x17 Lawrence mill paper, 2,000 No. 6 and 1,500 No. 10 white wove envelopes, 250 shipping tags, 50 sheets of pulp boards and 18 reams of 20x26 30 lb. newspaper. The value of this stock amounts to $57.29 which deducted from the $215.07, the amount paid for stock during the year, leaves a net cost of $157.78 for supplies for the office during the year or $18.97 less than the receipts from subscription to the News. This is the first time the balance has been on the right side of the ledger, and in this connection it must be remembered we distributed to the pupils 300 copies of each issue of the News and supplied all the letter heads, envelopes and numerous blanks to this school, and the invitations and programs for the Commencement exercises at Chester Springs and Uniontown schools, and at the opening of the session of the Legislature the names of all the Senators and Representatives were placed on our mailing list and copies of the News sent to them regularly during the session.

The machinery, consisting of a pony Potter, super royal and eighth medium Chandler & Price presses, mercantile mailing machine, reliance paper cutter and Chandler & Price proof press, are all in first-class condition. The large assortment of display and news type has been worked with care and is in good condition, so no expenditure for new material will be necessary for several years.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN H. POMEROY,
Editor and Printer.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Chambersburg, Pa., July 1, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I herewith present to you a report of the Medical Department at the Industrial School for the year that has just closed:

The children who were away from the school for their summer vacation returned at the beginning of the school year in good health.

Soon after the return of the children a few cases of a contagious skin disease were noticed among the children; they were at once isolated, and in a short time were permitted to return to school. No other cases of the disease occurred during the year.

The children transferred from the other schools to Scotland during the year were generally not as healthy looking as those transferred during the previous years; but while at Scotland their health was very much better than during any other year since I have been connected with the school, and when commencement was over and the children ready to go to their respective homes, I venture the assertion that a healthier looking lot of children never went away from the Industrial School. It was the subject of general conversation, how well the children looked.

I doubt if the health record of the Industrial School can be excelled in any similar institution either in Pennsylvania or elsewhere. There has not been a death among the children during my term of service as physician to the school which has been now nearly four years; this is largely due to the sanitary conditions of the buildings and grounds; the pure water and substantial food supplied; the balmy air which they breath; and the regular habits including outdoor calisthenics and other drills which they are required to take.

One boy suffering with appendicitis was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital where he was operated upon successfully. He made a good recovery, and was afterwards discharged, when he went to his home well.

About the usual number of fractures occurred during the year; all made good recoveries. There are some splints and other dressings needed in the hospital, of which I will make a list later and present to you.

A more detailed report of the cases treated could be made but it would not be of any special interest to any person and I do not think it necessary. My work at all times has been pleasant and gratifying because I can again report no deaths during the year.

I thank you and all whose duties naturally were closely associated with mine for hearty co-operation, and the Commission of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools for many courtesies extended.

I beg to remain, very truly yours,

W. F. SKINNER, M. D.

MACHINE DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I herewith submit the seventh annual report of the Machine Department of this school:

During the school year just closed the number of pupils assigned to this department averaged about fifty, equally divided, one-half in each detail.

As a rule the pupils were obedient, and performed their duties in a most satisfactory manner.

In arranging the exercises or work of the pupils it has been my aim to teach them the correct method of using hand tools or vice work first, before allowing any of them to run a machine. This system to a certain extent reduces the amount of the finished product in the year, but I consider it of more importance to the pupil to be competent to handle all the machinery in the shop first, and make the amount of the finished product a secondary consideration.

During the past year, in addition to the necessary repairs required to the machinery and tools of the several departments, we gave the Westinghouse engine a general overhauling, placed two new bearings on the main shaft, and two new bushings in the connecting rods.

The following new work was completed:

One Yankee twist drill grinder (the casting for this machine were purchased from the Wilmarth & Morgan Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.), one mandrill press (the patterns for this machine was made in the wood shop and castings produced from Chambersburg). These two machines have been added to the equipment of this department. Twelve forty-five calibre breach loading cannon, mounted on steel frames, six small screw jacks, one 10"x12" angle plate for use in the department, one gag pot for the governor of the standard engine, and many small articles, such as paper weights, hammers, screw clamps, etc.

Very respectfully,

A. B. BEARD,
Instructor.

WOOD DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to present this, the eighth annual report of the Wood Department of this school:

At the opening of the school term, September 1, 1902, we had 43 pupils assigned to this department. While some were discharged during the year, having arrived at the age limit, their places were filled by transfers, which kept the number about the same during the year.

The work of this department includes the repairs to the buildings and making of patterns such as required for castings. The following will show to some extent the character of the work and give an idea of what has been accomplished in the past year:

One 24 foot extension ladder, 15 long poles, 100 Indian clubs and 30 pair dumb bells for Chester Springs school.

For this school two Newel posts for the boys' porch, two 24 foot extension ladders, four 12 foot single ladders, six step ladders from 3 to 6 feet high, one 3 compartment hand wash tub for the laundry. One dough tray, 10 feet long, and 12 oven peals for the bakery. One large closet for the sewing room, 20 feet long and 10 feet high, 40 small stools, 16 inches high, to take the place of chairs through the buildings, 65 base ball bats, glazed 56 lights of glass from 10"x10" to 40"x60", putting new sash cord in 30 windows, and many other small jobs in addition to the articles on exhibition in the department at the annual commencement.

The machinery in the department is all in first-class condition. The small hand tools are in as good condition as can be expected under the circumstances, after being used for a year by 45 boys, it is to be expected that some would be worn out and broken, and would require to be replaced by new ones.

The conduct and attention to duty by the pupils in the past year has been all that could be wished for.

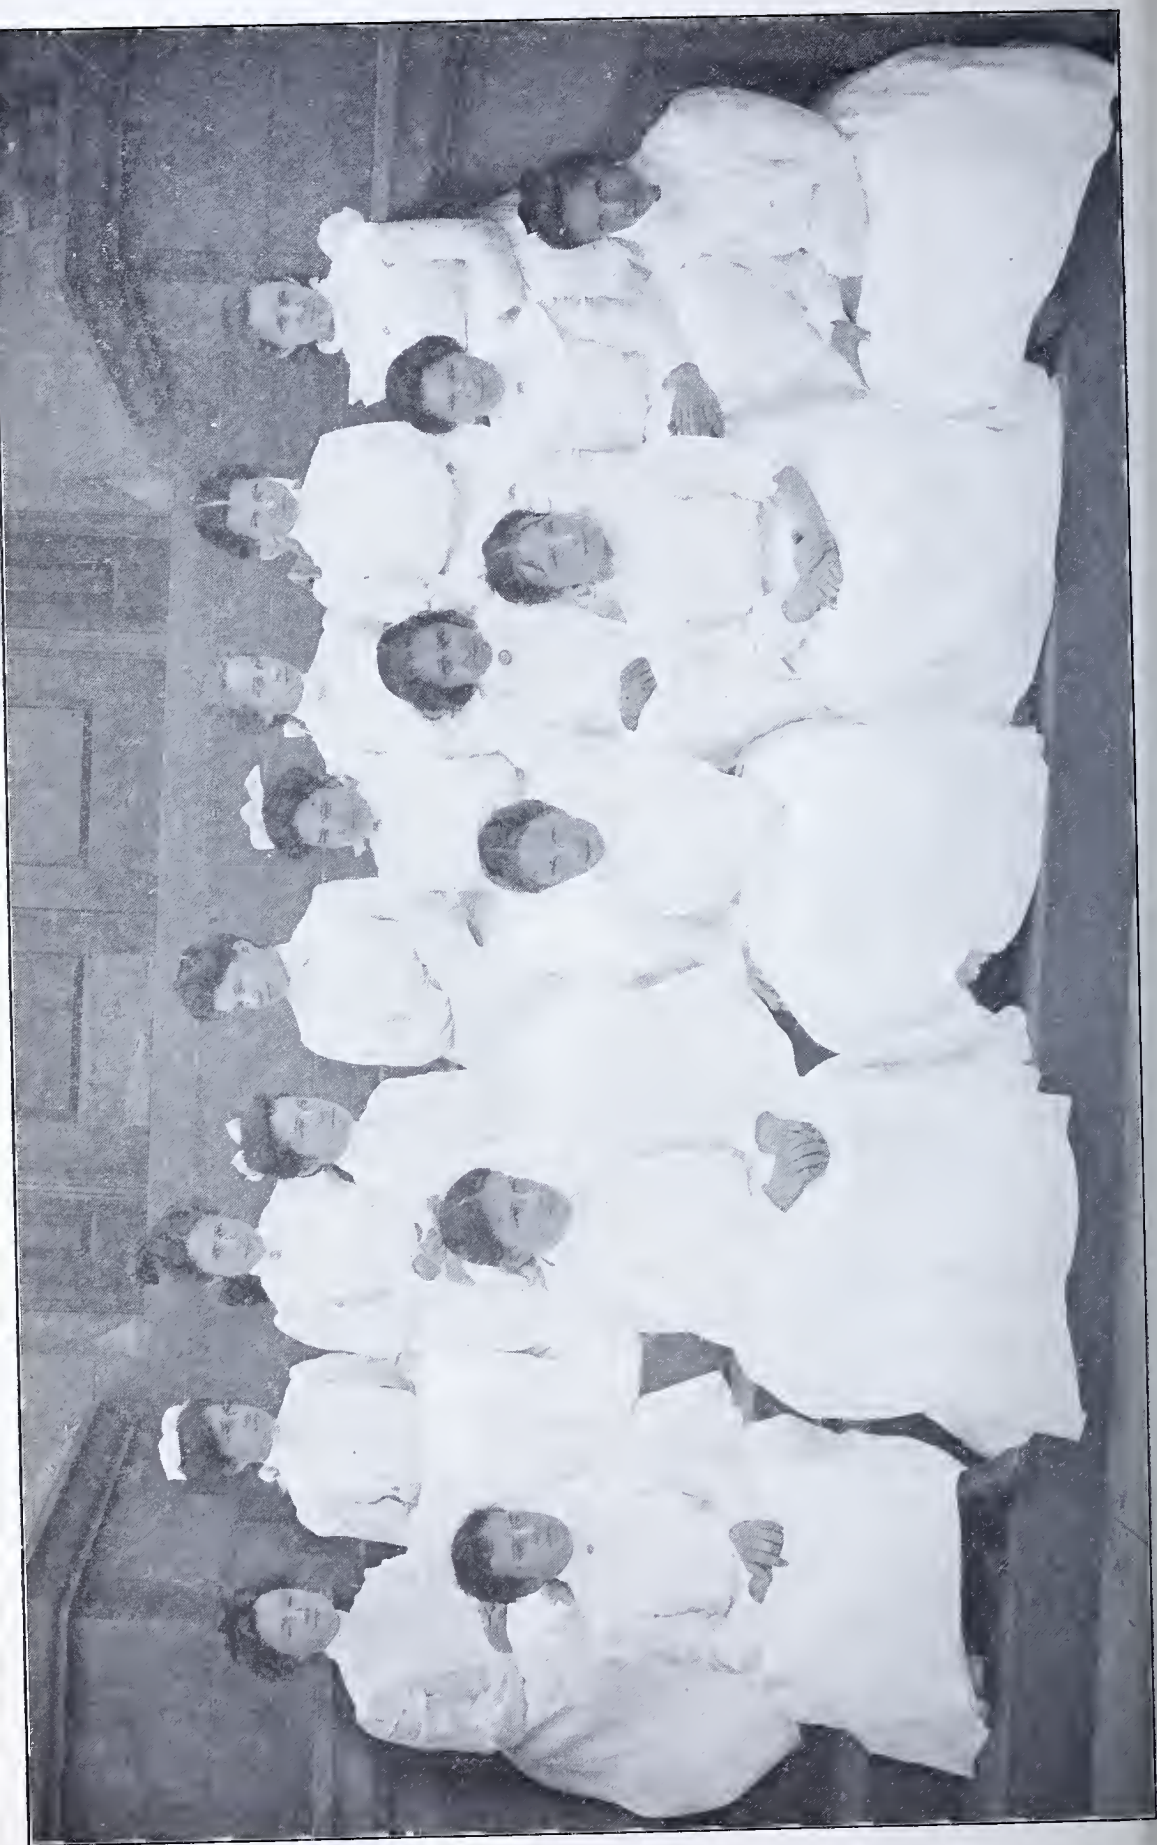

Thanking you for your uniform kindness during the year, I am,

Respectfully,

THOMAS G. BERING,

Instructor.

LAUNDRY DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I herewith submit to you a report of the laundry for the year just closed: We have averaged about six thousand pieces a week, including some faculty clothing. Our detail consisted of six boys and from four to six girls. There are two employes, myself and assistant laundress. There have been no accidents in this department during the year. We received through Mr. Stewart, from the Wood Department, a truck to carry the clothes from the wringer to the dryer, which was very much needed. All machinery is in good condition.

Thanking you and all who helped to make my work pleasant, I am,

Respectfully,

C. E. MENTZER,
Foreman of Laundry.

BAND.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: I have the honor to herewith present to you a report of the band for the year that has just closed:

I organized the band September 3 with thirty members. Of this number eighteen were new. From September 3 until October 6 we had three rehearsals daily, except Saturday. On October 6 we started for Washington, D. C., to take part in the National G. A. R. Encampment. While there we gave three concerts at Camp Roosevelt, and at the Pennsylvania Headquarters. We had the honor to head the Pennsylvania Department, which was the largest in the line of parade which took six hours to pass a given point. Although the band had practiced but a month, they played well and their music was well received. We returned home on the 8th with all the boys well. This was the best trip of the year and possibly the best ever taken by a band from this school. We were royally entertained while in Washington by the Commission of the school.

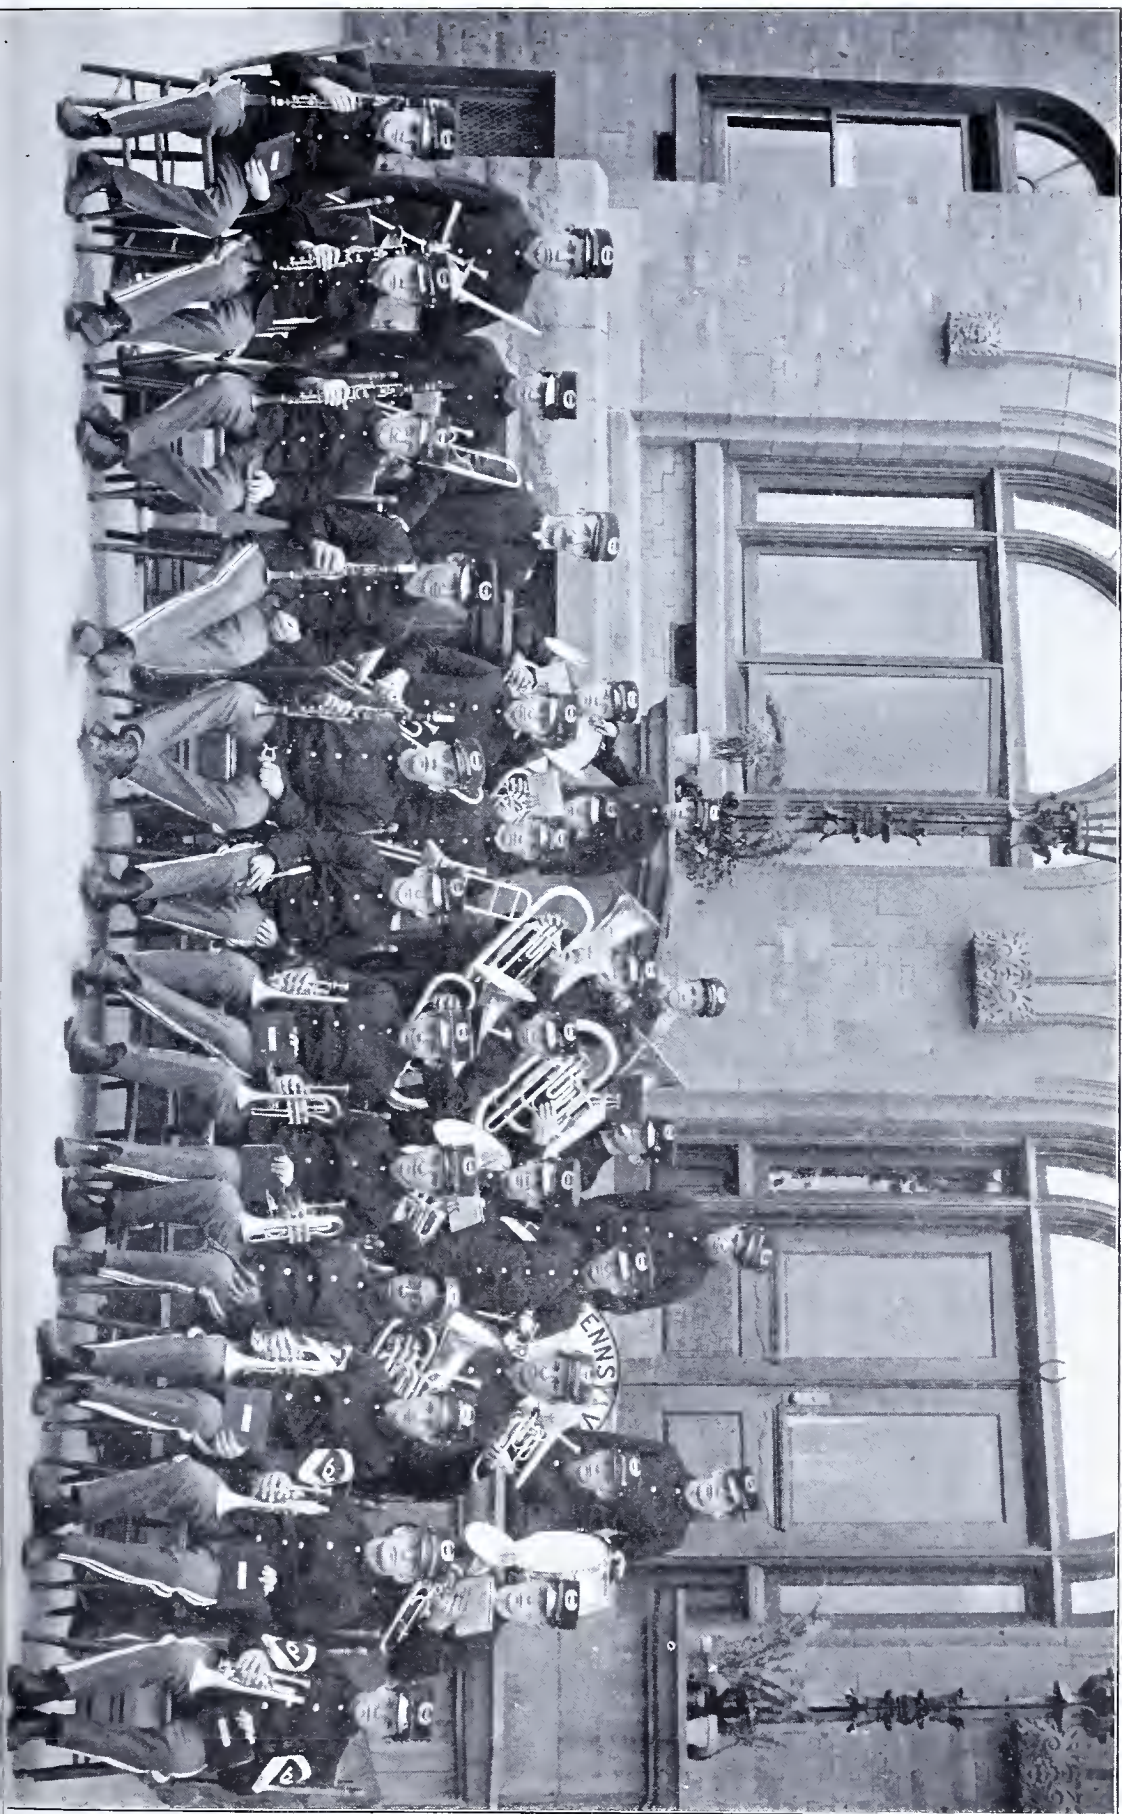

We furnished music in Greencastle on May 30 for a parade, and also gave a concert. We furnished music for a cavalry re-union at Mount Holly June 11. We took part in Governor Pennypacker's inaugural parade at Harrisburg, January 20. We accompanied Commander Scott and Past Department Commander Sample on their trip to Chambersburg on June 24 to a campfire in Housum Post room. We furnished the music for the Pennsylvania Reserves' re-union at Harrisburg. At all these places the boys received liberal applause. We gave a number of concerts at the school during the winter.

The instruments are in good condition. We had two rehearsals daily except Saturday. The band could not accept all the invitations it received. The band played for all out-door drills and exercises during the school year. The deportment of the boys was good.

Thanking you for many courtesies, I beg to remain,

Respectfully,

C. E. MENTZER,
Band Master and Instructor.

STENOGRAPHY, TELEGRAPHY AND TYPEWRITING DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit to you the eighth annual report of the Stenography, Telegraphy and Typewriting Department:

This department opened up at the beginning of the year with a roll of thirty-five pupils, the largest number ever accommodated in this department at one time. All the pupils started in with a determination to study hard and I am glad to say that this spirit held out during the entire year. The department has been excellent.

In the telegraphy branch excellent results were obtained. The course of instruction in this study has been the same during the last year as employed in former years. It has been our aim, not only to impress upon the student the importance of accuracy in sending and receiving; but much time has been given to the explanation of all the work connected with a railroad and commercial telegraph office. I am very glad to be able to report, as evidence of the efficiency of the pupils in this branch when they leave the institution, that there has not been a telegraph operator, who has not been able to secure a position commanding a good salary. Some are with the Postal or the Western Union Telegraph companies; others are working in responsible positions with different railroads, the Cumberland Valley having taken several of our boys during the last year. One of our boys has done so well that he is now employed in one of the large broker offices in Pittsburg and is receiving the excellent salary commensurate with such a position.

In the stenography branch the results obtained have been equally as good as in the telegraphy work. At the beginning of this year there were sixteen new pupils took up this study. With these, as has been our custom, the greater part of the year was devoted almost entirely to the instruction and mastering of the rules and principles of our shorthand system. After this the first exercises in dictation work were taken up, when an effort was made to cultivate neatness and accuracy of work by dictating the same matter several times. Better results were brought about in this direction than if new matter was constantly used.

The work of the advanced classes in shorthand consisted chiefly of careful drilling in dictation and transcription of notes on typewriters, and instruction in general office work. Towards the end of the year many of the pupils showed themselves capable of doing very rapid work in dictation and were able to make neat transcriptions of their notes without any difficulty. The members of the advanced class made a copy of each lesson they had received in typewriting during the year and just before the close of the term these copies were classified and tastily put up in book form. These specimen books showed the results of a year's hard and careful study in typewriting and received favorable comment on all sides during Commencement week when they were placed on exhibition.

The stenographers have fared fully as well as the telegraphers in securing positions when they leave the school. I have received a number of letters from former pupils in which they tell me they are holding good positions in offices as stenographers.

Thanking you and the members of the Commission for favors shown me,

Respectfully submitted,

J. SAMUEL WELTMER,
Instructor.

TAILORING DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit the fourth annual report of the Tailoring Department:

At the beginning of the term, September 1, 1902, we resumed work with a large number of inexperienced children. Under the direction of my assistants, Miss Shoemaker and Miss Keagle, the class was very soon in good working order and we were engaged in the work of making the new winter uniforms for the boys, which work was completed in due time. Before starting to make the spring line of uniforms, we made several overcoats for the boys engaged in carrying mail and doing out-door work.

The work of making citizen's suits for the boys who would first reach the age limit next occupied our attention and after that was finished we began work on the spring line of uniforms which was completed in time for the public appearance of the boys on Decoration Day. We then began work on citizen's suits for boys who were to leave school at the end of the school year or who would not return after the vacation period. All suits, after being finished, were sent to the Administration building for inspection, and we are glad to be able to say that no fault was found with the character of the work done. In fact, the lines of uniforms made during the year were pronounced the best made since the opening of the school. There have been a number of the children left this department since I have had charge of it on account of having reached the age of 16 years, and I have heard directly and indirectly from all of them, and the reports are that they are getting along very nicely and many of them making nice salaries.

The following is a list of the boys, with their post-office address, who have gone out during the year, for whom citizen's suits were made before leaving the school. So far no dissatisfaction has been expressed by any of them with their outfit.

son. Carlisle, Pa., John J. Cromer, Fort Littleton, Pa., LeRoy Cessna, Tipton, Pa., Ellsworth Sickenberger, Mitchell's Mills, Pa., Walter Zerringer, Williamsport, Pa., Theodore Becker, Reading, Pa., George B. Childs, Merrittstown, Pa., Andrew C. Feige, Little Britain, Pa., James Blackledge, Scranton, Pa., Raymond K. Denworth, Williamsport, Pa., Elmer Long, Garland, Pa., Sumner M. Brooks, Jefferson, Pa., Thomas Nicholson, Merrittstown, Pa., Arthur Carmitchell, Strong, Pa., Herbert Hardy, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Earl Evans, Factoryville, Pa., Harry Minnie, Monongahela, Pa., Wm. M. We have a number of boys and girls just leaving the department to find vocations in life who, in my opinion, are well-fitted to earn their living by working at the tailoring trade. All the children worked faithfully during the year, seeming to realize that it was to their interest to accomplish as much as possible and to do it in the right way. In addition to making the new uniforms and citizen's suits we had considerable other work to do such as changing stripes and chevrons for commissioned and non-commissioned officers, and other work in the line of the department. The deportment of the pupils has been uniformly good during the past year.

A summary of the more important work done during the year is as follows:

Number of new fall uniforms,	160
Number of new spring uniforms,	176
Number of citizen's suits,	61

Total number of suits made during the year, 397

Respectfully submitted,

L. C. MARTIN,

SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1903.

Capt. Geo. W. Skinner, Superintendent Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I submit to you the following report of the work done in this department during the past year:

Shoes half soled (pairs),	1,638
Shoes heeled (pairs),	820
Shoes patched,	619
Seams sewed,	1,034

I had several boys working in this department last year, all of whom applied themselves well and learned rapidly.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED. SMITH.

LAWS REGULATING THE SCHOOLS.

ACT OF 1867.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Whereas, Several considerable appropriations have been expended, for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, it is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now hers;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired, in the performance of this duty, now enables the legislature to regulate, by statute, the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, for three years, from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal, for cause, as other officers, appointed in like manner, are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds, with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties; the Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk, and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the Soldiers' Orphan Schools hereinafter provided for: Provided, That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any pecuniary interest in any of the said orphans' schools.

Section 2. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors, or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes and schools, possessing such good and sufficient accommodation as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care, and maintenance and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln Institution, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall establish at least one such institution for the reception of soldiers' orphans over the age of ten years, within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve Normal school districts, now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable, in any manner, for the cost of erecting, repairing, or furnishing any of the institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 3. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians, or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' shall be valid and binding upon said mothers, guardians, and next friends, and also upon said orphans till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institution in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Section 4. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor, prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming Soldiers' Orphan Schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace, at least, the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits, and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school-room studies; he shall visit each Soldiers' Orphan School at least once in each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Section 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act into the institutions established for their education and maintenance, shall be made by conveyance and transfers to the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act, executed, under oath, by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead, or has abandoned said orphans; but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward, or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases, and the superintendent may require such other certificate, from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Section 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That when he may deem it expedient to do so, the said superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number of acres and extent of accommodation in the case of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Section 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor, and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges; and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said Soldiers' Orphan Schools by the Legislature of the State.

Section 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief, in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in case where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents, or relatives, or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Section 9. That all bids for the maintenance and education of the soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing, and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses, may be drawn by the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually, at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Section 10. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans, at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall, not later than the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements by item, and estimates for ensuing years.

Section 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress, or employer, as shall thus be requested, and for such term as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, and if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years; in which indenture of apprenticeship, there shall be included such covenants for the future education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe; and such apprenticeship shall be in all other respects, not herein provided for, subject to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Section 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment, shall be restored to the mother, guardian, or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by the Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing, and literary and industrial attainments and qualification.

Section 13. That the year, for all operations under this act, shall begin on the first Monday of June in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June of the year next succeeding; and all appropriations, hereafter made, shall be for the year, as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the government.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be and they are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1889.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of the State.

Whereas, On the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, as appears from the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, there will be left under the care of the State and undergoing education in the soldiers' orphans' schools, about fifteen hundred and forty-nine children whose ages will range at the date from five to sixteen years;

And whereas, The greater number of these children have no homes and no persons to maintain and educate them, and the people of the Commonwealth are desirous that they shall be maintained at the public expense; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor and five members of the General Assembly, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively, together with a committee of five honorably discharged soldiers, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, be and the same are hereby constituted a Commission, who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act, from June first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take charge of all children then in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools or other institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Homes and Schools.

Section 2. That the Governor, the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives appointed on such Commission, shall be members thereof until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, when their successors shall be named by the presiding officer as aforesaid of the respective branches of the Legislature, and they shall continue as members of the Commission for the term of two years thereafter, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner and continued their membership for the same term. The committee of honorably discharged soldiers shall be appointed by the Department Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, and shall continue in office during the pleasure of said Department Commander. In case of a vacancy in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission by death or any cause, the appointing power provided for shall have power to fill vacancies for the unexpired term.

Section 3. That no compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, save their actual expenses, and no member of the Commission shall be interested or concerned, financially, in any institution or school having charge or maintenance of said children. A suitable office at Harrisburg for the use of the Commission, shall be provided by the Commonwealth.

Section 4. That the said Commission shall elect from their own number, a president and secretary, and shall have power to appoint one male inspector and one female inspector, at a maximum salary for both, which shall not exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars and traveling expenses not to exceed four hundred dollars each per annum, one chief clerk and one assistant clerk, at a maximum salary for both not exceeding thirty-two hundred dollars, said salaries and number of clerks to be reduced from time to time as may be found expedient.

Section 5. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to rent such buildings as may be necessary for the accommodation of the aforesaid orphans, and to appoint all officers, teachers and employes that may be found necessary for the proper care, maintenance and education at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the soldiers' children now in the several Soldiers' Orphan Schools in the Commonwealth, under the provision of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and its supplements: Provided, That the authority hereby given to rent property shall not empower the Commission to pay an annual rental that shall exceed six per centum of cash value thereof, to be determined by three appraisers, one appointed on the part of the Commission, and one by the owner or owners of the property, and the two selected shall choose the third: Provided further, That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall not contract in any case with any individual, or firm, or partnership, or syndicate, for the care and maintenance of said soldiers' children, except for temporary care during the reorganization provided for in this act, and for a period not exceeding six months from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine: And provided still further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission, at their discretion, from placing such children as boarding pupils in the Pennsylvania State College, the State Normal Schools, or in chartered orphanages or homes for friendless children not conducted for profit, and paying to such college, Normal schools, or charitable institutions, for the maintenance, clothing and education of such soldiers' children a sum not exceeding annually one hundred and forty dollars per capita.

Section 6. That the Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall have power to make and prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions receiving Soldiers' Orphans, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same kind in the State, and decide upon the course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instructions in vocal music, military tactics, where practicable, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments consistent with the respective sexes and ages of the said orphan children and their school room studies, and such rules as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 7. That all the contracts for supplies, made under this act, may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Commission shall be judges.

Section 8. That all bills incurred shall be certified by the president and secretary of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and paid quarterly by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer by the Auditor General.

Section 9. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall, not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of all the Soldiers' Orphans under their charge, their condition and progress, the number of each respective age from five to sixteen years, and such other information as they may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements, by items, and estimates for the ensuing year.

Section 10. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans shall be restored to his or her father, mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes and a certificate, signed by the principal of the proper school in which such orphan has been maintained and educated, showing his or her moral standing and literary or industrial attainments and qualifications.

Section 11. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year next succeeding.

Section 12. The Legislature shall make necessary appropriation for contingent and traveling expenses of the Commission, and for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of each orphan or destitute child of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors or marines under the care of the said Commission, the sum of one hundred and forty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 13. That all money remaining to the credit of Department of Soldiers' Orphan Schools upon the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, shall be placed to the credit of the Commission created by this act.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts and supplements thereto, heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1893.

Providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor, making appropriations for such purposes, erection and equipment and the maintenance of children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be erected at some point within the State, easily accessible, a building or buildings, to be known as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Section 2. That the Commission now in charge of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, are empowered to purchase not more than one hundred acres of ground, the title of which shall be vested in the Commonwealth, and to erect buildings thereon, equipping the same with shops, tools, etc., for industrial training as well as for the educational course, and for the maintenance of the Soldiers' Orphans, first taking security for the faithful performance of all contracts, and for the completion of the building and buildings in a substantial, good, and workmanlike manner.

Section 3. The said Commission, as now constituted, shall continue until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, at which time there shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, two members thereof, and by the Speaker of the House, three members thereof, to serve for two years, and the Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, shall then recommend to the Governor five honorably discharged soldiers for the appointment, who, if approved by the Governor, shall be appointed to serve for two years. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of the said Commission. At the expiration of the said terms of the said appointees their successors shall be appointed in like manner and for like term. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the said Commission shall be filled by the appointing powers as above set forth.

Section 4. The said commission shall elect, from their own number, a president, secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, and shall employ all necessary clerks, teachers and employes necessary for the proper conduct and care of the schools.

Section 5. The said Commission shall have full power to continue the Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now constituted, or, if necessary, change either, any or all of them, to other localities, until such time or times as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall be completed or sufficiently advanced to accommodate said orphans, when the Commission shall close all of the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of applications as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State, for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission.

Section 7. Preference in admission shall be as follows:

First—Full orphans, the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, and were members of Pennsylvania commands, or, having served in the commands of other states, or of the United States, were residents of Pennsylvania at the time of enlistment.

Second—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose father may be deceased and mother living.

Third—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose parents may either, or both, be permanently disabled.

Section 8. In order that the benefits of industrial training may be given to the children now in its soldiers' orphan schools, and who may arrive at the age to be discharged at or about the time of the opening of the said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the said Commission is hereby empowered to extend the time of the discharge of such children, who may be fifteen and sixteen years of age, for the space of two years additional.

Section 9. The per capita rate of the appropriation for the education and maintenance of the children admitted in the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars per annum.

Section 10. No compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, except such reasonable expenses as they may incur in the performance of their duties, and no member of said Commission shall be directly or indirectly interested, financially, in any school under care of said Commission, or in the education and maintenance of said soldiers' orphans, nor in furnishing supplies to or for the same, nor in the purchase of lands, erection of buildings, or equipment of the same.

Section 11. The said Commission shall, on or before the third Wednesday in January of each year, present to the Legislature, under oath, a detailed report of the financial transaction of the preceding year, setting forth in detail the amount of all moneys or other property received on account of such Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and an itemized statement of the disbursements thereof.

Section 12. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year then next succeeding.

Section 13. To carry out the provisions of this act the following sums of money are hereby specifically appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sums shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, who shall first be required to give a bond in the sum to be named by the said Commission, with security for the proper application of such moneys.

First—For the establishing, building, furnishing and fitting up of said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, as herein-before provided, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Second—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Third—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Fourth—For the expenses of the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 14. All moneys to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General, drawn on the State Treasurer upon requisition, approved and certified to by the said Commission.

Section 15. Any balance remaining unexpended for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four shall be available for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, in addition to the sum of fifty thousand dollars herein appropriated for that year.

Section 16. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1899.

Entitled An act to extend the benefits of the Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School, and the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, to the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall and is hereby authorized and required to admit to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Industrial School, or to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, orphans of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war, subject to present laws governing the control of said schools.

ACT OF 1901.

AN ACT

To amend section six of an act, entitled "An act providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School; the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriations for such purposes as erection and equipment, and the maintenance of the children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools," approved the twenty-seventh day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three: Provided, That in certain cases pupils may remain at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial Schools after attaining the age of sixteen years.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That section six of said act, which reads as follows:

"Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission," be amended to read as follows:

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause, by order of the Commission.

Provided, That in the case of pupils at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School reaching the age of sixteen between the first day of January in any year and the thirtieth day of June of the same year, the said pupil may, at the discretion of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, remain at the school until the thirtieth day of June following the date at which he or she may reach the age of sixteen.

Provided, further, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved—The 7th day of March, A. D. 1901.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Pennsylvania Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools
FOR THE
YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1904.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth
of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: Herewith, as required by the act of Assembly, is presented the Report of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission having charge of the proper conduct of the schools authorized by the law of the State. This report will show the condition of the schools for the year ending May 31, 1904.

On May 31, 1903, there were 1,032 pupils enrolled, and on May 31, 1904, there were 950, showing a decrease in that period of 82. This concludes the fortieth year of the existence of these schools and the fifteenth year under the management of a commission.

During the past school year there has been no epidemic of disease. Of course there is always more or less sickness, and always will be, among children congregated as we have them in the schools, and that we have been enabled to escape the different epidemics of disease which have swept over the State from time to time can be credited to the watchfulness and care shown by the employes of the different schools.

The action of the State in continuing these schools for all the years since the close of the war has been, in the judgment of this commission, a wise and commendable one. When we stop to consider that there have been nearly 20,000 boys and girls educated and cared for in these schools, many of whom now fill honorable and responsible positions, we cannot help but declare that this grand old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is true to her sons who offered their lives to protect her honor and integrity.

The children coming into the schools now are very young, and as we have before stated, it must necessarily be some years before they can be finally discharged. That means the ultimate concentration of all the children at the Industrial School at Scotland, Franklin county, Pa. At this school they can be taught some things which will aid them in the battle of this life. The boys and girls work in the printing office, the tailoring department and in the laundry. Boys are also employed in the wood-working department, machine shop, engine room, and learning the intricacies of electricity and farming. The girls are instructed in housework and dressmaking; and boys and girls are taught telegraphy, typewriting and stenography. Many of the pupils who have graduated from the schools are employed in the different railway offices, telegraph offices, and in business offices throughout the State.

In each of the three schools military training is given the boys and they are then taught the value of discipline and obedience, which, in the struggle of life, is of paramount importance.

Farms are also attached to each school, upon which is raised a large portion of the vegetables used, such as potatoes, corn, onions, etc.

The following is the population of the schools for the year ending May 31, 1904:

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Chester Springs,	194	134	328
Uniontown,	219	104	323
Industrial,	180	119	299
Total,	593	357	950

The members of the commission, all of whom are members of the Grand Army of the Republic, desire, at this time, to express to the Legislature, and through them, to the people of the State, their appreciation of the patriotic spirit that has kept alive this wise and beneficent system. It is an authoritative declaration to all who may follow that Pennsylvania never tires in performing a patriotic duty. While it has cost money to continue this system, yet to the minds of the members of this commission, the State could expend no money which will bring back a greater reward in the future than that of caring for the children who may be unfortunate enough not to have the care or protection of parents and friends. If left to wander and grow up without some discipline being enforced, in after years it would bring about such a state of affairs in society that it would cost the State more money in providing reformatory and correctional institutions than it has done to provide these homes. We do not mean to say by this that this class of children is confined exclusively to those of the soldiers of the War of the Rebellion, but they belong to all classes of society.

In conclusion, gentlemen, the commission makes an earnest request of the members of the Legislature, the Grand Army of the Republic, the clergy, members of the press, and in fact citizens in all the walks of life to visit these institutions and see for themselves what this commission is endeavoring to do for those committed to their charge. Attached hereto you will find the tabulated statements of all matter connected with the schools, which will give, in detail, all the information as to the conduct of the schools that may be desired.

Every member of the present commission is a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, as follows:

Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, ex-officio.

On the Part of the Senate of Pennsylvania:

Jacob C. Stineman.

Andrew G. Williams.

On the Part of the House of Representatives:

IN MEMORIAM.

John D. Patterson, chief clerk of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission, died at twelve o'clock Wednesday night, September 9, 1903, at the home of his son-in-law, William I. Koller, in York, where he had gone in the hope of regaining strength after an illness from gastritis which began in the early part of the year.

He was taken to his late home in Harrisburg and buried from there. The active pallbearers were: Grand Army of the Republic, Post 58, William Wheeler; Soldiers' Orphan Schools of Pennsylvania, Colonel Thomas G. Sample; Knights of Pythias, Thomas Poffenberger; Knights of Malta, Richard A. Vorndran; Heptasophs, Robert M. Robinson; Harrisburg Republican Club, Benjamin W. Campbell; Red Men, David H. Ellinger; Veteran Association, Pennsylvania Railroad, George B. Chandler.

John D. Patterson, chief clerk of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission, was born at Williamsburg, Blair county, Pa., November 1, 1842. His parents were of that sturdy stock, Scotch-Irish, the representatives of which are so numerous and prominent in the leadership of American society. The parents of Chief Clerk Patterson gave their son the advantages which the public schools afford, and supplemented these by a course of study at the academy. At the same time they were careful that some systematic and continuous industrial occupation should fill up the vacation and intervals between school terms. The result was a studious and industrious youth, with some knowledge and training and a desire for more. His first employment on his own account was farm work, in the summer months, and teaching school in the winter months. The war came on and opened to him a new field of action. He enlisted in the army in August, 1862. Before he had been a month in the service, on September 17, 1862, he was baptized in the blood of battle, on the battlefield of Antietam, where he received serious injury. For meritorious action he was made orderly to General Kane, and also to General Knipe. At the end of his term of service he re-enlisted and served to the end of the war.

Upon his final discharge from the army, July 1, 1865, he moved immediately to Harrisburg, and entered the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He remained with that company until September 1, 1874, when he resigned his position, having been elected mayor of the city of Harrisburg. He was re-elected in 1876 and 1878. In 1881 he was elected resident clerk of the House of Representatives. He was elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives in 1885, 1887 and 1889. In December, 1889, he was appointed auditing clerk of the Commissioners of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, which he held until 1896, when he was elected mayor of the city of Harrisburg for the fourth time.

While he was serving his fourth term as mayor, Chief Clerk Joseph Pomeroy of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission died, and Mr. Patterson was appointed to the position, which he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Patterson was a painstaking official and won the respect and confidence of every member of the Soldiers' Orphan School Commission.

Mr. Patterson is survived by three daughters: Miss Emma Patterson; Mrs. Grauley, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. William I. Koller, York.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE INSPECTRESS.

To the Honorable Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools:

The duties of your inspectress during the year ending June 30, 1904, were mainly confined to those of ordinary routine. There was no unusual episode that transpired which called for extra exertions or imperiled the health or safety of the scholars. To this statement, however, one exception may be noted, viz.: the outbreak of measles which took place at Jumonville School during the winter of 1903 and 1904. Fortunately, there were no deaths nor permanent disabilities, a result which certainly can be attributed in a large degree to the medical care and supervision exercised at the time of the outbreak. It is to be noted in connection with the subject of health that the object of the Commission has been to ascertain the individual physical needs of each pupil, and, whenever necessary, to transfer them to the care of a specialist, or to hospitals where the best possible treatment can be accorded. A reference to the reports of the several physicians attached to the schools will no doubt illustrate the number and character of such cases.

Apart from the general good health of the pupils at the various schools, it should be noted that during the last year much progress has been made in the condition affecting their comfort, and in promoting their general welfare. These may be summed up in the form of alterations and repairs to the various buildings, and in regulations governing their conditions. These alterations, which it is unnecessary to specify in detail, embrace the means of better ventilation and drainage, and more spacious accommodation of the pupils.

Notwithstanding these various improvements, your inspectress feels that she would be deficient in her duty if she did not again call attention to the advisability of concentrating the pupils at the Scotland institution. This was the original design, and as time goes by, it would seem to be the part of wisdom to carry out the original plan. However healthy and suitable the establishments at other points in the interior of the State may appear, yet there are undoubted and unquestionable advantages in concentrating the schools at one central point. Without wishing to infringe upon the province of the Commission, it is to be hoped that the lawmaking powers of the State will see fit to grant such means and facilities to the Commission as will enable it to build cottages, or to enlarge the present accommodations at Scotland, at an early date.

A reference to the detailed reports of those entrusted with the technical education of the children will show a number of varied industries, all of them useful and none of which should be abandoned. It has been a subject of serious thought, however, to your inspectress, whether in the female department there should not be established a new branch of industry and tuition. It is difficult to explain the exact requirements of this new plan, except to say that it should embrace instruction in such matters of domestic science, economy and management as will enable the girl pupils upon their entry into domestic life to manage and control their households. While a knowledge of the various trades is essential to enable the male pupils to earn their subsistence, it is certainly of equal importance that the future wives should also learn the trade of housekeeping. It is needless to enlarge upon this subject, but it is to be hoped that the Commission will see its way toward the establishment of a department of domestic science.

Your inspectress has intentionally refrained from entering into details of the different institutions, knowing that all such information will be embraced in the reports of the heads of the different departments, but it is worth noting as a general summary that the operations of all the schools during the past year have been conducted with vigor and success. Not a single critic has appeared to make complaint of any action of the Commission or any of its officials, nor is there any reason to believe that any interest affecting the health, education or comfort of these wards of the State has been forgotten or neglected.

Very respectfully,

LAURA P. SWENTZEL,

Philadelphia, August 30, 1904.

Inspectress.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

West Chester, Pa., September 30, 1904.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to present my sixth annual report as inspector of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

In doing so it gives me pleasure to be able to refer to the past year as a well-balanced one, in which no department of the work has so predominated as to be a detriment to the others, but one in which all have been given due interest and consideration.

Nor has the physical and moral well-being of the boys and girls been neglected, and it is our particular pride that the general health, appearance and happiness of the children is beyond question, and that they generally regret leaving school.

While walking along the street in New York recently, I was most agreeably surprised at being greeted by a young colored girl who was a recent pupil of the schools. She wished to know all about the boys and girls from the school from which she came, and spoke of the happy days she had spent there. We are proud to feel that the State has been able to develop the schools so that this kind of a report may be made.

My monthly visits to the schools during the year included a thorough inspection of the grounds, buildings, outbuildings, a careful observation of everything connected with the kitchen, dining rooms, hospitals, lavatories, etc., etc.; a careful examination of the food furnished and the preparation of it; a close scrutiny of the appearance of the children; and a careful inspection of the "boys' line," the clothing and shoes worn by them, etc., etc.; visits to the class rooms, observing the ventilation and methods of instruction and discipline of the children.

In September, 1903, there were 991 pupils in all. In June, 1904, (at the end of the year) there were 946; a loss of 45, taking into consideration the admissions and discharges during the year. On the above computation about 90 will not return on account of the age limit.

As the Commission keeps in touch with the many details of the schools, I have purposely avoided mentioning the many things which have been covered in my monthly and special reports.

No serious epidemic has occurred, and the children have been well. The fire-drill is still practiced at all the schools, so that in case of fire the boys could be depended upon to take their places in certain positions in the buildings and use their best efforts to prevent excitement and confusion while the children are getting out of the building; the fire-drill interests them to such an extent that it is thought they would not think of danger, but quietly pass out of the building in an orderly manner. In case of fire in the girls' department, the boys, in charge of the military instructor, are taught to go to the assistance of the girls. At the bugle call for fire, the dormitories can be emptied in about two and a half minutes.

I wish there could be devised some system whereby things taught at the schools could be carried on more fully in some of our technical schools or colleges. Would it not be possible, in view of the many State appropriations, to get scholarships established at such places, open to those students of the orphan schools who show the greatest ability of being able to profit by them? Are there not openings at great concerns like Cramps, Westinghouse, etc., etc., where our boys from the Industrial School might find entrance and opportunity? With the perfectly organized influence of the members of the Commission and other friends of the schools, such openings might be provided each year.

Our libraries are sadly in need of replenishing. Their condition has been very unsatisfactory for several years, and as there seems to be great demand for the few worn out books, new ones would certainly be very welcome to the children.

The entertainments given at all the schools by the children at the annual commencements in June were a great success, and very pleasing and entertaining to the members of the Commission present, and to the visitors and parents of the children.

The following is an extract from the Harrisburg Telegraph: "This was commencement day at the State Industrial School at Scotland and the interesting exercises were creditable to the faculty, the students and the institution. Each year demonstrates anew the wisdom of the Commonwealth in establishing this school and each year further demonstrates the necessity for enlarging its scope and preparing for the great work which is at hand in the industrial training of the orphans of soldiers and of those who may follow them.

"A large assemblage witnessed the first day's exercises yesterday (June 20, 1904), including many distinguished visitors from all parts of the State. Among those who were present and made addresses were General Thomas J. Stewart, Colonel Thos. G. Sample, Senator Williams, of Butler; Representative Mansfield, of Beaver county, and other members of the Commission. The exercises in the gymnasium were of a high order of excellence, the singing, recitations and the orations being equal to the best that might be expected of any first-class college or academy.

"The site of the school is one of the most delightful to be found anywhere, and the health of the boys and girls shows the wisdom of the location. There were many visitors of the G. A. R. among the throng, including Captain John C. Gerbig, of Chambersburg; John Eckel, commander of the Post at Chambersburg; Senator Alexander Stewart, Captain Miller, of Carlisle, and others.

"An incident of the exercises yesterday was the suggestion of one of the speakers that the Legislature be asked for an appropriation to build an assembly hall, which is needed. The suggestion was received with tremendous enthusiasm by the visitors and students, and it is believed that some steps will be taken to secure such a hall."

There is much more that might be said, but I think I have given a general idea of the condition of the schools. Of course, there have been little matters requiring adjustment and criticism during the year, but these have been attended to promptly, and I feel that it is not necessary to call further attention to them.

It remains for me to congratulate the members of the Commission on the generally commendable condition of the schools and to thank them for their assistance and personal interest in this work.

Very respectfully submitted,

S. G. WILLAUER,
Inspector.

REPORTS OF SUPERINTENDENTS.

SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL, CHESTER SPRINGS.

Chester Springs, Pa., June 30, 1904.

Commission Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit the fourteenth annual report of the Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphan School.

Upon assuming the superintendency of the school, I found upon its roll, June 30, 1903, 379 pupils. There were admitted during the year just closed, June 30, 1904, 81 pupils on order, making a total on the roll for the year 460. During the same period there were discharged on age, 32; on order, 12; and by transfer to the Industrial School at Scotland, Pa., 85; making a total of 129 pupils discharged. To this number must be added the loss of three by death, making the number taken from our roll 132, leaving on the roll at the close of the year 328.

During the year we had a number of cases of illness of a very serious character, notably two of typhoid fever, one of scarlet fever, three of pneumonia, two of diphtheria, and two of membranous croup, besides more than a hundred cases of measles; yet, owing to the skill of our physician, blessed by a Divine Providence, no death occurred from any acute disease, while the care with which those whose illness was of a contagious nature were isolated, together with the free use of antiseptics, prevented the spread of contagion.

Of the three deaths reported above, two of them, Mary Coil, eight years old, of Susquehanna county, and Walter Cuff (colored), ten years old, of Fulton county, died of marasmus (wasting disease), and Margaret Buckalew, of Luzerne county, of heart disease, dying very suddenly after having recovered from a light attack of measles.

While it is with deep regret that we have to report the loss of three pupils by death, yet in view of the facts above stated the mortality has been exceedingly small. Too much praise cannot be given to our physician, Dr. John R. Wells, for his untiring care and skilful and successful treatment of the many cases under his charge during the year.

Although it proved utterly impossible to find the friends of either Mary Coil or Walter Cuff, during their illness or after their death, yet gentle hands administered to their comfort, beautiful flowers were placed on their caskets, appropriate services held in the chapel, and they were given proper burial in the plot belonging to the school in East Vincent Cemetery. The remains of Margaret Buckalew were taken to her home for burial.

Our loss by death was not confined to the pupils referred to, for during the year two of our respected employes were called away by the "Grim Reaper." Mrs. Mary Bowers, of Harrisburg, of the sewing department, after struggling with an almost indomitable will against the ravages of disease, and working long after one with less energy would have succumbed, was at last forced to yield and in the latter part of October was called to her rest.

Major James P. Holt, known to and respected by all who have in any way been connected with or interested in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, by reason of his long service extending over a period of fourteen years in the schools, at Harford, Uniontown, and Chester Springs, like a brave soldier that he was, stayed at his post long after the infirmities of disease had rendered the discharge of duty not only wearisome, but well nigh impossible, was forced finally to surrender, and after the first day of January, 1904, never left his room but once until the twelfth day of April, having answered the last roll-call, he was carried to the home of his sister in Philadelphia, from whence he was buried. His unfailing cheerfulness and courtesy, his high appreciation and exemplification of, in his own life, all that was noble and manly, endeared him to all who were in any way associated with him. By his death the soldiers' orphan schools lost a valuable and valued employe. May his last bivouac be an eternal rest.

During the year some improvements have been made, chief among which was the remodeling of what was known as the "temporary" building into a dormitory and play-room for the little boys, with a cosy room for their matron. The basement was furnished with a large cedar tank selected by Major McCauley, which has proved a great boon to the little fellows. The separating of the little boys into a dormitory of their own was a very wise thing to do, as it has added greatly to the welfare and comfort of the little fellows, for which the Commission deserves great praise.

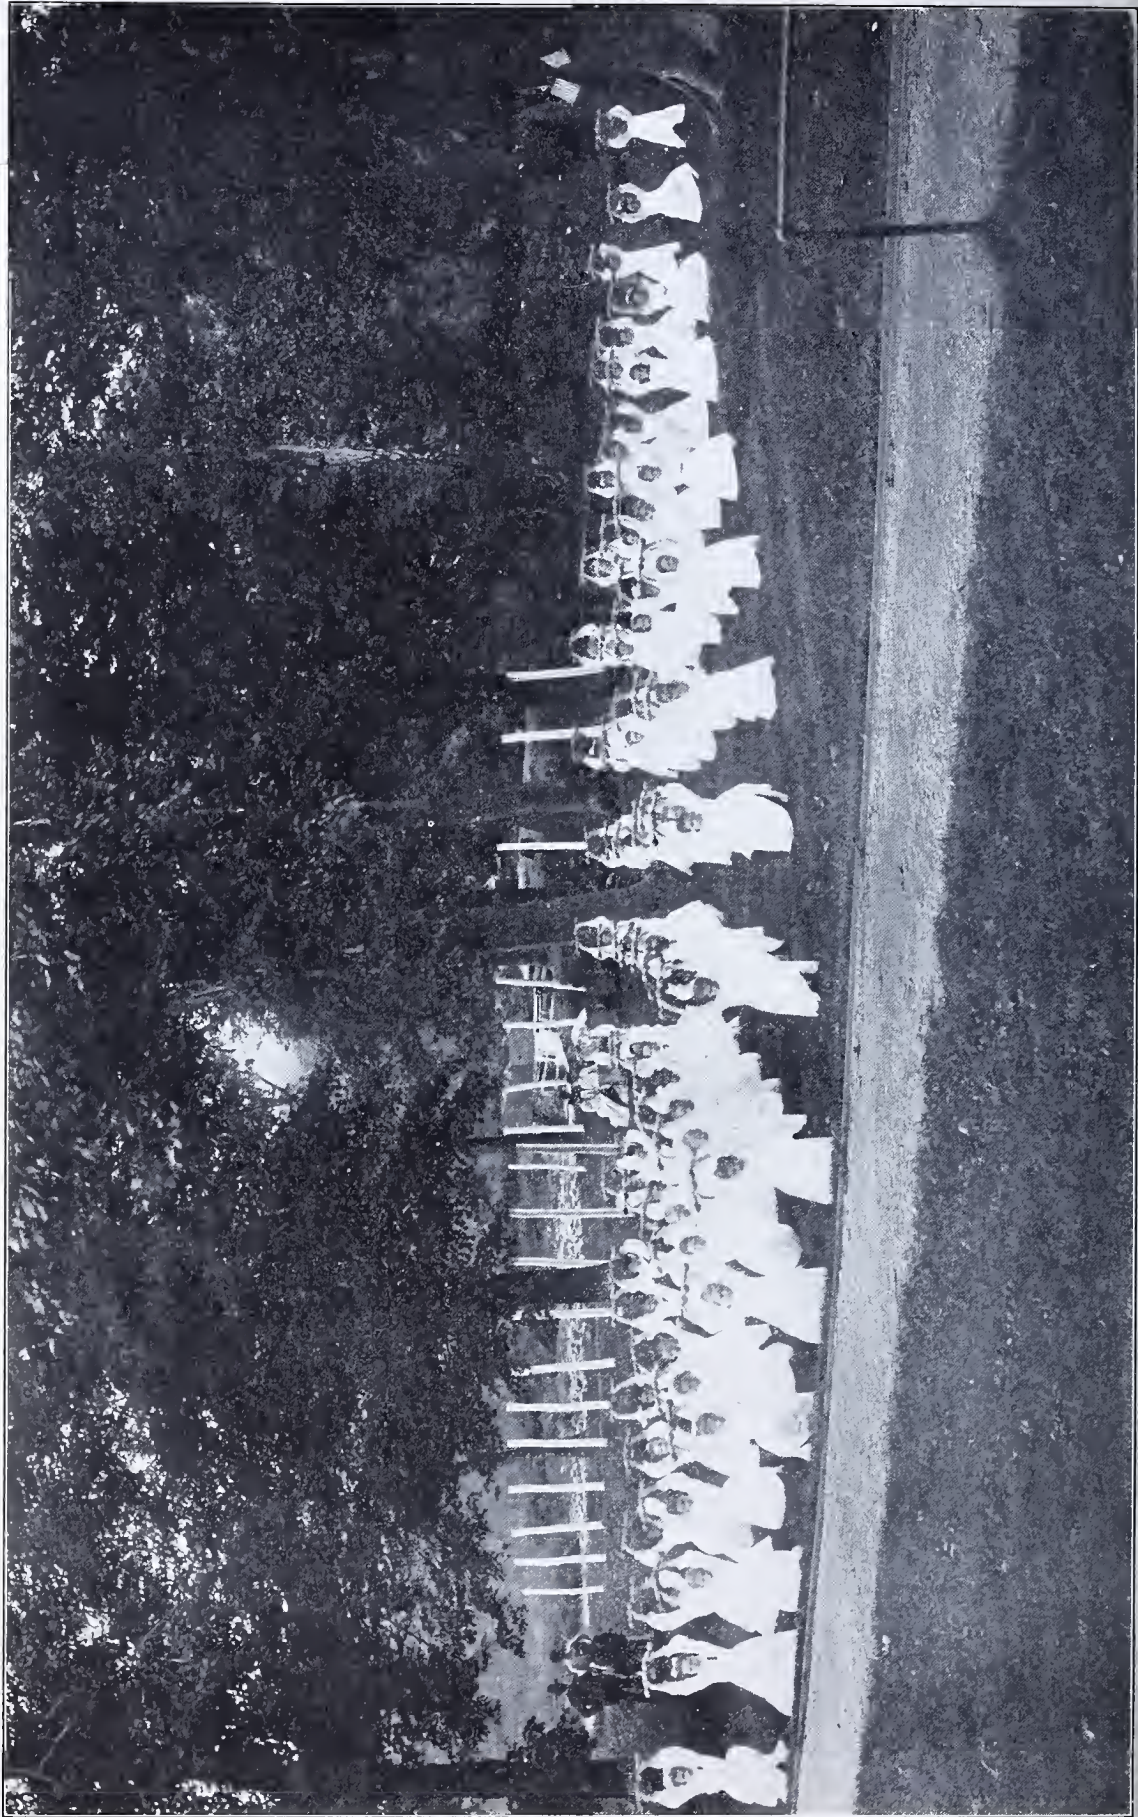

The teachers' building was greatly improved by having a room furnished for use as a parlor, and the rooms most needing it newly papered, painted and carpeted.

The several holidays and holiday seasons were duly observed. The first one, the glorious Fourth, was fittingly celebrated by the assembling of the pupils and employes in the chapel where patriotic songs were sung by the children, the Declaration of Independence read by the Superintendent, and an appropriate address, suited to the understanding of the pupils, made by Major Holt. On Christmas the Commission made everybody happy by a most generous supply of candies, fruits and nuts, and directing the Superintendent to provide a bountiful Christmas dinner. The day was one of unalloyed pleasure to all, and was fittingly closed by appropriate services in the chapel.

During the holidays Mr. John O. K. Robarts, editor of the Phoenixville Messenger, a true friend of the soldiers' orphans, accompanied by Miss Goodwin, of Cranberry, N. J., pianist, and Miss Widdecombe, of Phoenixville, elocutionist, came up and gave the children, both big and little, a most charming musical and literary treat; and at a later date, accompanied by the blind pianist, Professor Wallace, Miss Widdecombe, elocutionist, and Misses Evans and Renard, singers, entertained us all equally as charmingly. The holiday season closed with a phonograph entertainment given by Comrade Wm. A. Stewart, assisted by his son, Wm. A. Stewart, Jr. To Mr. Roberts, Comrade Stewart, and all who accompanied them, the thanks of the management of the school are due, and are hereby tendered for the kindly thoughtfulness in thus contributing to the enjoyment of the children.

On Memorial Day the entire school, led by the band, marched to East Vincent Cemetery and, after the usual services were held, strewed with flowers not only the graves of their fellow-pupils, but also the graves of all the soldiers who lie buried there. In the afternoon the officers, teachers and other employes, with the children and a goodly number of the citizens of the community, assembled in the chapel and after the school had sung "My Country 'Tis of Thee," listened to an able, and to the pupils, (for it was intended particularly for them), a most interesting address, delivered by the Hon. B. F. Hughes, of Philadelphia, who kindly and cheerfully had responded to the invitation to deliver the address.

Religious services, either Sunday-school or preaching by one of the neighboring pastors on Sabbath, and chapel services on each week night, have been observed during the year. Revs. Schnering and Miller have kindly responded to invitations to address us.

I must not forget to mention the name of a former pupil of the school who did much to enhance the pleasure of the children who were kept at the school during vacation. Mr. George Benkhart, of Philadelphia, remembering no doubt his vacation days, with his heart made tender by the memory, sent a large box containing dolls, jacks and croquet sets for the girls, and marbles and baseball outfits for the boys, especially directing that they be given to those who had to spend their vacations at the school.

That the work done in the school-room was well done, and that the pupils had profited by the instruction received, was evidenced not only by the manner in which they acquitted themselves in their examination, and at the "annual" exercises, but by the words of commendation from those who were here to witness their work. Whatever measure of success has been accomplished has been due to the unanimity of effort, and the harmony existing among all those whose duty it is to care for and train the children in preparing themselves for lives of usefulness. I would like to refer in words of commendation to each teacher and employe individually, and thus express my appreciation of the manner in which each has performed his or her part in making this year a profitable one to the school, and a most pleasant one to its Superintendent. I must, however, on account of lack of space deny myself this pleasure, and content myself with a brief reference to a few heads of departments. The farm, under the efficient management of Mr. George M. Hazlett, furnished us with an abundance of fresh vegetables in their season. The engine-room, kept bright and clean, with its machinery in perfect order, furnishes abundant evidence that our engineer, Mr. F. H. Hartweg, is the "right man in the right place"; our laundry, under the charge of Mr. C. A. Broome, is second to none, while of the man who bakes our bread, pies and cakes, I need only to say he has been doing the baking for the soldiers' orphans for thirty years.

The girls' department, under the tactful management of its most efficient matron, Miss M. E. White, assisted by Mrs. S. J. Brown, is entitled to, and received the praise of all whose privilege it was to visit and inspect the department. Perfect cleanliness and strict yet kindly discipline are manifest everywhere.

Owing to the long illness and death of the military instructor, Major Holt, the boys' department was for a part of the year practically without a head, yet it received much praise from those who witnessed the deportment of the boys, and the manner in which they acquitted themselves in the military drill at "annual."

To the inspector, Major Willauer, and his most worthy and efficient coadjutator, the inspectress, Mrs. Laura P. Swentzel, I am indebted for many courtesies and helpful suggestions, for which I hereby tender my most sincere thanks.

To the members of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, I cannot find words in which to adequately express my appreciation of the many kindnesses received at their hands. The selection of such men to have charge of the institutions established for the care and education of the children of their late comrades has proven to have been a wise one. Nothing that will advance the interests or conduce to the welfare or comfort of the children, if asked for, is ever refused if it is in their power to grant it.

Thanking you, gentlemen, for your uniform courtesy,

I am most respectfully yours,

DR. M. B. HUGHES,
Superintendent.

UNIONTOWN SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL.

Jumonville, Pa., June 30, 1904.

Commission Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg leave to present the thirty-eighth annual report of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School.

The total number of pupils on the roll during the year was 386. Of these 48 were admitted during the year. Fifteen pupils have been discharged on age, 9 by order of the Commission, 38 have been transferred to the Scotland Industrial School, and 1 died. Discharges over admissions have been 15. We began the year with 338 pupils on the roll; a net loss of 15 leaves the number on the roll at the close of the year 323. Of these 217 are boys and 106 girls, the percentage of the sexes being 67 per cent. boys and 33 per cent. girls, more than two to one in favor of the boys. This is the largest percentage of boys we have ever had in the history of the school.

Taken altogether, the year has been a pleasant one. We commenced the session somewhat handicapped by reason of the absence of a military instructor.

But with the advent of Major Beekman, who was transferred from the Chester Springs School, the normal condition of things was soon restored. Major Beekman brought with him a valuable experience gained at the Chester Springs School, and his year's work with us has been highly successful. The military drill at the time of our annual examination was evidence of faithful and efficient work.

We have rarely passed a year with so little sickness among the children. There was an epidemic of measles, from which all made good recoveries. A serious accident befell one of the boys while coasting and which for a time we feared was a fatal injury. A sad event occurred on Memorial Day by which a boy of eleven, Howard Rush, lost his life by drowning.

The school department has been under the efficient care of Prof. H. E. Gress, who with a faithful corps of assistants have done very excellent work. The large number of small children in the school has permitted the introduction of some kindergarten work under direction of the primary teachers, Mrs. Wambaugh and Miss Redding. A display of work done by the primary children was very interesting and creditable. This consisted of weaving, basket-making, modeling and other kindergarten work. The school department has made a very creditable showing. The children have been interested in their studies and most of them have made marked advancement in their classes.

We lose two of our teachers by resignation at the close of the present term of school. Miss Margaret McCurdy, a graduate of our institution, leaves us after several years of successful work to engage in the more congenial pursuits of domestic life. We wish for the same amount of success that has attended her work as a teacher in this school. Mrs. Wambaugh also severs connection with the school. Mrs. Wambaugh has been a thorough and efficient teacher, peculiarly adapted to her work in the primary department, and we shall part with her with much regret.

Six matrons have been employed, three in charge of the boys and three in charge of the girls. This position is one involving great care, labor and responsibility. Competent and experienced persons have filled these positions during the year. We regret that at the close of this present term we will be deprived of the services of three of these valued assistants. - Mrs. W. McClune and her daughter, familiarly known to the children as "Miss Lou," have resigned on account of Mrs. McClune's failing health. We desire to record here our appreciation of their faithful services.

Miss L. L. Welty, better known to all persons connected with the school as "Miss Dot," also ends her connection with the school, her resignation taking effect August 31. This institution sustains a great loss in her departure. This has been her home. She came as a girl into the family of Rev. A. H. Waters, not many years after the establishment of the school, and has been identified with the institution almost continuously since that time. She has passed through all the changes and vicissitudes of the school. Her services have been invaluable. She has been an indefatigable worker, painstaking, thorough and conscientious in her labor. No pecuniary recompense could purchase the zealous, unremitting self-denying labor of these years of service. No one person will be as greatly missed. "It will not seem like the same place without 'Miss Dot,'" is the general expression. She resigns her position to become the wife of Rev. G. H. Gerberding, D. D., of Chicago Theological Seminary. The best wishes of the entire institution follow her to her new sphere of duty.

Some improvements have been made during the year. The basement under the boys' cottage was fitted up and furnished as wash rooms and toilet for the larger boys.

Steam heat was also introduced into the hospital building, which was the only building not thus heated. Our pumphouse was destroyed by fire in February. Temporary repairs were made to machinery and a temporary pumphouse was erected. But on account of damage done by the fire, and also because our consumption of water has outgrown the capacity of our plant, it becomes necessary to put in an entirely new plant. The pumphouse is now under way, and it is hoped that before the opening of school in the fall, the new machinery will be installed.

We have an abundant supply of the best water from pure mountain springs and with the contemplated improvements will be well equipped in regard to our water supply.

The annual examinations were held June 13th and 14th. Several members of the Commission were present and, though the number of visitors was not so large as usual, those present expressed themselves as well pleased with the condition of the school and the character of the various exercises of the pupils.

We have now completed thirty-eight years of our history as a Soldiers' Orphan School. We cannot fail to recognize the favor and blessing of God in the labors of these many years and the fruits that have borne in many lives; and we invoke the same Divine guidance in the coming year.

J. A. WATERS,
Superintendent.

NEW WATER TANK AND PUMP HOUSE, SCOTLAND SCHOOL.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1904.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the ninth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and accompany the same with the very full and satisfactory reports of my principal subordinates, Mr. Stewart's report, as it will be seen, covering all the various divisions of the industrial departments, and Colonel Bambrick's report covering all those department which have been directly under his control during the school year. This change in the method or form of making these reports has, at least, the merit of economy by shortening the space that will be required in publishing the same in book form.

This school was opened June 1, 1895. Since the opening thereof 1,409 boys and girls have been admitted thereto by transfers from the other schools. Of this number 1,109 have been discharged on orders from the office of the Commission or by reason of having reached the age limit. With very few exceptions all were honorably discharged. Many attained a high order of merit in their school work and were thus enabled to obtain lucrative employment soon after leaving us. Quite a number of our boys, having imbibed the military spirit while here, are now in the military or naval service of the United States Government, and we often get the most satisfactory reports from them. Many others of the boys are holding responsible positions in railway offices and industrial establishments. Several that we now recall were enabled to obtain positions paying from $30 to $60 a month immediately after leaving us and are still holding such positions or others still more responsible and lucrative. This has been notably the case with the graduates from our stenography, telegraphy and typewriting department. Equally good reports come from our girl graduates, although as a rule it has taken them longer to reach responsible positions than has been the case with the boys. This state of facts leads to the observation that sixteen years of age seems to be entirely too early a period in life for the average boy or girl, especially girls, to be expected to take up the great battle of life in competition with older and more experienced persons of their own sex. I recall instances in which some of our very brightest pupils have been refused employment solely because of their immature years. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the next Legislature may, in its magnanimity and wisdom, be disposed to make such change in the laws governing this system of education as to permit the retention until the age of eighteen of all pupils, who may voluntarily elect to remain in the school until such age has been arrived at. I feel sure that should such a change in the law be made, it would be but a very few years until this school would become the model educational institution of the State. As matters now exist we see our boys and girls obliged to leave us just when they are beginning to be capable of the highest mental and physical development.

The school year which has just closed has perhaps been more fruitful of results than any which has preceded it in the history of the school. Some of the instructors and employes have been connected with the school from the beginning of its existence, while a majority of them have had over five years' experience in the school. All these have proven themselves most earnest and capable in the discharge of their duties and to them must be accorded a large share of the credit of bringing the school to the high degree of perfection it has attained, thus vindicating the wisdom of the Commission in determining to retain such tried and capable persons in its employment from year to year, or so long as they choose to remain.

That the children in this school, as a rule, are well satisfied with their treatment, surroundings and the manifest advantages they are obtaining, is highly evidenced by the fact that at least two-thirds of those who became sixteen years of age between the first day of January, 1904, and the close of the school year, ending this date, of their own free will and accord, availed themselves of the provision of law, recently made, allowing them to remain in the school until the close of the school year. We have had very little trouble in maintaining proper discipline among the pupils. I feel that it is but proper to say in this connection that when we have had any trouble in this direction it has too often been occasioned by "outside interference." There are, it seems, a few parents or guardians who, after freeing themselves from all the care and support of their children, when they most need such care and support, by confiding them to the care of the State until they are sixteen years old, still feel it incumbent upon themselves to attempt to regulate the manner in which their children shall be clothed, educated and disciplined, and are constantly inciting their children by ill-advised letters and conversation to acts which militate against a proper spirit of discipline. Fortunately, the number of such persons is small indeed, and it is a great pleasure to be able to record the fact that the great majority of parents and guardians have had naught by the most kindly expressions over the manner in which their children or wards have been treated while in the schools.

During the past year the pupils of our school have had several opportunities of displaying their skill and acquirements before large public assemblages. On Memorial Day, by invitation of Housom Post, G. A. R., they took part in the exercises at Chambersburg, Pa., the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company affording free transportation by special train. Several of the boys and girls gave appropriate recitations, which were received with much favor by the large audience assembled. On this occasion one of the members of your Commission was the principal orator. His address was thus spoken of by one of the local papers:

"Col. Richard H. Holgate, of LaPlume, Pa., a member of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission, was the orator of the day. It was the first time he had been heard in Chambersburg and his address was one well worth hearing. It was full of reminiscence, of tribute to the noble dead, of veneration for the survivors and was eloquent and touching in turns. He gave a graphic recital of the events that led up to the first shot fired against the walls of Fort Sumter and reviewed the battle scenes, the prison pens and tiresome marches the boys of '61 had to face and endure to preserve our nation and make it so strong it can now resist the combined assault of the world. This, he said, is the debt the nation owes the boys in blue."

The next public appearance of the school was at the Department Encampment at Gettysburg during the second week of the present month. It was a most pleasant "outing" for the boys and girls, and they will long remember the trip as one of the most enjoyable and instructive of their lives. The Gettysburg Star and Sentinel thus speaks of the visit of our school:

"Thursday was the banner day of the week, made so by the presence of the Soldiers' Orphans' School of Scotland and National Commander of the G. A. R. John C. Black, of Illinois.

The scholars and teachers of the Scotland school, in charge of Captain George W. Skinner, arrived here in a special train at 8.55 P. M. over the Western Maryland road. There were about 180 boys, 125 girls and 25 teachers and employes.

The train was met by Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart, Col. Thomas G. Sample and other distinguished G. A. R. men, who escorted them to Xavier Hall, where the encampment was in session. After a brief address of welcome delivered to the school by the department commander, the boys, all of whom carried rifles, and preceded by the school band, marched to the 10.20 train to await the arrival of National Commander Black, and the girls were taken to the Eagle Hotel. Mr. Black was met by prominent officials of the G. A. R. of Pennsylvania.

On Mr. Black's arrival he was escorted by the orphan cadets to the college campus, where the boys and girls went through an Indian club drill and calisthenic exercises to the music of the band, after which the boys gave a rifle drill, all of which elicited many loud applause from the great crowd of people present. Col. W. C. Bambrick had charge of the drills, assisted by Major R. J. Cook. The girls were in charge of Miss Jennie Martin, matron, assisted by Miss H. M. Buchanan."

The annual commencement exercises of the school soon followed the events above referred to, thus making a busy month for employes and pupils alike. All the members of the Commission except Governor Pennypacker, Senator Cooper and Colonel Morrison were present during the entire exercises. Several of them were accompanied by members of their families, and all seemed to derive much pleasure from the exercises. A large number of other visitors were present on the first day of exercises, and our only regret has been that our audience room was not nearly large enough to enable all to see and hear the exercises. The feeling that this report is already long enough prevents me from attempting to give a more full report of these, the most interesting of all the exercises of the year. Suffice it to say that much was heard in commendation of every exercise and not one word by way of criticism or want of appreciation of the efforts of the children to please.

Thanking all my subordinates for their loyal support in everything pertaining to the good of the school, and the Commission and its executive force for their many courtesies and their entire willingness to aid us in every phase of our work.

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. SKINNER,
Superintendent.

EDUCATIONAL AND MILITARY DEPARTMENTS.

Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School,
Scotland, Pa., July 21, 1904.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I herewith submit the ninth annual report of the educational, military, stenography and telegraphy departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Educational.

Early in the month of September an additional class-room was furnished and a teacher transferred from Chester Springs. This relieved the crowded condition of the original class-rooms and made it possible to do much better work in all grades.

The monthly reviews and quarterly examinations were held and the classes kept closely graded during the year. The same schedule of work has prevailed as in past years, and the personal supervision of the evening study period by the teachers in their respective grades continued. Regular literary programs given by the pupils have proved a potent source of instruction and pleasure to all. The national holidays were fittingly celebrated with special exercises suited to the occasions.

The instructors have taken unusual pains to inculcate a spirit of patriotism and honesty in the pupils. Special history lessons have been conducted frequently with that end in view.

We are indebted to members of the Commission and other distinguished visitors for a number of most excellent short addresses carrying with them lessons of exceptional significance to the children of the soldiers' orphan schools.

Daily chapel services, Sabbath school each Sunday morning, in connection with occasional sermons by the ministers of the vicinity have made up the religious exercises of the year. In addition to this a number of the girls have maintained a local Christian Endeavor Society with good results.

Mrs. Steese, of Philadelphia, offered two handsome gold medals to the boy and girl who would attain the highest general average in school work. By hard and persistent effort Cora Wyncoop and William Garriss won these medals, and they were presented to them on commencement day by Col. Thomas G. Sample, treasurer of the Commission.

The graduating class of 1904 consisted of twelve boys and twelve girls and their class day program was one of the prettiest exercises of the school year. The diplomas were presented by Senator Andrew G. Williams, member of the Commission.

Stenography and Telegraphy Department.

The stenography and telegraphy department has been crowded to its fullest capacity during the entire year. It has been found necessary to raise the standard of admission to this department to sixth grade, as lower grade pupils are at a constant disadvantage in work of that character. The pupils leaving this department with a No. 1 mark on their diplomas have invariably stood the test of actual work in their chosen branches, thus giving a practical demonstration of the fact that their training is thorough.

Military and Physical Culture.

The physical culture and military classes have been continued as special features of the regular curriculum during the entire year. The exhibition drills, combined with the good general health, carriage and discipline of the children, attest the great value of these departments.

As in former years athletic sports have been encouraged and our boys have competed successfully in a majority of their contests. The base ball team of 1904 has without question been the most efficient that has ever represented the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. BAMBRICK,
Principal and Military Instructor.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1904.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the ninth annual report of the industrial departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

During the past year there have been no changes in the equipment or methods of instruction in the departments, and with one exception no changes in the list of employes. Miss Effie Shoemaker, tailoress, resigned, and Miss Lida Englerth was appointed to the position. Her work has been very satisfactory in every respect.

By direction of the Commission specimens of the work done by the pupils of the machine and wood departments have been arranged in a suitable show case of golden oak, glass on front and two sides, divided in two compartments 25 inches deep, 33 inches wide and 76 inches high, and placed on exhibition in the Palace of Education at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, Mo.

The following is a list of the material on exhibition:

Specimens from Machine Department.

- 1 3"x4" Vertical Steam Engine.
- 1 2"x2½" Self-contained Horizontal Automatic Steam Engine.
- 1 Small Breach-loading Cannon, 45-caliber.
- 2 Small Screw-jacks.
- 2 Cluster of Cannon Balls.
- 1 Sample of Chasing, double right and left threads.
- 1 Sample of Knurling.
- 2 Small Steel Wrenches.
- 1 Small Steel Hammer.
- 1 Cut Gear Wheel.
- 1 Paper Weight.

Specimens from Wood Department.

- 2 Veneered Tabourets.
- 1 Pair Inlaid Indian Clubs.
- 2 Baseball Bats.
- 4 Joints—walnut and oak.
- 1 Wall Cabinet.
- 1 Pair Dumb Bells.
- 1 Potato Masher.
- 6 Turned Balusters.
- 1 Small Walnut Stand.
- Samples of wood turning.
- Several patterns for castings.

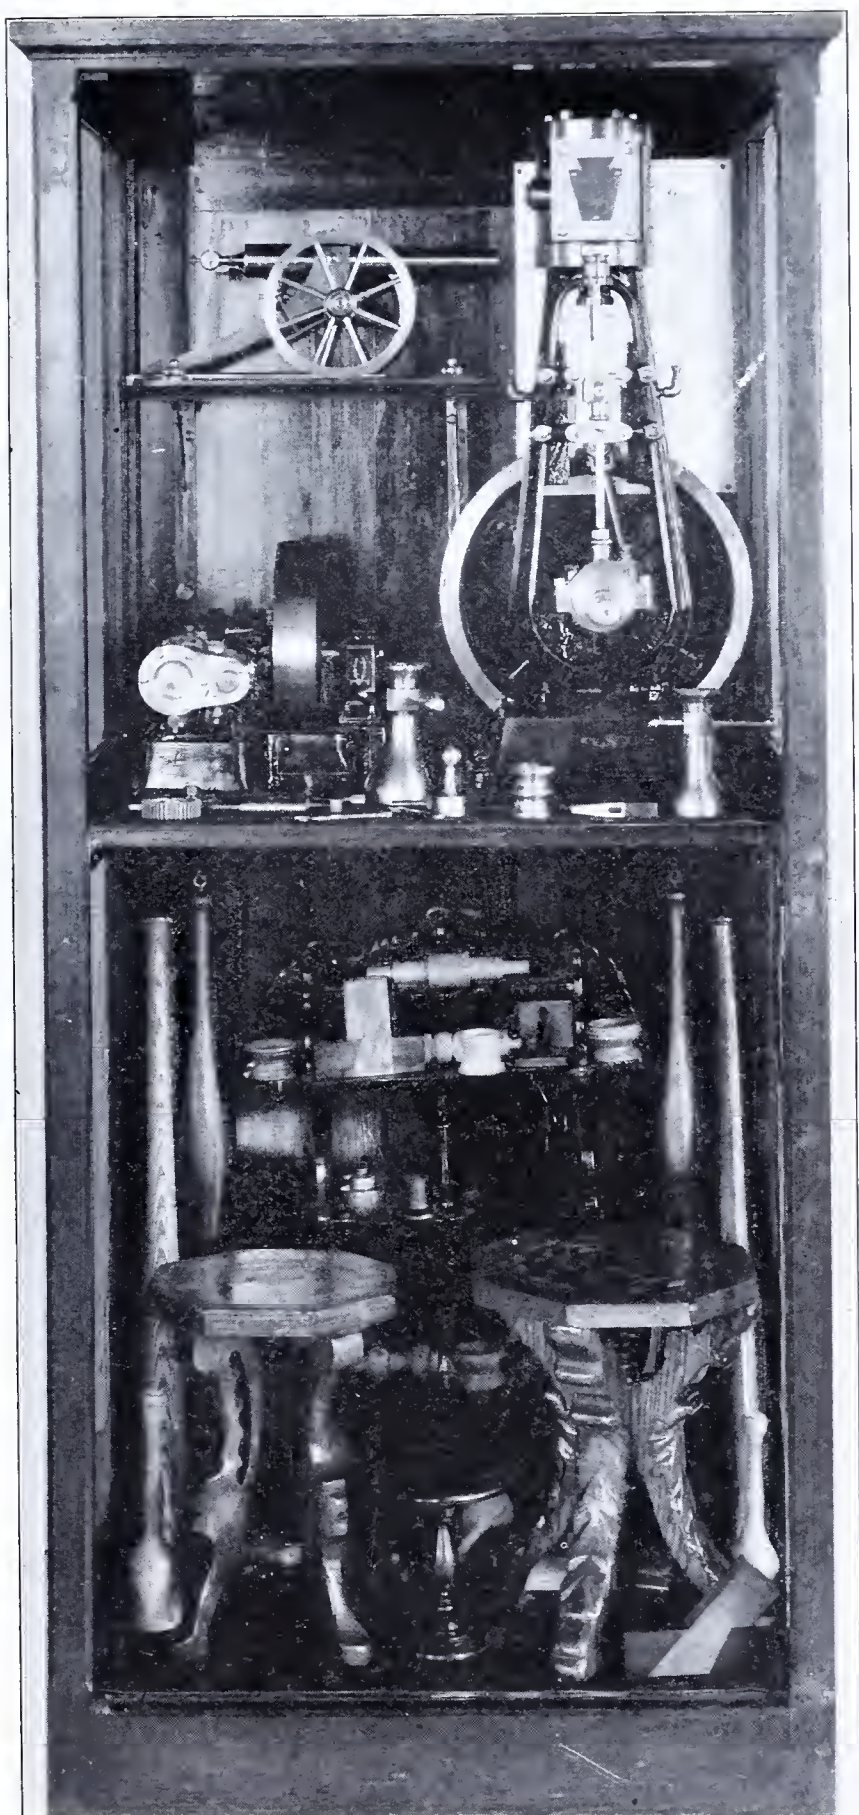

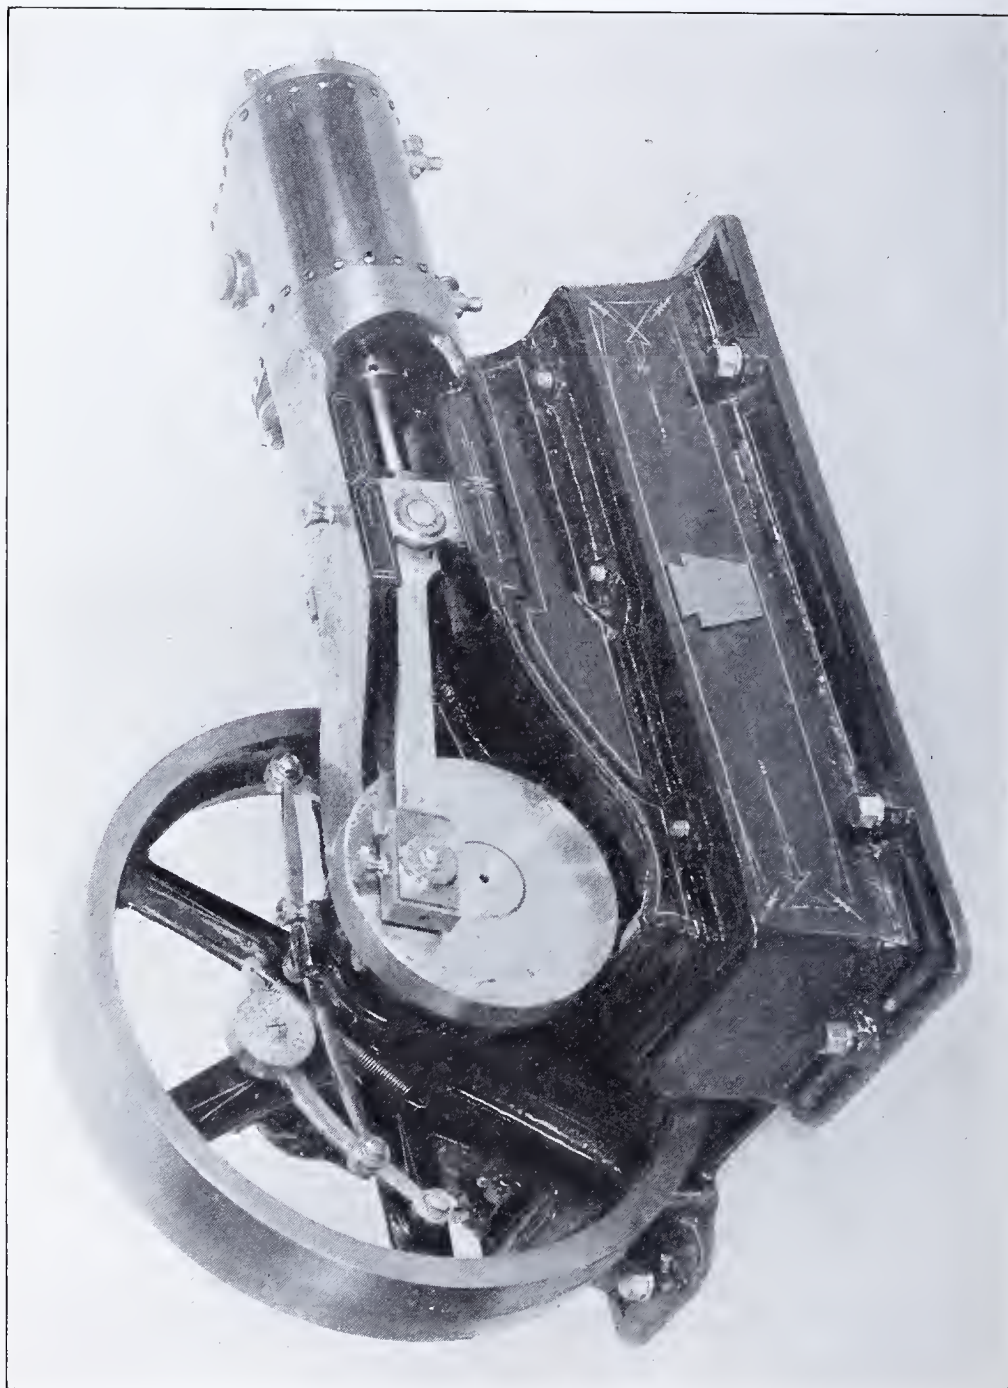

Exhibit from the Industrial Departments of the Soldiers Orphans Industrial School, Scotland, Pa., at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, 1904.

Small Automatic Engine a part of the exhibit from the Soldiers Orphans Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.,
at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, 1904.

All the machinery in the several departments, including the laundry, engines, boilers, dynamos, heating and water systems, are in first class condition.

Machine Department.

A. B. Beard, Instructor.

There are fifty boy pupils assigned to this department, one-half in each period. All are instructed to properly operate each machine in the department and to do vise work and fitting.

The product of this department has been about the same as previous years, with the exception of the small automatic engine. This engine is considered the finest piece of work ever turned out of this department. As a part of the exhibit from this school at the St. Louis Exposition, it attracted considerable attention, and was considered by mechanics and engineers who examined it to be one of the finest, if not the finest, miniature engines at the exposition.

In addition to the several small cannon that are usually made in this department each year, two cannon of a larger size were made in the past year; one, at the suggestion of Col. Thos. G. Sample, was presented to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, at Erie, Pa.; the other, at the suggestion of Hon. Thad. M. Mahon, was presented to the War and Navy Department, at Washington, D. C.

All repairs to the machinery in the industries and at the school are done in this department, where it is possible to do it with the equipment of tools and machinery in the department.

Wood Department.

Thos. G. Bering, Instructor.

There are fifty boy pupils assigned to this department, one-half in each period.

In addition to the various articles made in this department and placed on exhibition at the annual commencement, many repairs are made to the buildings and furniture contained therein; also material for the other schools in the system, not forgetting this term the various articles placed on exhibition at St. Louis.

The following is only a partial list of the necessary articles made in this department, but it will give a fair idea of the work accomplished during the year:

Closets for clothing in the administration building, dressmaking and tailoring departments.

Doughtray for bakery.

Pie and cake closet for bakery.

2 Dozen oven-peals for bakery.

2 24-ft. extension ladders.

6 Step ladders, 3 to 6 feet high.

1 Large, 3-compartment hand washtub for laundry.

3 Trucks for laundry.

40 Stools, 16 inches high.

65 Baseball bats.

Glazed 75 lights of glass ranging in size from 10"x10" to 40"x60" for Chester Springs School.

1 24-foot extension ladder.

15 Poles, 8 feet long.

100 Indiana clubs.

30 Pairs dumb bells.

Tailoring Department.

L. C. Martin, Cutter and Instructor.

Lida Englerth, Assistant.

There are forty pupils assigned to this department, thirty girls and ten boys, equally divided in each period.

Uniforms for the assistant military instructor and all the clothing for boys, including a citizen suit for each boy leaving at the expiration of his term in the school, is made in this department.

All clothing is strictly tailor-made. Each boy is carefully measured and clothing made to fit.

The following is a list of the clothing made in the past year:

Three braided uniforms for the assistant military instructor.

For Boys.	Estimated Cost.
150 Fall uniforms,	$750 00
175 Spring uniforms,	875 00
40 Extra trousers,	90 00
55 Citizen suits,	247 50
	<hr/>
	$1,962 50
	<hr/>

The pupils are given instructions in all branches of tailoring, first on trousers, then on coats and vests.

Dressmaking Department.

Nora L. Van Baman, Instructor.

Helen McLaughlin, Assistant.

There are sixty girls assigned to this department, one-half in each period; but of that number about one-half is detailed from the department each week for other duties, leaving a class of from sixteen to eighteen pupils to do the work of the department.

The following is a list of the number of garments made in the school year just closed:

Garments.	Number.	Yards.	Estimated Cost.
Woolen dresses,	101	606	$349 42
Seersucker dresses,	106	1,000	100 00
Gingham dresses,	120	1,200	108 00
White lawn dresses,	118	1,200	144 00
Flannel skirts,	67	250	87 50
Cotton skirts,	249	996	99 60
Aprons,	460	520	31 20
Night dresses,	202	1,010	90 90
Drawers,	183	462	41 58
Total,	1,606	7,244	$1,052 20

Napkins hemmed, 300.
Bakers' aprons made, 36.

Printing Department.

John H. Pomeroy, Editor and Printer.

There are thirty pupils assigned to this department, twenty-five boys and five girls, equally divided in each period. They are instructed in type-setting and all its branches, press-work and the art of printing in every particular. The work done in this department includes the printing of all letter heads and envelopes, and necessary blanks used at this school. All programs for the annual commencement exercises at this school, Chester Springs, and Jumonville, and the work in connection with the publishing of the "School News," semi-monthly, is done here.

The "News" continues to grow in public favor, and its subscription list to increase steadily. It includes among its patrons the most prominent Grand Army men of the Department of Pennsylvania of that patriotic organization.

In this connection it will not be out of place to quote the following from an editorial published in the "School News" of June 23, 1904:

"At the examinations at this school two weeks ago three printers, Rea G. Walters, of Chambersburg; John W. Young, of Montrose, and Willis J. Ploof, of Scranton, made the highest averages. At the class day exercises on Tuesday the printer boys held the center of the stage. Rea G. Walters delivered the valedictory address and John W. Young the salutatory. Willis J. Ploof was a close third in the examinations, and had there been any other honor to bestow he would have received it. Two years ago these three boys did not lead the class of twenty-six that graduated on Tuesday, but the fact that they led it at the end of their school term and that they had served three years faithfully and well in the printing department merely proves what we have said many times before in the 'News,' viz:

"Put a boy with a fair share of brains into a printing office and it will be a better school for him, nine times out of ten, than any other. Some of the greatest and most popular writers and statesmen that the world ever produced obtained the best portion of their education while boys in printing offices. Of course they did not stick to the case in after life, but that does not alter the assertion. It was in the printing office the spirit of energy and ambition was put in them to cause them to become distinguished and useful among their fellow men. It is worse than useless to put boys without brains or ambition into a printing office, for such youths never amount to anything practical or useful to themselves or others anywhere, and all work in the way of instruction expended upon them is completely wasted, or nearly so. The printing office is no place for the dolt who simply desires to go there because the work is light, seems easy to the onlooker, and the surroundings pleasant. We are glad to say that during our nine years' work at this school we have had but a very small percentage of such boys.

Most of the boys we have had in this office have been bright, smart, quick-witted youths, who are ambitious to be somebody in the world, and can see and understand rules, theory or practice concerning the use of language without having to be told the same thing many times a day; and of the scores of boys who have gone out from this office, of none of them can this be more truthfully said than of the three young gentlemen who this week took the honors at our school.

Laundry.

Chas. E. Mentzer, foreman.
Bertha Goller, assistant.

There are twelve boys and twelve girls detailed in this department, divided equally in each period. There are no assignments of pupils to the laundry, but the number is detailed in regular order from the industrial departments.

Work done in the laundry will average 5,500 pieces per week. This includes girls' and boys' clothing, bedding, table linens, towels, etc. About eighty pieces employes' clothing weekly.

Shoe Shop.

Fred W. Smith, Shoemaker.

Repair work done in the shoe department during the year:

Shoes half soled,	1,661 pairs.
Shoes heeled,	1,081 "
Shoes patched,	441 "
Seams sewed,	531 "

In conclusion I wish to commend the work of the instructors in the various departments. In the whole, their duties have been faithfully performed, and there has been a general desire to make the results of the years' work satisfactory to the Commission.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. STEWART,
Superintendent of Industries.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Chambersburg, July 1, 1904.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.

Dear Sir: I herewith submit to you the report of the hospital and medical service rendered to the children of the Industrial School during the year.

Miss Lottie Bietsch, of Chambersburg, Pa., a graduate trained nurse, was in charge of the hospital.

At a school the size of this, with an average of three hundred (300) children, many visits from the physician are necessary. During the year I made one hundred and forty-nine (149) visits to the hospital; many interesting cases were seen; many trivial afflictions passed upon; a few very sick children cared for; and a proportionate number of difficult fractures, dislocations and sprains treated.

Early in the year, soon after the return of the children from their homes, a few cases of scabies were discovered; another disease, contagious ophthalmia, developed and thirty-three (33) children suffered as a result; all were isolated and cured.

Three children suffered with chorea, two boys and one girl; the latter case followed a very severe attack of rheumatism; all three recovered nicely.

After Christmas one case of rotheln appeared, which was isolated at once and a spread of the disease arrested.

Just before the close of the school year it was feared that measles might become epidemic and interfere with the commencement exercises; fortunately only six children contracted the disease.

Every year many children suffer from tonsilitis and the past year has been no exception to this rule.

Willis Ploof suffered from chronic appendicitis at different times during the year; at vacation he was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital where he underwent a surgical operation; he made a good recovery and returned to his home.

Emma Pearson was in the hospital for a longer time than any other child during the year. Soon after the opening of the school she began to suffer from scrofulous keratitis, and as a result was under my care all year; about one-third of the time confined in the hospital; her recovery is now apparently complete; she has gained in weight over twenty pounds during the year; all traces of the disease have disappeared from her eyes; consequently I feel fully repaid for the anxiety which the case caused me.

The usual number of children suffered from fractures, dislocations and sprains; all made satisfactory recoveries.

My work during the year has been as pleasant as the results have been gratifying, and I can't refrain from calling attention again to the fact that another year has passed and we have no deaths to record at the school.

Thanking you for many courtesies extended, and other employes for hearty co-operation during the year.

I am, very truly yours,

W. F. SKINNER,

M. D.

BAND.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent, Scotland, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: The following is a report of the band for the year that has just closed. We organized the band in the first week of September, 1903, with thirty-two members, fourteen of this number being new boys. My aim was to make this band, if possible, the best we ever had, one that would be a credit to the school and an honor to the State. From the many compliments passed on the band at home and away from home, I am led to believe that we succeeded in doing this. We received two new clarionets and two new bugles early in the year to replace the old ones. We gave a number of concerts at the school during the winter, furnished all the music for parades and calisthenic drills, furnished music for a G. A. R. Reunion at Chambersburg in October, furnished music at the installation of officers of Chambersburg Post, and for a play at Wilson College, given by the young ladies of the institution; also furnished the music for memorial services at Chambersburg May 30. In June we accompanied the Knight Templars of Chambersburg, Pa., to York on a two-days' trip. While there we took part in the massed band parade, numbering 650 musicians. The boys were warmly applauded all along the line of march. We also gave a concert on the square the first evening we were there. It was well received. Our last trip, and perhaps the best, was to Gettysburg, which was of much interest to the boys and greatly appreciated by them. These trips away have not only been a pleasure to the boys, but a great benefit to them.

Thanking you and all concerned for many courtesies, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

C. E. MENTZER,
Instructor.

LAWS REGULATING THE SCHOOLS.

ACT OF 1867.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Whereas, Several considerable appropriations have been expended, for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, it is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now hers;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired, in the performance of this duty, now enables the Legislature to regulate, by statute, the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, for three years, from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal, for cause, as other officers appointed in like manner, are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds, with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties; the Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk, and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the Soldiers' Orphan Schools hereinafter provided for: Provided, That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any pecuniary interest in any of the said orphans' schools.

Section 2. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors, or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes and schools, possessing such good and sufficient accommodation as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care, and maintenance and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln Institution, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall establish at least one such institution for the reception of soldiers' orphans over the age of ten years, within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve Normal school districts, now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable, in any manner, for the cost of erecting, repairing, or furnishing any of the institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 3. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians, or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' shall be valid and binding upon said mothers, guardians, and next friends, and also upon said orphans till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institution in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Section 4. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor, prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming Soldiers' Orphan Schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace, at least, the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits, and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school-room studies; he shall visit each Soldiers' Orphan School at least once in each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Section 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act into the institutions established for their education and maintenance, shall be made by conveyance and transfers to the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act, executed, under oath, by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead, or has abandoned such orphans; but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward, or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases, and the Superintendent may require such other certificate, from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the Superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Section 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That when he may deem it expedient to do so, the said Superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number and acres and extent of accommodation in the case of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Section 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor, and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges; and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said Soldiers' Orphan Schools by the Legislature of the State.

Section 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief, in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in case where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents, or relatives, or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Section 9. That all bids for the maintenance and education of the soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing, and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses, may be drawn by the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually, at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Section 10. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall, not later than the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements by item, and estimates for ensuing years.

Section 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress, or employer, as shall thus be requested, and for such terms as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, and if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years; in which indenture of apprenticeship, there shall be included such covenants for the future education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe; and such apprenticeship shall be in all other respects, not herein provided for, subject to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Section 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment, shall be restored to the mother, guardian, or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by the Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing, and literary and industrial attainments and qualification.

Section 13. That the year, for all operations under this act, shall begin on the first Monday of June in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June of the next year succeeding; and all appropriations, hereafter made, shall be for the year, as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the government.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be and they are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1889.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of the State.

Whereas, On the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, as appears from the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, there will be left under the care of the State and undergoing education in the soldiers' orphans' schools, about fifteen hundred and forty-nine children whose ages will range at the date from five to sixteen years;

And whereas, The greater number of these children have no homes and no persons to maintain and educate them, and the people of the Commonwealth are desirous that they shall be maintained at the public expense; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor and five members of the General Assembly, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively, together with a committee of five honorably discharged soldiers, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, be and the same are hereby constituted a Commission, who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act, from June first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take charge of all children then in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or other institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Homes and Schools.

Section 2. That the Governor, the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives appointed on such Commission, shall be members thereof until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, when their successors shall be named by the presiding officer as aforesaid of the respective branches of the Legislature, and they shall continue as members of the Commission for the term of two years thereafter, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner and continued their membership for the same term. The committee of honorably discharged soldiers shall be appointed by the Department Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, and shall continue in office during the pleasure of said Department Commander. In case of a vacancy in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission by death or any cause, the appointing power provided for shall have power to fill vacancies for the unexpired term.

Section 3. That no compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, save their actual expenses, and no member of the Commission shall be interested or concerned, financially, in any institution or school having charge or maintenance of said children. A suitable office at Harrisburg for the use of the Commission, shall be provided by the Commonwealth.

Section 4. That the said Commission shall elect from their own number, a president and secretary, and shall have power to appoint one male inspector and one female inspector, at a maximum salary for both, which shall not exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars and traveling expenses not to exceed four hundred dollars each per annum, one chief clerk and one assistant clerk, at a maximum salary for both not exceeding thirty-two hundred dollars, said salaries and number of clerks to be reduced from time to time as may be found expedient.

Section 5. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to rent such buildings as may be necessary for the accommodation of the aforesaid orphans, and to appoint all officers, teachers and employes that may be found necessary for the proper care, maintenance and education at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the soldiers' children now in the several Soldiers' Orphan Schools in the Commonwealth, under the provision of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and its supplements: Provided, That the authority hereby given to rent property shall not empower the Commission to pay an annual rental that shall exceed six per centum of cash value thereof, to be determined by three appraisers, one appointed on the part of the Commission, and one by the owner or owners of the property, and the two selected shall choose the third: Provided further, That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall not contract in any case with any individual, or firm, or partnership, or syndicate, for the care and maintenance of said soldiers' children, except for temporary care during the reorganization provided for in this act, and for a period not exceeding six months from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine: And provided still further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission, at their discretion, from placing such children as boarding pupils in the Pennsylvania State College, the State Normal Schools, or in chartered orphanages or homes for friendless children not conducted for profit, and paying to such college, Normal schools, or charitable institutions, for the maintenance, clothing and education of such soldiers' children a sum not exceeding annually one hundred and forty dollars per capita.

Section 6. That the Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall have power to make and prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions receiving Soldiers' Orphans, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same kind in the State, and decide upon the course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instructions in vocal music, military tactics, where practicable, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments consistent with the respective sexes and ages of the said orphan children and their school room studies, and such rules as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 7. That all the contracts for supplies, made under this act, may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Commission shall be judges.

Section 8. That all bills incurred shall be certified by the president and secretary of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and paid quarterly by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer by the Auditor General.

Section 9. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall, not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of all the Soldiers' Orphans under their charge, their condition and progress, the number of each respective age from five to sixteen years, and such other information as they may deem expedient together with the statement of receipts and disbursements, by items, and estimates for the ensuing year.

Section 10. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans shall be restored to his or her father, mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes and a certificate, signed by the principal of the proper school in which such orphan has been maintained and educated, showing his or her moral standing and literary or industrial attainments and qualifications.

Section 11. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year next succeeding.

Section 12. The Legislature shall make necessary appropriation for contingent and traveling expenses of the Commission, and for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of each orphan or destitute child of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors or marines under the care of the said Commission, the sum of one hundred and forty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 13. That all money remaining to the credit of Department of Soldiers' Orphan Schools upon the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, shall be placed to the credit of the Commission created by this act.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts and supplements thereto, heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1893.

Providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphan' Industrial School, the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor, making appropriations for such purposes, erection and equipment and the maintenance of children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be erected at some point within the State, easily accessible, a building or buildings, to be known as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Section 2. That the Commission now in charge of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, are empowered to purchase not more than one hundred acres of ground, the title of which shall be vested in the Commonwealth, and to erect buildings thereon, equipping the same with shops, tools, etc., for industrial training as well as for the educational course, and for the maintenance of the Soldiers' Orphans, first taking security for the faithful performance of all contracts, and for the completion of the building and buildings in a substantial, good, and workmanlike manner.

Section 3. The said Commission, as now constituted, shall continue until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, at which time there shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, two members thereof, and by the Speaker of the House, three members thereof, to serve for two years, and the Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, shall then recommend to the Governor five honorably discharged soldiers for the appointment, who, if approved by the Governor, shall be appointed to serve for two years. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of the said Commission. At the expiration of the said terms of the said appointees their successors shall be appointed in like manner and for like term. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the said Commission shall be filled by the appointing powers as above set forth.

Section 4. The said commission shall elect, from their own number, a president, secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, and shall employ all necessary clerks, teachers and employes necessary for the proper conduct and care of the schools.

Section 5. The said Commission shall have full power to continue the Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now constituted, or, if necessary, change either, any or all of them, to other localities, until such time or times as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall be completed or sufficiently advanced to accommodate said orphans, when the Commission shall close all of the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of applications as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State, for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission.

Section 7. Preference in admission shall be as follows:

First—Full orphans, the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, and were members of Pennsylvania commands, or, having served in the commands of other states, or of the United States, were residents of Pennsylvania at the time of enlistment.

Second—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose father may be deceased and mother living.

Third—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose parents may either, or both, be permanently disabled.

Section 8. In order that the benefits of industrial training may be given to the children now in its soldiers' orphan schools, and who may arrive at the age to be discharged at or about the time of the opening of the said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the said Commission is hereby empowered to extend the time of the discharge of such children, who may be fifteen and sixteen years of age, for the space of two years additional.

Section 9. The per capita rate of the appropriation for the education and maintenance of the children admitted in the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars per annum.

Section 10. No compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, except such reasonable expenses as they may incur in the performance of their duties, and no member of said Commission shall be directly or indirectly interested, financially, in any school under care of said Commission, or in the education and maintenance of said soldiers' orphans, nor in furnishing supplies to or for the same, nor in the purchase of lands, erection of buildings, or equipment of the same.

Section 11. The said Commission shall, on or before the third Wednesday in January of each year, present to the Legislature, under oath, a detailed report of the financial transaction of the preceding year, setting forth in detail the amount of all moneys or other property received on account of such Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and an itemized statement of the disbursements thereof.

Section 12. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year then next succeeding.

Section 13. To carry out the provisions of this act the following sums of money are hereby specifically appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sums shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, who shall first be required to give a bond in the sum to be named by the said Commission, with security for the proper application of such moneys.

First—For the establishing, building, furnishing and fitting up of said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Second—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Third—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Fourth—For the expenses of the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 14. All moneys to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General, drawn on the State Treasurer upon requisition, approved and certified to by the said Commission.

Section 15. Any balance remaining unexpended for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four shall be available for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, in addition to the sum of fifty thousand dollars herein appropriated for that year.

Section 16. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1899.

Entitled an act to extend the benefits of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, to the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall and is hereby authorized and required to admit to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Industrial School, or to the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, orphans of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the Spanish-American war, subject to present laws governing the control of said schools.

ACT OF 1901.

AN ACT

To amend section six of an act, entitled "An act providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School; the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor; making appropriations for such purposes as erection and equipment, and the maintenance of the children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools," approved the twenty-seventh day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three: Provided, That in certain cases pupils may remain at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial Schools after attaining the age of sixteen years.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That section six of said act, which reads as follows:

"Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission," be amended to read as follows:

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of application as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan School, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall be severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause, by order of the Commission.

Provided, That in the case of pupils at the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School reaching the age of sixteen between the first day of January in any year and the thirtieth day of June of the same year, the said pupil may, at the discretion of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, remain at the school until the thirtieth day of June following the date at which he or she may reach the age of sixteen.

Provided, further, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Pennsylvania Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools
FOR THE
YEAR ENDING MAY 31, 1905.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth
of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: Herewith, as required by the act of Assembly, is presented the Report of the Soldiers' Orphans Schools Commission having charge of the proper conduct of the schools authorized by the law of the State. This report will show the condition of the schools for the year ending May 31 1905.

May 31st, 1904, there were 950 pupils enrolled, and on May 31st, 1905, the rolls contained 885, a decrease in that period of 65. This includes the forty-first year of the schools, and the sixteenth year under the management of the Commission.

During the past school year there has been no epidemic of disease. Of course there is always more or less sickness, and always will be, among children congregated as we have them in the schools, and that we have been enabled to escape the different epidemics of disease which have swept over the State from time to time can be credited to the watchfulness and care shown by the employes of the different schools.

The action of the State in continuing these schools for all the years since the close of the war has been, in the judgment of this commission, a wise and commendable one. When we stop to consider that there have been nearly 20,000 boys and girls educated and cared for in these schools, many of whom now fill honorable and responsible positions, we cannot help but declare that this grand old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is true to her sons who offered their lives to protect her honor and integrity.

The children coming into the schools now are very young, and as we have before stated, it must necessarily be some years before they can be finally discharged. That means the ultimate concentration of all the children at the Industrial School at Scotland, Franklin county, Pa. At this school they can be taught some things which will aid them in the battle of this life. The boys and girls work in the printing office, the tailoring department and in the laundry. Boys are also employed in the wood-working department, machine shop, engine room, and learning the intricacies of electricity and farming. The girls are instructed in housework and dressmaking; and boys and girls are taught telegraphy, typewriting and stenography. Many of the pupils who have graduated from the schools are employed in the different railway offices, telegraph offices, and in business offices throughout the State.

In each of the three schools military training is given the boys and they are then taught the value or discipline and obedience, which, in the struggle of life, is of paramount importance.

Farms are also attached to each school, upon which is raised a large portion of the vegetables used, such as potatoes, corn, onions, etc.

The following is the population of the schools for the year ending May 31, 1905:

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Chester Springs,	187	112	299
Uniontown,	180	92	272
Industrial,	186	128	314
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>
Total,	553	332	885

The members of the commission, all of whom are members of the Grand Army of the Republic, desire, at this time, to express to the Legislature, and through them, to the people of the State, their appreciation of the patriotic spirit that has kept alive this wise and beneficent system. It is an authoritative declaration to all who may follow that Pennsylvania never tires in performing a patriotic duty. While it has cost money to continue this system, yet to the minds of the members of this commission, the State could expend no money which will bring back a greater reward in the future than that of caring for the children who may be unfortunate enough not to have the care or protection of parents and friends. If left to wander and grow up without some discipline being enforced, in after years it would bring about such a state of affairs in society that it would cost the State more money in providing reformatory and correctional institutions than it has done to provide these homes. We do not mean to say by this that this class of children is confined exclusively to those of the soldiers of the War of the Rebellion, but they belong to all classes of society.

In conclusion, gentlemen, the commission makes an earnest request of the members of the Legislature, the Grand Army of the Republic, the clergy, members of the press, and in fact citizens in all the walks of life to visit these institutions and see for themselves what this commission is endeavoring to do for those committed to their charge. Attached hereto you will find the tabulated statements of all matter connected with the schools, which will give, in detail, all the information as to the conduct of the schools that may be desired.

Every member of the present commission is a comrade of the Grand Army of the Republic, as follows:

Governor Samnel W. Pennypacker, ex-officio.

On the Part of the Senate of Pennsylvania:

Jacob C. Stineman.

Edward A. Irvin.

ANNUAL REPORT OF INSPECTRESS.

To the Honorable Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools:

In presenting the sixth annual report to the Commission your Inspectress notes with pleasure the fact that the ordinary routine of the various schools has not been interrupted by any general sickness nor disaster of any kind, but that the management through the entire year has simply reflected the systematic movements of a well balanced organization. The very fact of a lack of novelty and of any unusual excitement is in itself a high tribute to the efficiency of the present methods of governing the schools.

It is more especially within the province of this report to call attention to the benefits received by the female pupils in the Industrial Department. The girls who have learned telegraphy, typewriting, tailoring, printing, dressmaking and general sewing and mending have been enabled at the close of their terms to enter upon lives of usefulness. While, however, these technical studies have an unmistakable value, there still remains one branch to which the attention of the Commission might be attracted with profit, namely: the branch of Domestic Science. The probable fate of the majority of the girls who leave the institution is to marry. Hence, the advisability of more attention being given to household studies, to the art of cooking, the management of food and its economies, and the cares of the household. Such knowledge might be imparted by the establishment of a Department of Domestic Science and Economy. The precedent of such a department has been established in various institutions throughout the country, and the results have been such as to encourage the teaching of the domestic arts. In all large institutions of this kind, where the children are detailed to such duties as involve a knowledge of the kitchen, the preparation of food in immense quantities strikes their attention. They can form no adequate conception of the value of these immense food products. It would seem to be well for them to be made acquainted with the prices, the value and the details of such articles as figure in the consumption of an ordinary home, and the lessons of economy thus inculcated, and the methods of utilizing small quantities, might bear good fruits in the way of the proper management of their own homes. This forms an additional reason for the organization of a distinct Department of Domestic Science as already suggested.

Among the subjects which have attracted the attention of the Commission during the present year is that of the care of the extremely youthful children. This class exists in all the schools. It is doubtful whether in cases where the children are under five years of age, that their condition warrants their subjection to very strict discipline. The female children are already under the supervision of matrons, but the male infants appear to equally need the tender care of women rather than the surveillance of the male officials.

They should be separated from the larger pupils at all times, and released in a great degree from the observance of rules applicable to those of more mature years. This suggestion involves no reflection upon those who have hitherto had the care of the children, but is recommended as an advance step which would practically be a relief to the male officials by substituting the women matrons to the care of the infants.

It is not deemed necessary in this report to enlarge upon the details which are better supplied by the exhaustive papers from the different departments. The fact remains that the duties of the Inspectress have in no ways been hampered or circumscribed by the Commission or Executive Officers, and that every facility has been offered for her examinations. Whatever might seem to have been prejudicial to the health and comfort of the children under her supervision has received attention. No beaten path has been followed, nor any custom tolerated which would interfere with a close inspection. The word "inspection" has in her eyes a distinct meaning, and carries with it a heavy degree of responsibility. The task is not always an agreeable one. To enter upon the countless phases of the different examinations is impossible, but it is not impossible to act upon each case as it arises, with due regard to the health and comfort of the wards of the State. The manner in which the Commission itself has invited the closest criticism is perhaps the best evidence that its work has been conducted with the utmost regard for the care and protection of the children.

LAURA P. SWENTZEL.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

West Chester, September 1, 1905.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans Schools, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: The past year has been one of progress in every department of the schools. I think I can honestly say that in no way have we gone backward. The general discipline has been good and the work has been conducted with noticeable harmony. Good health and cleanly and well disinfected hospitals have been the result of the care taken by the Commission and those in charge of the schools, only one death occurring during the year. Our attendance has shown a decrease of 65 during the year and shows a total of 332 girls and 553 boys, 885 in all.

The school rooms have been well looked after and the work is full of progress and interest. Our teachers keep up to the times and are continually finding new things of interest to add to the routine work. The buildings are carefully ventilated and the grounds well taken care of. Many of the buildings being old need constant repairing but this is promptly attended to by the Commission, who keep well in touch with the schools. In all, the general state of the schools is extremely satisfactory and gratifying.

Our schools being military in character, the regular routine of this military training exerts an influence over the lives of the boys. The drill not only gives this training, but promotes physical strength and development, and affords healthful exercise. It is our purpose to teach courtesy among the children as it is indispensable to discipline; and we insist on all occasions upon having proper respect for teachers and all others with whom the children come in contact. While correct military discipline is insisted upon we also endeavor that kindness shall pervade every department of the school. The children have specified hours for study and are trained to habits of industry, and receive religious and moral instruction each day of the week, and Sunday schools on each Sabbath.

During a visit to one of the schools I accompanied the Military Instructor through the dormitories when the boys were going to bed. They were very orderly and quiet. The smaller boys, who occupy one of the dormitories, repeated a prayer in concert on their knees just before going to bed. I was much impressed with the scene and believe it will live in the memory of these boys in after life. The kindness and sympathy of the matrons fill to a marked degree the place of mothers to the orphans.

When the boys are transferred from the Chester Springs and the Junonville Schools to the Industrial School they select one of the trades taught there. The idea is impressed upon the children that once having made a choice of a trade they should try to stick to that choice. I have often been surprised at the wonderful progress the children make in their different trades in the short time allotted to them—about two years.

In my talks to the children I have endeavored to impress upon them the importance of cultivating the habit of self-reliance.

Hon. Thad. M. Mahon, a member of the Commission, in his address to the children at the Chester Springs Commencement, said among other things: "Children, if you wish to succeed in life, try to help yourselves." And in reference to the flag, he said, "The flag has not gone anywhere but what honor and patriotism followed." And Hon. Jacob C. Stineman said, among other things, "I believe the Soldiers' Orphan Schools are better to-day than they have ever been before." Captain R. H. Holgate, another member of the Commission, said, That during the war of the Rebellion we had a noble Governor, Andrew G. Curtin, the author and founder of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools. The grandest benefaction in the history of any State or Nation.

The officers and non-commissioned officers are selected by the Military Instructors of each school, from the boys who have been most studious and soldier-like in the performance of their duties, and the most tidy in appearance. These officers are required to aid the Military Instructors in the maintenance of discipline, and to report to them any violations of the rules of the schools. The fact that the officers among the boys are intrusted with this responsibility by the Military Instructors, increase their manliness of bearing, and tends to make them less dependent and more self-reliant.

Extract from the report of Comrades C. C. Faucet and C. Lee Hurst, a committee appointed by the Allegheny County G. A. R. Association, to visit the Soldiers' Orphan School at Uniontown.

The State Inspector, Major S. G. Willauer, accompanied us through all the departments; were shown every courtesy and privilege to see and learn all the facilities for the proper management and care of these orphan children. The sleeping rooms are large and well ventilated, heated by steam and supplied with iron bedsteads. They have good mattresses and plenty of clothing.

Next the wash and bath rooms, here each child has a number and a hook on which to hang his towel, also a place to hang his clothes. No child is permitted to use other than his own towel, tooth or hair brush.

The kitchen, dining room, laundry, school rooms, chapel, and church were all visited and our honest conviction is, the management are deserving of the highest praise for the excellent manner in which they care for the orphan children of the men who sacrificed so much to save the flag and honor of our country.

Everywhere in all departments, we witnessed nothing but good conduct and deportment of the children. The neat order in which the buildings are kept, as well as the grounds surrounding them.

At 5.30 p. m. Major Willauer invited us to accompany him on his inspection to the dining hall, where we found every table clean, inviting and loaded with good and wholesome food such as would tempt the appetite of any healthy person.

The discipline is firm and rigid, yet so full of tender love, that the friends of those entrusted to the care of this school, ought indeed to be thankful. The children have great respect for the teachers and managers of the school.

Your committee received the greatest courtesy and cordial welcome by all connected with the school; our visit will linger in memory as one of pleasure and delight.

A committee from McCall Post, No. 31, of West Chester, visited the Chester Springs School at the commencement, and reported great satisfaction with the school and all they saw, among other things they said, "It seems to our committee that everything is being done for the children (both boys and girls) of this school that can be done; that there is a wise and efficient administration.

"The exercises in the afternoon and in the evening were probably equal to any given by the public schools of our borough. Some of the exhibitions given by the children were much above the average."

There was present, probably the largest delegation of Grand Army men that ever visited this school at any annual entertainment. We can speak in the highest terms of the children and of the manner in which the affairs of the school are conducted.

The fire drills are still practiced sufficiently to enable the military instructors to handle the boys at times when excitement might occur in case of fire or other excitement. The value of this fire drill has been clearly proven in the several fires we have had at the Chester Springs and Industrial Schools; not a single child was injured—their attention being attracted during the fire drill, they did not realize the danger they were in, and were in complete control of the officers in charge.

The Industrial School News continues to be a very interesting paper; it is printed by the boys and girls of the school, and has a large circulation, and is rapidly becoming the popular G. A. R. paper of the State.

The Class Day exercises were held on Tuesday, June 20th, at the Industrial School, when thirty-two pupils were presented with diplomas by Dr. M. H. Reaser, President of Wilson College, Chambersburg. He also presented the prizes to the winners.

At the closing of the year I wish to express to each and every one in charge of the work of the schools my sincere thanks for the desire which I have found everywhere manifest to give me the fullest opportunity for inspection, and to tell them that I have been pleased with the honorable pride shown by them in their willingness to have everything seen and inspected. This willingness I beg to suggest to the members of the commission is the best proof of the healthy condition of the schools and I desire to commend the commission for making it possible and to thank them for their courtesies to me during the past year.

Very respectfully submitted,

S. G. WILLAUER,
Inspector.

REPORTS OF SUPERINTENDENTS.

SOLDIERS' ORPHAN SCHOOL, CHESTER SPRINGS.

Chester Springs, Pa., June 30th, 1905.

Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I hereby submit the fifteenth annual report of the Chester Springs Soldiers' Orphan School.

June 30th, 1904, there were 326 pupils on the roll. During the year there has been added 61 on order, making a total for the year 387. During the same period, there were discharged, on age, 27; on order, 1, and by transfer to the Industrial School at Scotland, Pa., 59; total discharged, 87. Add to this the loss of one by death, the entire loss is 88, leaving on the roll, June 30th, 1905, 299 pupils.

With the exception of two cases of scarlet fever, and two of diphtheria, which by immediate isolation were prevented from being communicated to others, no serious illness has visited our school during the year. The death referred to, was due to tuberculosis, with which I am sure the child must have been afflicted when admitted.

One of our pupils, (a colored boy), Joseph Krunkleton, of Chambersburg, in spite of the most skillful efforts of our physician, supplemented by treatment during several months at the Wills' Eye, and St. Joseph's hospitals, has become almost totally blind, and will undoubtedly lose his sight.

With the approval of the property committee, improvements have been made in several of the buildings.

The papering and painting of the dining-room, transformed it from a dark and gloomy into an attractive, pleasant and most inviting place. In the boys' wash-room, a cement floor replaced the old worn out wooden one. New cement floors were also laid in the engine rooms of the steam plant and laundry. The boys' old No. 10 was torn away, a new room built in which were placed 10 new, up-to-date flush-closets, with urinals cleansed by an automatic flush tank.

The various holiday seasons were appropriately observed. The religious services have been of the same character as heretofore reported.

It is with satisfaction that I refer to the work done in all departments during the past year, in the education and training of the children. The manner in which they passed their examinations, and acquitted themselves, the boys in their military drills and evolutions and the girls in marching and calisthenics, not only demonstrated this, but merited the words of praise and the hearty applause they received at our annual commencement exercises, and attested the fact that the work of the year had been eminently successful. That success was accomplished by the united, harmonious efforts of all.

Were it not for the fact that I have been officially limited as to space, I would like to mention in words of praise, the name of each individual, teacher and employe. Many of them were referred to by members of your body at our commencement.

In accordance with his custom, Mr. Stees, of Philadelphia, who is intensely interested in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, presented gold medals to each of the two pupils attaining the highest averages in their respective grades, and Mr. Koons, also of Philadelphia, presented a silver medal to the pupil attaining the next highest average. The medals were accordingly given in their respective order to Christine Feige, of Lancaster; Daniel Garrahan, of McAdoo, and Elizabeth Lyman, of Hazleton.

I cannot close this report without referring to the gratification felt by the superintendent and staff, at the interest manifested by the presence of so many at our "annual." On the part of the Commission, General L. G. McCauley, Col. R. H. Holgate, Col. James F. Morrison and Senator J. C. Stineman, with their good wives, and Hon. T. M. Mahon and Hon. John H. Riebel, Charles A. Suydam, A. A. G., and J. Henry Holcomb, of Department Headquarters, were also here. Delegations from Posts of West Chester, Coatesville, Downingtown, Phoenixville and Kennett Square, many of them accompanied by their wives, were present and most cordially welcomed.

The Inspector, Maj. Willauer, and Inspectress, Mrs. L. P. Swentzel, were welcome guests.

The joy of the occasion was not unmixed with sadness. He whose presence is always expected and ever welcome, and whose voice all are always delighted to hear, was absent, and the sadness was intensified by the thought that, that instead of being present to add to, and take part in the festivities of the occasion, Col. Sample was lying on a bed of suffering.

To the members of the Commission, words are inadequate to express to you how much I appreciate your uniform kindness and courtesy. Nothing that would in any way contribute to the comfort of pupil or employe, was ever refused, while many things which were calculated to please and make all happier and more contented, were sent to us unsolicited.

Thanking you most sincerely for all your kindness,

I am very truly yours,

DR. M. B. HUGHES,
Superintendent.

COPY OF RESOLUTION.

Major James E. McFarlan, Commander Post No. 31, G. A. R., West Chester, Pa.:

Dear Comrade: Your committee on Soldiers' Orphans' Schools beg leave to submit the following report:

The committee, composed of Comrades Walton, Sweeney, Turner, Darlington and Gray, with Comrades Boyles, Ford, Hoopes, Burns, Evans, Townsend and Hess, visited the Soldiers' Orphans' School at Chester Springs yesterday.

They arrived at the school about 9 o'clock a. m., and during the forenoon witnessed the inspection of the boys of the school in their drill manœuvres and manual of arms, and saw the condition of their school and equipments, the dormitories in which they sleep, and the food which is served them.

The boys have been brought to a wonderful state of discipline under the direction of Comrade Beekman, of our Post, who is the military instructor.

It seems to your committee that everything is being done for the children (both boys and girls) of this school that can be done; that there is a wise and efficient administration.

The exercises in the afternoon and in the evening were probably up and equal to any given by the public schools of our borough. Some of the exhibitions given by the children were rather above the average.

We were most hospitably entertained by the Superintendent, Dr. M. B. Hughes; by Comrade Beekman and the staff, and the employes about the school seemed to strive each with the other to make our visit pleasant and entertaining.

Comrade Maxwell, of Post No. 34; Comrades Tencate and others of Post No. 45; comrades of Post No. 54, and Comrades Wilson and Wills, of the Post at Downingtown, were present. All of these comrades were in uniform. This was probably the largest delegation of Grand Army men that ever visited this school at any annual entertainment.

We can speak in the highest terms of the condition of the children and of the manner in which the affairs of the school are conducted.

We beg to suggest that a vote of thanks be tendered to Dr. Hughes and the staff of the school for their particular hospitality and entertainment.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Jumonville, Pa., June 30, 1905.

Commission Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I beg herewith to submit the thirty-ninth annual report of the Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School.

The number of children on the roll at close of last fiscal year, ended May 31, 1904, was 323. During the year there have been admitted on order 38, making the total number on the roll during the year ended May 31, 1905, 361. There have been discharged on age 15, by order of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools 5, by transfer to the Soldiers' Orphan Industrial School 68—there has been one death—our total losses during the year, 98. Our losses over our accessions have therefore been 51, leaving the number on the roll at close of the year, May 31, 1905, 272, of which number 180 are boys, and 92 girls.

The general health of the school has been good during the year. There were, however, a number of cases of scarletina, none of which proved fatal, and left no bad results in any case.

We were not so fortunate in the treatment of diphtheria, which threatened to assume an epidemic form, and we regret to note the death of one pupil, Fred H. Cooney, which occurred December 29, 1904, from heart failure, the result of diphtheria.

That the fatalities were so few considering the number of children affected bears evidence to the generally good physical condition of the children, and the care and skill exercised by our school physician, Dr. C. H. La Clair, and our efficient nurse, Miss Lida M. Victor.

The general deportment of the children has been for the most part commendable. Breaches of discipline have not been frequent or of a serious character, and in view of all the circumstances, the conduct of the children has been surprisingly good.

An unusually large number of changes took place at the beginning and throughout the term in the personnel of the faculty of the school.

Three new teachers, a new matron, new military instructor, three new assistant matrons, and changes in other departments, altogether almost one-half of the entire force were newcomers, most of them without previous experience in orphan school work. We were for two months without the services of a military instructor, and three different persons filled the position of matron during the year. Notwithstanding these disadvantageous circumstances the work of the school went on without any apparent detriment. These, and other circumstances made the work very burdensome and trying to the management of the institution, but the results of the year's work compare favorably with those of former years.

It is but just to say that these results were only possible by the loyal sympathy and support of practically the entire institution, teachers, employes and children alike.

Some important improvements have been made during the past year. Almost an entirely new water works has been installed, including a substantial stone pump house, new Worthington pump, a fifty horse power upright boiler, and 2,300 feet of three inch pipe running from pump house to the reservoir. The main buildings of the school were painted, floors laid in a number of the rooms, and general repairs made which put the property of the school in first class condition. A one story shed covering the bake oven was torn down and in its place a two story building erected, the upper floor of which is used as a band room. As the school rooms were formerly used for band practice, this new building has added much to our convenience as well as to the appearance of the property. The educational department has been under the efficient care of Prof. H. E. Gress, assisted by capable assistants. We believe that this department is in excellent condition. The children have shown great interest in their studies and have made commendable progress.

As in former years much attention has been given to nature studies. This has a tendency to cultivate a love for nature and to improve the powers of observation, at the same time imparting valuable information.

There being so very many young children in the school, the primary teachers have adopted many of the kindergarten methods, and have kept little hands busy and little minds interested in weaving, tracing and drawing. The specimens of the children's work in this department made a very creditable display at the annual examination.

The walls of the chapel room were adorned with lithograph pictures of birds and animals, and with portraits of America's statesmen and poets and some scenes from sacred history, becomingly grouped according to subject, which brighten up the walls of the school hall, and are a constant source of pleasure and profit to the pupils.

We lose one of our teachers with the close of the school term, Miss Janette Wishart, who resigns to accept a position at her own home. Miss Wishart is a lady of fine character and an excellent teacher, much beloved by the little children under her care.

Our annual examinations took place on the 12th day of June. There were but two members of the Commission present, Capt. R. H. Holgate and Hon. John H. Riebel, accompanied by Capt. W. J. George, chief clerk of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, and Maj. S. G. Willauer, State Inspector of Soldiers' Orphan Schools. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clark and daughter, Mildred, were guests of the Commission. A committee of the G. A. R. Association of Allegheny county, consisting of Mr. C. C. Faucett and Mr. J. Lee Hurst, also spent the day with us, and were shown through every department of the school, and were interested witnesses of all the various exercises of the day. These representatives of the Grand Army made a careful examination into every department of the institution, mingled freely with the children, made notes of their careful observations which they embodied in a report to the Allegheny County G. A. R. Association. We trust that their impressions of the school may be given a wider circulation. These gentlemen are cordially invited to repeat their visit.

The exercises of "Commencement" Day were the usual military and calsthenic drills, and evening entertainment. The military department is under the charge of Capt. R. R. Sanner, of Co. H, 85th Regiment, assisted by Cadet Major H. R. Cross. Although the battalion had not been organized prior to the coming of Capt. Sanner, March 1, 1905, the boys acquitted themselves with credit. The other exercises were also of like creditable character.

We have passed successfully another milestone of our journey. It is now 39 years on the coming 19th of September since this institution was opened by the reception of the first pupil, at old Madison College building in Uniontown.

For thirty-one years we have occupied this site, at Jumonville, on Laurel Ridge, of the Allegheny mountains. No more healthful or beautiful spot can be found anywhere for such an institution.

The committee of G. A. R. Posts in their report expressed the wish, often uttered by others, that when the beneficent work of the Commonwealth in behalf of the orphan children of the her soldiers shall have been ended, the State may throw around other unfortunate and deserving wards the strong arm of her protection and gather them here to train them into intelligent and useful citizenship. We close the record of the year with the sense of satisfaction that the mariner feels when he has anchored in a quiet harbor after a sometimes peaceful, sometimes troublous voyage. Though buffeted often with dirty and disagreeable weather and vicious squalls, we have endeavored to keep the needle true to the pole star of duty and fidelity to the interests of these children committed to our care.

J. A. WATERS,
Superintendent.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1905.

To the Commission of Soldiers' Orphans' Schools, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the tenth annual report of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and accompany same with the reports of my principal subordinates.

The work of the past year, like that of all the preceding years during my incumbency of the office of superintendent, which began July 1st, 1900, has been of a most satisfactory character. The pupils have all been happy and contented, and the great majority of them have seemed anxious to improve the opportunities here given them to fit themselves for the battle of life.

The enactment of a law at the recent session of the Legislature giving the Commission the authority to retain deserving pupils, or pupils who have no homes, in this school until they shall have arrived at the age of eighteen years, will most assuredly be productive of good results. Already about forty of our most promising boys and girls, now nearing the age of sixteen, have made application for retention under the act. That they are doing this voluntarily, after each having had several years' experience in the schools, shows conclusively that they are well satisfied with their surroundings, and that they fully appreciate all that the State is doing for them.

Members of the Commission have visited us frequently during the year and have at all times seemed most anxious to lend all the assistance in their power toward the improvement of our surroundings and a higher degree of efficiency in our school work.

To these gentlemen and all those directly connected with the institution in an official capacity is due a very large share of the credit of making this school the model one of its kind, not only in our own State but in the country at large.

Thanking one and all for the encouragement, the loyalty and the support which have made my duties both easy and pleasant during the year, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

GEORGE W. SKINNER,

BAND.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1905.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: The following is a report of the band for the year that has just closed:

I organized the band September 3rd, with thirty-five (35) members; of this number fourteen, (14) were new. We had two rehearsals daily, except Saturday.

Our first engagement away from home was at Chambersburg in October, where we furnished music for a G. A. R. reunion. Our next trip away was when we played for the riding tournament, given for the benefit of the Chambersburg Hospital, in November. The boys were highly complimented on this occasion. We gave a number of concerts at the school during the winter, and also furnished all the music for outdoor drills and calisthenics. The band filled engagements at Chambersburg on Memorial Day and also at Middle Springs on the occasion of the decoration of the graves of soldiers and the unveiling of the monument in which many distinguished people took part. We received numerous other invitations to play but were compelled to decline them.

This was the largest band we have ever had, and freely spoken of as the best.

Thanking you and all who have made my work pleasant.

Respectfully,

CHARLES E. MENTZER,
Band Master and Instructor.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Chambersburg, Pa., June 30, 1905.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

My Dear Sir: I have the honor to herewith hand you a report of the services rendered to the children at the Industrial School, by me, as physician during the year. Miss Katherine Clarke, trained nurse, of Chambersburg, Pa., was in charge at the hospital. There was less sickness among the children this year than any preceding one since I have been physician to the School. The general health of the children was good. No epidemic occurred during the year. One case of diphtheria followed by acute nephritis and one exaggerated case of chorea caused more anxiety than any other cases treated; the first made a complete recovery and the other was much improved when he went to his home at vacation.

In view of the fact that small-pox has been epidemic throughout Pennsylvania during the year, I want to recommend that soon after the children return in September they be vaccinated; also that the small brick house along the road leading from Scotland to Chambersburg, on the school grounds, and which is now vacant, be fitted up and ready at any time to be used as a contagious or isolated hospital. Another year has passed and it is gratifying to be able to report that no deaths have occurred at our school.

As usual my work has been pleasant, and I thank all who helped make it easy and effectual.

Very truly,
W. F. SKINNER,
M. D.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1905.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Dear Sir: I herewith submit the ninth annual report of the Educational, Military, Stenography and Telegraphy Departments.

With the same corps of competent instructors, the same curriculum and the advantage of another year's valuable experience, school opened September 1, 1904, under most favorable circumstances. By means of frequent reviews and thorough examinations held quarterly, the pupils were closely graded. The individual needs of each student were sought out by the instructors and a special effort made to strengthen and help where help and encouragement were most needed. A personal supervision of the evening study period enabled each teacher to do this most effectively.

Special exercises, in which the pupils took active and willing part, were used to celebrate all the national holidays. Frequent entertainments were given during the year by the pupils under the direction of the teachers. We are under obligations to members of the Commission and many other distinguished visitors for interesting and instructive talks from time to time during the year.

The regular evening chapel and Sunday morning Sabbath school exercises were continued without interruption. Rev. Hughes, of Scotland, and other ministers of the vicinity furnished regular preaching during the year. The local Christian Endeavor Society conducted by the girls of the school continues prosperous.

Early in the year Charles H. Magee, of Philadelphia, offered two handsome gold watches as prizes to the boys and girls who would make the highest general averages in school work during the school term. Catharine Denworth and John Hughes won these prizes. Elizabeth Stewart and William Garris won the silver watches offered as second prizes.

The graduating class of 1905 was composed of twelve girls and twenty boys. The diplomas and prizes were presented by Dr. M. H. Reaser, President of Wilson College, at the close of the class exercises, June 20th.

Stenography and Telegraphy Department.

The Stenography and Telegraphy Department fully demonstrates the wisdom of requiring a higher entrance standard by sending out probably the most thorough class in its history. A number of the pupils had positions offered them before graduation. Two new typewriters were added to the equipment of this department. The introduction of both double and single key-board machines together with instruction in touch typewriting has materially broadened the scope of this line of work.

Military and Physical Culture.

The work of the Military and Physical Culture Departments has been faithfully performed. All drills, ceremonies, and exercises were systematically learned by the pupils, and were of unquestioned value to the discipline, mental and physical training sought. The exhibition drills of the year were numerous and of a high standard.

The greater part of the actual work necessary to prepare these classes was done by the assistant military instructor, the assistant matron and their willing and efficient helpers among the boy and girl officers.

Athletic sports were never in a more flourishing condition. The foot-ball and base-ball teams were an honor to the institution, and the latter left behind a record that will not soon be surpassed.

Our athletic fields are among the best in the valley and the equipment for clean healthy sport unsurpassed. The benefits of the above are not confined to the "Varsity" teams but excellent privileges are extended to every pupil in school. The tennis and croquet courts usually run full capacity.

The loss of all the officers as well as a number of non-commissioned officers will necessitate a complete reorganization of the battalion early in September.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. BAMBRICK,
Principal and Military Instructor.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

Scotland, Pa., June 30, 1905.

Capt. George W. Skinner, Superintendent Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.:

Sir: I have the honor to herewith submit the tenth annual report of the Industrial Departments of the Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.

There has been no material change in the methods of instruction or equipment in any of the industrial departments. The pupils, as a rule, have applied themselves to their duties and have made a record for efficiency fully up to that attained in any previous year in the history of the school.

There have been three changes in the list of employes in the past year; Miss Hattie Beaver, in charge of the mending room and Miss Bertha Gollar, laundress, having resigned; Miss Sallie McKibbin was appointed to take charge of the mending room, and Miss Mary E. Hayne, assistant matron, has temporarily filled the position of laundress; both have given perfect satisfaction in their work.

Mr. Joseph Edgar, a practical plumber, was appointed to take charge of the sewage system, and to assist in any plumbing repairs required about the buildings. His work has been satisfactory in every way and the sewage system is in first class condition.

All repairs to the buildings, as directed by the Commission have been completed. The wood work on all the building has been repaired where needed and the administration building painted inside and outside, one, two or three coats as required. The laundry and industrial building one coat outside. The plastering in the administration building was repaired, all cracks closed and all inside walls given three coats of alabastine, except basements, kitchen and bakery which were painted in oil paint.

A new cedar tank was placed in the tower, and tank and tower given two coats of best metallic paint.

All casement windows, forty in all, have been changed to pivot windows.

All the buildings, machinery, heating and lighting systems are in first class condition.

Machine Department.

A. B. Beard, Instructor.

There are fifty boy pupils assigned to this department, equally divided, one-half in each period. All are instructed to properly operate each machine in the department and to do vise work and fitting.

The product of this department has been about the same as previous years. A small engine, the same as the one sent to the St. Louis Exposition last year was built during the year, several small cannon were also built and the repairs to the machinery attended to in all departments.

Wood Department.

Thos. G. Bering, Instructor.

There are fifty boy pupils assigned to this department, one-half in each period. As usual in this department many repairs have been made to furniture and buildings in addition to the articles placed on exhibition during the annual commencement exercises, the principal articles being five handsome morris chairs made of hard wood. The same are to be fitted with cushions and placed in the Hospital.

Tailoring Department.

L. C. Martin, Cutter and Instructor.

Lida Englerth, Assistant.

Assignment of pupils to this department average forty-six, thirty-four girls and twelve boys, equally divided in each period. The product of this department consists of all clothing for the boy pupils and three uniforms for the assistant military instructor, as follows:

For Boys.	Estimated Cost.
81 Citizen suits,	$365 00
287 Uniform coats,	861 00
366 Uniform Trousers,	915 00
	$2,141 00
	<hr/>

Dress Making Department.

Nora L. VanBaman, Instructor.

Helen McLaughlin, Assistant.

Sixty girls are assigned to this department, equally divided in each period.

Work of the department for the past year as follows:

Table cloths and towels hemmed, 1,083.

For Girls.	Estimated Cost.
118 Woolen dresses,	413 00
316 Wash dresses,	316 20
503 Aprons,	63 80
44 Night-gowns,	22 00
149 Skirts,	84 60
85 Drawers,	17 50
	<hr/>
	$917 10
	<hr/>

Printing Department.

John H. Pomeroy, Editor and Printer.

During the year this department has printed the letter-heads, envelopes and nearly all other stationery used at this institution, besides the programs and invitations, songs, etc., for the other two schools of the system. "The School News" has been issued regularly on the second and fourth Thursday of each month, and had a steady growth in circulation principally among the Grand Army men of this Department. Twenty-two boys and eleven girls, divided into two details worked in this department during the year.

Laundry.

Chas. E. Mentzer, Foreman.

Mary E. Mayne, Assistant.

No pupils are assigned to this department. Twelve boys and twelve girls are detailed from other departments weekly to assist with the work equally divided in each period. Work done each week averages about 5,500 pieces, including boys' and girls' clothing, bed linen, table clothes, towels, etc., and about eighty pieces employes' clothing.

Mending Department.

Sallie McKebben, Instructor.

No pupils are assigned to this department, from twelve to sixteen girls are detailed from other departments weekly equally divided in each period. The work consists of repairing of the clothing of both boys and girls.

Shoe Department.

Fred W. Smith, Shoemaker.

Two boys are detailed weekly in this department, one in each period.

Work done in the past year:

Shoes half soled,	1,920 pairs.
Shoes heeled,	1,430 "
Shoes patched,	540 "
Seams sewed,	730 "

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. STEWART,

Superintendent of Industries.

LAWS REGULATING SCHOOLS.

ACT OF 1867.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of the deceased soldiers and sailors, and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers and sailors of the State.

Whereas, Several considerable appropriations have been expended, for the proper education and maintenance of the destitute children of the men of Pennsylvania, who died in defense of the Union during the late rebellion;

And whereas, it is incumbent upon the State to continue this provision for those children who are now hers;

And whereas, The experience thus far acquired, in the performance of this duty, now enables the Legislature to regulate, by statute, the large discretionary powers heretofore exercised in the premises; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized and required to appoint by, and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, for three years, from and after the date of said appointment, to be subject to removal, for cause, as other officers appointed in like manner, are now, whose office shall be at Harrisburg, whose salary shall be the same as that of the State Superintendent of Common Schools, and necessary traveling expenses, and who shall give bonds, with three sureties, to be approved by the Auditor General, and filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of his duties; the Superintendent shall have power to appoint one clerk and the Governor one male inspector and examiner, and one female assistant, each at a salary not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, and necessary traveling expenses, to inspect and examine the Soldiers' Orphan Schools hereinafter provided for: Provided, That said Superintendent shall not, during the period of his superintendency, have any pecuniary interest in any of the said orphans' schools.

Section 2. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized and empowered to contract with the trustees, proprietors, or principals of institutions now employed as soldiers' orphans' homes and schools, possessing such good and sufficient accommodation as said Superintendent may approve, and of such other like institutions as may be necessary for the proper care, and maintenance and education, at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years of the destitute orphan children of all such deceased soldiers and sailors, citizens of Pennsylvania, and soldiers who have served in Pennsylvania regiments, as have died in the service of the United States, in the late war to suppress the rebellion: Provided, That the Superintendent may require that institutions receiving soldiers' orphans over ten years of age shall have not less than twenty acres of tillable land, and accommodations for not less than one hundred and fifty soldiers' orphans, except the Lincoln Institution, in the city of Philadelphia: And provided further, That said Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall establish at least one such institution for the reception of soldiers' orphans over the age of ten years within one year after the passage of this act, in each of the twelve Normal school districts, now provided for by law, if, in the opinion of said Superintendent, the Governor concurring, the same shall be required and practicable: And provided further, That in no case shall the State become liable, in any manner, for the cost of erecting, repairing, or furnishing any of the institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 3. That the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans is hereby authorized to receive conveyances and transfers of the custody, care and control, for all the purposes of education and maintenance, till their arrival at the age of sixteen years, of said destitute soldiers' orphans, from their respective mothers, guardians, or next friends; and all such conveyances and transfers heretofore made, or that may hereafter be made, to the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans' shall be valid and binding upon said mothers, guardians, and next friends, and also upon said orphans till their arrival at the age of sixteen years; and if said orphans abscond, or be withdrawn without his consent from the custody of the Superintendent, or from the institution in which he shall place them, they, and all persons withdrawing or harboring them, shall thereupon become liable to the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to absconding apprentices.

Section 4. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall, by and with the advice and approval of the Governor, prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions becoming Soldiers' Orphan Schools, designate the minimum number and grade of employes necessary, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same grade in the State, and decide upon a course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace, at least, the usual branches of a good, common school education, together with instruction in vocal music, military tactics, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household and domestic pursuits, and mechanical and agricultural employments, consistent with the respective sexes and ages of said orphan children and their school-room studies; he shall visit each Soldiers' Orphan School at least once in each quarter, either in person or by deputy, remaining at least twenty-four hours in each.

Section 5. Application for the admission of soldiers' orphans, entitled to the benefits of this act into the institutions established for their education, maintenance shall be made by conveyance and transfers to the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, in accordance with provisions of section third of this act executed under oath, by the mother, if living, and by the guardian or next friend, if the mother be dead, or has abandoned such orphans, but all applications must be approved by the board of school directors, controllers, or superintending committee of the district, ward, or city in which the mother resides, if she makes the application, or in which the orphans reside, in other cases, and the Superintendent may require such other certificate, from a superintending committee, which committee shall be appointed and hold office at the discretion of the Superintendent, and by and with the consent of the Governor, or from such other source as he may deem necessary.

Section 6. That the said Superintendent be and is hereby authorized and directed to procure a school or schools, or home or homes for the children of the colored soldiers and sailors who fell in the recent rebellion, subject to the same regulations and restrictions provided in relation to the education and maintenance of the orphans of our white soldiers and sailors: Provided, That when he may deem it expedient to do so, the said Superintendent may waive the restriction in regard to number and acres and extent of accommodation in the case of schools or homes for colored orphans.

Section 7. That all contracts made by said Superintendent shall be characterized alike by a wise economy and a just regard for services rendered, and that no contract shall be made for a longer period than one year, unless with the sanction of the Governor, and in cases in which it is clearly the interest of the State to contract for a longer period, such period in no case, however, to exceed five years: Provided, That all the contracts made under this act may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Governor and Superintendent shall be the judges; and that every such contract shall be made upon the condition of the continuance of said Soldiers' Orphan Schools by the Legislature of the State.

Section 8. That the said Superintendent may, with the consent of the Governor, afford partial relief in kind, not exceeding thirty dollars per annum for each orphan, in case where, in his judgment, it is proper to suffer the orphans to remain with their surviving parents, or relatives, or guardians, and to receive instruction in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

Section 9. That all bids for the maintenance and education of the soldiers' orphans shall be paid quarterly, by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer, signed by the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, who shall file a receipted bill for the same in the Auditor General's office before issuing the next quarterly warrant, which the State Treasurer is hereby forbidden to pay until such receipted bill is thus filed: Provided, That all amounts appropriated for the purchase of clothing, and the payment of partial relief, salaries and incidental expenses, may be drawn by the State Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans, upon the warrants of the Governor, and the bills for the same settled semi-annually, at the Auditor General's office, in the usual manner.

Section 10. That the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans shall require monthly, quarterly and annual reports, according to such form as he shall prescribe, from each institution receiving soldiers' orphans' at the expense of the State; and that said Superintendent shall, not later than the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Governor of this Commonwealth, of all the soldiers' orphans under his charge, their condition and progress, the numbers of each respective age, from four to sixteen years, and such other information as he may deem expedient, together with the statement of receipts and disbursements by item, and estimates for ensuing years.

Section 11. That when any of said orphans shall have arrived at the age of sixteen, or sooner, if deemed expedient, said Superintendent shall, at the written request of said orphan, and of his or her mother, guardian or next friend, put or bind him or her out to such trade and employment, and to such master or mistress, or employer, as shall thus be requested, and for such terms as shall expire, if a male, at or before the age of twenty-one, and if a female, at or before the age of eighteen years; in which indenture of apprenticeship, there shall be included such covenants for the future education of the orphan as said Superintendent may prescribe; and such apprenticeship shall be in all other respects, not herein provided for, subject of the provisions of the act of Assembly relating to masters and apprentices, and the supplements thereto.

Section 12. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years each of said orphans who shall not desire to be apprenticed to a trade or employment, shall be restored to the mother, guardian, or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes, and a certificate signed by the Superintendent and the principal of the proper school, showing his or her moral standing, and literary and industrial attainments and qualification.

Section 13. That the year, for all operations under this act, shall begin on the first Monday of June in each year, and end on the day preceding the first Monday of June of the next succeeding; and all appropriations, hereafter made, shall be for the year, as herein determined, and made in like manner, and at the same time, as appropriations are now made for the general expenses of the government.

Section 14. That all acts or parts of acts, heretofore passed, and inconsistent with this act, be and they are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1889.

To provide for the continuance of the education and maintenance of the destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines and the destitute children of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of the State.

Whereas, On the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, as appears from the report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, there will be left under the care of the State and undergoing education in the soldiers' orphans' schools, about fifteen hundred and forty-nine children whose ages will range at the date from five to sixteen years:

And whereas, The greater number of these children have no homes and no persons to maintain and educate them, and the people of the Commonwealth are desirous that they shall be maintained at the public expense; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the Governor and five members of the General Assembly, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, respectively, together with a committee of five honorably discharged soldiers members of the Grand Army of the Republic, be and the same are hereby constituted a Commission, who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act, from June first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take charge of all children then in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or other institutions employed as Soldiers' Orphan Homes and Schools.

Section 2. That the Governor, the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives appointed on such Commission, shall be members thereof until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, when their successors shall be named by the presiding officer as aforesaid of the respective branches of the Legislature, and they shall continue as members of the Commission for the term of two years thereafter, and the successors shall be appointed in the same manner and continued their membership for the same term. The committee of honorably discharged soldiers shall be appointed by the Department Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, and shall continue in office during the pleasure of said Department Commander. In case of a vacancy in the Soldiers' Orphan Schools Commission by death or any cause, the appointing power provided for shall have power to fill vacancies for the unexpired term.

Section 3. That no compensation shall be allowed any members of the said Commission, save their actual expenses, and no member of the Commission shall be interested or concerned, financially, in any institution or school having charge or maintenance of said children. A suitable office at Harrisburg for the use of the Commission, shall be provided by the Commonwealth.

Section 4. That the said Commission shall elect from their own number, a president and secretary, and shall have power to appoint one male inspector and one female inspector, at a maximum salary for both, which shall not exceed twenty-eight hundred dollars and traveling expenses not to exceed four hundred dollars each per annum, one chief clerk and one assistant clerk, at a maximum salary for both not exceeding thirty-two hundred dollars, said salaries and number of clerks to be reduced from time to time as may be found expedient.

Section 5. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to rent such buildings as may be necessary for the accommodation of the aforesaid orphans, and to appoint all officers, teachers and employes that may be found necessary for the proper care, maintenance and education at the expense of the State, and until the age of sixteen years, of the soldiers' children now in the several Soldiers' Orphan Schools in the Commonwealth, under the provision of the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and its supplements: Provided, That the authority hereby given to rent property shall not empower the Commission to pay an annual rental that shall exceed six per centum of cash value thereof, to be determined by three appraisers, one appointed on the part of the Commission, and one by the owner or owners of the property, and the two selected shall choose the third: Provided further, That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall not contract in any case with any individual, or firm, or partnership, or syndicate, for the care and maintenance of said soldiers' children, except for temporary care during the reorganization provided for in this act, for a period not exceeding six months from the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine: And provided still further, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission, at their discretion, from placing such children as boarding pupils in the Pennsylvania State College, the State Normal Schools, or in chartered orphanages or homes for friendless children not conducted for profit, and paying to such college, Normal schools, or charitable institutions, for the maintenance, clothing and education of such soldiers' children a sum not exceeding annually one hundred and forty dollars per capita.

Section 6. That the Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall have power to make and prescribe rules and regulations for the government of institutions receiving Soldiers' Orphans, specify the character and quality of food and clothing that shall be furnished, and which shall be similar for all institutions of the same kind in the State, and decide upon the course of study to be pursued, which course shall embrace at least the usual branches of a good common school education, together with instructions in vocal music, military tactics, where practicable, and calisthenics, and the greatest variety possible of household pursuits and mechanical and agricultural employments consistent with the respective sexes and ages of the said orphan children and their school room studies, and such rules as they deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Section 7. That all the contracts for supplies, made under this act, may be annulled at any time for failure to fulfill the conditions of such contracts on the part of any contractor, of which failure the Commission shall be judges.

Section 8. That all bills incurred shall be certified by the president and secretary of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools and paid quarterly by warrant drawn directly upon the State Treasurer by the Auditor General.

Section 9. That the said Soldiers' Orphan Commission shall, not later than the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and annually thereafter, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the Commonwealth of all the Soldiers' Orphans under their charge, their condition and progress, the number of each respective age from five to sixteen years, and such other information as they may deem expedient together with the statement of receipts and disbursements, by items, and estimates for the ensuing year.

Section 10. That upon arrival at the age of sixteen years, each of said orphans shall be restored to his or her father, mother, guardian or next friend, with a full outfit of clothes and a certificate, signed by the principal of the proper school in which such orphan has been maintained and educated, showing his or her moral standing and literary or industrial attainments and qualifications.

Section 11. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year next succeeding.

Section 12. The Legislature shall make necessary appropriation for contingent and traveling expenses of the Commission, and for the education and maintenance, including clothing, of each orphan or destitute child of permanently disabled soldiers, sailors or marines under the care of the said Commission, the sum of one hundred and forty dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 13. That all money remaining to the credit of Department of Soldiers' Orphan Schools upon the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, shall be placed to the credit of the Commission created by this act.

Section 14. That all acts and parts of acts and supplements thereto, heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

ACT OF 1893.

Providing for the erection of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the purchase of land and the erection and equipment of the building and buildings necessary therefor, making appropriations for such purposes, erection and equipment and the maintenance of children admitted therein, placing the care of the same in the Commission now known as the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, and regulating the admissions to the said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School and the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That there shall be erected at some point within the State, easily accessible, a building or buildings, to be known as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School.

Section 2. That the Commission now in charge of the Soldiers' Orphan Schools, are empowered to purchase not more than one hundred acres of ground, the title of which shall be vested in the Commonwealth, and to erect buildings thereon, equipping the same with shops, tools, etc., for industrial training as well as for the educational course, and for the maintenance of the Soldiers' Orphans, first taking security for the faithful performance of all contracts, and for the completion of the building and buildings in a substantial, good, and workmanlike manner.

Section 3. The said Commission, as now constituted, shall continue until the third Wednesday in January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, at which time there shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, two members thereof, and by the Speaker of the House, three members thereof, to serve for two years, and the Commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Grand Army of the Republic, shall then recommend to the Governor five honorably discharged soldiers for the appointment, who, if approved by the Governor, shall be appointed to serve for two years. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of the said Commission. At the expiration of the said terms of the said appointees their successors shall be appointed in like manner and for like term. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the said Commission shall be filled by the appointing powers as above set forth.

Section 4. The said commission shall elect, from their own number, a president, secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, and shall employ all necessary clerks, teachers and employes necessary for the proper conduct and care of the schools.

Section 5. The said Commission shall have full power to continue the Soldiers' Orphan Schools as now constituted, or, if necessary, change either, any or all of them, to other localities, until such time or times as the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall be completed or sufficiently advanced to accommodate said orphans, when the Commission shall close all of the said Soldiers' Orphan Schools.

Section 6. The said Commission, under such rules and forms of applications as it may adopt, shall be and is hereby authorized to admit to said Soldiers' Orphan Schools, or to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, soldiers' orphans, of parents residents of this State, for a continuous period of not less than five years prior to their application, who shall be under fourteen years of age, to be educated and maintained therein until they shall severally become sixteen years of age, unless sooner discharged for cause by order of the Commission.

Section 7. Preference in admission shall be as follows:

First—Full orphans, the children of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war for the suppression of the rebellion, and were members of Pennsylvania commands, or, having served in the commands of other states, or of the United States, were residents of Pennsylvania at the time of enlistment.

Second—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose father may be deceased and mother living.

Third—Children of such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines as above, whose parents may either, or both, be permanently disabled.

Section 8. In order that the benefits of industrial training may be given to the children now in its soldiers' orphan schools, and who may arrive at the age to be discharged at or about the time of the opening of the said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, the said Commission is hereby empowered to extend the time of the discharge of such children, who may be fifteen and sixteen years of age, for the space of two years additional.

Section 9. The per capita rate of the appropriation for the education and maintenance of the children admitted in the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School shall not exceed the sum of two hundred dollars per annum.

Section 10. No compensation shall be allowed any member of the said Commission, except such reasonable expenses as they may incur in the performance of their duties, and no member of said Commission shall be directly or indirectly interested, financially, in any school under care of said Commission, or in the education and maintenance of said soldiers' orphans, nor in furnishing supplies to or for the same, nor in the purchase of lands, erection of buildings, or equipment of the same.

Section 11. The said Commission shall, on or before the third Wednesday in January of each year, present to the Legislature, under oath, a detailed report of the financial transaction of the preceding year, setting forth in detail the amount of all moneys or other property received on account of such Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, and an itemized statement of the disbursements thereof.

Section 12. That the year for all provisions under this act shall begin on the first day of June in each year, and end on the thirty-first day of May of the year then next succeeding.

Section 13. To carry out the provisions of this act the following sums of money are hereby specifically appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, which sums shall be paid to the treasurer of the Commission of Soldiers' Orphan Schools, who shall first be required to give a bond in the sum to be named by the said Commission, with security for the proper application of such moneys.

First—For the establishing, building, furnishing and fitting up of said Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Second—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Third—For the education and maintenance of the children admitted to said Soldiers' Orphans' Industrial School, for the year ending May thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Fourth—For the expenses of the Commission, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Section 14. All moneys to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General, drawn on the State Treasurer upon requisition, approved and certified to by the said Commission.

Section 15. Any balance remaining unexpended for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four shall be available for the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, in addition to the sum of fifty thousand dollars herein appropriated for that year.

Section 16. That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed.
